SUNNYSIDE GARDEN TRACTS
IN THE BELT LINE DISTRICT

$25 Cash

and $10.00 Per Month Buys a Ten Acre TRUCK FARM at SUNNYSIDE

Located in the now celebrated Belt Line district only 2½ miles from the United States Steel Company's Belt Line railway

Looking North from "Sunnyside Gardens," showing the United States Steel Company's Belt Line Railway, and Superior and Duluth in the Background.

(From the Duluth News Tribune, April 16, 1910.)

PLATS BIG TRACT FOR TRUCK FARMS

DEAL IN ACRES SOUTH OF BELT LINE IS PUT THROUGH—NEW TOWN "SUNNYSIDE" PLATTED

What is considered to be one of the largest deals in the Belt Line district has just been closed by Heimbaugh & Spring of Superior, this firm securing possession of nearly 600 acres of land near Bardon avenue on the Chicago division of the Soo Line Ry., about two and one-half miles below the Steel company's belt line.

The land is being subdivided into 10-acre tracts for truck farms and will be called "Sunnyside Gardens." Each tract will face out on a road and a crew of men is now at work cutting roads and clearing land at the station where the town of "Sunnyside" will be located. It is the intention of the owners to present to each purchaser of a 10-acre tract, a town lot at Sunnyside.

Ernest Heimbaugh, in speaking of the deal, says "Our firm has been working on the proposition for several months. In order to make the plan a success it was necessary to find a large tract of land that met certain vital conditions. The soil must be suitable for the purpose and the land must have good natural drainage; there should be schools and daily mail service and telephones are a great convenience. Good roads and proper shipping facilities by rail are absolutely essential, and the land should be close to market.

"Sunnyside Gardens measure up to every one of these conditions. The soil is just what is needed for truck farming, being a rich loam with enough sand in it to make it work easy, and free from rock. The land is just rolling enough to give perfect natural drainage. There are two schools a short distance away on Bardon avenue, and arrangements will be made to secure another at Sunnyside where we have reserved lots on which to build a school house. Besides this, every farmer can have a telephone in his house if he so desires. Sunnyside Gardens are only four miles from the city limits and Bardon avenue furnishes a fine driveway right into the city.

"It will be remembered that a few months ago the Duluth Commercial club were investigating the feasibility of developing a tract of land up back of the Duluth hills, the idea being to turn this land into truck farms which were to be sold at prices ranging from $300 to $400 per acre; the plan was finally given up for the very good reason that the farmer could not get his produce to market and the Duluth citizens did not feel like subscribing the sum of $90,000 for building a railway line.

"The truck farmers at Sunnyside will have the finest of shipping facilities, as there is a railway station right on our property.

"People today are land hungry." The high cost of living is forcing them back to the farm and the ideal farm is one of 10 acres close to a good market. Statistics show that it is not at all difficult to make a net profit of from three to four thousand dollars a year from a 10-acre truck farm properly managed, and a man must be a pretty poor specimen that cannot keep his family on 10 acres and save at least one thousand dollars per year. How many men of Duluth or Superior are doing this today? From the interest already shown we expect these farms will be taken up very quickly, and it is our desire to see them get into the hands of actual truck farmers rather than speculators. The fact of the land being in the Belt Line district gives it a big speculative value."

The opening of the "SUNNYSIDE GARDENS" marks a new epoch in the growth and development of Duluth and Superior. The small strip of level country between Superior and the Copper Range is destined to become the future "Market Basket" of the Twin Ports, and "SUNNYSIDE GARDENS" is the very Heart of this district furnishing perfect conditions for the Truck Farming Industry.

"SUNNYSIDE GARDENS" comprise 60 ten-acre farms. In the first allotment we will offer for sale 30 TRACTS at prices ranging from $350 to $500 per tract, terms $10.00 to $12.50 PER MONTH. In future allotments we will ask an advance over present prices. Some tracts are practically cleared, on others the clearing is very light, some are partly fenced, and their distance from the town of Sunnyside has something to do with their price.

will be given to each purchaser of a ten-acre tract.

PERFECT TITLE. FREE ABSTRACT. WARRANTY DEED. NO PAYMENTS IF SICK.

Sunnyside Gardens have railroad, telephone and daily mail service and fine wagon roads into Superior. There are no hills, no rocks, nor waste land, but a rich, warm soil, perfectly drained and easily cleared. Land as close to the city of Duluth as our land is to the city of Superior could not be purchased for three times what we are asking for Sunnyside Garden tracts.

HOW TO GO

Automobiles will leave our office during this sale at 9 o'clock every morning and at 2 o'clock every afternoon. Come to Sunnyside and see the future market garden center of the Twin Ports.

SPECULATIVE VALUE

There is a big speculative value to Sunnyside Gardens, as they are located in the now celebrated Belt Line District, only two and a half miles from the steel company's railway, along which the subsidiary companies of the Steel Corporation are expected to locate. There is no question of a doubt but that whoever buys one of these tracts will reap a rich harvest from his investment in the near future.

"The wise man or wage earner of today invests his money in real estate, suburban real estate."—Andrew Carnegie.

"Real estate is the best investment for small savings, more money is made from the rise in real estate values than from all other causes combined. To speculate in stocks is risky and even dangerous, but when you buy real estate you are buying an inheritance."—William Jennings Bryan.

"No investment on earth is so safe, so sane, so certain to enrich its owner as undeveloped realty. I always advise my friends to place their savings in realty near some growing city. There is no such savings bank anywhere."—Ex-President Cleveland.

"A ten-acre farm near a railroad station will make a man more clear money annually than he could possibly make a year on his homestead of 160 acres."—A. B. Hostetter, Supt. of Agriculture.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, April 18.—Business in pig iron last week was dull. The eastern markets were flat. The negotiations by pipe works for a round tonnage of Southern foundry iron failed to result in the placing of any important contracts. The small current sales have averaged less than 3,000 tons per day, including Northern, Virginian and Southern iron. The tendency of prices is still downward but there have been no important changes, north or south. The few transactions have been at the minimum prices previously quoted.

The volume of business in finished steel products again was sharply contracted and prospective new orders, except for bridges, are less encouraging. Most of the finishing mills, however, have business booked to keep them active for the next two or three months. Rail mills are an exception, new contracts being light and little business is in sight. Last week, with exception of motive power, railroads placed few orders for equipment, less than 1,000 cars and only 6,000 tons of rails, but 169 locomotives were ordered.

Irregularities of prices in steel plates, shapes and bars continued and competition for fabricated orders was keen. New contracts placed for bridges and buildings last week called for 32,000 tons.

Duluth Without Light or Power for Several Hours.

Hundreds of People Forced to Tramp Home Through Slush.

Duluth was left without electric light or power for several hours Saturday by the burning out of the duplicate transmission lines of the Great Northern Power company, one mile east of Proctor.

Hundreds of people were left marooned on the street cars, in practically all of the stores of the city, on the streets, or wherever they happened to be. For hours they were compelled to sit or stand around to make the most of the unfortunate circumstance.

The street cars did not turn a wheel from 10 o'clock Saturday night until about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, while the streets and sidewalks were covered with two inches of slush. Almost the entire city was in darkness for the same length of time. A small part of the downtown section got light and power shortly after 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning, but the general service in the city was not resumed until about two and one-half hours later.

The public had to make the best of it. The department stores and other large establishments which are dependent upon the electric lights adopted all possibilities for illumination, using candles or kerosene lamps when it was possible to get them. Most of the stores remained open until the street cars started to run, in order to provide a shelter for their employes and those of the publbic who had no other roof to cover them.

The cab drivers and chauffeurs operating for hire reaped a golden harvest. They were kept at top speed for hours, hauling people to their homes. Scores seemed willing to pay almost any price in order to get to their homes for the night. The hotels and lodging houses were filled to overflowing by people who were miles away from their homes, with slight chance of reaching them. Very few, if any, trips were made by the cab drivers to West Duluth or Lakeside, as they were able to make more money on the shorter hauls.

The Bijou brought back reminders to the oldtimers of the bygone days when the stages were all lighted with candles and lamps. The audience didn't leave their seats when suddenly plunged into darkness and they enjoyed the performance to the limit when it was continued with the temporary candles and lanterns which were raked up within a few minutes.

Held in Suspense.

The trouble was caused by the short circuiting of the feed wires of the Great Northern Power company a mile from Proctor. Driven by the wind the wires crossed one another and the intense heat generated melted the heavy cables. It was almost impossible to get information Saturday night as to the cause of the break or the possible length of its duration, so thousands were left in continual suspense, expecting a renewal of the service at any minute. Few of those in the street cars left their seats, while most of them fell asleep only to be awakened by the first jolt of the starting car before daylight Sunday morning.

Many of those who underwent discomfort had amusing experiences while others were subjected to considerable hardship. But all made the best of the circumstances. The most universal complaint was the lack of information as to the reason for the delay and the prospects of getting "juice."

W. N. Ryerson, general manager of the power company, declares in a statement issued to the public that the company did not know any more than the public as to the length of time the city would be without light and power. He says that workmen were immediately started out to locate the seat of trouble and that they repaired it at the earliest possible moment.

Explanation by Company.

The statement issued by Mr. Ryerson follows:

"To the Editor of The Herald:

"An explanation is due the citizens of Duluth for the unfortunate occurrence of Saturday evening, by which the city was deprived of current for lighting and street car service for a long period of time.

"The duplicate transmission lines of the Great Northern Power company, over which the city's supply of power is brought from the power station at Thomson, were both simultaneously put out of commission by the high wind. The break occurred at a point about one mile east of Proctor. The lines at this place cross a deep gully down which the northwest wind came in such severe gusts as to cause two of the wires on one circuit to come in contact with one another, making a short circuit which instantly and automatically cut off the supply of current on that partiular line. The intense heat generated by this short circuit burned the cables in two, and the wind whipped the broken ends into the adjoining wires of the duplicate circuit, putting them out of commission also.

"Men were immediately started out from the sub-station at Duluth and also from the power station near Thomson to locate and repair the trouble, which was a difficult and slow undertaking both on account of the darkness and the wet snow covering the ground. In such circumstances there is nothing to guide the men as to the exact spot where the trouble exists and the line must be gone over from one end to the other until it is found.

"The power failed at 1 p. m. The first cicuit was in operation at 2:40 a. m. Repairs to the second one being completed about 9 a. m.

Unable to Give Information.

"The company's employes were as completely in the dark as anyone else as to the length of time the city would be without power, or as to the nature of the trouble, and were therefore unable to give information to the many people inquiring. They have rigid instructions to cheerfully and correctly inform anyone who asks as to the nature and extent of trouble but in this instance were without this knowledge themselves.

"In all such cases of emergency one attendant is especially detailed to answer telephone calls, and if specific complaints of discourtesy on the part of the company's employes be made to the general manager he will see that severe punishment is meted out to the offending man.

"Such occurrences as that of last night are most unfortunate from every point of view, but similar accidents are likely to happen to the best of plants for generating power, whether by steam, gas or water, and the company is endeavoring to perfect its entire plant and operating force to the end that so far as is humanly possible they may be minimized or entirely prevented, and is at all times ready and willing to go to no inconsiderable expense in so doing, its main objective being good service.

"It is only fair to state in justice to the company that until Saturday night there has only been one other total interruption of its power supply since early in December, 1908, this one taking place during a severe lightning storm last July and lasting for exactly three minutes. Comparison with records of other plants throughout the country will show conclusively that Duluth is receiving as reliable electric service as any city.

"Yours very truly,
"W. W. RYERSON,
"General Manager."

POSTAL BANK BILL IN TROUBLE

House Sub-Committee Gives It Up and Reports It Back Unsolved.

Washington, April 18.—The administration's postal savings bank bill as passed by the senate is on the rocks in the house. The sub-committee of the house committee on postoffices and postroads, which has had the bill in hand for more than a month, has split to pieces over the measure and reported the bills back to the main committee.

The question of what to do with the funds received on deposit in the postal savings banks, is the main matter of difference. A large majority of the whole committee is strongly opposed to almost any form of postal savings banks. In fact, the membership of the house is said to be largely opposed to the establishment of government savings institution, but as both the Republican and Democratic platforms contain planks declaring for them, all are agreed that some legislation along this line must be had.

NEW REPORT ON MUTUAL LIFE

Insurance Company's Conduct Is Criticised By Superintendent Hotchkiss.

New York, April 18.—The first investigation of the Mutual Life Insurance company undertaken by the state insurance department since Governor Hughes uncovered the scandals of 1907, has been completed by Supt. Hotchkiss and develops these facts:

1—The final efforts of the new management to recover $3,000,000 from the late President Richard McCurdy and his associates of the old management, resulted in a net outgo of $237,349 more than the company received from the McCurdys.

2—Since the Armstrong law went into effect, the Mutual expenses of maintenance and administration have dropped from $15,720,901 in 1904, the year previous to the Armstrong investigation to $7,451,186 in 1908, while the volume of business remained about the same.

Agents Still at Work.

3—As late as 1906, agents of the company were still active campaigners in the interests of directors seeking re-election, although the report does not charge that this was done at the instigation of the directors themselves, or with their connivance. For these electioneering services, agents of the company received in 1906, $168,351 of the policy holders' money.

4—So late as 1908 payments to agents aggregating $354,144, which did not appear on the books of the company as bonuses for getting new business, but are nevertheless believed by the department to be such, paid in violation of the Armstrong law, were traced to the Boston office. There is no record of them in the home office. In Boston they are charged as "supervision of old business," which is to say, to prevent the lapsing of old policies.

Supt. Hotchkiss characterizes the reports submitted by the company's committee which recommended the acceptance of the compromise with the McCurdys as "untrue in at least two particulars and deceptive in more than one.

Raps at Committee.

"And it seems to us," the report continues, "that either the committee did not know the facts, or purposely misled the board of directors."

Nevertheless, it is said, that the report on the whole is complimentary to the company. The examiners find that the company has been definitely ended.

"The examiners state," says the report, "that proper restraints have been placed by the company upon the supply department, where expenditures for legislative and other improper purposes were concealed, by the previous management, and that the system in operation at present will prevent the recurrence of such practices."

The returns to policy holders have been increased correspondingly. The dividends paid in 1904 amounted to $2,674,206 and in 1908 to $8,311,255.

Saved From the Grave.

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix of Clarksville, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. VERY OLD WOMAN IN POLK COUNTY

Mrs. Karl Berg, Native of Norway, Will Soon Be 101.

Crookston, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The oldest resident of Polk county, or of the entire Red River valley as far as is known, is Mrs. Karl Berge, living in the town of Knute, near Erskine, Polk county, who on Aug. 9 next, if she lives, will celebrate the 101st anniversary of her birth, having been born near Tynseth, Norway on Aug. 9 1809. Her maiden name was Karl Estenson. In Tunnesdalen, Sweden she married Per Berge.

Following the death of her husband Mrs. Berge in the spring of 1882, accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, crossed the Atlantic and settled at Cannon Falls, Minn., where she remained with friends until the following spring, when with the family she came to the Thirteen Towns and settled near Erskine and has ever since made her home with her daughter. She has five grand children and one great grandson, her granddaughter, Mrs. A. A. Magill, residing at Kelliher, Minn., with her young son.

Her mind has been remarkably keen until the last few months, and is still clear, but her sight and hearing are somewhat impaired, due to the ravages of Father Time.

Local Shriners Return---Are Loud in Praise of Southern Hospitality.

The Shriners are home.

After attending the annual conclave held this year at New Orleans, the Shriners arrived in Duluth Sunday morning. They report the "time of their lives," and are loud in their praises of the hospitality of the people of the Southern city.

On their arrival in New Orleans the Shriners were met at the depot by a large delegation of New Orleans Shriners. A band was provided and the entire party marched to the Cosmopolitan hotel. The women of the party were conveyed in automobiles. After a short rest the entire party went on a sight seeing expedition. The old market place proved the most interesting of all, although many and wonderful were the sights taken in.

Tuesday the mammoth Shriners' parade was held. There were said to be 40,000 Shriners in line. It is estimated that the visiting Shriners spent over $3,000,000 during their stay in New Orleans.

During their visit the Mardi Gras procession was repeated for the benefit of the visitors. It was estimated that the parade was held at a cost of $90,000. The crowd that turned out to witness it was a record breaker in the history of the city.

A. P. M. Custance, on the way to New Orleans, composed several songs which were sung by the local Shriners and which made a big hit.

Clay Hall and Elmer Mattox will die. Robert Farmer was shot in the leg and John Swann, telegraph operator at Heidelberg, was shot in the foot.

Feud Breaks Out.

Lyons, Ga., April 18.—Two dead, one dying and probably one or two others slightly wounded, are the results of a Sunday afternoon battle in a family feud of long standing, which took place in Emmanuel county.

The dead are: A. S. Collins, a well-to-do farmer and his son, Wilson Collins.

Alma Lewis is so badly wounded that she is expected to die. The battle was the outcome of a dispute over a public road crossing. Both families are well-to-do. Bad blood had existed between them for years, it is said.

Taft Approves It.

New York, April 18.—President Taft approves of making next Sunday, April 24, a "tuberculosis Sunday" in a letter received here by Livingston Farrand, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

North Dakota Pupils in Contest Develop Much Skill in Orthography.

Final "Spelling Down" Will Be Held at Bismarck Monday Evening.

Bismarck, N. D., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—This evening in this city will be brought to a close the long talked of and much advertised state spelling contest. Contestants representing various counties in North Dakota will be matched in a "spelling down" before the North Dakota County Superintendents' association, which was instrumental in having the contest inaugurated.

This contest has been a remarkable one up to date, as in the several counties where pupils have been selected to enter the state competition some remarkably good records have been made. In Ramsey county seventeen contestants were entered in the county meet. At the end of four hours of constant spelling, two girls were still standing, neither of them having missed a word. This necessitated the "spelling down" being laid over till the following day, when, after two more hours, the finish was reached.

In Edily county the same condition prevailed, the children spelling all one afternoon, making a continuance till the next morning necessary before the event could be closed.

It was the aim of the association, in promulgating this contest, to create an interest in spelling, and that result has most certainly been accomplished. In the school districts, where the first contest was held, prizes were offered for the student who was selected to enter the county contest. In the county contest the winner also received rewards and the trip to Bismarck. In the state contest $50 in gold makes up the prizes for which the young spellers will contest.

FARRIS FARMERS ARE ENTERPRISING

Organize Company to Build Potato Warehouse and Improve Breeds of Stock.

Cass Lake, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farmers in the vicinity of Farris have organized an association with an authorized capital of $25,000 to erect potato warehouses in several towns in this part of the state, and also to encourage getting a better grade of cattle and purchase blooded sires.

Five thousand dollars of this amount has already been subscribed. The officers and directors of the association will meet within a few days to decide definitely on their articles of incorporation and to begin active work. The Farris farmers have been very enthusiastic over these matters ever since the organization was formed in Cass Lake a few months ago and they have decided to branch out on a large scale in order to show what the farmers of Northern Minnesota can do. They have already completed arrangements for the erection of a $2,500 potato warehouse at Farris. The warehouse will be erected near Farris on the large farm of M. N. Koll, who is one of the foremost boosters in the matter.

The farmers around Farris have always borne an excellent reputation as hustlers and their potato crops have been of a very high order in the past.

The officers of the association are: Charles Junke, Farris, president; D. C. Neff, Cass Lake, vice president; J. F. Schmitts, Farris, secretary; August Johnson, Farris, treasurer; president, and secretary, M. N. Koll of Cass Lake, Louis Suther and J. P. Stone of Farris, directors.

LAUNCH CATCHES FIRE.

Party Out on Lake at Pine City Has Close Call.

Pine City, Minn., April 18.—While Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hodge were riding in McAllens launch, the Freak, on the lake, a spark from the switch ignited some gasoline which was leaking from the carburetor and the boat immediately was in flames. Mr. McAllen sent his boat ahead at full speed in order to get the dock by using the engine. He paddled the remainder of the way and when the dock was reached the boat was sunk in order to save it. Luckily no one was hurt.

COAL IN MORRISON.

That County May Have Fuel Along With Iron Ore.

Little Falls, Minn., April 18.—Now that it is an undisputed fact that there is iron in paying quantities in this county and vicinity, a story comes from Lincoln that a large bed of coal has been discovered three and a half miles northwest of that place in Todd county, just across the Morrison county line, and that it is of a very good quality. The extent of the coal beds has not as yet been determined, but 2,000 acres of the land has been drilled and shows evidence of a four-foot layer of soft coal eighty feet below the earth's surface and a layer of hard coal fifty feet deeper. The end of the shaft sunk went six feet into this last bed without piercing through it, so it remains a matter of conjecture at present as to what is the thickness of this last coal bed.

BLOODED DAIRY HERDS CONDEMNED AND KILLED.

New Ulm, Minn., April 18.—Three herds of dairy cattle in the town of Milford, Brown county, were found to be affected with tuberculosis. Ed Hensel's fine herd of Guernsey cattle, numbering twenty-three head, were condemned, as were three head belonging to Robert Runck, and one cow belonging to Andrew Becker.

The state sanitary board was notified and Dr. Whitcomb of St. Paul arrived here and ordered the cattle killed.

The state fixed the maximum value of $75 for blooded cattle and $35 for graded cattle. Most of those condemned were blooded cattle for which the state reimburses the farmers to the extent of three-fourths of their appraised value.

GOOD PROGRESS AT DIGGING DITCHES

Dirt Is Flying on Great Work in Northwestern Minnesota.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nearly two miles of ditches are being dug daily in Eastern Marshall and Beltrami counties. This rate will be continued until the frosts of next fall make further work impossible. This progress will be increased as the Northern Dredging Company of Thief River Falls has shipped a large machine from Texas, where it has been working for a year past, to this city and as soon as it arrives will begin throwing dirt.

Shaw & Doege, another local ditching firm, will have a large ditcher here the latter part of this month and will at once have it removed by steamboat up the river where it will be set at work on a large contract costing some $30,000 on the north side of the Red Lake river.

Other ditchers will be constructed this spring near the various proposed drainage projects in the eastern part of Marshall county and in Northern Red Lake county and there is no question but at least 500,000 cubic yards of dirt will be removed every month until the fall freeze up.

This city is receiving not a little increase of business by reason of the fact that all the operations connected with the moving of the machines and the construction of the ditches must have their start from this point.

CAUGHT WITH "GOODS."

Gull Lake Man Is Fined $100 for Fishing Illegally.

Brainerd, Minn., April 18. — (Special to The Herald.)—Jesse Brandt, residing near Gull lake, paid dearly for being "caught with the goods" by F. J. Murphy, the new deputy game warden.

The warden seized a sack of fish and Brandt agreed to stay in town until the matter was settled. Instead of that he left home. Warden Murphy hired a rig and drove ten miles, then took a boat and crossed Gull lake in the storm of Friday night, captured his man in bed and returned to Brainerd with him. Coming across the lake in the storm Brandt expressed the hope that lightning would strike the boat and sink it but he evidently had no pull with the weather clerk and Murphy landed him in Hotel Reid all right. Brandt pleaded guilty in municipal court to having ten unlawfully caught fish in his possession and Judge Warner gave him a sentence of $100 fine or ninety days in jail in default of payment.

Give Your Stomach A Chance

To Furnish the System the Necessary Fluids to Drive Dyspepsia From the Stomach.

A Trial Package Free.

You should give to your stomach the chemicals it needs to restore tone vigor and health to the gastric fluids.

Food contains all these ingredients so necessary, and when the stomach is in a normal condition it separates these ingredients as it should and manufactures its own digestive agents, but when it is sick and sore, filled with acids and alkalies that irritate everything they come in contact with, it does not get at the food as it should and cannot make its own juices correctly.

Science has proven just what is most necessary to the stomach to produce the correct gastric fluids and to make of digestion a naturally pleasant duty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so made as to give the stomach the highest chemical properties to aid digestion. These tablets are made up from pure fruit and vegetable essences, and this is the formula: Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Lactose, Nux, Aseptic Pepsin (the highest digestive known), and Jamaica Ginger. Its preparation peculiarly preserves the full strength of these ingredients so that they go into the stomach strong and capable of digesting food of any character. Forty thousand physicians use and prescribe them. Ask your doctor his opinion of the formula above. Every druggist sells them. price 50 cents per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

BELIEVE RUSSELL IS RIGHTFUL HEIR

Dickinson and Stark County, N. D., Have Faith in Claimant.

Dickinson, N. D., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the people of Dickinson are still firm in their belief that Daniel Blake Russell of North Dakota is one of the rightful heirs to the estate of the Massachusetts man over which such a great fight has been waged, is shown by an exchange of telegrams between Senator Leslie Simpson and friends here. When the decision against "Dakota Dan" was announced here, the following telegram was sent to Senator Simpson:

"This message is not of condolence; it is a token of faith. Your 20,000 friends in Stark county believe you are in the right, and are with you to the last ditch. In the fortunes of the battle, past, present and future, you have our deepest confidence. Fight on, for those who know best bank on you.

In reply Senator Simpson sent the following message:

"The cheering words of confidence and approval wired me by my friends serves as an inspiration for renewed energy. One man's word cannot make a French Canadian out of our old Dan, Boston public is almost unanimously with us, notwithstanding."

The news of the decision came to Dickinson like a disaster. Dan Russell has been known by people of this city and of this county for a long while, and they remain firm in the belief that he, and not "Fresno Dan," is the rightful brother of William C. Russell, the recluse.

PERPETUAL MOTION SCHEME DRIVES MAN TO SUICIDE.

Dickinson, N. D., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Interest in perpetual motion and his failure at solving the problem that he had set before himself, caused the suicide of John P. His studying is believed to have affected his mind and he shot himself, being found at his home with a bullet wound in his head. He was brought to the hospital here and died shortly afterwards.

S. S. S. CURES RHEUMATISM

The cause of Rheumatism is an excess of uric acid in the blood. The uratic impurity gets into the circulation by absorption. usually because of constipation, weak kidneys, and other systemic irregularities. Then the blood becomes weak and sour and irritating urate particles are formed in this vital fluid. When in this impure condition the blood can not furnish the necessary amount of nourishment to the different muscles, tendons, nerves and ligaments of the body. Instead it constantly steeps them in the briny acrid matter, and the gritty, urate particles collect in the joints, which causes the pains, aches and soreness of Rheumatism. Liniments, plasters, etc. may relieve the acute pain of an attack of Rheumatism, but such treatment does not reach the blood and therefore can have no permanent good effect. There is but one way to cure Rheumatism and that is to purify the blood of the acid poison. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and attacks the disease at its head. It removes the cause for the reason that it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It filters out every trace of the sour, inflammatory matter, cools the acid-heated circulation, adds richness and nourishment to the blood and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. does not patch up, it cures permanently. S. S. S. is especially valuable as a remedy for Rheumatism because it does not contain a particle of harmful mineral in any form. It is purely vegetable, a fine tonic as well as blood purifier. Book on Rheumatism sent free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Quarrels and Quarrels.

There is the ill feeling that keeps Billy Delaney and Jim Jeffries apart. Old Billy thinks the world of the big fellow and Jeff knows this—yet there they are—neither will come to the surface with the first of the cordial stuff.

They could each do the other a world of good; yet here they are, both on the outs and neither willing to forget the mistake of a hasty word.

There is the case of Tommy Ryan. The Hebrew knows Jeffries like a book, all his whims, his weaknesses and his many faults. There has been a quarrel between Tonsilitis Tommy and the boiler maker and this fact will in all probability keep Ryan away from Jeff at a time when his services might be of immense value to Jeffries.

Bill Jones, the best manager Papke ever had, left the Kewanee society favorite because Billy lost his temper for a fleeting moment. Papke misses the service of the genial Bill. Jones has Ad Wolgast, the world's champion under his managerial wing, and perhaps does not regret the fact that he separated from Papke.

Jack Johnson dropped Sam Fitzpatrick, after the latter had lifted him to the highest rung of the pugilistic ladder. The large smoke has had reasons to regret his deep pale peeve.

There are so many cases on record where quarrels have hurt. John L. Sullivan quarreled with old Mike Donovan and the latter got James J. Corbett to give the ungrateful Boston boy a licking that will rankle in the mind of Sullivan until his dying day.

In most cases the quarrels have been foolish and over trivial matters and in most cases the effects have been far-reaching. If James J. Jeffries is beaten by Jack Johnson, you may trace it to the misunderstanding that has arisen between Jeff and his old time pals, Tommy Ryan and old Billy Delaney.

In South Carolina.

Mack Cook has returned from the Sunny South. Mack is an entertaining cuss and ever has he a fund of stories of little incidents that go to make life one riotous and joyous scream. We give the latest one of the Cook discoveries:

"I was down South, scouting through the woods. All of a sudden I looked up and there is a big rattlesnake, starting right at me. It began to rattle and I began to get rattled.

"I remembered about the guy who says something about running and reading, and I starts for the river. I saw a lot of logs piled up, and the stream was narrow, I makes for the logs, never stopping.

"I get across all right and then turned and looked back. All of a sudden one of the logs reached up out of the water and opens its mouth. Then all of the logs began to move. The objects I thought were logs were crocodiles. I never did stop running until I reached the camp."

The Golden Opportunity.

It would seem to those acquainted with rowing conditions, that the present season is one that should witness the winning of a Western regatta by a Duluth eight. The opportunity seems to be knocking at the door, and it is up to the members of the crews and the men in charge of the rowing to make every effort to mould a winning eight.

The candidates for the boat have all along this season shown the proper spirit. They have turned out in all kinds of weather, and not once has the cold fact of eight failed to go out on the water. Now that the coach has been secured, no detail should be overlooked that will contribute to the turning out of a winning crew.

As has been pointed out before, Winnipeg will have to develop a comparatively new junior eight the present season. In St. Paul there should be material no better than the material that is out for the Duluth crews. Everything favors the Duluth eight, and with the coveted opportunity of victory in sight, the men should work with just that much more earnestness.

A Baseball Memory.

Every once in a while some one will bring the name of Soxalexis up. Whenever the name of this truly marvelous ball player comes up in a fanning bee, there is always the speculation as to just how great a player he would have made.

Old John Barleycorn put the Indian out of the game. When the chief once got fairly familiar with the nose paint, he went awfully fast. There was nothing that could stop him. The tradition of his race, which has told us of Indians bartering away lands and rich possessions for the strong drink of the white man, fought him and from the pedestal of a hero he fell to the low level of a cheap hanger on.

The very first game in Cleveland, one of his first in big league company, Soxalexis made two or three hits, made a wonderful running catch in center field and threw a man out at the plate by a beautiful throw from deep center. He maintained this gait until he began to dally with the firewater. Then there was no restraining the crazy Indian. He became a maniac. He tried to scalp a chink one night with the big cheese knife that decorated the free lunch counter.

The end was near. Broken in health, a bum and a tramp, the Indian crept back to the tribe from whence he came. They say he is running a ferry at the present time.

It was said that Soxalexis would try to get back into the game. There isn't a chance in the world. He has gone, like many another, and the only baseball record he has left is a memory of what might have been.

Quit Your Knocking.

It is about time a halt was called to the things that have been printed in the Superior Telegram. The article Saturday evening was little short of libelous in its character. Mr. Elliott, president of the league, is not a robber or a nonentity, as one would be perfectly justified in believing after reading the article referred to. As a matter of fact, Elliott can do nothing in the present case, as there is no baseball rule that will cover the case of Koepping.

Some one should whisper in the shell-like ear of the scribe, and inform him that near-billingsgate language and irrational abuse do not help the case of baseball. There is a limit for most things, and to a fair-minded person it would seem that the man across the bay has exceeded the limit some time ago.

John A. Elliott has made mistakes, for he is simply human; he has never been accused of being anything other than a gentleman and a good sportsman, however, and the abuse that has been heaped upon his head reflects the animus behind the attack.

DULUTH MAN WINS FAME AS FISHERMAN.

Corvate S. Wilson of Duluth captured two big fish at Avalon, a pleasure resort on Catalina Island, Cal., last week. He caught a white sea bass weighing thirty-nine and one-half pounds and a yellowtail weighing thirty-three pounds. The sea bass gave the fisherman a merry chase, running out 140 yards of line in the first rush and fought for twenty-seven minutes before it was hauled aboard.

Mr. Wilson's yellowtail was the second largest caught during the season.

C. A. Brown of Minneapolis was also fortunate, catching a yellowtail weighing in the neighborhood of twenty-three pounds.

INDIANS BUNCH HITS AND WIN IN SEVENTH.

Columbus, Ohio, April 18.—Indianolis won from Columbus yesterday by scoring three runs in the seventh on three hits and a wide throw by Downs. In the last half Hinchman, Odwell, Quillen and Carisch hit hard and drove Grove out. Duggan entering with two runners on and none out and a run needed to tie, could not be solved. In the ninth he gave two passes without damage. Catcher Carisch will be out for two weeks at least because a foul tip smashed a finger. Reilly's catch off the left field fence was the feature of the fielding. Score: R. H. E.

OWNS SITE OF FIGHT PAVILION

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS.

Thomas H. Williams is the president of the new California Jockey club and is interested in the race track at Emeryville, where the big show between Jeffries and Johnson will probably occur. Mr. Williams has agreed to the use of the race track and says there will be no trouble about the fight permit.

JEFFRIES MAY CHANGE CAMP

Fighter Takes Fancy to Santa Cruz and Talks of Moving.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 18.—Jim Jeffries almost broke up the ball game at Santa Cruz which he motored ten miles to see yesterday. Several thousand people attracted by the news of the fighter's coming, came from all directions to have a look at the pugilist, and the ball park profited.

In the last half of the ninth inning with the score 5 to 4 against the home team, Jeffries and his party left the park, whereupon the major portion of the crowd rushed out on the grounds to trail the fighter. The diamond was overrun and the game was temporarily suspended.

Jeffries took such a fancy to Santa Cruz that there is a talk of the training camp being shifted from Ben Lomond to the seaside town. Weeks of work have been expended in putting the Ben Lomond camp in proper trim for training and were any other ringman but Jeffries the chief factor in the matter, there would be little likelihood of a shift of the scene. But Jeffries is full of whims and so given to acting on impulse that it is difficult to forecast the outcome of his Santa Cruz inclination.

Billy Papke will join Jeffries in a few days and share the latter's training quarters while preparing for his next fight which probably will be with Frank Klaus of Pittsburg.

Jeffries put in a strenuous Sunday. A large crowd of visitors came to the camp and promptly at noon Jeffries, attired in his "gym" toggery, began an endurance exhibition with the pulley weights in the gymnasium. There was nothing spectacular in the work and it did not have as much interest for the visitors as boxing, but it gave them an excellent opportunity to judge Jeffries' condition. For a half hour Jeffries hauled away at the weights. This followed shadow boxing, rope-skipping and bag-punching for an hour and a half.

Jeffries explained that his prolonged session with the chestweights was to limber up his neck and shoulder muscles to avoid any future attack of the cramp which stopped him Friday in the middle of a boxing bout with Bob Armstrong.

Jeffries has done no boxing since that time and masseurs have paid particular attention to the affected spot. Farmer Burns, trainer-in-chief, said he did not think it likely Jeffries would have another attack.

Dick Adams came from Oakland yesterday with the report that Mrs. Jeffries, who was operated upon Saturday, is getting along well. The news put Jeffries in a good humor.

DULUTH WINS FIRST GAME FROM MANSFIELD.

Mansfield, Ohio, April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Duluth defeated the locals Saturday by the score of 5 to 4. Kenney and Reddersdorft were on the slab for the visitors, and did good work, though some clever fielding saved the Duluth pitchers from several tight places.

The Duluth team showed up well. While lacking team work, the men made a strong individual impression. Taylor, in left field, proved a star.

The game scheduled yesterday was called off because of wet grounds. The score of Saturday's game: R. H. E.

Duluth	0 0 3 0 0 0 0 1 1	5	9 2

Batteries—Bernard, Richards and Redman; Kenney, Reddersdorft and Businsky. Anderson.

INDIAN BALL TEAMS WILL PLAY HERE.

Saturday A. W. Kuehnow made arrangements for the appearance here of two Indian baseball teams. The teams will make their appearance in July, and will play against some strong local team. One of the teams is from Nebraska, being composed of Indians from one of the reservations of that state. The other team is a full-blooded Cherokee team, and is said to be a very fast aggregation.

The teams have been granted permission to tour the country only recently.

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

A. W. Kuehnow is on the track of a man, who, if he is secured, will be tried out at first base. The name of the man Mr. Kuehnow is after cannot be given out at the present time. He is a crack baseball player and the Duluth magnate believes he would add strength to a team that looks pretty good at the present time.

Reports from Cleveland and the first game at Mansfield, state that Thomas Zachery Taylor is hitting the ball on the nose, which same is pleasing to the fans at home. Tom generally slams the pellet when he does connect and the news that his eye is feeling fine and healthy, is welcomed.

The report that Cummings was dissatisfied with the salary offered, is incorrect. He has a good job in the city comptroller's office of Cleveland and will not report to the team until a little later. He is satisfied with his contract and has never stated that there was any trouble.

Mr. Kuehnow is looking for a crack catcher, if such a player can be secured, and he will lose no time in picking up the first backstop that looks good.

In "Lefty" Peterson, the Superior fanatics believe they have a very promising pitcher. The youngster pitched in part of the game when Superior defeated Quincy by the score of 2 to 0. The southpaw showed great control and held Quincy helpless while he was on the hill.

Kourick, the man secured from St. Louis for the infield, is being played in the garden, where he may be stationed should he come up to expectations. Gray is also performing in the garden. Caldwell, the Eau Claire castoff, so far has been playing a consistent game at third and may win the place.

Silent Joe Safford, manager of the La Crosse team, and President Rooney Benrud, the backstop of the Eau Claire Commissioners, have "arrove" in the city and called on the enthusiastic Kid Speer. With Benrud back, the hopes of the Eau Claire fans have taken to the highest rungs of the ladder of fame and one scribe has already predicted dire happenings for Duluth.

Schoonhoven has a lively bunch, which will begin working out in earnest the present week. With three veteran twirlers, practically his team intact, and with some strong new candidates for the team, there is every reason to believe Eau Claire will be fully 25 per cent stronger than the team that represented that city last season.

Harry Tracey, the former Duluth first baseman and at one time guardian of the initial sack for La Crosse, has been placed on the blacklist for two years. This will prevent his being signed by the La Crosse club, as was in a Duluth morning paper.

As a matter of fact, the La Crosse team never even entered into negotiations with Tracey. He wrote to the club and attempted to work the management for a ticket from the coast. The La Crosse people suspected something and investigated, with the result that the standing of Tracey has been made clear.

Fresno, Cal., the club Tracey has been with, has been taken back into the fold of organized baseball, with the stipulation, however, that contract jumpers and deserters be blacklisted and prevented from playing in organized baseball.

Therefore Contract Jumper Tracey will probably find that he will be barred from baseball for a serious probation period.

It is stated that Mique Maloy, manager of the Red Wing Indians, has been notified by President Farrell to show cause why he should not be fined and penalized for playing his team against the Logan Squares, an outlaw team of Chicago. The Red Wing aggregation defeated the fast Chicago semi-professional leaguers and since that time Mique has just been naturally aping the pouter pigeon. Imagine his change of bearing when he received the letter from Farrell.

If Malloy cannot show some good and reasonable excuse for his playing against an outlaw team, he is liable to be fined severely for his little gambol in Chicago. This playing against outlaw teams is a very serious offense.

Joe Kilian, Winona baseball pilot, returned to Winona yesterday from Sterling, Ill., where he was called by the death of a relative. He is expected to bring signed contracts of two youngsters who will try for the infield positions.

Winona players will report the present week. Active practice is expected to start tomorrow. A large number of the players will arrive today.

Wausau will also start practice the present week. Most of the members of last year's squad will be on hand. In addition to these players, Manager Carl Bond, himself a crack infielder, has signed a number of men who are expected to increase the strength of the team.

While there is but little known of the Wausau team, it is expected that Bond will get away much better than the team of last season, which failed to get out of the rut.

Corrigan will have his men out this week. He has been on the trail of players all week, and report hath it that he has grabbed two promising men. Like Wausau, as yet little is known of Rochester.

AMATEUR BASEBALL PLAYER IS KILLED.

Freeburg, Ill., April 18.—William Schmitt, 28 years old, a member of a local baseball team, was killed yesterday by being struck by a ball over the heart. His team was playing with a St. Louis team and Schmitt was at bat. After being struck he started to walk to first base but fell and died soon after.

A coroner's jury was impaneled on the field from among the spectators and a verdict of accidental death was returned shortly afterward. L. Menze, the St. Louis pitcher, was absolved from all blame.

VANDERBILT WINS ON FRENCH TRACK.

Paris, April 18.—At the Longchamps race course yesterday William K. Vanderbilt's Oversight won the prix de la Jonchere, and in the prix de Juiche his Messidor III ran second.

TOO HIGH FOR GOOD FISHING

Storms Saturday Night Spoiled Sunday's Sport for Fishermen.

Enthusiastic anglers who left here Friday and early Saturday afternoon with the visions of fish in plenty were grievously disappointed on the first day of fishing.

A trainload of fishermen returned to Duluth yesterday and today, with little but experience to show for their first day along the trout streams. The cause of the disappointment of the fishermen was the rapid rise of the streams. Many of the streams swelled over their banks, making it hard for fishermen to get near the high-running rivers.

Fishermen who returned this morning from streams in the vicinity of Duluth state that it will require more than a week for the streams to recede to their natural levels. Until that time, those who were out yesterday predict, the fishing will not be good.

The downpour of Saturday was so heavy that it swelled the streams from a comparatively low water mark to the high water mark, and in many instances caused the streams to overrun their banks.

MAC DOWELL MAY RETURN

Last Year's Stroke May Be Candidate for Junior Eight.

MacDowell, one of the best oarsmen ever turned out at the Head of the Lakes, who last season stroked the senior eight of the Duluth Boat club in a magnificent race at St. Paul, will return to Duluth from the West and may become a candidate for the junior eight.

The young man has been in Idaho for the Marshall-Wells company. He is expected here the present week, and if he does not go on the road for the firm, he will likely come out and try for the boat.

The return of MacDowell would be welcomed by the members of the rowing squad. He is one of the best strokes ever turned out at the local club. He raised the stroke last year to over forty-four, after rowing a gruelling race all the way down the course.

The eight was out yesterday morning, Coach John Peyton assuming his duties for the first time. He coxed the eight and a very good row was the result. Ver Weibe and Brown are expected out this evening. There are also a number of other candidates expected out.

If two eights are put on the water the present week, a race between the regulars and the yanigans will result in the near future.

NEW MANAGER OF THE HIGHLANDERS

—Copyright, 1910, by George Grantham Bain.

GEORGE STALLINGS.

Big Chief George Stallings, manager of the American league team in New York, is a hustler and has a thorough knowledge of the game. He expects to have the Highlanders up with the leaders, but does not claim the pennant. He thinks he has a chance for it however. The team has been greatly strengthened by the new men, Earl Gardner, Foster, Harry Wolters, and Pitchers Ford and Vaughan.

TRACK MAY BE REPAIRED

Plans on Foot to Rebuild Old Driveway for Racing Purposes.

There is a story going the rounds in local sporting circles, which states that an attempt is being made to have the old Duluth fair grounds track repaired and the grounds fixed up sufficiently to permit of the holding of a race meet there the present summer.

The scheme is to work the meet in harmony with the association across the bay, which will hold a race meet the present summer on the Superior track.

Horsemen at the Head of the Lakes are agreed that if meets should be held at both Duluth and Superior a very strong string of horses could be secured. It would be to the advantage of the Superior people to have the Duluth men take up the scheme of uniting with them in the plan to boost horse racing at the Head of the Lakes.

A number of horsemen held a meeting at the St. Louis last night, when the scheme was talked over. The attitude of the Superiorites is well known, and if the plans for the improving of the neglected race track on this side of the bay are executed, a strong card can be secured for both the Duluth and Superior meets.

It is stated that a well known local contractor is ready to take the job of repairing the track on very reasonable conditions.

HARTFORD MAY NOT BE ON GRAND CIRCUIT.

Hartford, Conn., April 18.—The abandonment of Grand Circuit horse racing at Charter Oak park is forecasted by the decision of the racing committee of the Connecticut Fair association Saturday to build a half-mile track at the park. The formation of a state circuit for trotting and pacing is advocated. The suppression of pool selling has materially effected support of the grand circuit meet here during the past three years.

PRINCETON DEFEATS MILACA.

Milaca, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a close game of baseball Saturday the Princeton high school team defeated the Milaca high school team by a score of 4 to 3, at the Princeton grounds. The batteries: Princeton—Archie Hull and Jess Angstman. Milaca—Herman Sjostrom and Donald McGilvra.

DROWNED IN MINING PIT

Robert Adams, Engineer at Hudson Mine, Aurora Meets Unusual Death.

Passing By Open Pit Full of Water in Night When He Slides In.

Aurora, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Adams, an engineer employed at the Hudson mine, was drowned early yesterday morning by falling into an open pit while returning from work.

Adams had been working on night shift and owing to the disagreeable weather left off shortly after midnight. He and a companion were going to the town. They were following a path which led around the pit. It had been raining hard all night and when Adams reached a place where the path was very close to the pit the soft dirt gave way, hurtling him down the steep embankment to the bottom, about eighteen feet. There was several feet of water at the bottom but as Adams had been carrying the lantern his companion could see nothing, and went for assistance.

The bank was practically perpendicular and it was impossible to reach Adams in the dark. In the morning his body was recovered by the aid of a rope.

Adams was about 30 years of age and had been working on the range for several years. He leaves a wife and family who are living somewhere in Canada.

Adams was carrying a watch at the time, which had stopped at 2:15, showing that the accident must have happened at about that time. He had nearly $150 on his person at the time.

N. B. Aarnold, president of the club, has a very important matter up his sleeve which will probably be divulged tonight. Delegates to the county club meeting to be held at Biwabik tomorrow will also be selected.

JUDGE HUGHES HAS VERY BUSY SESSION

Range Judge So Crowded With Work There Is Talk of Additional Judge.

Virginia, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Preparations are being made for the April term of the district court, which will open here Tuesday, April 26. Both grand and petit jurors are being summoned and many papers in action for trial are being filed with the clerk. A number of cases were continued from the January term, and together with the new ones, both criminal and civil, the calender for the coming term promises to be a large one. The January term will close at Hibbing the latter part of the week and only two days thereafter will remain for the officials of the court to prepare for the April term.

Following is a partial list of the grand jurors who have been served with summons for the coming session: W. R. Palmer, Arthur W. Talboys, George H. Scott, Biwabik; George L. Train, Chisholm; Duncan Austin, George A. Perham, A. Slater Bargh, James Barkie, Eveleth; W. P. Chinn, McKinley; B. D. Lewis, M. E. Fanning, William Rooney, Virginia. Eleven more grand jurors will be summoned to complete the full quota, but these the to come from the southern part of the country.

It is thought that there will be considerable work for the grand jury, but it is not anticipated that the number of cases to come before that body will reach the number disposed of by the last grand jury, thirty-one being the number of inuictments returned at that time.

With the close of court at Hibbing this week the January term will have been in continuous session since Jan. 25, eleven weeks of the term having been held in Virginia. The court officials do not expect to clean up the January calendar, and a number of cases will probably go over to the April term. Judge Martin Hughes is being worked as hard as any district judge in the state, and if this record is kept up another judge will be needed in the near future to assist him. The county board of commissioners showed foresightedness in this regard when they planned for two separate courtrooms in the new courthouse, to be erected in Virginia the coming summer.

Already there is talk of adding another judge to the circuit, and James P. Boyle of Eveleth, assistant county attorney, is being mentioned for the position. Mr. Boyle is one of the most brilliant lawyers of the state; and, should the legislature create another judgeship for this district, it is quite likely that he can secure the appointment if he wants it.

OFFER PRIZES FOR IMPROVING PREMISES

Nashwauk School Board to Encourage Pupils in Making Places Better.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 18.—(Special to She Herald.)—A junior league has been organized among the children of the public schools to interest them in cleaning up their yards and premises in the planting and care of flower and vegetable gardens.

The school board has generously offered to give prizes for the greatest improvement in premises, for the best flowers and also for the best vegetables and window boxes. Next fall, shortly after school has been resumed, there will be a large exhibit and the prizes will be awarded by judges appointed by the executive committees.

The teachers will devote their former nature study periods to school gardening and thus direct the children and show them how to get the best results and the most artistic arrangements, but the general work of the league will be controlled and directed by the executive committee, assisted by a large general committee.

The following committees were appointed by Supt. H. A. Gilruth to assist in the junior league work: Executive, Mrs. Dr. Hewson, secretary and chairman, Mrs. Martin Tracey and Mrs. Henry Hulme; general committee, Mesdames Gordon, chairman; Hogan, Latvala, Trythall, West, Reigart, Larson, Dodson, Shellman, Lang, Johnson, Aiken, Batchelder, McWilliams, Cargyle, Lindsey, Ohles, Olilla, Krall, Haugen, Tallon and Saccoman.

The work of the executive committee shall consist of the appointment of any committee that they may deem necessary to successfully carry on the work, such as the committee on premises and the judges for the final decision and awarding of prizes. It will also be their duty to look after the distribution of seeds, and the arrangement and time of the fall exhibit will also be one of their most important executive duties. The work of the general committee shall consist of holding meetings to discuss, comment and assist by their advice, the work of the junior league. The meeting terminated with the following song, which was sung by a number of junior league workers, entitled 'While We Are Farming in Nashwauk":

Bring the hoe and shovel, and we'll all get to work
Clearing out the refuse and shoveling out the dirt.
Not a moment will we waste and never think to shirk
While we're cleaning up Nashwauk.
Hurrah! Hurrah! We're working hard you see.
Hurrah! Hurrah! Its really fun and glee.
When we're done we'll have some fun,
A glorious jubilee—
When we have clean streets in Nashwauk.

Then we'll get some flower seeds and plant them in a row;
Carrots, beets and lettuce, too, and then we'll watch them grow.
Window boxes here and there. Oh, won't we make a show
While we are farming in Nashwauk.
Hurrah! Hurrah! Our work has just begun.
Hurrah! Hurrah! My, won't we have some fun
Watching the onions while they grow?
And
When the fall does come
Oh, how we'll all cheer for Nashwauk!

SAVED BY WIRELESS

will be taken by special train to London.

Most of Cargo Saved.

Capt. Layland and his crew stood by the vessel which at daylight showed a slight list to port. As soon as the passengers were sent away the work of lightening the cargo was begun and the major part of it was taken ashore.

An early examination of the engines and boiler rooms appeared to show their equipments were intact and that the damage to the vessel was limited to the forward holds.

The Minnehaha struck at almost the identical spot where her namesake, a sailing ship, was driven ashore some thirty-seven years ago.

In the emergency the behavior of all on board the liner could not have been better. The lifeboats were swung out promptly at the first report, and then Capt. Layland, the officers and crew passed among the passengers, who had hurriedly rushed on deck in the clothing in which they had slept, quieting their fears and persuading them to return to their cabins and dress themselves warmly for the trip ashore.

HUNGARIANS FORGET ELECTION IN GIVING ROOSEVELT WELCOME

tinguished guest as, accompanied by Ambassador Hengelmueller von Hengerver, he left his hotel and entered an automobile to begin the day's program. Mr. Roosevelt first made a formal call at the royal palace, where he left his card for Archduke Joseph of Austria. He then visited the house of parliament.

Enthusiasm Ran Wild.

Popular enthusiasm, according to the newspaper editors, exceeds anything since the days of Louis Kossuth.

The journey yesterday, after Col. Roosevelt left the train at Pressburg to spend the afternoon with Count Apponyi, whom he had entertained at Washington and Oyster Bay, assumed almost the character of a triumphal procession. The entire population of the ancient capital of Hungary turned out, the mayor and other city authorities greeting the ex-president of the United States at the station. They welcomed him as the apostle of liberty and peace.

At the villages, each made up of a different race—Magyar, Slovak, German—that the party passed through on the automobile trip to the Apponyi castle, Col. Roosevelt was met with equal enthusiasm.

Crowd Waited in Rain.

The return trip from the castle, by another route, was marked by a similar demonstration, and when Budapest was reached at 9:30 o'clock, the former president was fairly mobbed in the station in spite of a heavy downpour of rain, and he was surrounded by thousands of Hungarians, cheering wildly. Hundreds of railroad men from the yards clambered on top of the train to take part in the demonstration. At the hotel another multitude had gathered and refused to depart until Col. Roosevelt appeared on the balcony to acknowledge their greetings.

In his brief speech to the crowds around the hotel, he reiterated what he had said throughout the day in reply to the words of welcome that had greeted him at various points.

He recognized, he said, the courage, devotion and chivalry of the Hungarians, and he especially pleased them when he declared that one who lived as he had, among the cattlemen of the great West, could best appreciate the extraordinary character of the descendants of horsemen, who had followed Arepad, the magic national hero, into the plains of Central Europe.

No Talk of Peace Plans.

Mr. Roosevelt authorized a categorical denial of reports telegraphed from Vienna that he had discussed with Emperor Francis Joseph the question of the limitation of armaments with the intention of continuing to press the question at Paris, Berlin and London.

ALBERT WOLTER IS PUT ON TRIAL FOR GIRL'S MURDER

membered and partly burned body was found in a gunny-sack on a fire escape outside Wolter's apartments, and examination showed that an attempt to burn the body in a fireplace in Wolter's room had been made.

Wolter had already been placed under arrest, charged with the girl's abduction, and on the discovery of the body he was charged with murder and speedily indicted for the crime.

Says His Friend Did It.

Wolter's counsel asserts that he has a valid defense for the prisoner. It has been the youth's claim that another man, whom he thought his friend, had lured Miss Wheeler to his flat and there had strangled her to death and attempted to conceal the crime by burning the body.

A note book in which the state claims that Wolter set down Miss Wheeler's name and address and particulars regarding her application for employment was expected by the prosecution to prove an important link in connecting the youthful prisoner with the crime.

UNBORN BABY WAS SAVED

Remarkable Operation Performed By Duluth Man In Cleveland Hospital.

Presence of Mind and Prompt Action Saved Child's Life.

An operation on a dead woman, one of the most remarkable operations in the profession of surgery and rarely performed, was enlisted to save the life of an unborn infant by Dr. C. E. Prudden, son of A. E. Prudden of this city, at St. Luke's hospital, Cleveland, several days ago.

Young Prudden, who was graduated from Northwestern university last year is a house surgeon at St. Luke's hospital. Mrs. Mary Harbart, a Bohemian, had been operated upon for a goiter which was removed from her neck. The operation was successful but because of her condition she was denied the rest she needed, and the severed vein in the neck burst.

The eminent physician who was attending the woman could not be reached and young Prudden was confronted with a situation which few surgeons ever have the opportunity of witnessing. He hurriedly slashed the bandages about the woman's neck with his pocket knife as the instruments were being boiled. He wanted to seize the big vein and close it, but it was too late. The woman was dying and she knew it. She whispered to the young surgeon, "Save my baby," and died.

It was a place for quick brain action, and young Prudden lost not a valuable second. He called for a scalpel. Two swift strokes followed and the young doctor lifted into the world a new life to take the place of the one which had passed. The operation required about ten seconds. Eight minutes and ten seconds elapsed between the death of the mother and the birth of the child. Under normal conditions the baby would have been born within two weeks. The little one is a girl, remarkably pretty and is in splendid physical condition, dispatches say.

WANTS DAMAGES FROM COMPANY

The case of Matt Tamminen against the Adriatic Mining company for $20,900 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained while in the employ of the company, was begun this morning before Judge William A. Cant of the district court.

Tamminen claims in his complaint that he was engaged in cleaning out the bottom of the shaft when a quantity of matter was allowed to fall upon him. He claims that his skull was crushed, his face badly cut and as a result he spent about four weeks in the hospital.

He claims that the shaft was not sufficiently lighted and that he was not warned of danger. He claims also that the company was at fault in that they did not provide a safe place in which to work.

SAY CONTRACTOR IS TOO SLOW

Piedmont avenue residents are in a dudgeon over the slowness with which the reduction of the Piedmont avenue grade is being made. They claim that the avenue is in bad shape and has been in the same condition for about a year. Several complaints have already been made to the city council and Alderman Charles Hoan will bring the question up again this evening.

He believes that Contractor McLean should be more expeditious and bring the job to a quick conclusion. The residents have been seriously inconvenienced because of the torn-up condition of the highway and they think that it is about time that it was again available for ordinary traffic.

BAKERS CONFER WITH COMMITTEE

Several bakers who are strenuously opposed to certain sections of the proposed new ordinance regulating bake shops, are expected to meet with the council committee on ordinances this afternoon at the city hall.

The ordinance was drafted by Health Commissioner H. E. Webster and City Attorney Bert Fesler and presented to the council last week. It was referred to the committee, which will likely introduce it this evening. The threat has been made that the bakers will raise the price of bread from 5 cents to 6 cents a loaf if the ordinance goes through in its present shape. The reason given is that the extra cost of wrapping bread will force them to raise the price in order to make a reasonable profit.

The mayor did not sign the ordinance passed last Monday evening for a safe and sane Fourth and it is probable that an effort will be made to have it reconsidered tonight. This will take eleven votes and it is doubtful if that many can be mustered who do not want the ordinance to stand as it now is. Some of the dealers allege that they will lose considerable cash as they have already placed their orders for the coming Independence Day celebration.

Believe He Was Murdered.
Cleveland, N. D., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Edward Stern, the Cleveland butcher whose body was found in the Red river near Fargo, took place here today. There is a great deal of credence given here to the theory that Sterns met his death at the hands of some persons for the purpose of robbery.

NORTH BUTTE HAS SLUMP

Declines Following Reading of Annual Report---Stocks Have Weak Tone.

The market declined today with North Butte leading. In this issue there was considerable liquidation owing to the unfavorable annual report which was read at the stockholders' meeting in the company's offices in the Lyceum building, this city, today. North Butte lost 5¾ points durling the day. Lake lost 2½ points; Calumet & Arizona, 1⅝ points; Amalgamated, 1¾ points from the opening. Amalgamated sold at $78.25 to $76.25 and up to $76.37½; Butte Coalition at $22.50; Giroux at $8.87½ to $8.50; Greene at $10 to $9.81½; Calumet & Arizona at $67.12½ to $65.50; Lake at $60 to $61.75 then to $57.50; North Butte at $41 to $34.50, up to $35.75 and down to $35.25; Superior & Pittsburg at $13.59 to $13.-62½; Steel common at $87.87½ to $86 and up to $86.37½.

Trading on the local market was active, but not broad. The heaviest trading was in the cheap stocks. Butte-Alex Scott part paid, sold at $3.25 to $3.37½; Butte-Ballaklava at $9.50, Red Warrior at $2.25 to $2.31¼, Shattuck at $27, Butte & Superior at $2.12½, Calumet & Montana at $1.06¾ to $1.00, Calumet & Corbin at 82 and 83 cents, Rawhide Royal at 4 cents and St. Mary's at 20 and 19 cents.

Sales of more than 10,000,000 pounds of copper at 13 cents were made Friday and Saturday. Consumers are in the market for June and July deliveries.

Walker's copper letter in Saturday's Boston Commercial said: "Copper is lower. Lake selling at 13½ cents and electrolytic at 12¾c to 13c per pound. The report last week of the Copper Producer's association, showing an unexpectedly large increase in domestic supplies during March, and the steadily declining quotations in the foreign speculative metal market, are responsible for current weakness. It is rumored that Calumet & Hecla is negotiating the sale of a large amount of copper at 13 cents. Fear has been felt that the largest selling agency might offer prices down arbitrarily. The actual statistical position of the metal market is stronger now than it was at the first of the year, however, and with any slight improvement in general business confidence there is sure to be a further increase in the demand. If the price of the metal is offered down the action will be inexcusable, as it will simply give speculators an opportunity to purchase large lots of copper at low prices, which they will tarow back on the market a little later. The actual consumption of copper is just as large on a 13c market as it would be if the price were a cent lower."

Since being recently listed on the Boston stock exchange the Warrior Development company's stock has been heavily traded in.

Live Oak has assumed a very interesting position, not only because of its own favorable developments, but by reason of the significance to this property of developments on adjoining claims. The northern boundary of the Live Oak property is, roughly, in the shape of a blunted cone. The present workings are in the extreme apex of this cone, and about half way between the eastern and western boundaries.

It is understood that a churn drill hole on an adjoining claim, lying west of these workings, and just over the Live Oak boundary line, has cut 1,600 feet of commercial ore, and that another, on an adjoining claim to the east, has 100 feet. These two drill holes and the present Live Oak workings are in almost a direct line, and cover a stretch about 1,600 feet long.

That is, at either extremity of this stretch of 1,600 feet across the Live Oak's northern boundary, commercial ore has been located by churn drill and in the center by the Live Oak's own workings. The dimension of the Live Oak workings at right angles to this line is about 300 feet, and the depth of commercial ore in its own shaft is close to 200.

These dimensions indicate a very considerable body of ore; in fact, on paper, one could theoretically figure on 7,000,000 or 8,000,000 tons. Of course, it should not be understood for a minute that any such amount has been proved, in any sense of the word, but these developments are certainly interesting as suggesting that the next large body of ore in the Miami camp will be opened in this southwest corner.

A churn drill, the first to be used on this property, is being put into commission this week, a few hundred feet due west of the underground workings. This should either tend to prove or disprove the existence of ore over this stretch of 1,600 feet that is mentioned above.

OBITUARY

Ignacio Marisenl, secretary of foreign relations for Mexico, died in the City of Mexoco today. Death was due to pneumonia and was unexpected. The Mexican minister had been critically ill for several days, but had showed signs of improvement. His ultimate recovery had been entertained.

A. J. Halford, formerly a newspaper man of prominence and in recent years editor of the Congressional Directory, died at Washington, Sunday, after several weeks' illness. Mr. Halford was a brother of Maj. Elijah W. Halford, private secretary to President Harrison. Several years ago Halford was connected with various metropolitan papers as a political writer in Washington. He had also been connected in important capacities with the Associated Press, United Press and the New York Sun. Mr. Halford was a native of Hamilton, Ohio, and was 59 years old. He was the father of Lieut. Doane Halford, Twenty-second infantry, U. S. A., and Capt. Frank Halford of the marine corps.

Count Orloie, well-known Liberal leader of the reichstag, and a warm supporter of the development of the German navy, died in Berlin, April 17, of injuries received in a recent street accident.

Senator Abarzuza, who once held the portfolio of minister of foreign affairs for Spain, died Sunday in Madrid.

Charles O. Johnson, formerly general manager of the Great Northern, general manager of the Winona Interurban railroad at Winona Lake, Ind., and traffic manager of the H. J. Heinze company, died suddenly of heart failure at Pittsburg, Pa., April 17. He was 55 years old.

John Michael, aged 79, millionaire, brewer, died at La Crosse, Wis., April 18.

YOUNG POET IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Stillwater, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Shortly after noon today, Governor Eberhart's executive clerk, J. A. O. Preus, delivered to Warden Wolfer of the state penitentiary here the order for the release of John Carter, the convict who won his freedom by writing a poem.

Carter, who is 24 years old today, was awaiting the order in the office of the warden. He wore a suit, including an overcoat, given him by the state, and carried $25 of the state's money which is furnished every discharged prisoner. Besides this he had about $200, which he had earned by his writings and extra pay allowed him for work as prison librarian and as teacher of the night school.

One of the first things Carter asked for while waiting for his actual freedom was "a good cigar."

"I have almost forgotten what a good cigar tastes like," he said.

He talked freely of his plans, but said that before deciding definitely on what occupation he would take up for a living he would consult with Judge Willis of St. Paul.

STEEL TRUST BOOKS SHOWN

New York, April 18.—The stock books of the United States Steel corporation were thrown open for public inspection today at the annual meeting of the stockholders in Hoboken, N. J., and they disclosed that the Dutch syndicate, holding stocks for individual investors in Holland, has holdings aggregating 216,870 shares. J. P. Morgan & Co., and Spearson, Hammill & Co., are the next largest stockholders of the corporation's securities.

The books show that for the account of trustees for seventeen stockholders, the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., holds a total of about 180,000 shares of common and 30,000 shares of preferred stock, while Spearson, Hammill & Co., hold in their name 145,295 common shares and 20,953 shares of preferred stock.

The Rothschilds are large holders of the corporation's shares.

All the directors whose terms expired were re-elected. It is expected that there will be no change in the personnel of the steel corporation at the meeting of directors on April 26 and that Former Judge E. H. Gary will be reelected chairman and W. E. Corey reelected president.

The books do not show that J. P. Morgan holds any stock in his own name. H. C. Frick, one of the corporation's directors, holds 15,000 shares of preferred and one share of common. The Morgan holdings are said to be in the names of others.

SAYLER'S BROTHER TALKS OF TRIALS

Watseka, Ill., April 18.—A telephone message from Will Nightingale, cashier of the Bank of Crescent City, today brought the information that there is no truth in the report that Ira Z. Sayler, brother of J. B. Sayler, for whose murder Dr. W. R. Miller and Mrs. J. B. Sayler were convicted last week, had committed suicide. Mr. Nightingale said Sayler called at the bank on the day following the verdict, drew out his balance and announced his intention of returning to Portland, Or., the next day. Sayler was in good spirits then, and the only comment he made on the trial was that the penalty was not severe enough, and had they had separate trials each would have been more severely punished.

SUPERIOR KILLED BY FALL FROM SCAFFOLD

When a scaffolding at the shipyards gave away late Saturday afternoon, Peter Derrat, a laborer, received injuries from the fall from which he died yesterday morning at St. Mary's hospital. The dead man lived at 1413 Pine avenue, with a cousin, who will make the funeral arrangements today. He was 23 years old and unmarried.

Stanislaw Wenk, a fellow worker, was more fortunate, escaping with a sprained wrist and a number of bad bruises only, while Derrat sustained injuries to his spine. Wenk, who lives at 410 North Fourth street, is at St. Mary's hospital.

WILL BEGIN APPROACH.

The Interstate Dredge & Dock company was awarded the contract Saturday afternoon for a part of the construction of the approach to the ore dock, which the Soo road will build on the Wisconsin side of the St. Louis bay, near the eastern end of the Grassy Point bridge. The contract, however, only calls for the pile driving work.

There are 7,000 to 8,000 piles to be driven, half of these to be used for the approach and the remainder in the dock proper. Besides the pile driving, the other work will be done by Foley, Walsh & Stewart, who let the subcontracts.

Big Contract Is Let.

The contract for the flooring of the new Philadelphia & Reading coal dock on Conners' Point was let to Whitnew Bros. of Superior, Saturday afternoon for $50,000. The space to be floored is 1,000 by 500 and will require about two months' work with a full crew. The construction will begin at once.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 18.—After a fairly firm opening wheat struck a toboggan under heavy selling pressure and values declined sharply until toward the close, when there was a sharp reaction, due to heavy covering by shorts, who believed that the decline had reached its limit. Good buying in the deferred months contributed to the upturn at the close, which did not carry values to yesterday's close, however. May and July closing ⅞c off. May wheat opened at $1.08 bid and sold at $1.07⅞, $1.07⅜, $1.07¼, $1.07½, $1.07, $1.07¼, $1.06½, $1.07¼ and closed $1.07 bid. The July option opened at $1.08¾ asked, sold at $1.08½, $1.08¾, $1.08, $1.08¼, $1.07½, $1.08 and closed $1.07⅞ bid.

Trading in flax was light and the market was erratic. The trend was downward. May opened with offers at $2.41, sold at a loss of 6c at $2.35, gained 5c and declined to $2.37½, sold at $2.38 and then at $2.36, closing with bids at that price. July was offered at $2.38, sold at a loss of 5c and then at $2.33 and $2.34, closing with sales at $2.24. September opened at $1.83, declined to $1.79 and advanced to $1.82, the close. October opened late at $1.73 and gained 1c, closing $1.75b.

Coarse grains were moderately active. There was some selling of oats on account of the weakness in wheat. Oats closed ¼c off, barley and rye were unchanged and durum closed ⅜c off. Cash was on a parity with May.

Wheat made a show of a firm opening but soon declined. The bears hammered prices relentlessly. There was some short covering in the deferred months which had little effect. The market was under severe selling pressure and its decline in the forepart of the day was rapid. The market appeared completely demoralized and liquidation increased steadily. Some buying support came from holders of downs. The selling was so general that it led to the opinion that the bulls were unloading although there was no outward indication to that effect. There were few buying incentives especially as the cash situation continued weak and advices from the winter wheat states were more favorable.

The milling situation is bearish. Mills are not taking any wheat to speak of and in some instances they are disposing of wheat which they have carried at a heavy cost for several months. New York mills are shut down and flour is being offered by resellers cheaper than the cost of production.

While primary receipts show a falling off, yet, when the decline in values is considered, the receipts are unusually large. Although some people maintain that farmers have sold wheat less freely on the slide in prices, yet receipts continue to run large, and in the Northwest arrivals are holding a good level. Stocks at Duluth and Minneapolis are almost as large as stores at this time last year. On account of the opening of navigation, which resulted in shipments of 699,000 bu of wheat by lake, stocks here declined 354,781 bu for the week. Stores here are about 2,000,000 bu less than last year. All indications favor continued fair receipts of wheat at primary points. Crop prospects are excellent, and the outlook for a big carryover is not regarded by farmers as other than an argument in favor of selling their old stuff.

Rain fell in Missouri yesterday and last night. West of the Missouri river the sky is obscured by clouds and the temperature is low. For Nebraska tonight freezing temperatures are predicted. The prevailing weather cannot hurt the plant in the Southwest, and in most places it is a benefit.

Cables closed lower. In the Liverpool market there was heavy selling pressure. Offerings from Canada and other foreign countries were liberal. Russian and Danubian shipments are increasing.

Cash Sales Monday.

Le Count, the crop expert, sums up conditions in Kansas in a report to Barrell as follows: "The situation in Kansas is rapidly changing. One can scarcely believe the improvement that this country has shown since my last trip here. The soil is thoroughly soaked and one can almost see the wheat grow. Of course, the large area that was winter killed is gone, and I think the loss was too great to be overcome, even if we get a large crop from the remaining acreage, but I think it possible, though not probable, that Kansas will raise 75,000,000 bu. this season."

Selling was in the way of realizing prompted by the unexpected heavy world's shipments, notably Russian shipments and the increased American shipment to the United Kingdom. The weakness in American markets as well as Winnipeg and the continued free cargo offerings at 3 to 6d decline. La Plata cargoes were freely offered at the decline and Buenos Ayres' future market was weak. Following the opening there was further decline of ⅛@¼d. During the morning some steadiness developed as the selling pressure abated and shorts covered fearing the market was oversold on the decline and prices reacted ½d from the low and at midday were ¼d up from the opening and ½@⅝d lower than Saturday. THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Bearish Sentiment Controls Wheat Prices in Early Trading.

Chicago, April 18.—Wheat prices in the early trading were governed by the bearish sentiment which has prevailed for several days. At the outset the drop was from a shade to ⅞c. Leading commission houses sold liberally and scattered support in the first hour was unable to prevent a slight further decline. July sank from down from $1.00@99¾c. Foreign markets weighted by heavy world's shipments were also lower. Traders generally discounted fears that the low temperatures over the wheat belt would work damage to the growing crop. Opening figures for the July delivery were ⅛@¼ to ⅝@¾c off at $1.01¾@1.01¼, while September opened a shade to ⅜@½c down at $1.00@99⅝c.

Later in the session the market declined sharply on more abundant offerings. July went down to $1.00⅜ and September touched bottom at 98⅞c. In the final hour the demand from shorts took the figures well away from the low point. The market closed firm with July ¾@⅞c down at $1.01⅛ and September ⅝c off at 99⅝@½c.

In the corn pit prices at the start were steadier than in wheat, but declined in the first hour influenced by larger offerings. May sold between 57¾ and 57¼c and with the other futures rested in the first hour on the lower levels. Opening figures for the May option were ⅛@¼c off at 57¾@57⅝c.

Liquidation sales forced the market down later in the session, May declining to 56½c; 1¼c lower than the high point of the day. The other futures kept withing the narrow limits and May rallied on improved buying in the final hour. The close was firm with May ⅝@¾c down at 57⅛@¼c.

Oats were firm with July and September unchanged to ⅛c up. In the first hour the weakness of the other grains, however, weighed down the market and prices sagged slightly. Opening figures for the May option were a shade higher to a shade lower at 42⅜@42¼c.

Lower prices for live hogs and increased arrivals at the packing centers were reflected in the provisions pit by general declines. The initial figures were generally from 5c to 20c off, although May pork opened 5c higher, only to lose the gain a few minutes later. Offerings were abundant and in the first hour prices hovered around the bottom. Opening figures for the May products were: Pork, $21.10; lard, $12, and ribs $11.80.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Decidedly Easier on Bearish News and Statistics.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 18.—Wheat was decidedly easier today. May sold down to $1.06⅝, 2⅛c below the opening and high point. News and statistics both favored the bears. Local elevator stocks increased 20,000 bu for two days. Reports from both the Southwest and Northwest say the condition of wheat has been improved. Minneapolis today received 209 cars of wheat, as compared with 224 cars a year ago. Duluth got 32 cars, against 42; and Winnipeg 138, against 166. May opened $1.07¾; high, $1.07⅞; low, $1.05⅝; closed, $1.06¼. July opened $1.08¾; high, $1.08¾; low, $1.06¾@1.06⅞; closed, $1.07⅜. September opened $1.00¾; high, $1.00⅜; low, 98⅜c; closed, 99¼c.

Cash wheat was slightly easier. Demand, however, was strong for choice quality. Low grade offerings found a slow sale. No. 1 northern sold for ½c to 2½c above the May option, and No. 2 northern for 1½c below to ½c above. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern, $1.06½@1.08¼; to arrive, $1.06½@1.08¼; No. 2 northern, $1.04½@1.06¼; to arrive, $1.04½@1.06¼. No. 3 wheat, $1.01½@1.04¼. No. 3 yellow corn, 49¾@53¼c. Barley—Receipts, 45 cars, year ago, 27; shipments, 55. More liberal offerings and only fair demand made the market easier today. Inquiry was for both feeding and malting barley. Closing prices were 1c lower than Saturday. Closing range, 50@61c.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Downward Drift All Day and Close Drooping and Dull.

Engagements of Gold for Export Help to Depress Prices.

New York, April 18. — Fractional gains were shown as a rule by the opening prices of stocks today, but they were small and mingled with a sufficient number of losses to make the tone rather undecided. The dealings were in quite large volume. Southern railway, Denver & Rio Grande and Utah Copper rose ¾. Kansas and Texas declined ⅝.

Some of the usual inactive low-priced railroad stocks were in demand including some of the Gould and Hawley groups. The usual leaders of the market rose slightly in sympathy and then receded to below Saturday's closing, Union Pacific reacting a point. The Denver & Rio Grande stocks improved 1⅜, Missouri Pacific, and Kansas City Southern 1¼ and Louisville & Nashville, St. Louis & San Francisco preferred, Pittsburg C. C| & St. Louis, Central Leather and International Harvester 1. American Sugar gave way 1¼.

The response from the country to last week's professions of confidence in the stock market did not conduce to help to raising prices. Reports of an alliance between the Hill and Gould railroads gave some strength to those stocks but induced selling of the other trans-continentals. The dull iron market, unsatisfactory copper trade conditions and reports of crop damage by the western cold wave were causes for selling various stocks. With the exceptions noted, and a rise of a point in Brooklyn Transit, morning prices ranged lower than Saturday. Kansas & Texas, Amalgamated Copper, and Anaconda declined one and Virginia-Iron 4. Bonds were irregular.

The market closed drooping and dull. The downward drift of prices continued through the afternoon with special pressure on the metal group. Engagements of more gold for export to London on Wednesday's steamer help to depress sentiment. The decline in American Smelting reached 2⅝, Amalgamated Copper 2¼, United States Steel 2, Union Pacific and Anaconda 1¾, St. Paul 1⅝, Rock Island and American Locomotive, 1½, Virginia-Carolina Chemical 1⅜, Pennsylvania, New York Central, Wabash preferred, Great Northern preferred, Illinois Central and American Car 1.

COPPER STOCK BROKERS.

404 West First Street, Commercial Building.

APRIL 18, 1910.

We are feeling fine over the outlook of the Butte-Alex Scott proposition. In the first place we have a wonderful rich property worth, I believe, $5,000,000. We also own the Little Annie claim back of the Goldsmith and this one has the Rainbow ledge which is being worked by the Butte & Superior company. I believe this claim alone is worth at least $1,000,000. Possibilities are all in our favor, for why should we not be approached by the big merger when we are located right in a place where they need the ore, location and shaft. We are nearing the 1,500-foot level and will soon be at the 1,600-foot level. Then the people who happen to be interested will appreciate why I have fought this battle for over a year and a very heavy struggle all the time. The last car we shipped brought almost $1,000 net. We have 20,000 tons in one chute alone. Remember, this thing is getting serious. Tuolumne has demonstrated what should happen. We have only 100,000 shares to pay dividends on and the Scott should easily earn $600,000 a year, or $6 on every share issued.

St. Mary's is strong and hard to buy at 20 cents. It looks higher.

Amazon-Montana looks as if it should move along up soon.

Butte-Ballaklava, one of the best mines in this country. Sell Greene, Superior & Pittsburg and North Butte and take on Butte-Ballaklava. It is like the Shattuck.

THE VALUE OF AN ACRE

John Tidd of Meadowlands has been conducting a series of experiments to determine the value of a one-acre tract of land as a producer of all kinds of products common to Minnesota, a plan recently suggested by The Herald, and he has demonstrated some remarkable propositions.

Mr. Tidd is not prepared to tell in detail of the results that he has achieved, but he will later make a complete statement of what he has done. This experimental work has been declared to be of the greatest value, as tending to show the almost limitless agricultural possibilities of Northern Minnesota.

Students of agricultural development in this part of the state are certain to take a deep interest in the work done by the range experimenter and whatever he will have to say about the results attained, will have a decided bearing on the problems presented by the need of more general attention being given agricultural effort in the North.

HYDE GIVEN BAD RECORD

State's Attorney Makes First Statement in Murder Trial.

Kansas City, Mo., April 18.—Picturing Dr. B. C. Hyde as a man whose evil propensities led him during his boyhood to torture animals, in later life to abuse the poor and helpless, and in the fullness of the professional success to conceive the most colossal murder plot in the history of criminality, Attorney James A. Reed today made the opening statement for the state in the physician's trial here for the murder of Col. Thomas H. Swope, millionaire uncle of his wife.

Before Mr. Reed was fairly launched upon his address, Frank P. Walsh, leading counsel for the defense, interposed objections to the prosecution introducing statements regarding the feature of the case except the dealing directly with the death of Col. Swope, for whose alleged murder Dr. Hyde is now being tried.

He was overruled.

"Liars and Thieves."

Mr. Walsh spoke in a loud tone of voice and branded many of the persons who had gathered evidence against Dr. Hyde as "liars and thieves."

Mr. Reed started later to tell the story of the courtship of Dr. Hyde and Mrs. Hyde and the objection of Mr. Walsh to this feature being gone into was sustained by Judge Latshaw.

In leading up to the motive which the state claims caused the alleged murders to be committed, Dr. Reed explained that an overpowering greed for money had manifested itself in Dr. Hyde. The deaths of Col. Thomas H. and Chrisman Swope and of James Moss Hunton were dealt with in detail. The charges that Dr. Hyde was responsible for the spread of typhoid fever in the Swope house, and that on three occasions he tried to poison Miss Margaret Swope, composed a considerable part of the address.

Two Poisons Used.

It was stated by Reed for the first time that the state would show that Col. Swope was poisoned with cyanide of potassium as well as strychnine, and that strychnine and cyanide had been given to Chrisman Swope.

Dr. Hyde was indicted for negligently killing James M. Hunton by bleeding. Mr. Reed attempted to show that Dr. Hyde had planned his conquest of the wealth of the Swope heirs with cunning. The first step, according to the states attorney, was to do away with Hunton, executor of the Swope estate, and then get the position himself.

"After Col. Swope's death the next move in the carrying out of this plan and purpose," said the prosecutor, was to remove as many members of the Swope family as possible to the end that the fall of each would swell the fortune that he, through his wife, would be able to control."

Tells of Typhoid Cases.

A lengthy recital of how Dr. Hyde obtained typhoid and diphtheria germs of Dr. E. L. Stewart and the appearance of typhoid fever in the Swope residence followed. It was on the occasion of Dr. Hyde taking dinner with the Swope family on Nov 25 that he is thought to have spread the germs, it was said.

In closing, Reed explained that Dr. Hyde was being tried only for the murder of Col. Swope. He said:

"The evidence of all these other crimes that will be introduced will be so introduced not for the purpose of proving the defendant guilty of other crimes, but for the purposes of showing the intents and purposes and motive that controlled him in his conduct toward Col. Swope.

Clash Over Dr. Twyman.

Before the jury was sworn, Mr. Conkling stated that he expected to call Dr. Twyman to testify as soon as he was able to be about, provided the case had not been closed by that time.

Mr. Walsh replied that he would not agree to the physician taking the stand unless it was in the regular order of a state witness. Judge Latshaw announced he would decide later regarding permitting the physician to testify, if he should be called.

The courtroom was crowded. Thomas Swope, Jr., who recently refused to aid his mother, Mrs. Logan O. Swope, in sharing the expense of prosecuting Dr. Hyde, accompanied his mother and Miss Lucy Lee Swope, his sister, and Judge Lee Chrisman, his uncle. Hyde's father, Rev. George Hyde of Lexington, Mo., was also present.

Orleans, N. Y., Has Bad Fire.

Geneva, N. Y., April 18.—The hamlet of Orleans, eight miles southwest of this city, was almost wiped out by fire Sunday. Twenty-two buildings, including the church and schoolhouse, were destroyed.

MILWAUKEE PASSES INTO HANDS OF ITS SOCIALIST OFFICERS

Mayor Seidel and New Council Are Installed in the Cream City.

New Executive Promises Big Changes in Conduct of the City.

"Home Rule" and "The Public Good" as Motives of Administration.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 19.—The government of the city of Milwaukee, which for over a decade, with the exception of two years under Republican rule, has been controlled by the Democratic party, today passed into the hands of the Social Democrats, with Mayor Seidel as their leader.

The old common council had its last session early this afternoon, and after transacting some unfinished business, gave way to the new members.

Mayor Seidel will have back of him twenty-one supporters, all members of his party, to enact into law all the measures not in conflict with the city charter which he may advocate during the next two years. The minority consists of ten Democrats and four Republicans.

Council Chamber Packed.

The council chamber was densely packed when the new city officials took their places.

Alderman Edmund T. Melms was elected to the presidency of the council and Carl D. Thompson was chosen as city clerk.

Following these elections, Mayor Seidel was escorted to the chamber and delivered his inaugural message.

"Before all things, home rule, the right of self-government, should be secured for the city of Milwaukee," said the mayor in the course of his address.

Other measures advocated by the mayor included the promotion of the wellbeing of the working classes of the city; enforcement of sanitary measures; the establishment of a bureau of municipal research with a view of —Copyrighted by Marceau.

PRINCIPALS IN "BIG" WEDDING OF THE SEASON

MRS. A. J. DREXEL, JR., Formerly Miss Marjorie Gould.

ANTHONY J. DREXEL, JR.

PROVISION DEALERS PREDICT THAT FOOD PRICES ARE ABOUT TO GO LOWER

New York, April 19—Close observers of the food products markets today expressed belief in the probably speedy setting in of an era of low prices for foodstuffs. One provision man today declared that the tendency of prices is just now unmistakably downward, and that the people may look for a decrease in the retail prices of beef and pork in a short time.

"The plenitude of grain," he argued, "has compelled the farmer to feed it to his cattle, which are waxing fat, and which must be put on the market."

Other provision men expressed similar views based largely on the decline in the grain markets and predictions of bountiful crops both here and abroad

MISS GOULD IS MARRIED

Becomes the Bride of Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia.

New York Society Recognizes Wedding as Big Event of the Season.

New York, April 19.—In the marriage at St. Bartholemew's church today of Miss Marjorie Gwynne Gould, daughter of George J. Gould, and Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., of Philadelphia, society recognized the premier event of its season and prepared to do justice. Nearly everybody of wealth and prominence in New York and many leaders of society in other cities of the country figured on the list of guests.

The ceremony unites the Gould family with one of Philadelphia's wealthiest and most aristocratic families, and the match has excited comment as notable because Miss Gould chose to wed an American instead of one of the many titled Europeans who sought her hand. The bridegroom is a banker, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Drexel, and only two years the senior of his 19-year-old bride.

Chests of Silver and Priceless Jewels.

Presents without number for the bride, including almost everything conceivable from huge chests of silver to priceless jewels, have poured into the Gould mansion on Fifth avenue. Out of town guests arrived in numbers during the day, and the last touches were given the elaborate arrangements for the wedding.

Pink was the keynote of the wedding decorations. It prevailed in the decoration of the Gould mansion for the luncheon preceding the ceremony, planned for the entertainment of the bride of her attendants, including her sisters, Miss Vivian and Miss Edith Gould, and for the reception to follow. The church was likewise tastefully decorated in keeping with the prevailing scheme, and presented a beautiful appearance.

The Bride's Gown.

The bride's gown was of white satin charmeuse, cut in long flowing prin-

Washington, April 19.—The national congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution was called to order today by Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president general, and after the reading of the minutes reports were read from the national officers. Mrs. Scott's report was the first. She was followed by the vice president general in charge of the organization of chapters, Mrs. Miranda Barney Tulloch; the chaplain general, Mrs. Esther Frothingham Noble; the recording secretary general, Miss Mary Wilcox; corresponding secretary general, Mrs. Lyman B. MINISTER'S LIFE ONE OF THEORIES

Spokane Pastor Leaves Pulpit to Take Field as a Politician.

Spokane, Wash., April 19.—Firm in the belief that as a minister of the gospel he was living in a realm of fanciful theories and impractical ideals, Charles H. Braden, formerly pastor of Grace Baptist church of Spokane, has abandoned the pulpit to enter national politics. He is an active candidate for congress from the Third district of Washington.

SENATOR ALDRICH ANNOUNCES INTENTION TO RETIRE—SENATOR HALE MAY TAKE SIMILAR ACTION

LAST OF "BIG SIX" TO QUIT SENATE

NELSON W. ALDRICH, United States Senator From Rhode Island Since Oct. 5, 1881.

EUGENE HALE, United States Senator From Maine Since March 4, 1881.

ARE LAST OF THE "BIG SIX"

Formal Statement By Rhode Island Man Stirs Up the Gossips.

Tariff Framer Denies That He Is Driven to the Act By Criticisms.

Expects to Remain Member of the National Currency Commission.

Washington, April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, known throughout the country as the "boss of the senate," part framer of the "Payne-Aldrich-Taft tariff bill" and member of the national monetary commission, authorized the announcement this morning that he will not be a candidate for re-election to the United States senate after the expiration of his present term, on March 4, 1911.

Coupled with the open declaration by the senator from Rhode Island came an apparently authentic statement from Maine that Senator Eugene Hale of that state, who has been a member of the senate but seven months longer than Mr. Aldrich, and who, with the Rhode Island senator, was one of the body known as the "Big Six" of the senate a few years ago, intends to take the same action that Mr. Aldrich has announced for himself.

Last of the "Big Six."

These two are the last members in congress of the small clique to which was credited the power to swing senatorial matters according to their own

NEW GOVERNOR SENT TO CHANGSHA

Legation at Pekin Believes That All Americans Have Escaped.

Pekin, April 19.—The rioting of natives at Changsha has ceased. A new governor of the province is on his way to Changsha, and political complications as a result of the attack upon the property of foreigners are not likely to occur.

The American legation here believes that all of the Americans in the disturbed district escaped to Hankow. The Japanese colony was the last to leave Changsha. The Japanese consulate was burned, but the British consulate situated outside the city was not harmed.

The damage caused by the rioters has not been computed as yet, but the total certainly will be large. American property, however, has suffered but a small loss.

Railway Clerks Close Doors.

New Orleans, La., April 19.—The second day's session of the international Brotherhood of Railway Clerks annual convention today was taken up largely with routine matters. The meetings of today were executive.

KILLED NEAR CROOKSTON

Swan Torkelson Trampled to Death By Horse in Wreck of Train.

His Companion in Car Escapes With Only a Few Scratches.

Crookston, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Last evening the westbound through freight on the Great Northern went into the ditch three miles east of Crookston at the Northern Pacific crossing, and Swan Torkelson, 35 years old, of Bagley was killed almost instantly. He was in a car of stock and immigrant goods with Henry Johnson, who also had a car, both being bound for Montana. Johnson, who was sleeping beside Torkelson, escaped with only a few scratches. Torkelson was caught under a barrel of water and held there while a horse trampled on him. He was a brother of ex-Sheriff Torkelson of Clearwater county and ran a saloon at Bagley until the place was put on the dry list.

He had kissed his wife and children good-bye a few hours before at Bagley and at 10 o'clock they were telegraphed that he was dead. Mrs. Torkelson arrived from Bagley this morning.

The wreck is said to have been caused by an error of Gerard Palen, the night watchman at the crossing tower, who displayed the "all clear" signal, but forgot to throw the switch.

The engine and four cars went into the ditch. Engineer Lon French escaped with a badly crushed ankle.

WIRELESS TELLS OF BROKEN RUDDER

Vessel Asks Aid in Getting Into Harbor at Golden Gate.

San Francisco, April 19.—The Matson Navigation Steamship company's steamer Lurline, carrying more than seventy passengers, has broken her rudder 400 miles from port, and has sent wireless messages for assistance in entering the Golden Gate.

The Lurline, which sailed for San Francisco from Honolulu last Tuesday, met with the accident some time yesterday. Wireless messages reported her safe when she was 600 miles from port on Sunday.

The wireless message received at Mare island last night says that following the accident, steering tackle was rigged to the steamer's rudder, and that she was towing hawsers. The steamer was reported to be making good time and would probably be able to make the approach to the San Francisco harbor, but aid would be required to enter port.

NATIONAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES MEETS.

Washington, April 19.—With a goodly representation of its membership in attendance, the annual stated session of the National Academy of Sciences, recognized as the foremost scientific body in the United States and semi-governmental in its organization, opened at the Smithsonian Institution here today. It will continue until Wednesday.

Among the important business to come before the session is the election of a foreign secretary to succeed the late Alexander Agassiz of Cambridge, Mass., the election of a number of new members—who, during the last year have achieved something noteworthy in the world of science—and the election of new foreign associates.

HALE WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

Positive Announcement Is Made in Letter to Party Leader.

Augusta, Me., April 19.—Positive announcement of the early retirement of Eugene Hale from the United States senate was made here today. The news came in the shape of a confidential telegram from Washington.

No definite information as to the mode of procedure is given, but it is stated that Senator Hale has written a letter to Byron Boyd, chairman of the state central committee, giving full details regarding his plans.

From the fact that the letter is addressed to the chairman of the state committee, it is inferred that Mr. Hale has decided to withdraw from the race for re-election rather than to tender his resignation. In that event he would continue to serve until March 4, 1911.

EXONERATED FOR KILLING INTRUDER

Carrington, N. D., Woman Not Liable for Slaying Man Who Broke in.

Carrington, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coroner's inquest this morning vindicated Mrs. Mildred How, who shot Chris Nelson. Mrs. How was preparing to join her husband in Canada, when Nelson, who was left on the farm to run the place attempted to break into her room after being unsuccessful in his efforts to induce her to elope with him. She shot through the door and he was fatally wounded.

NEW DIVISION OF TREASURY SOUGHT.

Washington, April 19.—Congress has been asked to authorize the creation of a new division in the treasury department to have charge of bonding and contracting matters, the head of which will be a commissioner whose annual salary will be $4,000 per annum.

Recently, by direction of congress, the jurisdiction over the issuance of all bonds was transferred from the department of justice to the treasury, as a result of which work in the latter department has been considerably increased.

Bryce Will Speak.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—James Bryce, the British ambassador, has accepted invitations to address the Knife and Fork club here and the students of the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kan., April 28 and 29 respectively.

Carry Nation at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Carry Nation is billed for an address in the Y. M. C. A. building here this afternoon.

WOMEN BARRED FROM COURTROOM

Judge Foster Makes Strict Rule Regarding Wolter Murder Trial.

New York April 19.—With seven jurors in the box and long-winded examinations of talesmen ruled out by the court, the prospects for an early completion of the jury which is to try Albert Wolter for the murder of Ruth Wheeler were excellent as the trial was resumed today.

By Judge Foster's instructions all the approaches to the room were guarded by policemen with strict instructions to admit no women and only such men as have business with the court.

Wolter today appeared little more concerned over his possible fate than yesterday when his nonchalance excited remark. Wallace D. Scott, a recent recruit to the New York bar from Sioux Falls, S. D., is defending the 19-year-old youth, charged with one of the most atrocious crimes in metropolitan annals, in strangling the 15-year-old girl who called at his rooms seeking employment as a stenographer, following the murderous assault with an attempt to burn the body to conceal the crime. The line of Wolter's defense has not been outlined by his counsel.

CONSERVATION THE LUMBERMEN'S THEME.

New Orleans, April 19.—Conservation of forest resources was urged at the annual convention of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, which was called to order here today for a three days' session. Representative lumbermen from all sections of the country are in attendance.

LENROOT ATTACKS RAILROAD MEASURE

Superior Man Assails Administration Bill as La Follette Did.

Washington, April 19.—The first night session of the house on the railroad bill was made the occasion of a spirited attack upon the bill by Representative Lenroot, one of the Republican insurgents from Wisconsin. His argument followed the lines of the speech of Senator La Follette in the senate a few days ago. He assailed the bill as it came to the house from the administration, declaring it to be drawn in favor of the railroads in many particulars, and containing "jokers" which permitted of almost unlimited watering of stocks and combinations of competing lines.

"The bill confers some benefits upon the people, it is true," said Mr. Lenroot, but it also gave great privileges to the railroads. For every good provision in the bill, there was one in favor of the transportation companies.

Mr. Lenroot was frequently interrupted by applause from the Democratic side and from insurgent Republicans.

Attorney for Defense Addresses Court in Swope Murder Case.

Says Alleged Victim Was Habitually Drunk and Used Strychnine.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—The line of defense Dr. Hyde will use in his fight for acquittal of the charge of murdering Col. Swope was outlined for the first time today when Attorney Frank P. Walsh made his opening statement to the jury that will try the physician.

Extreme precaution had been taken by Dr. Hyde's attorneys to keep their defense a secret. Not a charge nor a denial had ever before been made which might have given an inkling of what the physician expected to prove or disprove. Mr. Walsh spoke extemporaneously.

So large was the crowd today that the court said it would clear the aisles after the morning session. More than 100 women were present.

Told Hydes Life Story.

Mr. Walsh began his address with a short review of the life of Dr. Hyde from his birth to the present.

"The testimony will show you, gentlemen, that Dr. Hyde and his wife,

LAW WILL BE OBSERVED

Big Fire Crackers Will Not Be Sold in Duluth This Year.

Safe and Sane Fourth Despite Amendment of New Ordinance.

Following the action of the city council last night in postponing the "safe and sane Fourth" to July 5, Mayor M. B. Cullum today issued instructions to Chief of Police Chauncey H. Troyer to strictly enforce the provisions of existing ordinances and the state law governing the sale and use of fire crackers and fireworks.

Under the state law no fire cracker over three inches in length can be sold or exploded on the streets. As the majority of accidents to the small boy have been caused by the giant crackers, it is believed that all danger will be reduced to a minimum in this manner.

The dealers in the city have gotten together informally and decided to handle no fire crackers which are larger than the law allows. In the past it has been easy to get the "red whoppers" which have caused such havoc throughout the country, but if the local dealers will not keep them in stock it will be practically impossible for the "kids" to get them. It is understood that some of the dealers this morning wired cancellations of their orders for cannon crackers over that size.

The youngsters will be able to buy all kinds of the small crackers so long as they have the price, but they will have to have enough fun next Fourth to make up for all time, as far as Duluth is concerned. Although the ordinance was amended the aldermen believe that it is one of the best that has been put on the books, and it will undoubtedly remain without further change.

The crackers which will be in greatest favor at Lakeside, will likely be those that Alderman Wharton described at the council meeting as being "the kind Harry Cheadle, our city clerk, used to use when he was a boy." Alderman Wharton said they were all right and couldn't do any harm to the youngsters ambitiously trying to celebrate the anniversary of the nation's birth. One of the dealers said today that on the strength of the recommendation of the first ward alderman he is going to lay in an extra large stock of "Cheadletes."

HOW MANY CROPS ON CORN STALK?

Lad's Query Shows Seed Contest Will Prove Valuable.

"Say, Mister, if I plant some of that corn and try to get a prize, how many years 'ill I get crops offen the corn trees?"

The small boy's question was put to A. B. Hostetter on a street car and indicated not only that the sweet corn growing contest is arousing much interest among the coming men and women of the city, but also that it is a needed contest. It is needed to enlighten the youth of Duluth, and, perhaps, some of their elders, concerning the manner of growing things to eat.

The Duluth Commercial club is conducting this prize contest and Mr. Hostetter has received a large number of applications for seed corn from boys and girls living in the city. The contest will not include territory outside the city limits.

A bushel of the sweet corn seed that took first prize at the Omaha exposition last December has been purchased and will be divided among the youthful competitors. This seed corn was grown by J. W. Beckman of Cokato, Wright county, from corn developed at the state experimental station. About a pint measure of the seed corn will be entrusted to each entrant in the contest. There will be three prizes of $3, $2 and $1 respectively.

Some of the applications for the seed corn are becoming impatient, desiring to plant the seed without delay, but this will be impossible, as the time for planting will not be earlier than May 20.

Not only will the boys and girls have a chance of winning one of the prizes, but they may all obtain some revenue by marketing the sweet corn they grow. A woman living on Mesaba avenue grew on a small patch of ground last year a crop of sweet corn that netted her $51.

The object of this contest is to interest the boys and girls of Duluth in the tilling of the ground, primarily; also it is expected to have a helpful influence ultimately on marketing conditions, besides proving a valuable seed corn test.

TWO FELL SWOOPS OF FATE FINISH THE POKER FANS

Boxcar Clubhouse Is Hauled Away By an Unfeeling Railroad Corporation, and Then the Police Fall Upon and Incarcerate Club Members in Temporary Quarters.

Heaven help us, Percival, the Boxcar club has been put on the fritz!

Yesterday in a moment of maliciousness Sergeant Roberg and Patrolman Westerlund swooped down on the members of the club and escorted them to the city bastile.

It all occurred because some of the festive members of the club were playing poker for supper money. Eight cents was contained in one pot, and because of the fact that there was money on the table the minions of the law executed the stringent law against backing your judgment against cards held by a can across the table, or dry goods box.

In all there were fifteen leading members of the club led to the lockup. They will be prosecuted for taking a chance. When as much as 13 cents changes hands on Monday, it is high time for the law to change the reckless habits of the Boxcar club habitues.

Only the day before, one of the peevish railroad companies, just because it happened to need cars, rolled away the clubhouse of the Boxcar club. The more superstitious members of the club might have read a warning of fate, but no—the game of fickle chance went on as before.

Then came the raid of the bluecoats. Non-resident members of the club will be picked up by the searching wireless and notified of the arrest. It is expected, now that work on the docks has opened, that bail money will be forthcoming, and that the fifteen unfortunates will be liberated from durance vile.

But the future of the Boxcar club is in dark suspense.

CATCHES BROOK TROUT FROM BEDROOM WINDOW

True disciples of Isaac Walton can tell fish stories about getting boiled trout from the geysers in Yellowstone park, but Chris Brian, draughtsman in the office of the city engineer, can put the "kibosh" on all of them.

Brian is the fisherman of Colbyville, and all he has to do when he wants trout in the morning for breakfast is to lean out of his bedroom window with a fish line, properly baited. An excellent trout stream runs through the yard of his home, and when he hooks one of the speckled beauties he can toss it right from the stream into the frying pan.

He has frequently caught thirty and forty trout without moving from his doorstep. He was out the first day this season and landed a fine mess. He disputes "Scotty" Ormsby's claim to the first trout landed this season, alleging that "Scotty" had to be up pretty early in the morning if he hooked the first trout the day the fishing of them became legal.

PUGILIST DIES FROM INJURIES

Never Recovers Consciousness After Knockout Blow at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 19.—Frank Cole, a lightweight negro pugilist of this city, died in a hospital today from injuries received last night in a boxing bout with Stanley Rodgers at the boxing club managed by "Jack" O'Brien. Rodgers was held without bail by the police to await the action of the coroner. The referee and several witnesses were also held.

Cole was injured in the third round. He received a solar plexus blow, which sent him to the mat, his head striking with terrific force. The crowd began cheering at the apparent knockout, but when a physician failed to bring Cole back to consciousness, the spectators were dismissed and the fighter was removed to the hospital, where it was found he had sustained a fracture of the skull. He never regained consciousness.

Later in the day, "Jack O'Brien," Rodgers, Cole's seconds, and George Decker, the referee, appeared before Coroner Ford and were held in bail to await the result of an inquest to be held on Saturday. Rodgers' bail was fixed at $1,000 and the others were held in $500 each. O'Brien became bondsman for all involved except himself, a friend going on the fight manager's bond.

KLING'S DAUGHTER IN HOSPITAL

Catcher May Not Be Able to Join the Chicago Nationals.

Kansas City, Mo., April 19.—"It is impossible for me to state just when I shall join the Chicago Nationals. In fact, I am unable to make a positive statement whether I shall be able to join the team at all or not," said John Kling, the catcher, here today. "It will be several days before I can arrive at a decision in the matter.

"My 4-year-old daughter is in a hospital where she has undergone two operations for a serious affection of the throat. I certainly cannot leave here until she is well enough to leave the hospital."

BOSTON WINS FIRST GAME AT HOME.

Boston, Mass., April 19.—Attended by the usual flag raising ceremony and the pitching of the first ball into play by Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, the American League baseball season in this city was opened today and celebrated by the home team with a victory over Washington by a score of 2 to 1. The grounds had been well dried by the sun and the game was fast and snappy throughout. Nearly 15,000 persons were present.

READY FOR BASEBALL OPENING IN NEW YORK.

New York, April 19.—Everything is ready for the postponed opening of the National league baseball season in this city, except the weather, which is so threatening that the prospects for the games at the Polo grounds and at Washington park, Brooklyn, were poor this morning. Although no rain was falling, the sky was clouded and the day was raw and cold.

Wiltse is scheduled to pitch against Boston for the New Cork Nationals, and Rucker probably will pitch for Brooklyn against Philadelphia.

CANADIAN WINS MARATHON RACE.

Boston, Mass., April 19.—Fred L. Cameron of Amherst, N. S., won the annual Marathon run of the Boston A. A., from Ashland to this city today. He made the twenty-five miles in 2 hours, 28 minutes and 52 3-5 seconds. Clarence H. Demar of Boston, was second.

James J. Gorkery of Toronto, Ont., third. Cameron was one minute ahead of Demar. No records were broken.

BOY SECURITY FOR BOARD BILL

Seven-Year-Old Is Sent to St. Louis Bank and Held Until Redeemed.

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—One 7-year-old boy was received on a bill of lading at the union station here today over the Iron Mountain railroad from Monroe, La. He was consigned to a local bank as collateral for a board bill to be remitted to a bank at Monroe.

Mrs. J. J. Koontz, acting as agent for F. J. Koontz, father and owner of the boy, whose name is Arthur, called at the union station for the consignment, but the railroad officials refused to deliver him to her because she was not the consignee named in the bill of lading. The boy, still tagged, was taken to the bank in a taxicab.

A disputed board bill incurred by the boy being in Monroe for seven months caused the bill of lading to be issued. When the boy reached the bank the amount due was paid and the boy was turned over to his parents.

OBITUARY

Charles J. Osborn, 84 years old and the dean of the Associated Press, died in St. Louis, April 18, after an illness of several weeks. He was correspondent of the Associated Press in St. Louis from 1855 to 1902, when he retired. He continued his affiliation with the St. Louis office in an advisory capacity, however, until his death, making him an employe of the Associated Press for fifty-five years. Mr. Osborn was known throughout the service as "Major." He was born in Utica, N. Y., July 31, 1826, and learned telegraphy in Pittsburg in 1847, going to St. Louis in 1853 from Cincinnati. Two years later he entered the service of the Associated Press as an operator and shortly afterwards became correspondent. While working in Pittsburg, he became acquainted with a Scotch lad, then a messenger, by the name of Andrew Carnegie. Prior to learning telegraphy Maj. Osborn was a reporter on the Cincinnati Herald. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Palmer of Rochester, N. Y.

Samuel L. Barney of Marquette, Mich., is dead, aged 81. He was one of the little band of pioneers who founded the city in the '40s, after the discovery of iron ore had attracted attention to the region, and was the oldest surviving settler in that portion of the peninsula. He had lived there sixty-four years. He came from Cleveland.

WILL EXTEND RAMSEY STREET

Engineers Surveying Right-of-Way Across N. P. Tracks.

Surveyors from the city engineer's office were this morning looking over the ground in preparation for the cutting through of Ramsey street from its present terminal on the south side of the Northern Pacific right-of-way to Fifty-eighth avenue west, where the street continues.

It is probable that the survey will be completed next week and the report of the engineers will be made to the council, which will authorize the board of public works to cut the street through. The council authorized the work at a recent meeting.

Business men at West Duluth have been working for a number of years to secure an opening of Ramsey street, since the Central avenue and Ramsey street corner is considered to be the best at West Duluth.

NO REPORT MADE.

Committee Merely Considering Building Roadway to New Duluth.

The report that the West Duluth Commercial club, through its committee, is backing a proposition to put an 80-foot roadway from Smithville to New Duluth, was strenuously denied this morning by the members of the committee.

This road, according to the committeemen, is desired mainly by property-owners between New Duluth and Smithville, who would be benefitted by an increase in the value of their property should it be built.

The new road would not shorten the distance between Smithville and New Duluth, but would open up a new district. The committee is considering the matter but has not yet taken action on it.

MANY WILL ATTEND SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

Oneota people are much interested in what the board of education will do in the matter of building an addition to the Oneota school this year and many will attend the special meeting of the school board this evening to express their sentiments in the matter, should it come up for consideration.

Residents at Oneota and Hazelwood, who have children attending the school and those living in the vicinity of Fortieth avenue west and Sixth street are divided on the question. Some claim that it would be better for the school board to wait another year and then erect a new building on Sixth street near Fortieth avenue, while others insist that the school is too crowded and an addition to the schoolhouse is imperative.

An architect has prepared plans for the addition, which could be built at a comparatively small expense and which it is thought will serve the purpose until a new building is erected.

PAYS FINE FOR ASSAULTING PETRUSCHKE.

Joseph Burns, who was arrested and arraigned in municipal court today, charged with having assaulted C. J. Petruschke, a box manufacturer at West Duluth, paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Mr. Petruschke had Burns arrested on a warrant in which it was charged that the latter had assaulted him by "kicking him in the left leg" and otherwise maltreating him.

The trouble between the two men is said to have occurred when Burns complained to Petruschke that his boy, employed at the Petruschke concern was being underpaid for his services.

MURDER LAID TO PITTSBURG MEN

Two Are Arrested After Shooting of Policemen at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 19.—Walter Whitelock and George Douglass, said to be residents of Pittsburg, were arrested today charged with the shooting of Patrolmen Krupp and Groves. Krupp was killed and Groves seriously wounded in a battle with supposed thieves shortly after midnight today.

Douglass accused Whitelock of having shot the two policemen, according to the report of the police examination. Both had revolvers when they were arrested at Avon, west of this city.

Patrolmen Krupp and Groves came upon the two men near the belt railroad at 1 o'clock this morning and questioned them. One of the men shot Krupp twice through the body. Groves received a bullet in the breast but was not seriously wounded. The policemen emptied their revolvers after the fleeing men without effect.

Krupp died in a hospital at o'clock. Douglass and Whitelock were found asleep in a shed near a signal tower on the Big-Four railroad.

SAY ELGIN IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Chicago Butter Dealers Say Prices Are Fixed Without Reason.

Chicago, April 19.—Chicago butter dealers declared today that an investigation of conditions under which the Elgin butter board of trade fixes prices has been started with a view to presenting the evidence to the United States district attorney.

At the meeting at Elgin yesterday, it is declared by Chicago commission men, the Elgin board fixed the weekly price at 32 cents, out-voting the Chicagoans by "packing" the meeting with clerks and other employes. T. E. Purcell, one of the Chicago dealers who was at Elgin, said today:

"The Elgin committee, as a rule, makes the price without a single sale, and we have to suffer from it for the rest of the week."

ROOSEVELT GOES TO VISIT COUNT

Spends Part of Day as Guest of Hungarian Minister of Agriculture.

Budapest, April 19.—The Roosevelt party left here at 10 o'clock this morning on a special train for Babolna, where they spent the day as the guest of Count Serenyi, the minister of agriculture of Hungary, and visited Hungary's famous Arab breeding farm. They are expected back at Budapest at 7:20 o'clock tonight.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of yesterday was Col. Roosevelt's half-hour talk with Francis Kossuth. Although Kossuth's name is still synonymous throughout Hungary with the independent aspirations of the people of Hungary, he is now living quietly, owing to the recent fall of the independent coalition ministry of which he and Count Apponyi were the leaders. The Austrian government manifested not the slightest disapproval of the visit; on the contrary Ambassador Hengelmueller accompanied Mr. Roosevelt and was present at the interview.

Kossuth told the ex-president how, in his early life, which he had spent in exile, he had been taught to revere America, where his father had found welcome and refuge. They talked chiefly of the material development of Hungary since Mr. Roosevelt was there forty years ago.

Politics so far as is known, was not mentioned.

SUPERIOR FOUND GUILTY OF LARCENY

Jury Sustains Charges Against John Lasocki, Accused of Robbery.

John Lasocki this morning was found guilty of larceny from the person, by a jury in the superior court. He was tried before Judge Smith, who has not yet passed sentence upon him. Lasocki is accused of having taken a sum of money from Joe Gapikee, while the latter slept.

The testimony and arguments of the case were finished yesterday afternoon, Assistant District Attorney McKay appearing for the state and M. C. Brzonkal representing the defendant. Before allowing the jury to leave the courtroom, Judge Smith told the members of the jury to visit the scene of the robbery.

After reporting this morning, they took the case under consideration and after a short time returned a verdict of guilty. Lasocki will draw a term in the state penitentiary.

FOUND LYING ON CAR TRACKS

Lying across the tracks, where he had fallen in an epileptic fit, Albert Kellar, a painter of Ashland, Wis., was picked up by a motorman on a Duluth-Superior street car near the Lanborn avenue bridge, about 9 o'clock last evening.

The car was coming from Duluth and the man was taken aboard and left with the car starter at Tower avenue and Belknap street. Fortunately the motorman had discovered the man before it was too late to stop the car.

He is at St. Mary's hospital for treatment.

LOG BOOM BREAKS.

Some Crookston Lumber Company's Logs Are Widely Scattered.

Bemidji, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crookston Lumber company has a force of men on Lake Bemidji gathering up its logs which were scattered when the boom near the mill broke during the late storm.

The logs were strewn about the lake so promiscuously that it will take several days for those in charge of such work to collect them and place the timber in boom again.

The two mills are sawing timber steadily, on both day and night shifts, and there is a consequent added liveliness in local business circles.

Dr. Clemans at Milaca.

Milaca, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. C. Clemans, superintendent of the Duluth district of the Anti-Saloon league, spoke here Sunday evening in the firemen's hall to a large congregation and friends of the temperance cause. His talk on county option was well received and several times was interrupted by hearty applause.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GOOD TIMES ARE EVIDENT

Much Building Is Going on or Planned All Over North Dakota.

Cities and Villages of Neighboring State Resound With Building.

Fargo, N. D,. April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sound of the hammer and the saw are heard all over North Dakota—not the hammer of the "knocker," but the implement of the builder, for this state is experiencing a remarkable boom in building.

Not only in Fargo and Grand Forks, the largest cities in the state, but in Minot, Bismarck, Jamestown and dozens of other smaller places are there plenty of evidences of the growth of the commonwealth.

Most of the plans for the different buildings were at one time or another exhibited at the Fargo Builders and Trades' exchange rooms.

The Congregational society at Deering is soon to commence the work of erecting a new house of worship.

C. H. Rounds will erect a two-story addition to the Hamilton hotel at Mott. In the same town Lee is to erect a new two-story hotel. It will be of frame and cost about $3,500, and will be modern in all its appointments and have a fire escape.

Kantley & Norman of Crosby are erecting a garage which will be 32 by 48 feet.

At Gladys work has already begun on the new bank building, which will cost in about $6,000.

W. A. Scouten of Inkster is to soon begin the erection of a cement block office building.

A second story will be built to the one-story Grady building at Jamestown, which will be used as living rooms. In the same city Contractor Scheide has begun the work of remodeling the old bank building for post-office purposes.

Hardware Store at Mott.

At Mott Mr. Albrecht will erect a hardware store building at once. Mr. Casper, Sr., will erect a two-story building. Lee & Taylor will erect a building 30 by 40. C. H. & C. Smith will erect a garage. Mr. Boneshe will erect a two-story brick building for the postoffice. W. J. Steer will erect a two-story building 25 by 28 for a cafe. Mr. Trumbull at Glenco, Minn., will erect a two-story restaurant building 25 by 80.

Lewis & Durocher are building an addition to their hardware store, which will be 20 by 40.

At Jamestown the Roman Catholics are preparing to erect a $40,000 church, which will be the finest between Fargo and Bismarck.

The Inter-State Produce & Cold Storage company, of which M. E. Benedict is secretary, will erect a $20,000 cold storage plant and creamery at Wahpeton.

At Ebron the Urban Mercantile company will erect a brick residence from plans furnished by Minneapolis architects, and it will cost $3,600.

At Jamestown H. E. White has begun the erection of a $4,200 residence.

At Mott, Robert D. Berry will erect a five-room bungalow with a bathroom and all modern appliances, and Messrs. Wilkon and Ralph Call are also erecting houses.

At Ray, Dr. J. M. Schram has begun the erection of a frame residence, which will cost about $3,000.

DRUGGIST TAKES LIFE AT HOUGHTON

Domestic and Financial Troubles Cause Young Man to Take Poison.

Houghton, Mich., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Domestic and financial troubles are believed to have prompted John W. Cooper, proprietor of a drug store, to kill himself, by taking a large dose of morphine. His wife is believed also to have agreed to die, but the woman apparently took too much of the drug, for she was very sick, ridding herself of much of the poison before a physician arrived and removed the balance with a stomach pump. She is being held by the county authorities. A coroner's jury yesterday invoked Cooper's death, and decided it was suicidal. An unfortunate marriage, to which his parents objected, combined with financial troubles, are supposed to have caused Cooper to kill himself.

Cooper died insolvent, and his father, who is reputed to be worth $10,000, refused to take charge of the body for burial, and it was turned over to the county for interment. The dead man was 24 years of age, and a registered pharmacist. He was married three months ago, and his family has declined to recognize the bride.

IMMENSE DAMAGES ASKED.

Wisconsin Bridge Company Sued in Montana for $3,600,000.

Helena, Minn., April 19.—Judgments aggregating $3,600,000 are demanded in two suits filed in the district court against the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron Co. by the United Missouri River Power company and the Capital City Improvement company, which allege that the defendant company is responsible for the bursting of the original Hauser lake dam on the Missouri river, near Helena.

The United Missouri River Power company sues to recover $3,590,246.28, alleged to represent the cost of replacing the structure, or payment of claims for property which was damaged and of loss to itself through failure to generate power. The Capital City Improvement company sues to recover $9,534.32, the value of lumber washed away at the Holter dam.

MANY SETTLERS ARE DETAINED

Held at Canadian Boundary While Their Livestock Is Inspected.

Portal, N. D., April 19.—Many American immigrants coming into this gateway for Canada are much disturbed by reports from North Portal concerning the hardships immigrants are forced to endure in passing their stock across the line. All animals are subject to tests for disease, especially the horses for the glanders test. If the temperature is above normal the horses are held in quarantine ten days, when another test is given, and if found infected, they are shot. In event the stock is held up, the settlers are forced to wait at their own expense until the quarantine is over. There is no compensation for infected animals which are ordered killed by the government.

DROPS DEAD AT BAR.

East Grand Forks Man Expires Asking for Water.

East Grand Forks, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stepping up to the bar in the Louis Boreen's saloon last night, Tollef Goldberg asked for a drink of water, and, as it was handed to him, fell backward, dying in a few minutes from heart trouble.

Goldberg was one of the interesting characters of this city for the past twenty-five years. His father is dead, but his mother is still living on a farm south of Manvell, N. D.

LAURIUM YOUTHS VOTED.

Illegal Voting Said to Have Been Encouraged By Business Men.

Laurium, Mich., April 19.—An investigation is being made of the charge that nine local youths, ranging in age from 18 to 21, voted at the recent village election. This election placed in office the entire list of candidates of the nomination ticket, including William J. Reynolds, president, re-electing him. The vote between Mr. Reynolds and Joseph Wills, the only opposition candidate for the office, was very close and it is claimed that the triple alliance worked against the present president.

either way meant a great deal Now it is charged that there was illegal voting and that a former Laurium business man who, it is said, desired to gain through the election, the granting of certain privileges by the council and administration, instructed youths who were not of age in voting and registering.

One of these boys, it is said, has confessed the entire scheme. The matter is to be taken up with Prosecuting Attorney W. J. MacDonald. Just what will be done cannot be stated at this time, but the village officials are determined that there shall be no more illegal voting at any of the village elections.

The youth who has already confessed states, it is said, that the former business man mentioned above induced him to register and vote.

LACK OF 'PHONE SERVICE.

Argument Used in Effort to Have Land Office Changed.

Crookston, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Guy H. Powell of Warroad, president of the Commercial club at that place, with others of that section, has started a movement to have the United States land office removed from Crookston to Thief River Falls.

One of their principal arguments is that the Tri-State Telephone company which has connections there has none in Crookston. Their toll line skirts Crookston, a franchise having been refused the company here twice, because they refuse to accept a franchise granting them a limited number of long distance stations in the hotels, and wholesale houses here.

The company insists upon a franchise giving them the right to use all the streets and alleys, to install long distance phones in any of the residences desiring them although they agree not to go into the local exchange business.

The Northwestern has no toll line beyond Roseau, although one is being constructed to Warroad at the present time from Roseau. The matter will be taken up by the Crookston Commercial club immediately.

AGED ST. JOSEPH MAN HAS WANDERED AWAY.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joseph Zertel, aged 82 to 84 years, who has lived alone in the village of St. Joseph for the past thirty-two years, left home last Wednesday morning for St. Cloud, and arrived here on the 7:45 train. Since then he has been missing. Friends at St. Joseph have made a search and sent out inquiries in several directions but no information of him has been received. He was rather feeble minded, and it is feared that he may have attempted to walk home, got lost and died.

FOUR INCHES OF SNOW AND FROST DO HARM.

Milaca, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Snow covered the ground to a depth of four inches in this vicinity Sunday. The heavy frost in the evening did great damage to the the fruit trees that were in bloom.

Laborer Killed at Tracy.

Tracy, Minn., April 19.—The remains of Cato Rasto, an Italian laborer, were found cut to pieces in the railway yards here. The man had been run down by a switch engine. He was 26 years old and is survived by a widow and four children living in Italy.

Negaunee—Philip Hogan, the new deputy game and fish warden, has been active since he took the position, and has rounded up several parties who have been fishing for trout.

Sault Ste. Marie—Miss Maude McDonald, formerly a Soo girl, was united in marriage Wednesday, April 6, to Charles C. Howett of Vancouver. The ceremony took place at Seattle. Mr. and Mrs. Howett will make their home in Vancouver. The bride is a sister of Miss Katherine McDonald of the Sault Ste. Marie postoffice, and Mrs. Michael Tremblay, also of the Lock City.

Marquette—The Peterson Lumber company, which has heretofore operated a mill and logging camp in West Branch township has banked a large quantity of logs on Nelson's creek, near the M. & S. E. water tank just below the Skandia station, and has begun the erection of a mill there. The plant is now in process of construction and the mill is to be put up at once.

Houghton—South Range is to have another large business building. It will be a two story structure, the first story to be of sandstone and the second of wood. The ground floor will be arranged for hall and lodge purposes. The site selected is near the roller rink and just off Trimountain avenue. It will be the first business building in that particular section.

Houghton—The members of Stiles post, G. A. R., Hancock, the only G. A. R. post in the Copper country, will be the guests of the members of the George Miiar camp, United States Spanish war veterans, the night of April 26, when the younger veterans celebrate the anniversary of their departure from the Copper country for the front.

Health and Beauty Queries

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

C. F. D.: You say you do not like to follow the new styles in hairdressing because your hair is streaked with different shades of color. These streaks are undoubtedly due to shampooing with soap and water. I recommend canthrox in preference to any other shampoo. It makes a rich and plentiful lather that thoroughly cleans the scalp, removes dandruff, relieves itching and irritation and leaves the hair soft, bright and fluffy. This inexpensive and quick-drying home shampoo is prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacupful of hot water. Pour on the head a little at a time, using it as you would any other shampoo.

Virginia: If you will bathe your feet in a basin of hot water, in which you have dissolved two teaspoonfuls of phrosol, you will soon cease suffering from sore, swollen and sweaty feet. Phrsol is inexpensive and can be purchased at any drug store. It is an antiseptic and healing deodorant that helps the pores cast out poisonous excretions (foot powders only clog the pores). Phrosol helps to harden tender feet and you will find it a great help to you if you must stand all day.

E. S. T.: I know of several ladies who were troubled with superfluous hair on the face who got rid of it by applying delatone two or three times. Get an original package of delatone from your druggist and mix a little of the powder with a little water, so as to make a paste. Apply to the surface from which you wish to remove the hair, let remain two or three minutes, then wipe off the paste and the hair will come with it. Wash the skin thoroughly with warm water after the application. The hair may return after the first application, but it will be light and colorless. It will completely disappear after two or three treatments with delatone.

Olivette: If you are afflicted with pimples, are thin and sallow, and suffer continuously from a "tired out" feeling, you need a good system tonic that will cleanse your blood, make your liver more active and build you up and strengthen you. Try this: Dissolve half teaspoonful of sugar and one ounce of kardene in half pint of alcohol and add enough boiling water to make a full quart of tonic. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time. You can get the kardene and alcohol at any drug store. This old-fashioned home remedy restores lost appetite and aids digestion. Take it and you soon will be stronger and free from pimples and blotches.

Alice: If the joking of your sweetheart embarrasses you, stop using face powder. The next time you go to the drug store get four ounces of spurmax, dissolve it in half pint of hot water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This makes a fine complexion beautifier that will rid you of that "shiny," greasy look and give your skin a clear, fresh and youthful appearance. It will not show or rub off like powder—and lasts much longer. Apply it also to your neck and forearms, rubbing gently until dry. It is fine to use when wearing the short sleeves and two necks that again will be the fashion this summer.

Rachel: When your hair comes out so freely while combing it, you should take immediate steps to restore your scalp and hair to healthy condition. Dandruff and falling hair are caused by germs which can be destroyed by the use of a good quinine hair tonic made as follows: Get from your druggist one ounce of quinzoin, dissolve it in half pint of alcohol, and add half pint of cold water. Rub this tonic into the scalp gently every night for the first week. Then use it twice a week, brushing the hair thoroughly each time. If anything will give you a new growth of hair, quinzoin will. The treatment is invigorating and refreshing and it keeps the hair soft and glossy, so that it is easily managed and can be put up in any style you wish.

Miss Nobody: Yes, you weigh about ten pounds more than a person of your height should. Try this to reduce your weight: Get from your druggist four ounces of parnotis and dissolve it in a pint of hot water. Take a teaspoonful of this harmless flesh reducer before each meal. You will feel better when you are rid of that superfluous flesh.

L. M.: You can help your "dead" and dull eyes, stop inflammation and do away with redness if you use an eye tonic made by dissolving one ounce of orystos in a pint of water. Drop one or two drops in each eye whenever they are tired or feel weak. It will not smart or burn. Its regular use will make your eyes bright and sparkling. Crystos is also recommended for granulated eyelids. It can be purchased at any first-class drug store.

Anxious: My dear girl, you exaggerate the unsightliness of the blackheads you say you are afflicted with. They will disappear if you use faithfully a cream jelly made as follows: Get from your druggist one ounce of almozoin, put it in half pint of cold water and add two teaspoonsful of glycerine. After stirring briskly, allow to stand one or two hours. Massage your face with this almozoin cream and it will thoroughly cleanse the pores. Dust and grime that soap and water never touch will roll out and off the skin. This treatment tends to make large pores small and prevents the return of blackheads. It clears the skin and keeps it smooth, soft and pliable. You can use almozoin as a face and massage cream just as freely as you wish, for it contains no oils or fats that will cause a growth of superfluous hair.

LOG BOOM BREAKS.

Some Crookston Lumber Company's Logs Are Widely Scattered.

Bemidji, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Crookston Lumber company has a force of men on Lake Bemidji gathering up its logs which were scattered when the boom near the mill broke during the late storm. The logs were strewn about the lake so promiscuously that it will take several days for those in charge of the work to collect them and place the timber in boom again.

The two mills are sawing timber steadily, on full time, day and night shifts, and there is a consequent added liveliness in local business circles.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

GOOD TIMES ARE EVIDENT

Much Building Is Going on or Planned All Over North Dakota.

Cities and Villages of Neighboring State Resound With Building.

Fargo, N. D., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sound of the hammer and the saw are heard all over North Dakota—not the hammer of the "knocker," but the implement of the builder, for this state is experiencing a remarkable boom in building.

Not only in Fargo and Grand Forks, the largest cities in the state, but in Minot, Bismarck, Jamestown and dozens of other smaller places are there plenty of evidences of the growth of the commonwealth.

Most of the plans for the different buildings were at one time or another exhibited at the Fargo Builders and Trades' exchange rooms.

The congregational society at Deering is soon to commence the work of erecting a new house of worship.

C. H. Rounds will erect a two-story addition to the Hamilton hotel at Mott, in the same town Mr. Hamilton will erect a new two-story hotel. It will be of frame and cost about $3,500, and will be modern in all its appointments and have a fire escape.

Kardley & Norman of Crosby are erecting a garage which will be 32 by 48 feet.

At Gladys work has already begun on the new bank building, which will cost about $6,000.

W. A. Scanlon of Inkster is to soon begin the erection of a cement block office building.

A second story will be built to the one-story office building at Jamestown, which will be used as living rooms. In the same city Contractor Sabelle has begun the work of remodeling the old bank building for post-office purposes.

Hardware Store at Mott.

At Mott Mr. Albrecht will erect a hardware store building at once. Mr. Casper, Sr., will erect a two-story building. Lee & Taylor will erect a building 30 by 40. C. H. & C. W. Smith will erect a garage. Mr. Bonemo will erect a two-story brick building for the postoffice. W. J. Steer will erect a two-story building 25 by 28 for a cafe. Mr. Trumbull of Glenco, Minn., will erect a two-story restaurant building 25 by 80.

Lewis & Durocher are building an addition to their hardware store, which will be 20 by 40.

At Jamestown the Roman Catholics are preparing to erect a $40,000 church, which will be the finest between Fargo and Bismarck.

The Inter-State Produce & Cold Storage company, of which M. E. Benedict is secretary, will erect a $20,000 cold storage plant and creamery at Walhpeton.

At Ehren the Urban Mercantile company will erect a brick residence from plans furnished by Minneapolis architect, and it will cost $3,000.

At Jamestown H. E. White has begun the erection of a $4,200 residence.

At Mott, Robert D. Berry will erect a five-room bungalow with a bathroom and all modern appliances, and Messrs. Wilson and Ralph Call are also erecting houses.

At Ray Dr. J. M. Schram has begun the erection of a frame residence, which will cost about $3,000.

DRUGGIST TAKES LIFE AT HOUGHTON

Houghton, Mich., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Domestic and financial troubles are believed to have prompted John W. Cooper, proprietor of a drug store, to kill himself, by taking a large dose of morphine. His wife is believed also to have agreed to die, but the woman apparently took too much of the drug, for she was very sick, ridding herself of the poison. Before Coroner Laing a physician arrived and removed the balance with a stomach pump. She is being held by the county authorities. A coroner's jury yesterday rendered the Cooper's death, and decided it was suicide. An unfortunate marriage, to which his parents objected, combined with financial troubles, are supposed to have caused Cooper to kill himself.

Cooper died insolvent, and his father, who is reputed to be worth $10,000, refused to take charge of the body for burial, and it was turned over to the county for interment. The dead man was 24 years of age, and a registered pharmacist. He was married three months ago, and his family has declined to recognize the bride.

IMMENSE DAMAGES ASKED.

Wisconsin Bridge Company Sued in Montana for $3,600,000.

Helena, Minn., April 19.—Judgments aggregating $3,600,000 are demanded in two suits filed in the district court against the Wisconsin Bridge & Iron Co. by the United Missouri River Power company and the Capital City Improvement company, which allege that the defendant company is responsible for the bursting of the original Hauser lake dam on the Missouri river, near Helena.

MANY SETTLERS ARE DETAINED

Held at Canadian Boundary While Their Livestock Is Inspected.

Portal, N. D., April 19.—Many American immigrants coming into this gateway for Canada are much disturbed by reports from North Portal concerning the hardships immigrants are forced to endure in passing their stock across the line. All animals are subject to tests for disease, especially the horses for the glanders test. If the temperature is above normal the horses are held in quarantine ten days, when another test is given, and if found infected, they are shot. In event the stock is held up the settlers are forced to wait at their own expense until the quarantine is over. There is no compensation for infected animals which are ordered killed by the government.

East Grand Forks, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stepping up to the bar in the Louis Boreen's saloon last night, Tollef Goldberg asked for a drink of water, and, as it was handed to him, fell backward, dying in a few minutes from heart trouble.

Goldberg was one of the interesting characters of this city for the past twenty-five years. His father is dead, but his mother is still living on a farm south of Manvell, N. D.

LAURIUM YOUTHS VOTED.

Illegal Voting Said to Have Been Encouraged By Business Men.

Laurium, Mich., April 19.—An investigation is being made of the charge that nine local youths, ranging in age from 18 to 21, voted at the recent village election. This election placed in office the entire list of candidates of the nomination ticket, including William J. Reynolds, president, re-electing him. The vote between Mr. Reynolds and Joseph Wills, the only opposition candidate for the office, was very close and it is claimed that the triple alliance worked against the present president. A few votes either way meant a great deal. Now it is charged that there was illegal voting and that a former Laurium business man who, it is said, desired to gain through the election, the granting of certain privileges by the council and administration, instructed youths who were not of age in voting and registering.

One of these boys, it is said, has confessed the entire scheme. The matter is to be taken up with Prosecuting Attorney W. J. MacDonald. Just what will be done cannot be stated at this time, but the village officials are determined that there shall be no more illegal voting at any of the village elections.

The youth who has already confessed states, it is said, that the former business man mentioned above induced him to register and vote.

LACK OF 'PHONE SERVICE.

Argument Used in Effort to Have Land Office Changed.

Crookston, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Guy H. Powell of Warroad, president of the Commercial club at that place, with others of that section, has started a movement to have the United States land office removed from Crookston to Thief River Falls.

One of their principal arguments is that the Tri-State Telephone company which has connections there has none in Crookston. Their toll line skirts Crookston, a franchise having been refused the company here twice, because they refuse to accept a franchise granting them a limited number of long distance stations in the hotels, and wholesale houses here.

The company insists upon a franchise giving them the right to use all the streets and alleys, to install long distance phones in any of the residences desiring them although they agree not to go into the local exchange business.

The Northwestern has no toll line beyond Roseau, although one is being constructed to Warroad at the present time from Roseau. The matter will be taken up by the Crookston Commercial club immediately.

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN.

C. F. D.: You say you do not like to follow the new styles in hairdressing because your hair is streaked with different shades of color. These streaks are undoubtedly due to shampooing with soap and water. I recommend canthrox in preference to any other shampoo. It makes a rich and plentiful lather that thoroughly cleans the scalp, removes dandruff, relieves itching and irritation and leaves the hair soft, bright and fluffy. This inexpensive and quick-drying home shampoo is prepared by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacupful of hot water. Pour on the head a little at a time, using it as you would any other shampoo.

Virginia: If you will bathe your feet in a basin of hot water, in which you have dissolved two teaspoonfuls of phrosol, you will soon cease suffering from sore, swollen and sweaty feet. Phrosol is inexpensive and can be purchased at any drug store. It is an antiseptic and healing deodorant that helps the pores cast out poisonous excretions (foot powders only clog the pores). Phrosol helps to harden tender feet and you will find it a great help to you if you must stand all day.

E. S. T.: I know of several ladies who were troubled with superfluous hair on the face who got rid of it by applying delatone two or three times. Get an original package of delatone from your druggist and mix a little of the powder with a little water, so as to make a paste. Apply to the surface from which you wish to remove the hair, let remain two or three minutes, then wipe off the paste and the hair will come with it. Wash the skin thoroughly with warm water after the application. The hair may return after the first application, but it will be light and colorless. It will completely disappear after two or three treatments with delatone.

Olivette: If you are afflicted with pimples, are thin and sallow, and suffer continuously from a "tired out" feeling, you need a good system tonic that will cleanse your blood, make your liver more active and build you up and strengthen you. Try this: Dissolve half teaspoonful of sugar and one ounce of kardene in half pint of alcohol and add enough boiling water to make a full quart of tonic. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed time. You can get the kardene and alcohol at any drug store. This old-fashioned home remedy restores lost appetite and aids digestion. Take it and you surely will be stronger and free from pimples and blotches.

Alice: If the joking of your sweetheart embarrasses you, stop using face powder. The next time you go to the drug store get four ounces of spurmax, dissolve it in half pint of hot water and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. This makes a fine complexion beautifier that will rid you of that "shiny," greasy look and give your skin a clear, fresh and youthful appearance. It will not show or rub off like powder—and lasts much longer. Apply it also to your neck and forearms, rubbing gently until dry. It is fine to use when wearing the short sleeves and two necks that again will be the fashion this summer.

Rachel: When your hair comes out so freely while combing it, you should take immediate steps to restore your scalp and hair to healthy condition. Dandruff and falling hair are caused by germs which can be destroyed by the use of a good quinine hair tonic made as follows: Get from your druggist one ounce of quinozin, dissolve it in half pint of alcohol, and add half pint of cold water. Rub this tonic into the scalp gently every night for the first week. Then use it twice a week, brushing the hair thoroughly each time. If anything will give you a new growth of hair, quinozin will. The treatment is invigorating and refreshing and it keeps the hair soft and glossy, so that it is easily managed and can be put up in any style you wish.

Miss Nobody: Yes, you weigh about ten pounds more than a person of your height should. Try this to reduce your weight: Get from your druggist four ounces of parnotis and dissolve it in a pint of hot water. Take a teaspoonful of this harmless flesh reducer before each meal. You will feel better when you are rid of that superfluous flesh.

L. M.: You can help your "dead" and dull eyes, stop inflammation and do away with redness if you use an eye tonic made by dissolving one ounce of orystos in a pint of water. Drop one or two drops in each eye whenever they are tired or feel weak. It will not smart or burn. Its regular use will make your eyes bright and sparkling. Crystos is also recommended for granulated eyelids. It can be purchased at any first-class drug store.

Anxious: My dear girl, you exaggerate the unsightliness of the blackheads you say you are afflicted with. They will disappear if you use faithfully a cream jelly made as follows: Get from your druggist one ounce of almozoin, put it in half pint of cold water and add two teaspoonful of glycerine. After stirring briskly allow to stand one or two hours. Massage your face with this almozoin cream and it will thoroughly cleanse the pores. Dust and grime that soap and water never touch will roll out and off the skin. This treatment tends to make large pores small and prevents the return of blackheads. It clears the skin and keeps it smooth, soft and pliable. You can use almozoin as a face and massage cream just as freely as you wish, for it contains no oils or fats that will cause a growth of superfluous hair.

COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR THE LAYMEN'S CONFERENCE

Delegates Will Form in Line and March to Armory.

Speakers at Banquet Will Be Limited to Seven Minutes.

There is one thing in particular that Executive Secretary Snell of the Laymen's Missionary movement insistently impresses on the attention of men with whom he discusses the features of this week's great religious campaign, and that is there will be no deviations from the time schedule of the different events on the program.

Friday evening all persons holding tickets for the banquet are requested to be at the Y. M. C. A. building at 5:50 o'clock, and at 6 o'clock sharp the banqueters will march to the armory, where the dinner is to be given.

Possibly the procession will be marched along Superior street with a band leading the way, but this feature has not been definitely decided upon. Mr. Snell is anxious to add this feature to those already arranged, but financial considerations may make it impossible.

There will be nothing gained by ticket holders who may go to the armory doors instead of to the Y. M. C. A., as the doors will not be thrown open until the marchers arrive there. Seating of the guests will begin at 6:15 and the dinner will be served at 6:30.

The seating capacity of the armory is 1,200, tables being placed in the galleries as well as on the main floor. Tickets to the number of 1,650 are in the hands of the church societies and others interested in the movement and it is certain that there will be no vacant seats. It is expected that large numbers of tickets will be sold to people who will be unable to attend, however, so there is no likelihood that very many persons will be turned away, if any.

The chorus of seventy voices will be placed at separate tables. E. W. Peck of Minneapolis, a well-known church singer, will lead the congregational singing at the banquet and at the sessions of the laymen's convention.

The Banquet Program.

The main address at the banquet will be

"Welcome to the Movement," Judge Page Morris.

"Significance of National Movement," Dr. Percy H. Silver, formerly a United States army chaplain stationed in the Philippines and now secretary of the Southwestern district of the Episcopal church.

"Men and Missions," Dr. Isaac T. Headland, a leading educator of China.

"Dawn in the Dark Continent," William L. Hotchkiss, Africa.

G. S. Moore, president of the local committee, will preside, and Mayor Cullum will welcome the visitors from outside the city.

An important feature of the evening's program is that no speaker will be permitted to talk more than seven minutes. This is invariably insisted upon at meetings of the movement.

Day sessions of the convention will be held at the First Methodist church, the initial one opening on the tentative program

"Survey of the World Field by Men From the Front:

"India," J. P. Jones.

"Burmah," Ola Hanson.

"Persia," F. M. Stead.

"Korea," George Heber Jones.

"Africa," G. Clifford Cress and T. Moody.

"China," I. T. Headland.

"Philippines," Percy H. Silver.

"Imperative Duty of the Home Church," C. C. Rollet, board secretary.

At 12:30 there will be a luncheon and conference at the Y. M. C. A. for visiting ministers and the afternoon session will open at 2:30 o'clock. "How to Enlist the Men of the Church in the Evangelization of the World" will be the subject discussed, the speakers including Dr. J. B. Trimble, who will preside, J. Clifford Cress of Colorado Springs; Frank Dwyer of Chicago; Dr. Charles Edwin Bradt of Chicago and Rev. McConaughy of New York city.

This discussion will be followed by an address by Bishop C. W. Lewis on "What Such a Policy Would Mean On the Battle Line."

At 6:30 Saturday evening there will be a dinner, at a place yet to be secured, for the co-operative committee members and other local men interested in the movement.

At the mass meeting in the evening, which will begin at 7:30 o'clock, J. P. Jones will speak on the subject: "Hinduism Inadequate to Meet the Needs of India."

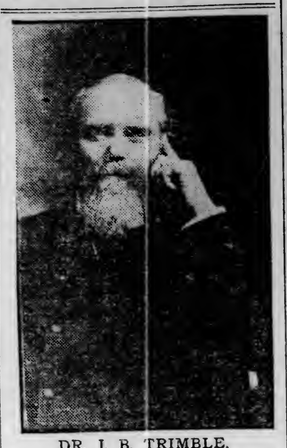
Dr. Headland will discuss "Missions As a World Force." This address is said to be one of the most interesting that has been heard on the general subject of missions.

Sunday Program.

Sunday morning the different churches will hold their regular services, with visiting preachers in many of the pulpits.

The program for afternoon and evening remains to be arranged. Secretary Snell is in doubt about several proposed features of the closing hours of the convention and will make no definite announcements relating to that part of the proceedigs until tomorrow.

At some time during the period of the convention, the different churches will hold denominational rallies, at which their respective policies in support of missions will be determined, it is expected.



Laymen of the Episcopal churches enjoyed a dinner at the Commercial club last evening, and listened to several speeches. Judge Page Morris made an eloquent address, in which he outlined the foreign mission movement, the expansion of home missions and the relation of laymen to both. The speaker emphasized his statements by referring to the effect of the laymen's movement upon the Protestant laymen in Duluth, who are brought closer together as the different denominations find their interest centered in a common endeavor.

The purposes of the laymen's movement was explained by A. V. Snell, executive secretary. He said the campaign had been almost unanimously indorsed by the clergymen of the Episcopal church, of which he is a member. He said the conduct of the foreign missions in China should be an object lesson to churches in this country. In the Far East, he said, the missionaries are so busy converting the Chinese to Christianity that they do not have time to teach denominationalism. The speaker thought that there would be more Christians and less denominationalism if similar ardor was displayed in this country. Mr. Snell said every man in Duluth who is a church member should attend the convention and banquet the latter part of the week.

Dr. Thurston, an Episcopal clergyman of Minneapolis, traced the development of Christianity from its early history to the present, when the church is giving more of its time to communistic endeavor, and is paying less attention to the individual.

A. C. Le Duc said he intends to be at the national convention in Chicago, which will be held in a few days. Other speakers were Watson S. Moore, the Rev. Albert R. Parker, J. W. Lyder, L. A. Barnes and W. E. Magner.

A series of dinners was decided upon, and a committee was appointed to arrange for them.

DR. J. B. TRIMBLE,
Field Secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement.

and the treasurer general, Mrs. William D. Hoover.

The convention later was addressed by Governor Noel of Mississippi.

The state conference last night indicated that the administration of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, as president general, would be sustained in the election to be held tomorrow of ten vice presidents general.

Will Indorse Mrs. Scott.

Indorsements of the administration has been given by delegates from Nebraska, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Tennessee, Arizona, North Carolina, Mississippi, Michigan, Alabama and Kansas, according to announcements early today from delegates from those states.

Other states, including New York, are reported to be anti-administration. The large New York delegation has voted solidly anti-administration by indorsing the candidacy of Mrs. Samuel Nunson of Albany for vice president general electing Mrs. J. S. Wood. Mount Vernon, regent, and Mrs. James Kling of Fort Edward as vice regent.

Chair Made From British Ship.

Mrs. William Libbey, state regent of New Jersey, has presented to President Taft, as a gift to the nation, a chair made from wood of the British frigate Augusta, which was sunk in the Delaware river during the Revolutionary war by the Continental batteries at Red Bank.

The vessel was recently raised by the New Jersey Daughters, who are preserving its parts as relics of the war of freedom. The chair is constructed in the style of colonial days, and Mrs. Libbey asked the president to place it in the White House beneath the portrait of Washington which was rescued by Dolly Madison. The president accepted the relic.

placing the finances of the city on a sound and sane basis; and the combining of various offices to save expense. He asked the council and city attorney to report later as to the feasibility for establishing a municipal lighting plant.

Reception to New Officers.

Following the inaugural ceremonies, a reception to the newly installed city officials was held at West Side Turner hall.

Mayor Seidel, addressing the new common council, said in part:

"The eyes of thousands of stricken cities are today directed towards our Milwaukee, and millions of 'good wishes' and 'God bless yous' are carried on the four winds to the Western shore of Lake Michigan. I cannot too strongly impress upon you the sacredness of the trust placed upon you. All your efforts must be bent toward the execution of the task before you. Many obstacles will be placed in your way. Disappointments and heartaches will not be spared you. Your successes may very often not follow your first attempts. But resolute pluck and determined perseverance must in the end conquer the difficulties that face you. * * *

"In your policy, the promises contained in our platform should have a prominent part. Such measures as can be carried out under the provisions of our present charter should be taken up at once. Where the charter interferes, proper bills should at once be drafted to be presented to the next legislature.

Before All, Home Rule.

"Before all things, home rule, the right of self government should be secured for Milwaukee.

"The workers of our city are its most valuable asset. Your attention should be directed to the passage of such measures as will promote the welfare of this class of citizens, safeguard health, check any tendency to encroach upon such few rights as the workers still enjoy, and wherever possible, extend for them the opportunity of life.

"In this direction a number of steps can be taken. The administration should constantly watch over the conditions prevailing in factories, workshops and places of employment, with regard to sanitation. There should at all times be a full and hearty co-operation with state factory inspectors in the enforcement of measures providing for industrial hygiene.

In City Contracts.

In contracts to be let by the city, the specification should provide for hours of labor that are not exhausting, that leave a margin of time for rest and development. Such specifications should also provide for a sufficiency of light and ventilation; they should prohibit child labor and properly protect woman labor and prevent imposition upon workers of degrading conditions."

The city ordinance which makes the carrying of concealed weapons unlawful, said the mayor, should be strictly enforced and that the practice of bringing "armed hirelings" into the city of Milwaukee to mingle with a population that is peace-loving has cost loss of life and should be stopped.

Under the subject of 'sound economies', the mayor said:

"Proper action looking toward the establishment of a bureau of municipal research should be taken. An expert should be called in to advise with you on this subject. The object of this bureau should be to make a municipal survey, to furnish accurate and adequate knowledge of social, industrial and economical conditions leading to specific and practical plans for city betterment.

Cost-Keeping and Taxation.

"Thus a complete cost-keeping system for every municipal department should be established, distinct from an accounting system. Such a system would enable any one to discover leakages and losses, whenever such existed.

"The survey should extend to other subjects, to enable you in a short time to place the finances of our city on a sound basis, fix a more nearly equitable valuation and arrive at basic cost units that will be of a great service."

He then pointed to the "incompetency with which public work has been done in the city" and recommended that steps be taken to recognize the board of public works on the basis of "efficiency and competency." Rigid enforcement of cleansing street cars to prevent the spread of contagion was suggested, and that the state railroad commission be appealed to to compel the installation of air-brakes, lifting jacks and other apparatus essential to life-saving and an increased number of cars during business hours. As to saloons the mayor said:

On Saloon Question.

"The question of the saloon is one that has been and is extensively agitated. In our city the saloon is regulated under the license system. The saloon-keeper who conducts a clean and respectable place should be protected. * * * While the law prohibits the sale of intoxicating drinks to minors, and this law should be enforced, at the same time, it should be made a misdemeanor for any one to induce a minor to obtain liquor under false pretenses.

"On the other hand, the issuance of a license to sell liquor cannot carry with it the permission to maintain a house of ill fame or in any way to abet licentiousness."

Would Combine Offices.

The offices of city chemist and gas inspector, the mayor said, should be combined under one head; also that the superintendent of bridges, harbor master and inspector of bridges and viaducts be made one office in place of three. Another office, that of water registrar, should be combined with the city treasurer's department.

He suggested that the comptroller of the city of Milwaukee make, by July 1, 1910, a complete report to the mayor and the common council of the financial condition of the city of Milwaukee, and the city attorney by that time give an opinion as to when and how "we can establish a municipal electric lighting plant."

How Many Women Destroy Their Hair?

(From the London Saturday Review.)

One of the best known hairdressers in London—much patronized by royalty—has the following to say: "Frequent washing of the head with soap and water or prepared shampoo makes the hair brittle and causes it to lose its color and split at the ends.

"Any person desiring abundant, lustrous hair should use a dry shampoo frequently. Mix 4 ounces of orris root with 4 ounces of therox. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture evenly upon the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair.

"Therox and orris root keep the hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous—it heightens, but does not change, the natural color of the hair. Therox is the only thing I know that will produce a growth of hair."

PIMPLES DISAPPEAR

New Healing Agent Makes Quick Work of Them.

The dispensers of poslam, the new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining the sample package which will be sent free to any one who writes to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York. This alone is sufficient to clear the complexion and to rid the face of pimples. Every one who has tried poslam knows that the fifty-cent box, on sale at the Lyceum Pharmacy and W. A. Abbett's in Duluth, Holmberg's in Superior, as well as all other drug stores, contains sufficient for the worst cases of eczema, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, tetter, blotches, scaly scalp, hives, barber's and every other form of itch, including itching feet. Being flesh-colored and containing no grease, the presence of poslam on exposed surfaces, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

"HANK" SMITH, PIONEER, RECALLS THE EARLY DAYS IN DULUTH

"HANK" SMITH,
Who Carried the Mail From Superior to Beaver Bay in the Early Days.

"Hank" Smith, one of the best known "old-timers" in Minnesota, is visiting in Duluth, and he finds it a far different Duluth than it was when he first saw it in 1855. He saw it then as a straggling frontier settlement, but he remembers well the people who in that day made up the population of the coming Northwestern metropolis.

Mr. Smith, a rugged, hearty and well preserved man of 73 years, lives at North Branch, where he is spending the declining years of his interesting career in comfortable enjoyment of life, varying his method of life by occasional visits to his daughter at Staples and his son in St. Paul. He attended the Jefferson day banquet at St. Paul last week and thoroughly enjoyed mingling with many of his old friends on that occasion. While in Duluth he is the guest of John Howard.

In the early days Mr. Smith carried the mail from Superior to Beaver Bay, a distance of about sixty miles, and naturally in the new country through which he traveled he found life varied and interesting enough to satisfy the ordinary soul with frontier effort. But that was a mere incident in his battles with the wilderness.

Much of the time he was engaged in trading in beef cattle, buying up droves and bringing them to the Head of the Lakes for distribution among the mining ranges. Before there was a railroad into this region he drove his beef on the hoof from the southern counties to this market over the old military road, and from here shipped them to the copper range. These animals were slaughtered in Superior.

When Mr. Smith was selling beef to the mining ranges, the only port on the south shore from which he could ship to the Head of the Lakes was Ontonagon, now practically in disuse, although some effort is being made by the government to keep the harbor in condition to handle traffic.

He was the first man that ever drove a team of horses from Superior to St. Paul. That was in 1855, and he set out from the Head of the Lakes Dec. 3 and reached St. Paul on Christmas night, after having to cut the road for considerable distances himself, with the aid of his companion.

Sleighs, "hacks" and just horseflesh were used by him when he was engaged in carrying mail.

When told that the population of Duluth is now about 90,000, he remarked with dry humor that there were at least two or three people here when he first saw the place. Among the names of early settlers which he recalled were those of the J. B. Culver family, Sidney Luce, who became the first mayor of Duluth, "Bill" Nettleton, W. C. Kingsbury, who lived at Endion, Zach Brown, at West Point; John H. Camp, John J. Post and others. There were a couple of families on the point, where they had a small sawmill. There was Martin, who made the claim on the hill; Sweet, who built a house also on the hill; Weller, on Lester creek. Then there were two half-breed brothers, called Pendennis, and about that time there came to Duluth a number of Southerners, who invested here, but did not wait for their investment to reach the values that are common now. Among them were the Buckinghams.

One phase of early day life at the Head of the Lakes that remains vivid in the recollection of the veteran is the winter fishing in the bay. The residents would cut holes in the ice and haul out great quantities of fish, which were allowed to freeze hard. Then the sleds would be brought into use and the catch taken to shore. Later the fish were taken to St. Paul and sold by the hardy settlers, who returned laden with great stores of groceries and other necessities.

who is the daughter of Mrs. L. O. Swope, have lived in perfect contentment since their marriage, and this point will prove a great weight in this case," he said.

Taking up the death of J. Moss Hunton, Mr. Walsh said Dr. Hyde was not his regular physician, but was attending Col. Swope when he was called to aid in the care of Mr. Hunton. Dr. Hyde was summoned nearly from his bed to give treatment to Mr. Hunton, the attorney said, and the physician responded. That Hunton was suffering from apoplexy there was no doubt, said Mr. Walsh, and bleeding, the course adopted, was correct, and was suggested by Dr. G. T. Twyman, the Swope family physician, who died yesterday.

Twyman's Name Brought In.

"Dr. Twyman aided in bleeding Hunton, and tied the string which stopped the flow of blood," he said, "and it was only when Dr. Twyman thought enough blood had been drawn that he fastened the strings."

Touching on the life of Col. Thomas H. Swope, the attorney told how the millionaire had kept his will a secret from every person except his office partner, Sylvester Spangler.

"The testimony will show," said Mr. Walsh, "that neither Dr. Hyde nor his wife knew, prior to Col. Swope's death whether Mrs. Hyde would share in the residuary portion of the millionaire's estate."

Speaking of the private life of Col. Swope, Mr. Walsh stated that during the last twenty-five years of Col. Swope's life, he was drunk every afternoon. His custom of taking a tonic containing strychnine was mentioned.

Criticised Mrs. Swope.

Reaching the part of his story dealing with that last attack of Col. Swope, Mr. Walsh severely criticised Mrs. Logan O. Swope, saying she failed to go to the colonel's room until long after she learned of his sinking spell.

"Mrs. Hyde went to her mother at 9:30 o'clock in the morning and begged her to go to Col. Swope's room," said Mr. Walsh. "Mrs. Swope refused and did not see Col. Swope until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. When she did reach his bedside she stayed for perhaps five minutes. Mrs. Hyde remained there from early morning until late at night the day Col. Swope died."

There was no doubt that Col. Swope died from apoplexy, said Mr. Walsh.

Trouble Over Will.

The real trouble over the will of Col. Swope, averred Mr. Walsh, began when Mrs. Swope desired Mrs. Hyde to sign a paper giving her share of a $60,000 part of the estate originally left to Mr. Hunton and to a Mrs. Moore, a sister of Hunton. This Mrs. Hyde refused to do. Mrs. Swope, it was said, thought Dr. Hyde had advised his wife not to sign the document, and upbraided her.

Denial was entered by Mr. Walsh that Dr. Hyde obtained the typhoid cultures of Dr. E. L. Stewart for any other purpose than to make a study of them.

Typhoid fever in the home was due to poor sanitary conditions, was contended.

In closing the attorney eulogized Dr. and Mrs. Hyde, and announced the intentions of both to take the witness stand.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO POSTPONE SANE FOURTH

Fireworks Ordinance Amended to Become Effective July 5.

Council to Co-operate With Commercial Club on Terminals.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Reconsidered the fireworks ordinance for a safe and sane Fourth, making it effective July 5.
Received communication from the mayor asking for a clearer definition of the duties of the sealer of weights and measures.
Was informed by the health commissioner that rooms vacated by tubercular patients are fumigated.
Received notice of a damage claim for $500 from Al Salter.
Appointed a committee to act with the Commercial club on the terminal question.
Asked the city attorney to examine the ordinance on the establishment of street grades.
Directed city engineer to make estimates of improvements.
Transacted other routine business.

The city council last night voted for one more "insane and unsafe Fourth," reconsidering the action of last Monday night when the ordinance prohibiting the sale or use of firecrackers or fireworks was passed almost unanimously.

The ordinance was amended to take effect after July 5, giving the dealers an opportunity to dispose of the big stocks which they have ordered. Representatives of two of the largest dealers in the city appeared before the aldermen last night to ask that the ordinance be reconsidered. They claimed that the noisemakers and their fireworks have been ordered and are now on their way to the city. They stated that if the ordinance went into effect immediately they would lose large sums of money.

Alderman Wharton, who introduced the ordinance and made a strong plea for its passage last Monday night, changed his position considerably, saying that he would not oppose a reconsideration, although he could not vote for it. The move to reconsider was carried by a vote of 10 to 6, all the aldermen being present. It was passed as amended with only one opposing vote.

President Jordan appointed Aldermen W. L. Bernard, J. A. Wharton, W. B. Getchell, W. S. Moore and Joseph Shartel a committee of five to act with the mayor and the public affairs committee of the Commercial club in the matter of local terminals. The Commercial club committee has been delving deeply into the terminal question and it was at the request of the club that the council committee was appointed.

Mayor Cullum sent a communication to the council stating that the duties of the sealer of weights and measures are not sufficiently defined. He suggested that the council formulate rules which will give him a clearer idea of his duties and write for information on the subject to Minneapolis and other cities. The communication was referred to the committee on offices and elections.

Health Commissioner H. E. Webster sent a communication stating that where tubercular patients have died or moved, the houses or rooms which they have used are fumigated by the department. Last Monday night Alderman Bergstrom called for the drafting of an ordinance making such fumigation compulsory.

Albert Salter of 220 East Superior street sent in notice of a claim for damages against the city for $500. He said that his place and stock had been damaged to that extent by the breaking of a defective water main in Superior street near Third avenue east. The city attorney will investigate.

The council passed a resolution introduced by Alderman Hoar calling upon the contractor who is reducing the grade on Piedmont avenue to hasten his work. The resolution stated that the contract was awarded about a year ago and the delay is compelling the street railway company to wait to lay the rails for the extension.

The city engineer was directed to prepare estimates of the cost of paving Jenswold street, Oneota street and Superior street from Twenty-fifth avenue to Forty-sixth avenue west. The engineer was also requested to make estimates for a storm sewer in Tenth avenue east from Eighth to Fourth streets.

The city attorney was asked to carefully investigate the ordinance establishing grades. The aldermen want to know if a grade can be changed after it has once been established and property improved on the basis of the first grade.

An appropriation of $150 was allowed to pay a watchman at Park Point six months. This has been done by the council for several years.

The settlement of the damages of Irving R. Wagner against the city for $424.03 was approved.

The board of public works was ordered to begin the condemnation of property for the Getchell road at West Duluth, which starts at Highland street and Sixty-sixth avenue west and runs up the hill past Oneota cemetery.

An ordinance changing the name of Puleston street to Luverne street had its first reading. Alderman Wharton stated that two young people want to get married and that they cannot spell the name of the street, and therefore cannot put it on their wedding invitations. It will probably be passed next Monday night. The ordinance changing the name of Vista street to Kent road was passed.

An amendment to the ordinance regulating second-hand dealers had its first reading. The change reduces the license fee from $25 to $5 a year. The ordinance will not be passed without a fight, as opposition has already appeared against it.

The property owners of East Fourth street from Fourteenth to Twenty-third avenues, who claim that if the street is paved to a greater width than twenty-six feet the street railway company should pay the difference, are invited to meet with the council committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks at the city hall next Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The matter will be taken up thoroughly at that time.

L. Solomon and Sam Barnard were granted the first pawnbrokers' licenses under the new ordinance which was passed last week.

Another batch of automobile licenses was passed. Up to date no one has been refused a license to run an automobile or a motor cycle.

NOT AN INCH OF HEALTHY SKIN

Left on Whole Body—Boy of Five a Mass of Itching Eruption and His Screams were Heart-Breaking—Bandages Stuck to His Flesh.

CURED BY CUTICURA TWELVE YEARS AGO

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until we could not dress him any more. They finally advised me to try a certain medical college, but its treatment did no good. At the time I was induced to try Cuticura he was so bad that I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. He was one mass of sores. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but after the second application of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth applications the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but it finally yielded to the treatment. Now I can say that he is entirely cured, and a stronger and healthier boy you never saw than he is to-day, twelve years or more since the cure was effected. Robert Wattam, 1148 Forty-eighth St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9, 1909."

Millions of women prefer Cuticura Soap to all other skin soaps for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands. For rashes, itchings and chafings, red, rough hands, dry, thin and falling hair, for infantile eruptions and skin blemishes and every purpose of the toilet, bath and nursery, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are invaluable.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Cuticura Ointment (50c.) and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60). Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. TELLS JUDGES THEY ARE DYING

Lawyer Makes Unique Plea to Supreme Court to Hurry Case.

Washington, April 19. — Shivers chased up and down the spines of some of the spectators in the supreme court of United States today when Holmes Conrad, formerly solicitor-general of the United States, called to the attention of the court the frequency of the visits of death to that venerable bench.

He was asking that a case be decided by the court before more vacancies occur.

The unusual argument in favor of an early determination of a case was made in the suit of Virginia to compel West Virginia to bear a portion of the state debt at the time the latter state became a member of the Union.

Two Vacancies Already.

"Already two vacancies have occurred on this bench," said Mr. Conrad, "since this suit was brought. For eighteen months the master had had the case under consideration; $60,000 had been spent in taking testimony, $10,000 of which went to the stenographers alone."

He concluded by stating that he was sure the court apreciated the importance of the case, and how desirable it was to have it "considered by the justices who heard the beginning of it."

As the counsel talked, the faces of the justices hardened. Spectators looked at one and other. No one interposed a word, but a painful suspense ended when the speaker sat down. Chief Justice Fuller said only that the court could "take the matter under consideration."

HAS LAWYERS ALL GUESSING

Supreme Court's Action Is Interpreted as Bearing on Tax Cases.

Washington, April 19.—The supreme court of the United States has mystified the corporation lawyers by setting for argument at the beginning of the October term two cases questioning the constitutionality of the corporation tax provisions of the Payne-Aldrich tariff act.

At first this action was interpreted as meaning that a decision in the fifteen cases involving the constitutionality of the tax and already before the court was to be postponed until next October or later. Such an interpretation would mean that there would be no judgment on the law before the date on which the tax must be paid, June 30.

Another view, however, was that the two cases advanced involved, in addition to questions of constitutionality, the application of the law to specific organizations. The action lent itself to a rumor that the court has decided the question of constitutionality of the tax in favor of the government. It was argued that if the court had not acted already on the cases before it, the two cases would have been set for immediate argument.

Another step in the argument was that the court, having passed on the validity of the law in conference, it would not have set the two cases for argument next fall if the tax had been found unconstitutional. The rumors had no confirmation.

COURT ORDERS ROAD TO PAY REBATE TO ALL.

St. Louis, April 19.—The United States circuit court of appeals has affirmed the decision of the lower court that the Union Pacific railroad was indebted to three grain companies of Omaha for rebates, but ordered that the combined damages be reduced from $10,931 to $8,236.

The plaintiffs in the suit alleged that the railroad had discriminated against them in refusing a rebate of three-fourths of a cent a bushel for all freight cars which were unloaded and returned to the yards within forty-eight hours.

This rebate, it was alleged, had been paid to the Peavey Elevator company at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

SEAMAN ON THE MICHIGAN IS HERO.

Washington, April 19.—The secretary of the navy personally has commanded Hugh Hopkins, a seaman attached to the United States steamship Michigan, for "gallant action." Several days ago while that ship was anchored in Hampton Roads, G. W. Barthel, a seaman, fell overboard. A strong tide was running. Barthel, a poor swimmer, was being swept rapidly away, when Hopkins jumped overboard with all of his clothing on and rescued him after a struggle.

Beer vs. Other Tonics

The government's ruling compelling manufacturers of medicines to state on their labels the constituents of their products, has revealed the fact that most tonics contain a very large percentage of alcohol, often 50% and more.

Beer on the other hand contains but little alcohol, (about 3½%), and its medicinal properties are derived from two of nature's products—hops and barley.

There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of illness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is, therefore, all-important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to purchase and note that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

It is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and assists in overcoming habitual constipation permanently, also biliousness and the many ills resulting therefrom. The great trouble with all other purgatives and aperients is not that they fail to act when a single dose is taken, but that they act too violently and invariably tend to produce a habit of body requiring constantly augmented doses. Children enjoy the pleasant taste and gentle action of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the ladies find it delightful and beneficial whenever a laxative remedy is needed, and business men pronounce it invaluable, as it may be taken without interfering with business and does not gripe nor nauseate. When buying note the name, California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents a bottle.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO POSTPONE SANE FOURTH

Fireworks Ordinance Amended to Become Effective July 5.

Council to Co-operate With Commercial Club on Terminals.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Reconsidered the fireworks ordinance for a safe and sane Fourth, making it effective July 5.

Received communication from the mayor asking for a clearer definition of the duties of the sealer of weights and measures.

Was informed by the health commissioner that rooms vacated by tubercular patients are fumigated.

Received notice of a damage claim for $500 from Al Salter.

Appointed a committee to act with the Commercial club on the terminal question.

Asked the city attorney to examine the ordinance on the establishment of street grades.

Directed city engineers to make estimates of improvements.

Transacted other routine business.

The city council last night voted for one more "insane and unsafe Fourth," reconsidering the action of last Monday night when the ordinance prohibiting the sale or use of firecrackers or fireworks was passed almost unanimously.

The ordinance was amended to take effect after July 5, giving the dealers an opportunity to dispose of the big stocks which they have ordered. Representatives of two of the largest dealers in the city appeared before the aldermen last night to ask that the ordinance be reconsidered. They claimed that the noisemakers and their fireworks have been ordered and are now on their way to the city. They stated that if the ordinance went into effect immediately they would lose large sums of money.

Alderman Wharton, who introduced the ordinance and made a strong plea for its passage last Monday night, changed his position considerably, saying that he would not oppose a reconsideration, although he could not vote for it. The move to reconsider was carried by a vote of 10 to 6, all the aldermen being present. It was passed as amended with only one opposing vote.

President Jordan appointed Aldermen W. L. Bernard, J. A. Wharton, W. E. Getchell, W. S. Moore and Joseph Sharpless committee of five to act with the mayor and the public affairs committee of the Commercial club in the matter of local terminals. The Commercial club committee has been delving deeply into the terminal question and it was at the request of the club that the council committee was appointed.

Mayor Cullum sent a communication to the council stating that the duties of the sealer of weights and measures are not sufficiently defined. He suggested that the council formulate rules which will give him a clearer idea of his duties and write for information on the subject to Minneapolis and other cities. The communication was referred to the committee on offices and elections.

Health Commissioner H. E. Webster sent a communication stating that where tubercular patients have died or moved, the houses or rooms which they have used are fumigated by the department. Last Monday night Alderman Bergstrom called for the drafting of an ordinance making such fumigation compulsory.

Albert Salter of 229 East Superior street sent in notice of a claim for damages against the city for $500. He said that his place and stock had been damaged to that extent by the breaking of a defective water main in Superior street near Third avenue east. The city attorney will investigate.

The council passed a resolution introduced by Alderman Hoar calling upon the contractor who is reducing the grade on Piedmont avenue to hasten his work. The resolution stated that the contract was awarded about a year ago and the delay is compelling the street railway company to wait to lay the rails for the extension.

The city engineer was directed to prepare estimates of the cost of paving Jeffrey street, Oneota street and Superior street from Twenty-fifth avenue to Forty-sixth avenue west. The engineer was also requested to make estimates for a storm sewer in Tenth avenue east from Eighth to Fourth streets.

The city attorney was asked to carefully investigate the ordinance establishing grades. The aldermen want to know if a grade can be changed after it has once been established and property improved on the basis of the first grade.

An appropriation of $150 was allowed to pay a watchman at Park Point six months. This has been done by the council for several years.

The settlement of the damages of Irving R. Wagner against the city for $121.03 was approved.

The board of public works was ordered to begin the condemnation of property for the Getchell road at West Duluth, which starts at Highland street and Sixty-sixth avenue west and runs up the hill past Oneota cemetery.

An ordinance changing the name of Palestein street to Luverne street had its first reading. Alderman Wharton stated that two young people want to get married and that they cannot spell the name of the street, and therefore cannot put it on their wedding invitations. It will probably be passed next Monday night. The ordinance changing the name of Vista street to Kent road was passed.

An amendment to the ordinance regulating second-hand dealers had its first reading. The change reduces the license fee from $25 to $5 a year. The ordinance will not be passed without a fight, as opposition has already appeared against it.

The property owners of East Fourth street from Fourteenth to Twenty-third avenues, who claim that if the street is paved to a greater width than twenty-six feet the street railway company should pay the difference, are invited to meet with the council committee on streets, alleys and sidewalks at the city hall next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The matter will be taken up thoroughly at that time.

L. Solomon and Sam Barnard were granted the first pawnbrokers' licenses under the new ordinance which was passed last week.

Another batch of automobile licenses was passed. Up to date no one has been refused a license to run an automobile or a motor cycle.

NOT AN INCH OF HEALTHY SKIN

Left on Whole Body—Boy of Five a Mass of Itching Eruption and His Screams were Heart-Breaking—Bandages Stuck to His Flesh.

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until we could not dress him any more. They finally advised me to try a certain medical college, but its treatment did no good. At the time I was induced to try Cuticura he was so bad that I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. He was one mass of sores. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but after the second application of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth applications the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but it finally yielded to the treatment. Now I can say that he is entirely cured, and a stronger and healthier boy you never saw than he is to-day, twelve years or more since the cure was effected. Robert Wattam, 1148 Forty-eighth St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 9, 1909."

Millions of women prefer Cuticura Soap to all other skin soaps for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands. For rashes, itchings and chafings, red, rough hands, dry, thin and falling hair, for infantile eruptions and skin blemishes and every purpose of the toilet, bath and nursery, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are invaluable.

TELLS JUDGES THEY ARE DYING

Lawyer Makes Unique Plea to Supreme Court to Hurry Case.

Washington, April 19. — Shivers chased up and down the spines of some of the spectators in the supreme court of United States today when Holmes Conrad, formerly solicitor-general of the United States, called to the attention of the court the frequency of the visits of death to that venerable bench.

He was asking that a case be decided by the court before more vacancies occur.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The recent discussion of the advisability of inducing some good Democrat to oppose Clarence B. Miller in the approaching congressional election has aroused much interest in the Eighth district, especially here in Duluth, and as a result many of his friends have advanced the name of Judge Alfred Jaques as one that should be given earnest consideration before any definite program of action is decided upon. Judge Jaques has not been consulted on the subject by his friends, who are well aware of the fact that he is not a seeker after political honors, and of the further fact that if he is induced to make the run against Congressman Miller it will be only because it is demonstrated to his satisfaction that the Democrats of the district want him to do so.

The more the suggestion that a Democratic candidate enter the field has been discussed, the more have local Democrats become convinced there is every reason to believe Mr. Miller can be displaced. As a result, it is probable that strong efforts will be made to persuade Judge Jaques it is his duty to take up the task for his party and the district.

It is a foregone conclusion that should Judge Jaques enter the race, his candidacy will be welcomed enthusiastically by a very large proportion of the voters of the Eighth district. His personal popularity is such that he is assured of the most ardent support by his numerous personal following, and his record, private and public, is ideal. As a campaigner and orator he is in the first rank. Should he accede to the solicitations of his friends, he will have the hearty support of a united and enthusiastic party.

Attorney Andrew Nelson, who also is being requested to make the run against Representative Miller, is in the same class with Judge Jaques as an able campaigner, and an altogether acceptable candidate. He is reluctant to enter the race, and has said that if some other man, thoroughly fitted to represent the district, can be found who is willing to make the fight he will have the hearty and loyal support of Mr. Nelson.

Viewed from any angle, the situation seems to promise that the Democrats of the district have every reason to look forward to electing the next congressman.

There is observable in the state press a great volume of comment upon declared and possible candidacies for the legislature, and the press of the northern part of the state has been particularly alert to the drift of things political, with the result that men who have come out for office or are suspected of having designs on mileage to St. Paul and return, are being critically scrutinized.

Favorable comment has been made in several quarters on the news that Dr. H. R. Weirick, mayor of Hibbing, has entered the field for the seat now held by State Senator P. R. Vall. The general impression seems to be that Vall is up against a task of magnitude in his campaign for re-election.

C. R. C. Blom has announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for senator from the eighteenth district, which is Lac qui Parle and Chippewa counties. He declares for a county option law but says nothing about reapportionment, good roads, or state development. Of course, he is a Southwestern Minnesota man, but even at that he might indicate that he knows what will be the legislative objects of the next session. O. G. Dale, the present senator, probably will ask for re-election and get it. Olaf Gersett also would like to be senator from the eighteenth, but if Dale gets into the fight the chances will be all in his favor.

Michael Ferch has filed as a candidate for senator from the Fifty-sixth district, now represented by Ray G. Farrington, who is a Democrat and has had trouble with his constituents. Senator Farrington has a fairly good chance of being re-elected, it is understood, but if Ferch proves to be an able campaigner, lands the Republican nomination and goes after Farrington's scalp with vigor, he is likely to prove very troublesome for the incumbent.

One of the most interesting things about the current comment on candidacies, avowed and rumored, is the heartiness of commendation that has been lavished on the suggestion that Robert C. Dunn may decide to get into the game as a candidate for senate or house. The Foley Independent waxes quite enthusiastic over it and winds up an editorial appreciation by nominating the Princeton man for speaker of the house.

Another possibility that has the editors of the state on tiptoes of expectation is Adam Bede. If Bede is nominated by the Republicans, his Democratic opponent probably will be D. Greeley of Pine City, one of the most capable and energetic men in the district, which includes Chisago, Pine and Kanabec counties. County Attorney W. A. Howard of Mora is expected to contest Henry Rines for the seat he occupies in the house, but Mr. Rines' legislative record is a very good one and it is doubtful that Howard can dislodge him.

Francis L. Mathews, editor of the Campbell News, is an avowed county optionist who frankly supports Governor Eberhart and his stand on county option, who has filed for representative from Wilkin county. He is likely to find the sledding rather complicated.

Goodhue county, which has three representatives in the house, has four candidates in the field for these seats, with more coming. Those in the field are: S. S. Lewis, H. G. Voxland, T. O. Sundry and John Startz. If Startz doesn't finish where his name does, he ought to go some. C. F. Diepenbrock, formerly Red Wing's city attorney, is mentioned as a possible added starter.

C. W. La Du of Cass county is formally in the field for the seat occupied during the last session by Pat McGarry, and he is getting a high-class grade of encouragement.

A. L. Hanson of Ada, senator from the Sixty-first, is expected to announce his candidacy for re-election soon. He stands pretty well at home, but has not been noted as a legislator of wide vision. Albert L. Thompson has announced that he wants the seat and the prospects are that Hanson will not have a snap in September.

Senator Sundberg and Representatives Mattson and Robertson of the Sixty-third district will be candidates for re-election, with no Republican opposition in sight as yet.

Senator Dan Gunn is vigorously defended in the Grand Rapids Herald Review against a charge made by the Aitkin Independent that he is an enemy of reapportionment. Senator Gunn's well-known loyalty to the best interests of Northern Minnesota and to the entire state would lead to the surmise that he will probably find the accusation no obstacle to his continued service in the senate.

In Grant county, Fifty-seventh district, J. E. Peterson of Barrett has come out for the house. He is a Republican.

With no apparent desire to please Mr. Miller the Eveleth Star remarks: "The insurgent game is pretty nearly over so now watch Clarence B. Miller insurging back into his party. Clarence is always willing to insurge if he can only insurge where political profit is the chief object of insurgency."

Says the Mesaba Ore, apparently with much heat:

"Duluth candidates are coming out right along for the several county offices, while but one range candidate has been heard from. Let's nominate a complete range ticket and find out where we stand."

The Hibbing Tribune, with no reference, implied or otherwise, to this remark, observes:

"Several range papers are talking volubly again about the division of county offices between the ranges and Duluth, or rather about the lack of division of them, Duluth practically having them all.

"As usual, Duluth is being cussed up one side and damned down another for hoggishness. Fact of the matttr is that Duluth is pretty hoggish, but, just the same, there are a lot of fair-minded people in Duluth who would try to give the ranges their due, if the ranges would get together in the effort to take it.

"Truth is that the ranges do not get what they ought to have in the line of county offices is not so much the hoggishness of Duluth as the disloyalty of the ranges."

And the simple truth of it is that Duluth contends for the success of St. Louis county, Northern Minnesota and the state of Minnesota. No desire to do injury to the ranges lurks in the mind of any good Duluth citizen for the interests of Duluth are so closely intertwined with those of the range that such a thing would be unthinkable.

The example of filing early for renomination and re-election set by County Auditor Odin Halden last Saturday, was followed yesterday by Sheriff William J. Bates, who made formal declaration of his intention to seek another term. No opposition to Sheriff Bates has come to light, and it is not likely that he will be opposed.

Pacob F. Jacobson of Madison for congress is the latest Lac Qui Parle hunch. Of course, it's been sprung before, but if he'd get into the game against Volstead with his old time vigor it would prove an interesting situation, with the chances of Democratic success in the election bettered and the Seventh would be more likely to get a real representative in congress than it would were either of the Republicans elected.

C. H. Warner of Aitkin, whose expected entrance into the field of politics as a candidate for the house was hailed with general delight, has refused to consider the proffered support of his friends and has definitely eliminated himself from the field, to the regret of the voters of the district. He declares that he can do more for Northern Minnesota at home than he could at St. Paul and suggests these men as being perfectly qualified to serve the county: Colo. Potter, T. R. Foley, W. B. Mairs, Dr. Kelly, Marcus Nelson, Wallace Barker, P. O. Erickson, B. Hollister and R. L. Abramson. If Aitkin county can't manage to pick an able representative from that galaxy, perhaps Mr. Warner may be prevailed upon to take a more complete census.

Red Wing Free-Press: "Governor Billy McEwen," which was sprung at a Duluth blowout recently, has been trimmed down to "Lieut. Governor Billy McEwen" in the newspaper columns of recent date, which is quite a come down, since it is well known that although the state occasionally elects Democratic governors it has never been known to elect Democratic lieutenant governors. However, Billy's political star has been conspicuously ascendant in recent years and there is no telling what may happen to a man while playing in luck."

ORDINANCE MAY BE ALTERED

Council Committee Wants to Hear Bakers Before Reporting.

The bakers' ordinance did not come from the hands of the committee on ordinances and resolutions of the council at the meeting last evening. The committee will consider it carefully and wants to hear the objections of the bakers before introducing it.

The probability is that several changes will be made before the ordinance leaves the hands of the committee. The bakers don't want to wrap their bread in individual packages, as they claim the expense would be too great. But they say they are willing to use white gloves in handling it and in making all deliveries.

This, however, does not meet the approval of the health commissioner, who helped draft the ordinance. He states that gloves would be a poor substitute, as it would only be a short time before they would be as dirty as the hands of the person using them. They would also absorb sweat and dirt. He says emphatically that the only way to secure a sanitary handling of bread or other food products is to require them to be wrapped separately or put in cartons.

SMITH SUIT BEGUN.

Government Seeks to Cancel Titles to Oregon Timber Lands.

Portland, Or., April 19.—In federal court yesterday the suit for the cancellation of 8,320 acres of land titles in Western Oregon, brought by Federal District Attorney McCourt against C. A. Smith of Minneapolis, was begun. McCourt filed an amended complaint for the recovery of the value of the land where the statute of limitations has operated against cancellation of titles. Many tracts, it is said, were patented more than six years ago, making the titles permanent.

Former Governor Lind and Attorneys J. E. Ueland of Minneapolis, and John Gearin of Portland, for the defense, oppose the admission of the amendment and arguments were opened.

Puter, a well-known land agent, and Frederick A. Kribs are alleged to have secured residents of Oregon to file on the lands for Smith and his associates.

Best Treatment For Colds.

"moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free prespiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

Mother of Robert de Colmar Fears He Has Been Murdered.

Bakersfield, Cal., April 19.—Robert de Colmar, a French youth whose family claims kinship with the king of Saxony, is missing and his mother told the sheriff she fears he has been robbed and slain.

A sister of the young man, Countess Marguerite de Colmar, was sent to prison in 1906 for participation in the troubles that attended the separation of church and state in France.

The police believe that Lieut. Somers was killed while trying to prevent Bishop from committing suicide.

WHAT THE CITIES ARE DOING.

In the matter of recreation centers three places are chosen by a writer in the American City as examples of what this country is doing. They are Chicago, Los Angeles and Brookline, Mass., the famous "richest town in the world," the community which is in but not of Boston.

In Chicago, where the whole grand scheme for providing public recreation, health instruction and physical exercise has been worked out on a model basis, gymnasiums are prominent parts of the dozen South Parks recreation centers and are being included in similar institutions in other sections of the city.

There are playgrounds for little children, other playgrounds for older children, athletic fields for young men and for young women, outdoor wading pools and swimming tanks, open air gymnasiums with full equipment of apparatus, and indoor gymnasiums adequately equipped and intelligently supervised for all.

In Brookline the starting factor was a municipal bath, with a large swimming pool, competent instruction in the art of swimming for all who wish to learn and practice, and free opening to all citizens of the town. It is as much a local institution as the public library or the fire engine houses. It is more than local, for outsiders may use its privileges for a nominal fee and national swimming competitions are held there.

Annexed to the bathhouse was erected a couple of years ago a gymnasium building for the free use of all the inhabitants, young and old and of both sexes. It is used to its capacity. It is in charge of a supervisor who earns $3,000 a year salary and has a corps of assistants.

The Los Angeles recreation centers is designed to be an "evening resort for the many hundreds of youths and young men who live in the boarding houses and lodging houses of the vicinity." Costing nearly $40,000 it forms one part of a system of outdoor and indoor recreation centers conducted by the municipal board of playground commissioners.

TO PREVENT DANDRUFF

Dandruff is not always a forerunner of baldness, but if dandruff is permitted to remain on the scalp it affects the roots of the hair, making the hair dull in color, dry and likely to come out when combed or brushed.

Any good shampoo removes dandruff, but it will form again in a day or two if the scalp is not in healthy condition. To give the scalp and hair health and vitality it is necessary to use a good hair tonic once or twice a week.

To make an excellent hair tonic at home, get from your druggist one ounce of beta quinol and one-half pint alcohol; mix with one-half pint warm water. If preferred, the ounce of beta quinol can be mixed with a pint of bay rum. It is the beta quinol that nourishes the hair follicles, and makes the hair long, abundant and glossy.

MR. TAFT'S RAILROAD BILL.

The administration measure upon which most stress is laid is the Wickersham railroad bill, which is pressing to final consideration in both branches of congress, strongly opposed by Democrats and insurgents.

There is little public interest in this measure, and the chief reason for this is that the public is suspicious of its sources and fearful of its provisions. It was drawn by Attorney General Wickersham, and it is admitted that it was drafted after consultation with the big railroad interests of the country. It is defended by Aldrich, and opposed by Cummins.

It is significant that no railroad interest is opposing the measure. The railroads recalled their lawyers from Washington several weeks ago, and they seem to agree with President Taft, Attorney General Wickersham and Senator Aldrich that the bill ought to go through just as it stands. Though Senators Nelson, La Follette and Cummins have attacked the measure bitterly there has been no serious attempt to answer their arguments. The administration seems to be depending upon the force of "party solidarity" to drive the bill through.

It is asserted by the opponents of the measure that it is not in the interest of the people, but in the interest of the railroads. Naturally, when this argument is made and no effective answer given, the public is not particularly keen about the success of the bill.

The progressive Republicans and Democrats object to the bill on the following grounds:

1. That the provision for a commerce court is of doubtful value.

2. That it contains a provision cutting off the shippers and the interstate commerce commission from appearing in court at all, depriving the commission and those who have worked up a case from following it up to the court of commerce.

3. That it allows corporations to make unlimited traffic agreements, such as the anti-trust law absolutely forbids them to make.

4. That it permits railroad companies to make mergers and combinations.

5. That under such legislation all the railroad systems in the country would shortly be merged into two or three hands.

These charges, it would seem, are of sufficient importance to call for some other answer than that those who make them are unfaithful to the Republican party. The public reeks little of that.

In spite of the impression that this bill is a bill for the railroads, or, more particularly, a bill for the railroad stock jobbing industry in Wall street, the administration is pushing the measure to a vote, and at present the indications are that it will pass. If it passes it will, of course, receive the president's signature.

Unless we miss our guess, the stock-waterers and merger promoters of Wall street will be more jubilant about the passage of this bill than legitimate railroad managers or the public.

COHERENT ROAD WORK.

In the building of roads there are two chief ways of proceeding. One is to let each township build what roads it pleases and as it pleases, and to let each county build what roads it pleases and as it pleases.

The other is to require all road work, whether done by state, county or township, to be done in accordance with a broad plan of meeting the needs of each section: and that means that work must be done under the general supervision of a central authority provided by the state.

Under the former method, a large percentage is pure waste. Roads will overlap each other, and communities with greater political power will get more public funds than communities with lesser political power, even though the needs and deserts of the latter may be the greater.

That is why Minnesota has provided a state highway commission; though it has not yet reached the point where all road work is correlated under the direction of that commission.

Last fall B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the executive committee of the Rock Island-Frisco lines, invited delegates from the farmers' unions of several Southwestern states to take a trip through the older states of the East, where road-making methods are farthest advanced. Representatives of Arkansas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas responded, and the party visited New Jersey, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York. Its report has just been published in book form, and through this volume students of the problem of good roads are enabled to get the benefit of the study made by these Southwestern farmers. The report is comprehensive and constructive, and therefore highly valuable. It includes a survey of European road-building, as well as of the best methods used in this country.

"The consensus of opinion of the party," says the report, "was that state control of public roads is vastly preferable to any other system." The report therefore advocates the development of public highways under state aid and supervision. This may seem so obvious as to be a platitude; that it is not a platitude but a principle strongly needing effective advocacy everybody knows who is aware how bitter is the opposition from local sources to state "interference" with road-making. That the source of this opposition is in public servants anxious to use road money to advance their own political fortunes makes the need of combatting it more pressing.

The report states that while it costs 23 cents to haul a ton of farm produce one mile in this country, it costs but 8 cents to do the same work over the better roads of Europe. It is estimated that with roads as good as those of Europe, the saving in this country would amount to $286,000,000 a year, a vast benefit to be shared by producer and consumer. That sum is 5 per cent interest on nearly $6,000,000,000 a year, which would provide $125,000,000 for each state and territory, enough to supply this country with the finest system of wagon roads in the world. This makes a particularly strong argument in favor of getting good roads, even if it is necessary to go into debt to do it.

WHAT IT MEANS.

New York Sun: In a general way, Mr. Taft is quite right when he measures influence in congress by length of service. If the great majority of members were sent back term after term, as the custom in Massachusetts is, the business of congress would be done expeditiously and better done. There would be less empty talk and less playing to the galleries. We should have shorter sessions and fewer laws. Congress would have more courage and be more respected.

There is much valuable illumination in that paragraph. To get the proper viewpoint, carry the idea out to its logical conclusion—that there should be no elections at all, that senators and congressmen should be appointed for life, and that the offices should descend to their sons.

Then there would be no "playing to the galleries" for public support, because the public could go hang itself; its support wouldn't be needed.

The business of congress "would be done expeditiously," but the business of congress would not be the business of the people, but the business of special interests which profit by exploiting the people.

In the East, up to this time, senators and congressmen have been selected by political machines, not by the people. So long as they serve these machines, and the powerful interests that create and maintain the machines, these so-called representatives of the people are kept in office.

In the West the primary election law, by breaking the power of the bosses and destroying the political machines, has made congressmen and senators responsive to the people's will.

In the East senators and congressmen owe no allegiance to the people, and they do not serve the people. In the West senators and congress owe allegiance directly to the people, and they must serve the people to retain their offices.

The idea that it is better to keep senators and congressmen in office is good; but it is distinctly not good unless the senators and congressmen deserve to be kept in office. The only way they can deserve being kept in office is to serve the people. When their allegiance is divided, their usefulness is curtailed. When they cease to serve the people, and with the Aldriches and Hales and Lodges of the East turn their service to the cause of Special Privilege and corporate greed, their usefulness is gone and they should be defeated.

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

A dispatch from Cambridge, Mass., states that the original Little Eva of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" lives there, hale and hearty at the age of 62. She is Mrs. Cordelia McDonald, and she claims the honor of having created the winsome little heroine of Mrs. Stowe's book. She is said to be an unusually attractive woman for her age. She began her stage career at the age of 4, and retired early at the age of 12.

"My father first produced 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'," she says. "He was the manager of the Troy Museum, Troy, N. H., and staged the production himself, playing the part of St. Clair. The rest of the cast consisted of our family and some friends. My mother played Topsy, and I was cast as Eva. We ran a hundred nights at the Troy theater, which was a rare thing in those days. Father then decided to take the production on the road in his repertoire. We went to New York and there made a record for consecutive performances, playing 325 times and not wearing our welcome out even then. We went South, appearing at Baltimore and Washington, and then went to St. Louis. In neither of these three cities, which were strongly pro-slavery, did we meet with any discourtesies."

This is giving "Uncle Tom's Cabin" a longer history even than most people imagined, probably. According to the story of this original Little Eva, the stage production followed closely upon the heels of the tremendous success of the book, a success that was all out of proportion to its merits as a novel, and that was due more largely to its timeliness and to its skillful play upon the passions of the people than to any literary excellence. Who reads it now? Much of the interest in it passed with the conditions which it distorted for political effect. It is in the libraries, and the children read it, no doubt; but it has no place in the list of great American literary achievements.

The vogue of the play has been unprecedented. Though Duluth has not been favored by a visit from a "Tom" company in some time, there are many companies on the road playing a wretched travesty upon the original drama. They keep pretty closely to the kerosene circuit, however, and in the profession they rank with the lowest. Originally a drama of sentiment and melodrama, the comedy and vaudeville features have been so exaggerated that to any person of the slightest degree of intelligence and education, the performance is a hideous mockery of the drama.

The book served a useful purpose in arousing the North against slavery, and the play made huge profits for many producers until it became the last refuge of the incompetent and the impossible in the theatrical profession. Their useful purposes achieved, both may well be forgotten; the book because it draws a picture that is unfair to a large section of the United States, and the play because it never deserved to live.

It is announced positively that Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island has decided to "retire to private life, because of ill health," at the expiration of his term in 1911. It is reported, on apparently good authority, that Senator Hale of Maine also will retire from public life. This is good news for all who are engaged in the fight against special privilege and corporate greed. Aldrich and Hale are the leaders of the senate cabal that represents the interests.

The Louisville Courier-Journal deplores the sloth the Republican majority in congress is manifesting in its attitude toward the campaign contribution publicity bill. Nothing different could be expected. They still hope to fry fat out of the corporations.

IS FEUDALISTIC, NOT SOCIALISTIC.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The writer read with some interest the editorial in the News Tribune of April 18, entitled a "Socialist Corporation." The writer is a Socialist, and he objects most strenuously to the statements in that editorial so far as they have anything to do with Socialism.

The writer has no concern with reference to what the Steel trust may do, or not do, but to say that the proposed plan is Socialistic is absolutely wide of the mark. If this plan is anything at all, it is simply a method by which the Steel corporation expects to settle its claims more cheaply then it now adjusts them, and nothing else. To attribute to it any benevolent motive is nonsensical.

If the Steel corporation wishes to give away any money, it will probably do so, but it is not a charitable institution, and the plan as proposed, would probably effect it a considerable saving, at the same time that the public might be willing to believe that it was an eleemosynary institution This new departure of the Steel corporation is feudalistic, and not Socialistic. It lacks, however, that beneficial feature of feudal tenure, which gave to the feudal tenant the absolute right to the continued occupancy of his land.

Modern feudalism, represented by the Steel corporation and other like institutions, secures to the laborer no tenure or possession, and he must surrender all his rights as an independent free man, in order to get the semi-feudal benefits. The writer could hardly think of a better plan to emasculate the citizen, and control his vote, and silence his opinion, than this now being proposed, by various great trusts and corporations. But I started out to say that this was not "Socialism," and I object to that use of the term in that connection, and I further say that it is not "Socialistic," and I object to the use of that term.

The public schools are "Socialistic," because they are owned and controled by the people, but a mere tyro in the study of Socialism should know that the fundamental tenet of Socialism is the social ownership, and control of the means of production, and distribution. Charity, benevolence, or any feudalistic business scheme has nothing whatever to do with Socialism in its philosophy or application, and no one should be deluded into thinking any such thing. Yours for fair play,

"A SOCIALIST."

HAVE COMMON CAUSE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Henry George, Jr., tells us in The Chicago Public that in his debate with Arthur M. Lewis that he was satisfied as to the futility of such discussions between Single Taxers and Socialists at this time, when both, instead of trying to find how each differed from the other, ought to be engaged in fighting the common enemy, monopoly, no matter how defined. This is what is being done at the present time in Great Britain and Germany where Single Taxers and Socialists generally waste no time in fighting each other but work shoulder to shoulder in the great movement for democratic progress. Why not pursue such a policy in this country?

Mr. George also said: "I have for some time thought it best and the debate with Mr. Lewis makes me all the stronger in that judgment."

Just at this stage of the game is where the skill of the politician came in.

FIREMEN NOT TO BLAME.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In reply to the statement in The Duluth Evening Herald of the 15th inst. regarding there being no need for a smoke nuisance, I feel like giving a more thorough understanding regarding the smoke problem. It seems that Engineer Williams of the Duluth courthouse lays all the blame to the firemen, as far as the smoke nuisance is concerned. In ventilating this problem we have to sift it from a scientific standpoint. We know that smoke can be prevented from issuing by careful firing, to a certain extent, providing that we are supplied with plenty of steam boilers so that there is no need of excessive firing, but when your battery of boilers is taxed to the utmost capacity of power, there is not much time for the fireman to think of preventing smoke from belching through the stack or chimney There are a number of patented devices on the market for the prevention of smoke, but they all fail to do their work properly, as expected, and then how can we lay the blame to the fireman? It is both ignorant and absurd to do so. Technical knowledge will in most of the cases stand back for the practical knowledge. In both scientific and common labor, time and practice teach us many lessons valuable to our work, but when it comes to preventing smoke from issuing from the chimney in excessive firing, and besides this using a cheap grade of coal, it is a wrong statement in laying the blame to the fireman for being the instigator of the smoke nuisance. Duluth is not covered so badly from smoke. Take a view of Chicago. That is where the smoke is giving the city an astonishingly dirty color. Furthermore it never saves the concern any money in buying cheap and doctored coal, especially for electric light plants, where it requires a steady steam pressure besides keeping all the machinery nice and clean and the most particular point of it all is the steady steam pressure required in order to furnish steady light. A practical and up-to-date engineer, would never lay the blame to the fireman in being the cause of the smoke nuisance. From a man that has honor and respect for an experienced fireman.

A New Classification.

Lippincott's: A Columbus, Ohio banker once gave his wife a book of blank checks, all properly signed and ready for filling in.

"You are welcome to use these as you see fit," he told her, "but I want you to write on the stub of each just what that check was used for, then when the book has been used up I will look over the stubs and see what disposition you have made of them."

She handed him the book the other day, after using all the checks, and he began an inspection of the memoranda on the stubs.

"Here is check 79 for $75 marked 'church expenses.' What church expenses are these? I have regularly paid the assessments," he said.

"Oh," replied the wife, "that was for a new Easter bonnet."

The Misocopist.

New York Sun: We have received the subjoined application:

To the Editor of the Sun:

Sir—What is copiphobia? What is a misocopist? EARNEST SEEKER.

New York, March 28.

Copiphobia, or copyphobia, both forms are current, is a variety of mental derangement common to nearly all whose necessities compel them to read for hire the literary exercises of those who live by their pens. Its victims are invariably obsessed with the delusion that everything worth saying has been said at least once; that it was not worth saying at the time, and certainly does not deserve repetition now.

A misocopist is a victim of copiphobia.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday's threatened storm amounted to but little, and this morning old Lake Superior was once more shining and glittering under a bright sun.

The weather man looks for the fair weather to continue but there is a likelihood of frost tonight with rising temperatures tomorrow.

The sun rose this morning at 5:15 and will set at 7:02, making thirteen hours and forty-nine minutes of sunlight.

A year ago today it was fair and mild.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Eastern storm has moved its center from Indiana to Lake Erie. During the past twenty-four hours this disturbance caused a continuance of rain or snow flurries in the lake region and rains in the Ohio valley and Atlantic states. A depression central over Alberta and British Columbia is causing a sharp rise in temperature in Western Canada, North Dakota and Montana. The western high pressure covers the eastern slopes of the Rocky mountains. It is attended by freezing weather or frost in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma. Somewhat cooler weather attends rising pressures in the Ohio valley, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Georgia and Virginia.

"Fair weather and slowly rising temperature may be expected at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Following were the maximum temperatures for the twenty-four hours and the minimum for the last twelve ending at 7 a. m. today:

Lay of the Blues.

Say, are you ever, without any reason
Especially for it, in most any season,
Swept with a wave of that O-I-am-Man-who's-just-Hired-fulness. Wish-I-was-Fired-fulness?
Say, do you ever, while working and fretting,
Hoping and sorrowing, thinking, forgetting,
Have that soul-emptying What-is-the-Use-fulness,
That Oh-for-a-Deuce-fulness, Oh-for-a-Truce-fulness
Sort of spell?
Say, did you ever feel just when you're working
Your top level best, with no thinking of shirking
That life and its labor is all a Hot-Air-fulness,
What-is-my-Share-fulness, Oh-I-Don't-Carefulness
Sort of a game, just a juggle and fight
With one thing in hand and dozen in sight
But just out of reach? Oh, that What's-in-It-All-fulness,
Lord-ain't-it-Small-fulness, Gone-to-the-Wall-fulness
Sort of a spell!
Say, but I've had 'em, without any reason
Especially for 'em, in most any season.
Had that soul-frightening What-is-the-End-fulness,
Oh, for-a-friend-fulness, Too-Late-to-Mend-fulness
Sort of a feeling—that sort of a fallowness,
Kind of a holowness, sort of a shallowness.
Had that soul-darkening What-is-the-Use-fulness
That Oh-the-Deuce-fulness, Lord-here's-the-Blues-fulness
Sort of a spell.

Jefferson to Taft.

New York World: Thomas Jefferson did not approve of birthday celebrations. The Fourth of July was enough for him. Nevertheless, the anniversary of his own birth will be observed today in many places, chiefly, we are sorry to say, by Democrats.

Jefferson was more than a Democrat, more than a patriot and more than a statesman and a partisan. He was one of the few American philosophers, and it is as a philosopher that we shall commend him to the eminent Ohioan who became president just 100 years after the great Virginian quit that office.

If Mr. Taft is the man that most of us believe him to be he will be able to apply the following extracts from Jefferson's writings about assistance:

"The duty of an upright administration is to pursue its course steadily • • • and to cherish the good principles of both parties.'

"It is rare that the public sentiment decides universally and unwisely, and the individual who differs from it ought to distrust and examine well his own opinions.'

"Under difficulties I have found one and only one rule—to do what is right—and generally we shall disentangle ourselves almost without perceiving how it happened."

"I confess that I am not reconciled to the idea of a chief magistrate parading himself through the several states as an object of public gaze and in quest of an applause which to be valuable should be purely voluntary."

"Laws provide against injury from others, but not from ourselves. God himself will not save men against their wills."

Reading these lines President Taft should take to heart also the fact that Thomas Jefferson was a politician as well as a philosopher. He had a successful administration. He was re-elected, and when he retired from office he left his party united and triumphant.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Rev. Dr. Ringland and family, who are soon to leave the city on an annual vacation of two months, gave a delightful reception to Mrs. Ringland's Bible class, church officers and others last evening. Music, etc., was furnished by Miss Mamie Ringland, Miss Brownie Smith, Miss Lillian Ingalls and others.

Clark & Metz, finding their Duluth business assuming such large proportions, have decided to close up their main store and fruit depots in St. Paul and move the entire business to Duluth. Their six traveling salesman, five of whom are married and have families, as well as the members of the firm themselves, will make Duluth their home and headquarters.

Editor Swift of the Rice Lake Chronotype, and leading editor of Wisconsin, is in the city. He is figuring on starting a daily at West Duluth or else buying the paper already there.

Through the recommendation of F. H. Frisbee, W. J. McKean, under whose direction the famous Chautauqua lake regattas were held, has been telegraphed to by the Duluth-Superior association in regard to terms for taking full charge of the regatta. The following executive committee has been apointed to have charge of all arrangements: Ray T. Lewis, president; H. W. Pearson, commodore; A. R. Holland, vice commodore; J. P. Beck, secretary; John A. Stewart and Charles Hopkins. The date for the regatta has been set for July 21 to 26 inclusive.

The rolling mill is now in full operation at the West Duluth car works, and many new men are at work. The force is being gradually increased, and in a few weeks the company will turn out its full quota of cars per day.

A. B. McLean, who has been spending the last two months an the coast, has much to tell about the real estate booms there. Anacords, about five miles from Seattle, is one of the cities in embryo, where realty has gone skyward and dropped as suddenly as it rose. Lots that were placed at $1,500 can now be bought for less than half that sum, and some of them are owned by a Duluth woman too.

DULUTH AND THE HERALD.

This Is Kind Indeed.

Grasston Advance: No daily newspaper in the entire Northwest occupies a warmer spot in the hearts of the newspaper fraternity, or has more sincere friends, than The Duluth Evening Herald. It is progressive, up-to-date, always liberal and broadgauged. It easily takes front rank with the leading metropolitan dailies of the country.

Says Duluth Isn't So Bad.

Eveleth News: The securing of a petition and other legal steps necessary to have a vote on county division next fall is well night impossible at this time, which resolves itself into Duluth remaining the county seat a couple of years longer at least. So mote it be. Duluth isn't a bad old place, nor are Duluthians man-eating unless you try to step on their toes. "Do it for Duluth" and they diffuse geniality in chunks as large and expensive as their courthouse.

An Outsider's Observation.

Deer River News: Duluth ought to be a clean place because the merchants with their brooms toad the dirt onto visitors as they pass and thus it is carried off in the country.

Its Judgment Matured.

Stillwater Gazette: The Duluth Herald is in its twenty-eighth year, and may be considered a newspaper of mature and good judgment, fair and honorable with its contemporaries and always up-to-date as an enterprising newspaper. Isn't that a pretty good record?

Duluth—the Pivotal Point.

Grasston Advance: Now that the Bemidji development convention, held a few weeks ago, has started the ball rolling and borne good fruit, there should be no let up, but strike while the iron is hot in all that pertains to the upbuilding, welfare, development and growth of Northern Minnesota. Henceforth, the slogan should be, "Onward and Northward, the empire takes its course!" until its thousands more of fertile acres are occupied by the thrifty sons of toil, which will make this northern tier of counties "The Garden spot of Minnesota." All hail the day when this materializes, with Duluth—the Zenith City—as the pivotal point, with its splendid harbor and gigantic new steel plant.

Duluth Has the Goods.

Princeton Union: There are still a few doubting Thomases, it seems, who question whether the steel corporation will ever erect a plant at Duluth. Their doubts should, however, be set at rest by the fact that a contract for 26,300 tons of structural steel, to be used in the erection of the plant, has been awarded to the American Bridge company. Unlike Minneapolis, Duluth does not herald to the world the coming of big factories, packing houses or other industries until she is positive of a realization.

Stealing Duluth's Thunder.

Little Falls Transcript: Duluth need not put on airs any longer over the fact of having been visited by a thunder storm several days ago, for Little Falls had one all to herself on the night of April 3. While it was not a large one it was a strong one for its size and was accompanied by considerable zigzagging in the heavens during its continuation. From the fact that Duluth was first visited we believe it was intended for a kind of slap at Duluth for some reason.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Chicago News: Most love stories are white lies.

Many a man tries to stand on his rights when he hasn't any.

One can't always disguise the breath of suspicion by spicy talk.

Many a young man is willing to marry an heiress in spite of it.

How one woman doesn't enjoy hearing another woman praised!

There's nothing in it for the undertaker when a man is buried in oblivion.

An optimist spends a lot of time dodging the good things that come his way.

News must be unusually good if it makes a woman cry in order fully to enjoy it.

It's awfully hard to convince the young man in the case that all the world loves a lover.

Go to any old person for sympathy and you will learn that you don't know what real trouble is.

A girl blushes the first time a young man kisses her because it embarrasses her to think that he might not have done it.

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Judge: "Say," inquired the office devil, "shall I empty your waste basket?"

"Yes," replied the editor, fiercely; "and instead of using the street box dump this load into the furnace—these spring poems keep coming back."

Catholic Standard and Times: "See here," asked the cautious stranger, "if I decide to say here for a week how much is it going to cost me?"

"You can answer that best yourself," replied the clerk of the Florida hotel. 'How much have you got?"

Chicago News: "So you believe in marrying for love?" asked the innocent maid.

"Yes, to a certain extent," replied the fair widow, "but marrying for love without a side issue of bread and butter is like sipping the froth from a glass of soda water."

Chicago Tribune: "Rev. Mr. Fourthly—Brother Hardesty, in view of your present critical illness, how do you think you would feel if you were called upon to die?

Brother Hardesty—I think I'd feel a good deal of curiosity, doctor, to know whether all the things you've told me about the other world were quite correct or not.

Philadelphia Record: Wiggs—How do you know he's a foreigner? He has no accent.

Waggs—No, but he knows so many ways in which this country could be improved.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Which is the harder to write, verse or jokes?"

"Verse comes easier," replied the press humorist. "You have to have an idea for a joke."

Chicago Daily News: Mrs. A.—There goes Mrs. Green. They say she is such a quiet dresser.

Mrs. Z.—Quiet! You should hear her carrying on when her husband is buttoning up her waist in the back.

Chicago Record-Herald: "They tell me," said the innocent maid, "that your marriage was the result of love at first sight. Is it true?"

"It is," answered the round-shouldered man, sadly. "Had I been gifted with second sight I'd still be in the bachelor class!"

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Why don't you get an automobile?"

"I don't know whether I could manage one or not."

"A poor argument. You took the same chance, didn't you, when you acquired a wife?"

Publicity Indeed!

Life: Every now and then publicity is advocated as a cure for some evil. No greater mistake was ever made. Publicity can do nothing. Take the traction situation in the average city, for instance. Everybody knows that the cars are unclean, that they are overcrowded, that they are cold in winter and warm in summer, and that the owners of the lines are rolling in wealth. There is publicity for you. No secret about it at all. We don't have to wait for the newspapers or magazines to come out to learn the situation. But publicity does nothing whatsoever. It is as quiescent as a Southern policeman at a lynching.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

New York Press: It's very lucky for a child not to take after its father.

When the devil invented money he found he had a sure thing.

Much of our generosity is inspired by a passion for showing off.

A woman is always a girl till she gets married, years or no years.

When a man could lose money cheerfully at cards it would be somebody else's.

ON THE IRON RANGES

ATTORNEY GENERAL ASKED TO DECIDE

Vexed Problem of Who Is the Special Municipal Judge in Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The controversy between J. H. Flemming and R. C. Pickering as to who is entitled to hold the office of special municipal judge is still in the limelight. Mr. Fleming was elected two years ago for a four-years' term. The new charter provides that the judges shall be voted for at the regular election held in February. Mr. Fleming did not make the run. Mr. Pickering was elected without opposition. The statutes provide that the newly elected judges must qualify and take office on the first Monday of the following month after election, which would be in March. When the regular judge, James P. Carey, absented himself from the city in March, Mr. Fleming ascended the throne. Mr. Pickling went to the courtroom to take possession and act as special judge, but Mr. Fleming refused to abdicate. Mr. Fleming presented a bill of $120 for services rendered as special judge during the absence of Judge Carey. The latter refused to pay it, and Mr. Fleming went before the council with his bill. The charter provides that the regular judge must pay out of his own salary for services rendered by the special judge. Now Mr. Pickering comes to the front with a bill of $120 for the time Judge Carey was absent from the city. The latter is willing to pay over the $120, but he doesn't know who to pay it to, and he has left it to the council to decide. Mr. Plickering has placed the question before the attorney general.

HIBBING FATHER FACES BAD CHARGE

Bound Over With Another for Abusing His Own Child.

Hibbing, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—McRea Porter, the unnatural father who together with George Monroe is charged with abusing his (Porter's) little 8-year-old girl, was yesterday bound over to the district court by Judge Thomas F. Brady.

Porter waived examination and was sent down to Duluth this morning. Both men after a severe sweating by Chief of Police Wring, practically admitted their guilt. The crime was discovered in a peculiar and at the same time an accidental manner. The child was adopted a short time ago by Henry Wilson of this city and the child acquainted him with the conduct of her father.

Mert Frazer and Mat Marvin, who were arrested Saturday on a charge of grand larceny, appeared before Judge Thomas F. Brady and were fined $20 and costs each, or forty days in the county jail at Duluth. They were taken to Duluth this morning.

For being disorderly John Sega appeared in the municipal court and was fined $13.75 and costs. Sega paid the fine.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Against Two Eveleth Drunks Who Promised to Reform.

Eveleth, Minn., April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hanson, a homesteader, living in the Zin district, was tried in municipal court for drunkenness, and sentenced to twenty days in jail. As the man was penniless and promised to be good Neil McInnis, acting judge, allowed him to go on the condition that he return to his homestead, and refrain from drinking. J. W. Carl, a blacksmith, who was also arrested on the charge of drunkenness, was unable to pay his fine of $10, and as he was penniless, and wished to work out of town, he was allowed to go on the condition that he leave town in twenty-four hours. Victor Ludemany and Frank Barsel, drunk and disorderly cases, were each fined $5 and costs. John Despson on a drunk and disorderly charge, was fined $10 and costs.

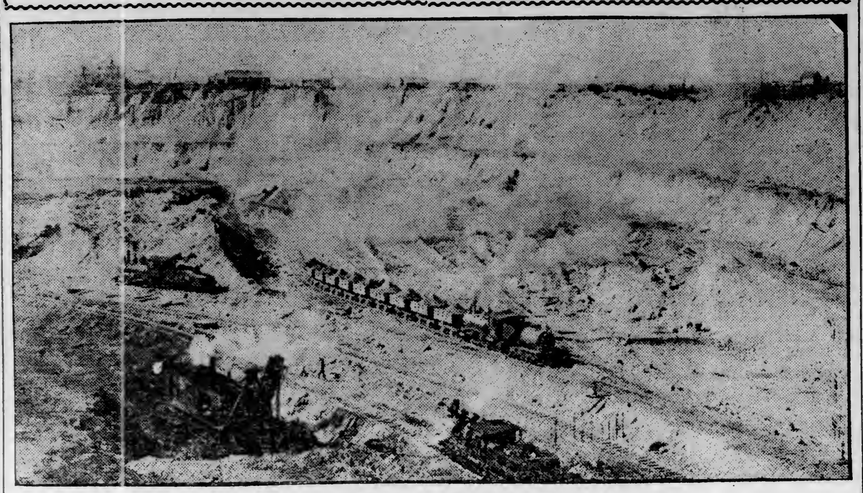
The cases of Julius Neimi, arrested on a charge of assaulting a neighbor named Kangas on the head with a brick, will be heard tomorrow as will the J. M. Bradish case, for discharging firearms within the city limits, and Frank Garske, Sr., for stealing property.

McCORMICK AT TWO HARBORS

Duluth's Comptroller Speaks on Municipal Problems and Citizenship

Two Harbors, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large audience gathered at the First Methodist church Sunday night at the first of a series of services to be addressed by representative men on public topics, organized by the pastor, Rev. T. Stanley Gadams. W. S. McCormick, city comptroller of Duluth, gave one of the best and most eloquent addresses ever heard in this city on "Municipal Problems and Christian Citizenship." The address abounded with practical information, earnest thought and evidences of complete familiarity with the problems discussed. Thomas Owens had charge of the service. A male quartet directed by A. F. Blood rendered fine music and Miss Harriet Owens acted as accompanist.

How to Purify the Blood in the Spring



(From the National Home Monthly.)

At this season of the year nearly every person requires a tonic to cleanse the blood and purify the system from the accumulation of waste matter that results from the inactive life of winter.

Spring fever, dullness, languidness, the disinclination to work or exercise—the general all-around, run-down, "Oh, what's the use?" feeling—poor appetite, sallow complexion, liver blotches, pimples and eruptions of the skin—any and all of these symptoms indicate the need of a good blood tonic and liver invigorator.

Get from your druggist one ounce of kardene; dissolve the kardene and ½ cup sugar in ½ pint alcohol and add enough hot water to make a full quart. This excellent tonic purifies and enriches the blood, arouses the liver, corrects deranged digestion, restores lost appetite, clears the skin and strengthens and builds up the entire system at a small cost. Take one tablespoonful five minutes before each meal and before retiring. If your druggist is out of kardene, ask him to get it for you.

THE GILBERT MINE WILL SOON BE SHIPPING

FAMOUS GILBERT MINE PIT.

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Much work is being done in Gilbert pit preparatory to the commencing of underground mining operations and the opening of its shipping season in a few weeks.

The Gilbert mine is one of the Steel company's best producers in this vicinity and it is expected will have a banner shipping season this year.

MORE MONEY FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

Virginia Commercial Club Has Assurance Such Will Be Accomplished.

Virginia, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.) An additional $30,000 to the $60,000 appropriated by the government for a federal building in this city will be asked for through Congressman Clarence B. Miller. In view of the fact that the population of Virginia has nearly doubled since the original appropriation was made and the necessity for a much larger building than was planned at that time, together with the big increase of property values which has taken place, the Commercial club at its meeting last night decided to ask for the additional appropriation. The treasury department has assured Congressman Miller that it would accept the site selected, at the corner of Maple street and Wyoming avenue, which has been appraised at $17,500. It is estimated that the building on this property can be disposed of for at least $2,500, and in the event that the additional appropriation cannot be secured the balance of $15,000 will put up a good substantial building, but the latter sum is not deemed sufficient to erect such a building as would be necessary to accommodate the large amount of business done by the Federal government in Virginia.

The committee appointed to look up a site for a baseball grounds reported that the only available location was a piece of land owned by the Oliver Iron Mining company, just west of the steel bridge. The committee suggested that the matter of securing this tract be left to the park board.

John Costin, William Rooney and O. H. Griggs were appointed to assist the census enumerators.

To Plan for White Way.

R. C. Pickering, C. C. Butler and Dr. J. W. Deering were appointed to cooperate with Aldermen J. L. Kimball, E. C. A. Johnson and A. Osborn of the council in securing an estimate of the cost of establishing a "great white way" for Chestnut street. The distance to be established between each lamp was discussed at some length, but no definite action taken in this regard.

Dr. C. B. Lenont, chairman of the committee appointed to confer with the Canadian Northern officials in regard to the establishment of railroad shops here, stated that the company's plan had not matured sufficiently to make any definite statement as to what it intended to do, but that when the time was ripe Virginia's bid would be taken under consideration.

Dr. Lenont also reported that he had been unable to see Commissioner McInnis in regard to establishing a short cut road to Wolf.

President N. B. Arnold was instructed to appoint a committee of at least two members to secure new members of the club. Mr. Arnold also reported that bids for the building of the new courthouse to be erected on block 43 in this city would be let on May 5, and that the contract will call for the completion of the building by Oct. 1.

S. W. Gilpin, Dr. C. B. Lenont, O. H. Griggs and N. B. Arnold were elected to represent the club at the meeting of the county club being held in Biwabik today.

A report of the committee selected to draft amendments to the by-laws of the club was submitted and will probably be adopted at the next regular meeting. The amendments include the authority of the president to appoint standing committees and to change the regular monthly meeting night from Friday to one earlier in the week.

ANNEXATION PLANS

Will Be Discussed By Eveleth Council This Evening.

Eveleth, Minn., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several important matters are expected to come before the council this evening. One of vital importance will be redistricting the districts recently voted into the city, the extension of water mains to the new districts and similar matters.

SENATOR ALDRICH ANNOUNCES INTENTION TO RETIRE

wishes, and through whom the element of personal denomination first became a factor in consideration of senatorial affairs.

Mr. Aldrich's announcement, while it set at rest a multitude of contradictory rumors regarding his plans for the future, today unloosed the tongues of the political gossips as nothing has done since the beginning of the Taft administration. Who is to succeed him in the senate? Who is to take his place as chairman of the important committee on finance of the senate? Who is to take his recognized, though unofficial position as leader of the Republican party in the senate? These are but the few most important questions asked—and left unanswered—by the political gossips.

Will Be Republican.

That his successor in the senate is to be a Republican, Senator Aldrich himself does not doubt. Indeed he has expressed his confidence on that point in emphatic terms, and truth to tell, there seems no reason to doubt its verity. As to the identity of the successor, that is another matter, though the senator admitted that he had talked with party leaders in his state on that point within the last forty eight hours.

Senator Aldrich's announcement was made to a representative of the Associated Press, who met the senator upon his return to Washington from Rhode Island, where he had been in conversation with his political associates.

Talked Freely of Plans.

"I have decided not to be a candidate again," said the senator. "Since something of my plans have leaked out already, I would be glad to have you make that statement. I had not intended to say anything for a few days, as I would have preferred to have apprised my friends in Washington of my plans personally, but I suppose it is just as well as it is."

Mr. Aldrich talked freely of his determination to retire. Ill health alone dictated his decision, he said. During his service in the Civil war he had a long siege of typhoid fever and as a result of that illness he has suffered periodically with intestinal trouble. These discomforts have manifested themselves when he has worked particularly hard and have caused him considerable worry.

On Physician's Advice.

One week ago the senator went to New York, where he consulted with his physicians. They were insistent that he rid himself of the more exacting of his burdens and devote a large share of his time to outdoor exercise. He could see no way to lead such a life if he accepted another term of six years in the senate and therefore he desired to retire. After talking the situation over with members of his family, the senator went to Rhode Island last Friday to make the necessary arrangements. He wanted to confer with his Republican associates and to insure the sending of a Republican to the senate to succeed him.

"And there is no doubt of the result," he said. "The party leaders have canvassed the situation and there is no doubt that a Republican will take my place. All of my associates in the state are just as confident as I am on that score."

Ambition Still Leads Him.

It is a well-known fact that it has been the ambition of Mr. Aldrich to crown his legislative career with a thorough reform of the currency system of the government. It was with that end in view that he became the moving spirit in the national monetary commission. He has directed the work of that commission since its inception and he expects to continue his work along that line, although his retirement next March probably will deprive him of the distinction of having such currency legislation bear his name.

There are now several members of congress serving on the monetary commission. It was formulated on lines designated continued service of its original membership until its work is completed. The foregoing facts were brought out when Senator Aldrich was asked what he intended to do to supplant the present financial system with an up-to-date law covering the whole subject.

Hopes to Continue Work.

"I would retire from congress with the greatest reluctance if it were not for the thought that I can continue with the national monetary commission," said the senator with a display of feeling that he had not exhibited in connection with any other phase of his plans. "As a matter of fact, I think practically the whole of the administration program will go through during the present congress, most of it this session; except currency legislation.

"I believe that partisanship can be eliminated very largely from the question of reforming the currency system, and that is what I am counting on."

It was suggested that the Democrats may carry the next house of representatives. He said that even in such event, the work of the monetary commission would proceed just the same and that he felt that the Democrats were just as much interested in the subject as the Republicans. Thus far, he pointed out, no political question had been injected into the work, although the commission is made up of members of both parties.

Will Talk With Taft.

After Mr. Aldrich has talked with President Taft and his close friends in the senate, he expects to write to Governor Pothier of Rhode Island, setting out in greater detail his reasons for retiring.

Many of Mr. Aldrich's friends in the senate refused to believe the report that he would not be a candidate for re-election. It is expected tremendous pressure will be exerted to induce him to change his mind, but that it will be without effect is certain. His leadership has been so bitterly attacked, especially during and since the enactment of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, that in some quarters it will be charged, it is said, that he has decided to leave the senate because of this opposition.

"Have you considered that phase of the question?" he was asked.

Mr. Aldrich laughed.

"Oh, of course, some folks will say that I was forced out," he said; "but I don't think anyone who knows me will believe it."

Question of Succession.

There will be speculation in the senate at once over the question of leadership after Mr. Aldrich's term expires. There is no rule or precedent under which the mantle of leadership goes with the chairmanship of the finance committee. In fact there was no "one-man" leadership in the senate prior to the last few years. The control was exercised by a half dozen men, including Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Hale, Former Senator Spooner and the late Senators Platt, Hanna and Allison.

With the gradual retirement of these men by reason of death or political exigency, the "big six," as they were called, was reduced to two. Senator Hale assumed the chairmanship of the appropriations committee, and his time since then has been given over almost entirely to that committee.

In view of the hard fight Senator Hale is having in Maine, where his re-election is opposed by Judge Powers, rumors were heard that he might not care to serve another term. Some of his colleagues said that when Mr. Aldrich leaves the senate Mr. Hale would not want to stay. No confirmation could be had of these rumors, however. His close friends united in the declaration that he was not the man to retire under fire.

BIJOU—New vaudeville bill.

NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE BIJOU

Clever Bill Pleases a Large Audience of First Nighters.

For a bright, snappy entertainment, in which one sensation follows another in rapid succession, the bill at the Bijou theater this week is "the goods."

Good shows have been the rule rather than the exception at the popular playhouse for some months past. The new vaudeville which began last night is perhaps a little ahead of the high standard set and so well maintained.

Yesterday afternoon and last night the new program pleased large and enthusiastic audiences.

Chief among the brilliant numbers is that of "Phasma," a bewitching young woman who does some dancing stunts. Many whirlwind dancers have been seen at the Bijou, but the plum must be awarded "Phasma." She is beautifully gowned and offers a beautiful spectacle with the aid of lights.

Sam J. Curtis is a laugh producer of the old school. He and his company present for approval a school act which is both clever and entertaining. The laughs come thick and fast.

The six English girls, who do a juggling act certainly know their business. They juggle all sorts of things and their act captures the audience.

William Bovis and Flo Darley have a bit of musical comedy that is the real thing. The singing is good and the jokes, some of them, have never been this far north before.

The Williams brothers have a song and dance turn that is enjoyable. The boys have some new steps and the songs are worth while.

Miss Rossing this week sings a pleasing illustrated song, and the accompanying slides are very pretty.

The moving pictures are entertaining.

A Belasco Company.

It is unfortunate that more people are not taking advantage of the opportunity to see "The Girl of the Golden West" at the Lyceum this week. The company presenting it is a Belasco company, and it is a Belasco production all through. The play is a stirring one, and it is far more enjoyable than many much more widely heralded productions.

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." For sale by all druggists.

GOLDFIELD SEES WATER TRUST

Former Secretary of the Interior Talks at Colorado Meeting.

Denver, Colo., April 19.—Declaring that all the elements which go to make up a water trust are in existence today, and that the tendency toward such centralization is growing stronger, James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, last night made a strong plea before the Colorado conservation commission for co-operation between the federal and state governments in the conservation of water power resources.

Mr. Garfield was preceded by Governor Shafroth, who, at the morning session of the meet, declared in unqualified terms for exclusive control by state governments.

At the morning session letters were read frob Phillip Wells, counselor of the national conservation commission, upholding Garfield's position, and from Secretary of Interior Ballinger upholding Governor Shafroth's stand for state control except in so far as nation interference is necessary to protect national interests.

Mr. Wells' letter was in answer to a request for a statement from Gifford Pinchot, which reached Washington too late to be forwarded to Mr. Pinchot in Europe. It is understood that Wells is speaking for Mr. Pinchot.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN HANGS SELF IN CAR.

Willmar, Minn., April 19.—The body of a stranger was found hanging from a crossbar in a refrigerator car in the railroad yards here Sunday. The man had thrown a thin rope over the crossbar and after fastening it securely around his neck had let himself drop. His knees were about two inches from the floor of the car.

The only thing found on his person was a pocketbook containing $1.50 in change and the following Chicago addresses, "O. H. Anton, 629 Alaska street; John Belcht, 178 East Buchtel avenue, and Joe Kandler and Richard Huebner, 758 California avenue." Coroner Branton has written in the hope of learning the man's identity.

To Rub Out Marks of Approaching Age

"If the complexion is neglected the face prematurely will carry the telltale marks of time—for wrinkles, sallowness, a coarse and harsh skin, blackheads, pimples or patches tend to give one the appearance of long since having passed a youthful age," writes Mabel Graham in "Beauty Culture."

"To make a fine cleansing and nourishing emollient, add one tablespoonful of glycerine and three ounces of powdered cerol crystals to a pint of boiling hot water, stirring until cold; then set aside until it thickens to the consistency of ordinary face cream. This disappearing cerol paste is used in preference to face creams or lotions that contain grease, petroleum oil, white lead or similar ingredients.

"Massaging with cerol keeps the face youthful and free from wrinkles or blemish. It makes the skin smooth, moist and pliable and gives a fine and clear complexion. While it freshens, softens and soothes the skin, it is most 'searching' in action in removing blackheads."

RESTAURANT KEEPER IS NOT A MERCHANT.

Washington, April 19—That which a hungry person seeks when he goes into a restaurant is not merchandise and the proprietor who sends a waiter to serve him is not a merchant. The supreme court of the United States has so decided.

The federal court was called upon to decide whether the Wentworth Lunch company of New York city was amenable to the national bankruptcy laws. It was claimed that it was a corporation which was "engaged principally in trading or mercantile pursuits" within the meaning of the law.

The circuit court of appeals for the second circuit held that the lunch company was not so engaged. The supreme court affirmed the decision.

NEW SOCIAL SECRETARY FOR PRESIDENT'S WIFE.

Washington, April 19— Miss Mary Catherine Letterman, a clerk in the diplomatic bureau of the state department, has been selected to serve as social secretary to Mrs. Taft. Miss Letterman succeeds Miss Spiers, who resigned after two weeks' service at the White House. Miss Letterman is a native of Pennsylvania and was educated in France.

Elgin Upholds Butter Price.

Elgin, Ill., April 19.—The local butter board held its own against a delegation of Chicago commission men yesterday sustaining a quotation of 32 cents per pound for creamery butter as against a price of 31 cents a pound for creamery proposed by the Chicagoans.

The fight started when Tolmes of Aurora offered to buy 500 tubs at 32 cents. The quotation committee, every member of which was present, reported promptly the market firm at that price. James Gallagher of Chicago then moved to substitute 31 cents, but the vote went against him, 32 to 17.

OWNS UP THAT TRUST CONTROLS MEAT FIRM.

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—Admissions by Charles L. Urquhart, secretary of the St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co., that the concern, hitherto supposed to be independent, is owned and controlled by the National Packing company, caused a sensation at the proceedings in the investigation of the so-called "beef trust" being conducted by Attorney General Major. Urquhart's testimony, Major declares, shows positively that the National Packing company fixes the prices at which the local company buys and sells salt meats and by-products. Urquhart testined that much of the stock of his company is held by "John Doe" and "Richard Doe" and that its business is conducted on telegraphic orders received daily from Chicago.

EDDIE FAY MAY BE BROUGHT TO SUPERIOR.

Richmond, Va., April 19.—It is understood that there is now in the hands of the authorities an indictment charging Eddie Fay, one of the alleged Richmond postoffice robbers now in jail here, awaiting trial, with robbery of the postoffice at Superior, Wis., in 1904, and with breaking jail at Janesville, in the same state, where he was placed for safe keeping, so that even should Fay be acquitted of the charge of robbing the local postoffice, he will immediately be re-arrested and action will at once be taken to have him sent to Wisconsin.

It is alleged that he opened the safe at Superior and got away there with $14,000 in stamps and currency.

Editor Dies of Burns.

Rochester, Minn., April 19.—R. B. Russell, editor of the Hayfield Guard, is dead as the result of burns.

Mr. Russell a few days ago poured kerosene upon a fire in his office stove. The can slipped from his hands fell into the flames and exploded. He was enveloped in a mass of seething flames and oil. He was brought to this city for treatment but there was no hope for his recovery.

Mr. Russell went to Hayfield about four weeks ago from Howard Lake, Minn.

SUES FOR SLANDER.

Aftermath of the Cedar Mills Candy Poisoning Case.

Litchfield, Minn., April 19.—As an aftermath of the Cedar Mills poisoned candy case and the bitter feelings engendered thereby, Miss Lizzie Hackbarth, sister of Miss Lena Hackbarth, now in the Fergus Falls insane hospital following a confession that she sent the poisoned candy to Miss Minnie Luthens, has, through her attorney, E. W. Campbell of this city, begun an action for slander against Frank Wurdel, fiance of Miss Luthens, for $5,000 damages. Wurdel has retained Attorney C. G. Odquist of Hutchinson.

Miss Hackbarth alleges that Wurdel made defamatory statements concerning her to attorneys and detectives employed in the candy case. Wurdel says that his communications to those persons were privileged; that he believed them to be true, and that he did not expect them to be repeated.

FISHERMAN RESCUED FROM MENOMINEE RIVER.

Menominee, Mich., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Pluck and endurance saved the life of Edgar Lebeauf, 17 years of age, who fell off the paper mill dam while fishing Sunday. The course of the Menominee river at the point he fell in is a regular whirlpool. He struggled like a hero while being bufeted by the whirling ice cold waters, and maintained the fight for fifteen minutes. He was rescued by men who heard his cries for help.

The CANPHER

For Men who Dress "better"

Have You Tried?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Aikey, Cresson, Pa.

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ills, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

A CENSUS ENUMERATOR AT WORK.

BISHOP WILL AID IN WORK

Instructs Priests to Check Parish Lists With Census Enumerators.

Will Have Announcements Made From Every Pulpit in Diocese.

If you think the census man has missed you, call Melrose 2491, or Zenith 'phone, 130, the Commercial club.

Bishop McGolrick of the diocese of Duluth is taking an extremely helpful interest in the progress of the work of taking the federal census and every facility at his command that will assist the enumerators to secure accurate and complete results will be placed at the disposal of the officials.

Next Sunday in all of the Roman Catholic churches of the city the parish priests will make announcements to the congregations calculated to set forth in unmistakable terms just what is the object of the great work now underway.

Another method of extending aid to the census authorities that has been devised by Bishop McGolrick will undoubtedly prove of great value to them. This plan provides that when the enumeration is practically completed, but before the final reports of the census takers re turned in to Washington, they will confer with Bishop McGolrick and the priests of his diocese and the names on the census lists will be compared with and checked by the lists of parishioners in the different churches. Each parish has a complete list of members, and it is not at all likely that any of the Roman Catholics of this diocese will be missed when this elaborate system of checking is used.

The bishop's offer to afford the census authorities this valuable assistance is actuated, as he said, by his desire that "no guilty man" shall be permitted to escape. It is intended primarily as a means of locating and identifying such of the members of the different parishes as are unable to speak English and, because of lack of knowledge of the object of the work, are inclined to have some doubt about agents of the government who question them about themselves and their property.

"I thought it advisable that I should write a letter to each of the priests of the diocese, asking them to advise the people and explain the nature of the federal census," said Bishop McGolrick. "I am anxious to have the authorities make a complete and accurate census."

The bishop commented on the work that is being done by the Commercial club of St. Paul and the Publicity club of Minneapolis in this direction and he commended the business men of that city for their efforts to help the census takers. A copy of the circular letter sent out by the Commercial club of St. Paul and which is similar to that issued by the Minneapolis Publicity club, is attached:

To the Citizens of St. Paul:

"According to law, a census of the entire United States must be taken every ten years. The next one will be taken this year, from the fifteenth of April to May 1. It is the desire of the government to secure a complete list of all persons who make their homes in St. Paul. April 15 the enumerators will start their work. They will make a call at every house in St. Paul. Each will wear a badge marked "U. S. Census, 1910."

"The Commercial club is interested in securing a correct census. Clergymen, priests, teachers, employers, newspapers, commercial clubs and public spirited citizens are urged to assist to that end. It is the duty of every citizen to answer all questions asked by the enumerator in order that a full and complete census may be taken of St. Paul.

"It is important that the people know what is expected of them, and that they assist to make the census complete and accurate. The law requires that the enumerators ask certain questions about the age, sex, color, parentage, place of birth, occupation, number of years in the country, and many other questions. No harm can come to anyone as a result of answering these questions. The facts told to the enumerators are secret, and only for the information of the government. The enumerator takes a solemn oath that he will not disclose his information to anyone, and he is liable to a heavy penalty if he does so.

"Don't fail to tell the enumerator of any person who makes St. Paul his home and is now away.

"The law reads as follows: 'If any adult person refuses or willfully neglects to answer an enumerator's questions, or, if any person willfully gives answers that are false, he or she can be arrested, carried to court, and fined up to $100. Keepers of hotels, apartment houses, boarding or lodging houses, tenements or other buildings in which persons make their homes, must help the enumerator when asked, or they will be liable to arrest and punishment by a fine up to $500.'"

Fergus Falls, Minn., April 18.—Judge Baxter sentenced William Ruckheim to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife, Bertha Ruckheim, last December. Ruckheim also killed his four little children with an axe.

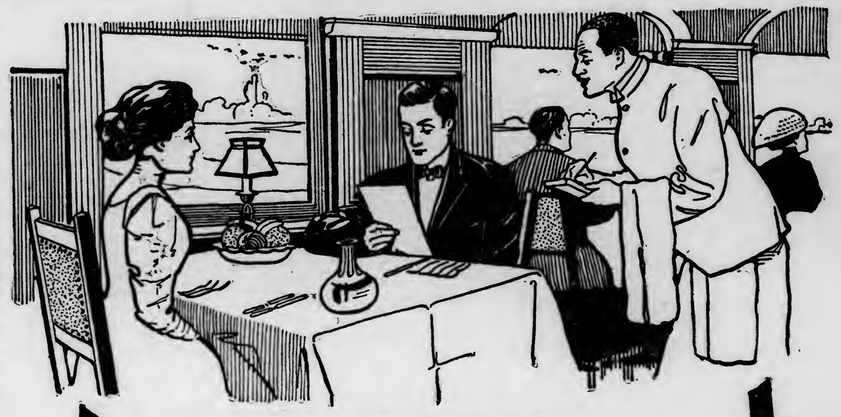
NEW KIND OF GRAFT.

Railroad Employes Held Up Immigrants for Bridge Toll.

Mobridge, S. D., April 18.—Six employes of the Milwaukee road have been arrested by Sheriff Walworth of this county for collecting toll over the Missouri river bridge from unsuspecting immigrants. Among the six, one was a yardmaster, another an operator and the remainder switchmen and brakemen.

Their system was for one to enter the immigrant car officously and demand the occupant's contract. Upon examination it was found of course, that the immigrant had not paid a bridge toll that existed in the swindlers' minds only. The latter immediately demanded $2.50 and if the immigrant paid they gave him a receipt from a pad, signing the name of a yardmaster who left the city some years ago, or the name of a conductor on the Puget Sound line. If the immigrant rebelled they called the yardmaster, who was in with the gang, and if the poor immigrant was still unconvinced, they took him to the operator, who, if necessary, gave a receipt and took the money.



How long this graft has been going on the Milwaukee company has been unable to learn, but inasmuch as nearly 1,000 cars of immigrants have passed through this year it is safe to say that a goodly share of the occupants were fleeced.

CHILD LED BLIND PARENTS FROM THEIR BURNING HOME

Escorted Them Across Canadian Prairie to Deserted Shack.

Misfortune Follows Duluth People to New Home in West.

Led by their 4-year-old child across miles of Canadian prairie, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cameron of Duluth, both blind, found a shelter in a deserted shack one stormy night about ten days ago, after their house, which had just been erected, had been burned to the ground.

The first news of the misfortune, suffering and hardship experienced has been received in the city by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cameron of 1115 East Fourth street, the parents of the blind man.

With a desire to increase their worldly possessions, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron with their three children left Duluth about two weeks ago for Canada where they hoped to take a homestead.

They filed on land near Battleford, Sask., and with the limited means at their command, bought lumber and erected the dwelling house. They had just become settled when a freak snow storm came on after which the weather became bitterly cold.

In attempting to build a fire, Mr. Cameron set fire to the house. They did not have a well, and had no means of fighting the fire. The flames spread so rapidly that they were unable to get any of their belongings out of the structure. All they had left was the clothes upon their back and there were two babies to be taken care of. One of the babies is but 8 months old and the other is about 2 years. The oldest child, "Tommy," is 4 years old.

The Boy As Guide.

As the little group, father, mother and the children stood on the prairie and felt rather than saw that their house was gone, the father said:

"Tommy, can you see a house?"

Little Tommy answered: "Yes, but it is a long way off."

Then followed the march across the prairie with 4-year-old "Tommy" in the lead. The parents, who are both blind, each carried one of the babies, and the great fear in their minds was that the children would freeze before they could find shelter.

It took a long time to reach the house that Tommy had seen, but finally the family came to it. It proved to be an old shack that some one had used a long time ago. The doors and windows were nailed up. Finally the door was broken in, and the little party of discouraged prospectors found that there was but little to comfort them.

There happened to be a stove. A fire was lighted, and while the wind whistled through the house at will, they made themselves as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. There was some straw in an old bunk, giving the children what clothing they could spare, the mother and father stayed up during the entire night, talking of what they would do.

They had not in the first place more money than they needed, and the fire, coming as it did, cleaned them out completely. Even the things that had been sent them from home and as yet unopened had vanished in the flames.

They had worked hard for some days for their house, and to have it vanish in a few minutes seemed to them a greater hardship than they could bear.

Finally they got to Battleford, where they wrote of their misfortune to Mr. Cameron's parents in Duluth. Money was immediately sent them, and a new house is under construction.

In the old deserted shack they found some cornmeal and other products from which food was prepared and the next day they succeeded in getting to Battleford, twenty miles distant.

Mr. and Mrs. Cameron are remarkable people in that both being blind they are able to do almost anything more fortunate persons would be capable of doing. Mr. Cameron helped in the construction of the house and he intends to do his own gardening. The mother is known for her art in cookery and their sense of hearing is remarkable.

Alexander Cameron is well known in Duluth. He was reared in this city and has been blind for a number of years. He attended and graduated from the Central high school while he was blind. He was a member of the class of 1893 and was, so far as is known, the only blind man ever graduated from the local school. After graduating from the high school, he went to Carlton college at Northfield, Minn., where he spent three years. From there he went to Yale, where he graduated with the highest honors and earned the right to sign Ph. D. after his name.

He has, during the past few years, lectured in many parts of the country. One of his lectures, "How the World Appears to a Blind Man," has been particularly well received.

The many Duluth friends of the family will be glad to know that the family escaped from their hardships and misfortunes in as fortunate a manner as they did.

TOMMY CAMERON,
Who Led His Blind Parents to Safety.

HARRY MITCHELL

IN SPITE of the cold weather my store at No. 123 West Superior Street was packed with customers all day Saturday. There were no rubber necks either. They were all buyers, because of the great value that we offered. Just think, $40.00, $45,00 and $50.00 fine imported suitings, only $16.50, made to order, with a guarantee of perfect fit and satisfaction in every respect, or no pay.

I want every man in Duluth, who needs a good suit, to come into my store right away and look at these beautiful patterns of imported goods at

$16.50 —and— $21

FOR SUIT MADE TO ORDER.

Don't think for one moment that I could sell a $25,000 stock in two days. It means $100,000 business, because of the trimmings, linings and workmanship, are three-quarters as much as the cloth, and taking into consideration the way I am selling them.

Don't wait another day—order your suit now, because the sooner you come into my store and leave your measure the better for you. I don't care a snap what kind of values you are offered elsewhere, whether it's hand-me-down or the so-called ready-to-wear-tailored clothes, I will give you a better bargain. I have got them all skinned to a frazzle when it comes to fine goods. Of course, your regular tailor is not in it at all, so we won't talk about him.

Over 1,000 beautiful latest style patterns in imported goods. Regular prices sold on Wall St., New York, by Cullen & Cullen, the swell tailors, at $55, $60 and $65. My price $21.00

Every garment that I make has my personal guarantee of satisfaction, or no pay. Better still, your money back within six months, if not satisfied.

Here is the story in a nutshell: Cullen & Cullen, the swellest tailors in New York, who made clothes for the Wall Street boys, the Money Kings, went broke. Speculation—and "the great white way" on Broadway was responsible for their downfall. Harry Mitchell, with the coin, relieved them from their burden—saved them from brankruptcy and YOU GET THE BENEFIT. Just think, the finest stock of woolen goods that were ever brought into New York, were sold to me at 30 cents on the dollar. I am satisfied with small profits. My motto has always been: Quick sales and small profits, and while I made the best deal, I want to let you in on it, so come right along and pick the best.

No samples furnished; no orders filled for out-of-town men on these goods, because these suitings are all in single suit lengths, and in order to see the goods men must come into my store to make their selection.

Mail orders will be promptly filled on regular goods at regular prices.

MARINE NEWS

NORTH STAR IS IN PORT

Mutual Liner Arrives and Discharges Cargo of Package Freight.

Two More Boats of Same Line En Route to Duluth.

The North Star of the Mutual line arrived at port this morning. Members of the crew of the big package freighter report that there is very low water at the entrance of Lake Superior, and that coal boats and boats coming here loaded near the hatches will, in all probability experience some trouble in getting into the lake.

The men also reported that there was a large number of boats at the Soo, some of them bound for Duluth.

Two more of the Mutual boats are on their way here. It is expected that they will be here tomorrow or the day after.

Members of the crew of the North Star state that there is an immense amount of package freight waiting on the lower lake port docks for delivery. This statement bears out the news that has come from the East, stating that there will be an early heavy movement of westbound package freight.

The harbor and slips have a busy appearance today for the first time of the present year. The arrival of the North Star and the unloading has given employment to a large number of men who have been hanging around the docks for the past week.

With the arrival of the other package freighters at the local docks, there will be employment for a large number of men who make their living by following the lines of activity on the docks.

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a strong tonic, entirely free from alcohol.

NORTH LAKE HAS BEEN REPAIRED

Two Mutual Transit Boats in Collision at Sault Ste. Marie.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamer North Lake of the Mutual Transit company has been repaired by the Algoma Steel company. In a collision yesterday at the head of the Canadian canal, the steamer North Wind of the same line crashed into the stern of the North Lake. As a result of the collision, the North Lake suffered damages to her steering gear. She also has a twisted rudder. The steamer North Wind was undamaged.

Both boats are package freighters, and both are the property of the Mutual Transit company. The boats ply between Duluth and the lower lake ports.

The North Lake is the new steamer that was put into commission less than a year ago. Both boats were on their way to Duluth.

The North Lake got away this morning after the rudder stock had been repaired.

CAPTAIN WRIGHT DIES SUDDENLY

Anchor Line Master Passes Away on Board the Steamer Muncy.

Houghton, Mich., April 19.—Capt. W. L. Wright of Erie, Penn., commanding the steamer Muncy of the Anchor line, died suddenly yesterday aboard the ship while on the way to Houghton from Duluth. This was the captain's first trip on the Muncy.

The steamer is tied up pending a coroner's inquest and the arrival of another captain or mate.

M. S. Mead, general agent of the Anchor line at the Head of the Lakes, expressed deep regret when informed of Capt. Wright's death. He said:

"Capt. Wright was one of the best captains on our line, and in fact on the entire chain of lakes. He was a thorough gentleman as well as a competent seaman. He had been in the Anchor line service ever since he began his career as a sailor, having started in a minor capacity—a watchman, I believe—and had worked his way up through the various channels until he was appointed master of a ship, and had held that position for many years. The company has lost a trustworthy shipmaster, and the community in which he lived is deprived of a good citizen."

The Muncy left Duluth Sunday on her first trip. Capt. Wright was not feeling well here, but it was not thought his condition was serious.

MORE BOATS JOINING FLEET IN BLOCKADE.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 19.—The blockade at the Soo continues and is growing more serious hourly, more boats joining the fleet that has held up shipping because of the rush to begin the season without the slightest delay. There are about fifteen lake craft above the Soo at noon, while those below numbered in the neighborhood of forty.

Supplies of fuel are running low on the lake boats that are blockading the Soo and the wireless is being used to order additional supplies of coal.

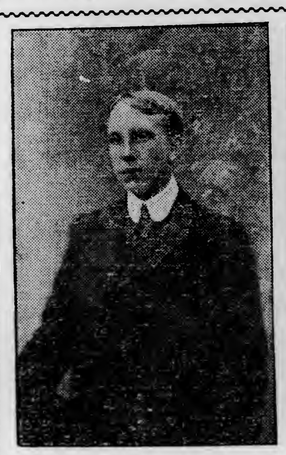
BELL A ROADSIDE FOUNTAIN.



Boston Globe: A most unique roadside fountain for horses and cattle is the inverted church bell, set in masonry, which is located on the highway that leads from Nortaboro to Westboro and near the center village of the former town.

The bell was orlginally placed in the tower of the First Baptist church in the year 1860, and on the occasion of some notable Union victory during the Civil war, possibly the surrender of Lee in April, 1865, the vigorous, patriotic ringing by the church sexton cracked the metal, and this public crier for religious services on the Lord's day ceased to be tuneful in its weekly summoning to the house of worship.

"It was not until 1892, however," says an old resident of the town, "that the Baptists secured a new and perfect bell. Then the society gave its old relic to the town, and some resourceful town father suggested turning the gift upside down, fixing it firmly in its present resting place as a receptacle for the water of a nearby spring and utilizing it as a means of liquid refreshment for thirsty horses and cattle."

DULUTH MAY SEE AVIATORS

C. A. Marshall Will Attempt to Secure Aeroplane Attraction for Duluth.

Wright Brothers or Curtiss May Be Secured for August Appearance.

Manager C. A. Marshall of the Lyceum theater left last night for an Eastern trip, and during his presence in the East he will endeavor to book an aeroplane attraction for Duluth to be held here some time late in August.

Before leaving the city last night Mr. Marshall informed the sporting editor of The Herald that he would endeavor to get one or two of the air artists who were booked to appear at the Minnesota state fair.

The Wright brothers of Dayton, Ohio, have signed contracts to appear at the state fair, and it may be that Mr. Marshall will be able to secure the famous Ohio inventors for a Duluth appearance.

He wants to secure Curtiss if possible. Curtiss holds the world's record and he has been one of the most successful of the air navigators.

Mr. Marshall was present at the Los Angeles meet and was at that time struck with the possibility of having an aeroplane meet in this city. If he succeeds in getting the promise of two of the most famous of the air artists, he will put the project before the business men of the city.

In Los Angeles the meet was assured by the subscriptions of the business men. It is impossible to charge for an aeroplane meet, as anybody can watch the flights of the aviators without paying. If the business men will unite in the scheme, it is believed that it will be possible to secure the attraction for this city.

Mr. Marshall will meet the business representative of the Wright brothers during his absence.

WEATHER SPOILS BALL GAMES

Opening of Season in the East Is Prevented By Rain.

New York, April 19.—Heavy rains and water soaked grounds made it impossible to play any of the baseball games scheduled in the East yesterday in either the National or the American leagues. If weather permits these games will be played off today, but the official prediction is more rain for another twenty-four hours.

In New York the National season was to have been opened with two games one at the Polo grounds in Manhattan between the Bostons and the New Yorks, and one in Brooklyn with the Philadelphias. The Bostons were storm-bound all day here in their hotel and the Philadelphias did not even come to town.

In Boston where the American league was to have opened with the Bostons playing against Washington, there was another disappointment, and at Shibe park in Philadelphia, where the Philadelphias were to have opened with the New Yorks, it was no better.

No date has been set for the play-off of yesterday's game between the Bostons and New York teams, but that between the Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs will be settled July 29 in Brooklyn, with a double-header.

The Philadelphia National league club has asked for waivers on Otto Delninger, an outfielder, and it is likely that he will join the Jersey City team, which also is dickering for Myers of the Boston Americans, and Knight of the New York Americans. President Lynch of the National league announced yesterday that he would not allow his umpires to referee any college games during the time they are under contract with his organization.

JOHNSON SAVES AUTO PARTY

Negro Pugilist Gives Alarm When Machine Turns Over in Park.

Chicago, April 19.—Jack Johnson, the negro champion heavyweight pugilist, this morning assisted firemen in rescuing two men and a woman, who were buried under an automobile, which had turned completely over in Jackson park. One woman was thrown out and escaped serious injury. Although it was an hour after midnight, Johnson with his trainer was passing in his car and immediately went to the rescue. Johnson at first attempted to lift the overturned car, but failing in this, sent his trainer, N. J. Furey, to call for help. A few moments later a hook and ladder company arrived.

About a dozen firemen, assisted by Johnson, lifted the wrecked car. The injured persons were then put in Johnson's car and rushed to a hospital. At the hospital it was said that Miss Grace Bury, 20 years old, was the only one injured.

St. Paul, Minn., April 19. — Young Miller of this city won two straight falls in a wrestling match with George Bothner last night. The first fall was in thirty-six minutes and the second in twenty-four minutes.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

(BY BRUCE.)

Charles Comiskey has paid Ty Cobb the highest compliment any baseball player has ever received. The Old Roman has stated that Cobb is not only the greatest of all present day players, but he is also the greatest player who ever slipped into a spiked shoe.

There are perhaps seven out of ten fans who would answer, were you to put the question directly to them "Who is the greatest baseball player?"—"Hans Wagner." But when a judge of players such as Comiskey is, comes out and declares that Cobb is the greatest player of this or any other age, there will be many who will sit up and take notice.

For these many years Lajoie and Wagner have been compared. The comparison has generally been in favor of the Teuton. Seldom before last year, was Cobb ever compared to Wagner. It was believed that Wagner wore the crown of king. But, behold, there comes a new champion on the scene, and Tyrus Cobb with a batting average of .377 is called the greatest player of the age by one of the shrewdest and brainiest men in the great American game.

Comiskey classes Cobb as the greatest in all-around qualifications. He says Cobb is the greatest batter, the speediest and has baseball brains. He says Johnny Evers is one of the few men in baseball who has as much brains as the Georgia wonder.

The Old Roman always did admire a brainy baseball player. He never wanted a bonehead on his team. A player could bat in the charmed .300 class, but if he was one of those boys with a wooden brain, Commy could not stand for him.

Like Hal Chase and little Evers, Cobb is a wizard of modern baseball. His daring has buffaloed the catchers in the American league. They never know what to expect of him. It is the daring of a bright baseball mind that has aided in the making of Cobb one of the greatest of the present age.

Cut the Comedy.

Please, somebody hit Mr. Philadelphia Jawn O'Brien real hard.

They have matched against him a man who is so slow that the tortuous trend of a turtle would seem gazelle-like compared to the labored lope of this imitation of a draft horse chasing an automobile.

The rather rough reference is made to Al Kaufman who has been on the trail of the world's heavyweight championship so long, dear, that the patient people are wondering if Al will hold out long enough to be here when the good ones go.

O'Brien and Kaufman have fought before. Jawn copped the clumsy native son, who almost fell on his own feet when he essayed a swing. Since that sad occasion the two men have fought one of those six round no decision affairs in Philadelphia.

They are going at it again. If Mister Al fails to beat the Philadelphia real estate dealer decisively and to the point in the coming contest, he should seek employment, humble though it may be, in some agricultural section of the country, where strong men are needed and where special speed and celerity of mind are not required.

Dick Burge Dead.

Dick Burge, in his day just such an unfeeling fighter as Battling Nelson, has joined the great majority. Burge was born in Australia and learned the fighting game in the far off never-never land. He later came to America and then went to England.

American followers of fighters remember the famous Iron Man best from his fifty-round draw with Kid Lavigne, the Saginaw kid. Burge was the most enduring fighter of his time, with the possible exception of Lavigne, and until the advent of the Inhuman Nelson, there has never been a man like him.

But unlike Nelson, Burge was knocked out. That performance showed that Burge could be made to take the count. Nelson has been defeated in his time, but as yet he has never taken the fatal count that places the K. O. after a fighter's name.

The Public Also.

Jack Johnson says if he trains over four or five weeks he is sure of getting stale. There is the public also to think of. If Johnson has the same insane bunch of press agents that Sam Berger has hired for the Jeffries camp, the public will surely be in a condition of illness before the big quarrel is started.

There has been nothing started at the Jeffries camp as yet, as reliable advices state; yet some of the press agents have the big fellows on the verge of staleness already, from the immense amount of work he has done. Berger better worry about the public mind.

Bet you, George, the public is anxious to hear about the doings in the camp; but the public is also getting to be discriminating, also, and it has learned to tell real news from the yawning yarns about Berger and Jeffries engaging in terrible battles with the gloves.

The press stuff that has come from the camp of the man who is coming back to try and gain the championship, is pretty bad and does not reflect any credit on the doings of the big fighter.

Good Training—Yes?

Dr. Clapper, who has initiated a quarrel with Curley Ulrich, the pugilistic pride of Superior, is a veterinary surgeon. When one hears of the Doc taking to the ring, one also naturally wonders if the training he received with the ailments of the stall loungers has enabled him to solve with ready wit the weakness of mere man.

If such be the case, then woe unto Curley. The genial Doc may diagnose the case of Curley as one of lumpy jaw and proceed to treat the subject along these strenuous lines. Just a word of warning to Curley:

Remember that horse surgeons never cater to your whims, but rather generally give you what you are not in the least expecting. One word to the really wise is sufficient.

Questions Answered.

L. D. G., Duluth—He would if he were given the opportunity. There is no doubt about it. Has a bad record but is trying to reform. It is rumored that he is on the sprinkling cart for good. Wearing black at the present time.

George La Mont, Long Prairie—There has been much dispute as to whether John L. Sullivan was ever champion of the world. Some eminent pistic critics claim that there was no doubt of it; others, equally well known, have declared that Sullivan never held the world's championship. You can suit your inclination either way.

S. O. and T. B., Duluth—That all depends. Some need it. Now there is the case of—but that would hardly be fair, and is "another story," as dear old Rud Kipling, one of your favorites, would say. Some times they do, really. Oarsmen often need some mild tonic, the English believing it does them good. There are two sides to every question, however, as the prohibitionists and the more-for-merriness clan, are proving at the present time.

A. L. C., Duluth—The Tom Loftus, who died of cancer Saturday, was the same Tom who played baseball with Charley Comiskey. He was at one time also manager of the Columbus team. He was one of the grandest men in baseball and his death is sincerely mourned.

Ollie Anderson, Willmar—Dear Ollie, your story was fine and we are going to use it. Please be patient as young authors have often experienced the same trouble. There is a rumor that you are going into—not exactly seclusion—but that you are going to somewhat submerge your identity and personality—in other and more explicit words, dear Ollvet, that you are going to be married. The Herald will be glad to get the announcement, as we have a fine open-faced picture of you. Let us hear from you.

JEFFRIES STRIPS AND WORKS HARD

Former Champion Attacks Punching Bag With Unwonted Vigor.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 19.—Visitors to James J. Jeffries' training camp yesterday saw the former champion stripped to the waist while going through his stunts. After laboring vigorously with the chest weights for an even hour, with the perspiration rolling off him, Jeffries suddenly concluded it was too warm to work that way and removed his heavy undershirt, in which he has exercised heretofore. Jeffries then went at the punching bag with a vim that threatened to wreck the apparatus.

In the bright sunlight he loomed up big and almost as muscular as in his former days. It showed that his two-weeks' training already has served to remove considerable superfluous fat from the upper part of his body, while lower down there still is a trace of fast-fading paunch. His huge arms and hairy chest looked as formidable as in the days of his former pugilistic triumphs. The entire afternoon was occupied by exercises with chest weights and punching bags. Farmer Burns explained Jeffries' steady application to the weight was to loosen up his back muscles and to regain the elasticity so characteristic of the big fighter in his previous battles.

"When the elasticity is gone, the athletic has been scooped away by Father Time," declared Burns as he watched Jeffries' play of muscles. As yet no announcement has been made as to when Jeffries will resume boxing as a part of his daily grind.

BUTTE, MONT., CLUB WINS RIFLE SHOOT.

Washington, April 19.—The indoor rifle shooting team championship of the United States has been won by the Rocky Mountain Rifle club of Butte, Mont. This club and the Winchester Rod & Gun club of New Haven, Conn., were tied for first place in the twelve-week shoot and in the deciding contest last week, the Rocky Mountain club won by a score of 985 to 980 points. Each of the leading clubs had lost one and won ten matches. The Myles Standish Rifle club of Portland, Me., was third; the Warren, Pa., Rifle & Revolver club, fourth; the St. Paul Rifle & Pistol association fifth; Seattle Rifle & Revolver association, sixth, and the Fort Pitt Rifle club of Pittsburg, seventh.

SCENES AT OPENING GAME IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE AT NEW YORK

FORMER POLICE CHIEF DEVERY OPENING AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK, NEW YORK.

OPENING GAME BETWEEN BOSTON AND NEW YORK AT THE AMERICAN LEAGUE PARK.

A crowd of about 25,000 people attended the opening game at American League Park, New York, where they saw a great battle for fourteen innings. The game was between the Boston Red Sox and Highlanders and went to a tie. "Big Bill" Devery, former police commissioner of New York, tossed out the first ball, according to the time-honored custom, that one of the great shall thus officially open the first game of the season

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

Just at the present time Uncle Joe Killian is getting the gad from divers and general directions. Superior continues its rain of abuse on the manager, and Milwaukee has also entered the rebellion league, and at the present time is saying that Killian is keeping Ray Saveland out of baseball.

The charge fired from Milwaukee, is that Killian offered the player good inducements and then, when he had secured the player, made him a stingy salary offer. Saveland has refused to play for the salary offered and may be kept out of the game, as Killian has purchased his release.

This Killian has so far proved the trouble maker of the league. Some one should put a wet towel over his head and give him some good advice. He offended several times last season and he seems intent upon stirring up trouble the present season.

There are several ways for league officials to interfere, and the Killian case is an example to practice upon.

The Superior paper continues it attack upon President John A. Elliott. It suggests many things, all of which are composed of the fabric of foolishness. Inquiry around the league has brought out the fact that there is no sympathy with the unwarranted attack that has been made on the league's executive. It simply reflects upon the writer of the abusive and slanderous articles.

Criticism is always acceptable; but the miserable abuse penned by the writer on the other side of the bay is a disgrace and a slam at baseball. It is only just that it be said that around the league there is no man held in higher esteem than John A. Elliott.

Artie O'Dea has fallen into the habit of writing confidential letters. It is a very bad habit, Arthur, especially if you happen to live in Superior.

"Hi" Rooney, president of the La Crosse club, and silent Joe Safford, manager and center fielder of the same aggregation of club wielders, have returned to the quiet precincts of La Crosse, after a riotous week in the throbbing mart of Chicago's wickedness.

Silent Joe has brought back news and solace for fearing fans. He has secured J. M. Wittaker, a pitcher, and H. Connell, an infielder. The two players are said to be great, as all early season players are said to be. Watson, a consistent pitcher for La Crosse last season, has also reported.

Regina of the Western Canada league will play a series of exhibition games with La Crosse. The Colored Gophers of St. Paul will play with the Saffordites and then the Cuban Stars will come. In La Crosse it would seem as if they are encouraging the progression of the races.

Pitcher Charley Watson, of the La Crosse team, has received an injury to his right arm, but believes it will make no difference in his playing. He is an optimist worthy of tabulated fame.

The La Crosse Leader says President Rooney learned one thing while in Chicago, darkly hinting at the depth of the knowledge gleaned by the president. Really, Harry Rood, it is a poor skate who can't pick up one or two pieces of information in Chicago. The only question is, what did "Hi" learn?

In Red Wing the girls attending the Lutheran seminary have taken up the game of baseball. The enthusiasm in the little town is great. After Mique Malloy pays that fine, he should be able to accomplish wonders in Red Wing.

Wausau has at last come into the hopeful fold and has claimed the pennant. It is surely great to be optimistic. There is a great crowd of youngsters who will report the present week, and with some of the best of the veterans, there is no reason why Wausau should not have a very strong team the present season.

DEPARTMENT IS ORGANIZED

Charles Brewer, Sailing Captain, Names Aides and Committee.

Yesterday Charles Brewer, captain of the sailing department of the Duluth Boat club, submitted his appointments to President Julius H. Barnes, and with the approval of the president the appointments were made for the present season.

Sibbald McDonald and J. A. Roth were appointed ensigns, and the sailing committee will be composed of E. A. Pierce, J. A. Roth, A. C. Le Duc and O. L. Mather.

The sailing department of the Duluth Boat club is the last of the four departments to be organized. The other three departments were organized some time ago. The sailing races of the present season will begin early in June or the latter part of May, depending largely upon the weather conditions.

There was a meeting held last evening of the four captains of the different departments. The meeting was held for the purpose of deciding upon a summer sport program. Though no definite plans were decided upon, the four captains agreed that there would be no conflict in the programs of the different departments.

There will be two carnivals the present season. There will be a folk dance on the tennis court and a water carnival, much on the same order as the one held last year.

DAUSS JOINS DULUTH TEAM

Crack Twirler in Good Condition—Cummings Will Join Squad Soon.

George Dauss has joined the Duluth team. He joined the White Sox squad at Mansfield, Ohio, and according to a letter received from Darby O'Brien this morning, the twirler is in the very best of condition.

Dauss is heavier and more rugged than he was last season. O'Brien believes he will pitch the best baseball of his career. Marion is due to join the team today.

So far the weather on the trip has been wretched. The weather at Mansfield Sunday was so cold that baseball playing was very difficult. Cummings will join the squad in a few days.

TIGERS WIN WHEN PITCHER WEAKENS.

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—Bailey pitched unbeatable ball until the eighth, when an error by Wallace, on Samage's grounder, seemed to unsteady him. He passed two men with two out and Cobb tied the score with a double. In the ninth he walked Crawford and Delehanty hit for three bases. Mullin was hit hard at the start and was wild throughout, but good fielding saved him. The day was cold and rain threatened throughout.

BREWER PITCHERS WILD AND MILLERS WIN.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 19.—Minneapolis won the first game from Milwaukee yesterday by reason of the wildness of three Milwaukee pitchers and some timely hitting. COLUMBUS WINS SPECTACULAR GAME.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—Rain fell during most of the day. Columbus won in the ninth from Indianapolis, 8 to 7. At one time the losers had a 7 to 3 lead. Both Goodwin and Thielman were retired in the fifth. Liebhardt stopped the visitors, being aided by Odwell's running gloved-hand catch off Delehanty in the ninth. Odwell scored the winning run, reaching first on Lewis' error. Long singles by Rossman and Hinchman brought him around. Catcher Arbogast of Columbus hit twice to the fence, singled his third time up, and lost a fourth hit because Murch made a daring bare-handed stop back of third. Score:

CONCERNING WOMAN.

The women of Duluth are busy with the Laymen's missionary meeting although their presence at the meetings will not be noticeable, but the opening performance, which will be the banquet Friday evening, is an event with which women have had more to do than men thus far. The Young Women's Christian association has been invited to take charge of the banquet and the dinner will be prepared in the kitchens of the association. The various ladies' aid societies of the churches of the city have been asked to take charge of the serving of a certain number of delegates and with very few exceptions the women have undertaken that part of the work of serving the banquet. When it is estimated that 1,200 guests are expected to be served at this affair, the amount of work entailed in preparing dinner is almost appalling.

And think of the dishes afterward!

TAG DAY POSTPONED.

Children's Home Board Not to Have Charity Day.

Out of courtesy to the Duluth public and to the Catholic women of the city who have announced a tag day for May 3, the board of managers of the Children's Home decided at a meeting yesterday, to postpone their tag day until August. The board planned a tag day for the middle of May and they so announced to the Duluth public the first of last week. The latter part of the week the Sisters of St. Benedict announced a tag day for St. Mary's hospital, to be held May 3.

Two tag days in so short a time seemed to the women of the Children's Home board an imposition on the public and they have withdrawn their charity day until several months later.

ART EXHIBIT

A special meeting of the Duluth Art association was held last evening at the Commercial club, and the reports from the various committees promise a most successful exhibit. The date has been definitely set for the last week of May, beginning May 23, and the first week of June, ending June 4.

Several interesting and special features will be arranged to make the exhibit of as great value and interest to the citizens of Duluth as possible. The original pictures owned by Duluthians will be loaned by many of the owners and special exhibit made of them. Nearly 100 fine pictures in originals are owned by Duluthians, and will be available for the exhibit. During the exhibit there will be lectures by out-of-town speakers, and "American Art" especially will be the theme of several talks.

A competent art director will be in charge during the two weeks of the exhibit, and every effort will be taken for the safety and care of the pictures loaned.

THE EVENING STORY

DICK AND THE DUCHESS

By Claire Folsom.

Dick gazed through the palings of the fence that divided his aunt's garden from the adjoining one which belonged to a sad-faced old lady who never had any callers and never called upon any one. His eyes were fixed upon a ball that lay in a bed of geraniums.

"'Spect Nora is out," he said to himself, when nobody responded to his soft whistle, several times repeated.

Nora was the old lady's servant, and she never failed to come out and restore the ball the boy frequently lost over the fence. Now she appeared to be away for a holiday.

So Dick clambered to the top of the fence and jumped into the adjoining garden and with both hands dug into the bed of geraniums. Then he looked toward the windows of the old lady's house.

"S'pose I'd better tell her I did it, or Nora or Toby will be blamed," he said as he arose. Toby was the lady's dog.

Going to the house, he rapped on the door, which was slightly ajar, and a voice asked,

"Who is there?"

For reply Dick walked in and was in the presence of the sad-faced old lady, who took a walk along the road every morning, but spoke to nobody. There were tears in her eyes. Dick forgot his errand.

"Poor, dear lady, you are crying!" he exclaimed. "I'm so sorry. Are you miserable?"

"No, dear. I'm happy."

Dick was puzzled. Crying was to him a sign of unhappiness. The lady noticed his puzzled expression.

"I've had good news," she said.

Then she told him that a son who had gone far away nine years ago was coming home at last.

"But why didn't he come before?" Dick asked.

"Because he does not care for the East any more, since he lost the lady he loved. He is an engineer, and he has spent all these years out there in Colorado, and Nevada, and Alaska; but now he is coming home at last."

In her joy the old lady began again to cry softly. Then she remembered that she had no knowledge of her little visitor's errand.

"What brought you here, my boy?" she asked.

Falteringly, Dick told her of the crushed geraniums and avowed his sorrow over what he had done.

"I forgive you," the old lady said. "What is your name?"

"Richard Benton Hardwick," he said, evidently proud of the rounded dignity of the name in its complete form.

"And who are your parents?"

"My parents both went to heaven, oh, ever so long ago, and I live with my auntie. Have you ever seen my auntie? She's the prettiest lady you ever saw. Heaps and heaps better than the ladies she draws for books."

The old lady smiled at his enthusiasm and said: "Tell me what she is like."

Dick heaved a sigh, and, with his eyes on the ceiling, said: "She's got heaps of brown hair—not like mine, because hers is all curly. I uncurl it, and——" he laughed a little—"it flies back into a curl again. Her eyes are grey and blue and black all mixed up, with lashes all twisty at the end. Her face is just like velvet, and as pink as pink. Oh, I must show you my auntie! I'm very proud of her."

He spoke with dignity, and brought his eyes from contemplating the ceiling. Then he sighed.

"Why, that sigh, child?" the lady asked.

Dick blushed, and studied his dusty shoes.

"I was thinking," he said, "that perhaps you won't want to see my auntie."

"Why?"

Dick's blush deepened.

"Because you don't ever speak to people or laugh. Nora says you are awfully proud."

"Does she?"

"And we didn't know your name. And Alice, our servant, you know, she says you are 'the Duchess.' Are you?"

The old lady laughed.

"Oh, so Alice calls me 'the Duchess,' does she?"

Dick nodded.

"Are you?" he asked.

"No. I'm just Mrs. Rogers, and I am not proud, Dick. I'm sad sometimes."

"Are you? So is my auntie. Why are you sad?"

"Because I have had a lot of things to make me sad, dearie. I lost my husband, then my pretty little girl, and then my son, my big boy, Richard, went away because he was miserable. I got lonely and selfish, and I suppose I forgot all about everyone by myself."

"Ah, and auntie, she's sad because she's lonely, too, at times. She's only got me, and I'm really not much," he spoke deprecatingly.

"When I grow up she'll feel better, 'cause it's when I go to sleep she's lonely. She makes me go, or else I shall not be a fine fellow like my father. She says she isn't lonely, but I know better. One night I wasn't a bit sleepy, so I crept out of bed, and went down to ask auntie if I might sit up a bit. I didn't know it was so awful late. You see, I'd been to sleep and forgotten it. I opened the door ever so quietly, and auntie was sitting by the side of the fire, and she said, just as if she was crying, 'Oh, Dickie, Dickie, why don't you come? Why did you leave me?' So I called, 'I'm here, darling,' and she kissed me like anything, so, you see, I know she's lonely when I'm gone to bed."

Tears stood in the old lady's eyes.

"Poor child!" she said; and then, patting his head, "Now suppose you run in and ask your auntie to come in and have tea with me. Would she, do you think?"

"Oh, she'd love to. I'll go and see." "The Duchess" let him out, and went to meditate.

"How very selfish I've been," she thought "There, only next door, was the sweetest laddie, and a girl who is sad. I must help cheer her up, and when my boy comes home he'll be glad to know I've not been lonely. Poor little girl next door, and poor wee Dick. What a lot of Dicks there are in the world, to be sure. I suppose the Dick she cries for is her brother, or perhaps a lover she lost. She must idolize that boy."

Just then came the tall, graceful Miss Hardwick, holding her nephew by the hand.

"I'm afraid Dick's been a worry, Mrs. Rogers," she said softly.

"Not a bit," the old lady cheerfully replied, leading the way to her cool and shady drawing room.

Henceforth Dick and his auntie became frequent visitors next door. In fact, as the days sped by, it seemed as if they had been friends for years.

One night, some weeks later, Dick beguiled his auntie into singing for them. Miss Hardwick had a beautiful voice, but above the music of it the sound of cab wheels came to the ears of "the Duchess" and she rushed out. The two visitors heard a man's deep voice say, "Mother!" and Dick whispered solemnly, "It's her son."

"Can't we get away somehow?" asked his aunt.

But the door opened. The brown-haired woman rose from the piano. There was a cry of "Hettie!" and an answering one of "Dickie!" and Miss Hardwick was in the big bronzed man's arms.

"Hettie, darling, is it true?"

"Dickie—Dickie, why did you ever doubt my love? Oh, Dick, dear, dear Dick!"

The child and the mother stood and stared. Then the child slipped his hand in the old lady's.

"His name is Dick, too," he whispered, and she nodded.

"Mother," said the big man at length, "this is Hettie, my little sweetheart of all those years ago. We won't go into all the doubts and misunderstandings that caused us to part. Let it suffice that after ten years we have met again.

The duchess struggled with her tears. To find her Dick again, only to lose him to little Dick's auntie.

But it was little Dick who solved the problem.

"Ain't it all jolly? All of us can always be happy together, and I shall be your new Dick, and he can be my auntie's," he said.

The brown man tossed him up on his shoulder, while "the duchess" kissed Hettie, and they agreed between smiles and tears to share the two Dicks.

YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS

By MISS EXPERIENCE

Don't Look for an Angel.

The man who resolves never to marry until he finds an angel will either die a bachelor or find that matrimony brings angels to the general level of humanity. Here is what one such young man specified as qualifications for sharing his heart and home: "All I want is that she should have large views, beauty, good attainments, charm and intellect. Of course, I also expect her to be loving, well-read, to have strong views concerning the right to be generous, tactful, and sociable, and to be interested in everything generally. That's all!" One day he appeared so radiantly happy that a friend said to him:

"You've found her, eh?"

"You've guessed it," he said, and began to describe with an amazing wealth of details, a creature in whom were united beauty, loving disposition, cleverness and a whole lot of perfections.

About a year after his marriage he wore a subdued look, and when he was asked how he was prospering with his "angel" he sighed and answered, "Ah, if I could only have known!"

Standing on a Trifle.

"My lover has asked me to marry him," says Edith C., but we have never been formally engaged, and he has not given me a ring. I don't like accepting his offer, though I am very much in love with him. He says he won't ask me again, and wants my final decision. Should I be right in refusing his offer?"

My dear girl, if he asks you and you accept him, that is an engagement, whether he gives you a ring or not. I don't wonder he is rather vexed at your hesitation. Accept, if you want to marry him. Then you will be formally engaged. If he doesn't give you an engagement ring he will give you a wedding one.

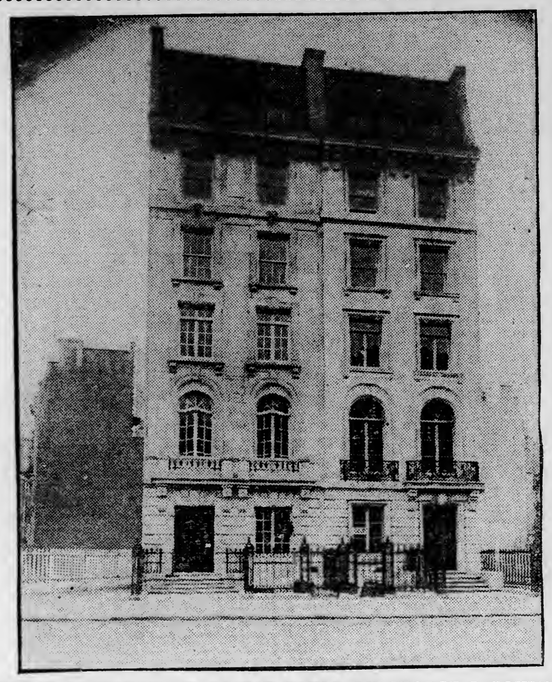
Take the One Who Is Preferable.



Loved by a young man whose brother she prefers, Helen K. asks what to do. Your best plan is to explain to this gentleman that, though you like him it is only in a friendly way, and that you could never regard him as your sweetheart. It is best not to mention his brother, otherwise you may create an ill-feeling between the two men. Later on, when this gentleman has had time to get over his disappointment—should his brother pay you attentions, you may safely accept them. In matters of this kind, delays are dangerous—only be sure, ere you speak thus frankly, that you know your mind, and that it is this gentleman's brother you care for, and not himself.

Avoid a Loveless Marriage.

Marriages where there is no love rarely prove satisfactory. There are people who can regard wedlock from the standpoint of convenience and then learn to love each other, but it is a risky piece of business.

The Good Times to Be.

Let's sing about the good times—the good times to be—
As sing the rivers rippling on in music to the sea!
As sing the birds—they know not why—when springtime days begin:
So let us sing the hard times out, and sing the good times in!

Let's sing about the good times, when every cot and clod
Shall send a benediction to the living skies of God!
When the world a brighter beauty and a rarer grace shall win,
And life shall sing the sad times out, and ring the glad times in!

Let's sing about the good times! They'll greet us on the way—
A rose upon the morning's breast—a sun throughout the day;
When life springs like a blossom from the color of the clod,
And the world rolls on in music to the shining gates of God!

TRY THIS DINNER

Potato Soup.

Chop an onion, fry in butter, add six potatoes cut into dice and a bay leaf. Add one quart of water and cook until the potatoes are very soft. Add one quart of milk, rub through a sieve and reheat. Season to taste and thicken with the yolks of two eggs beaten smooth with a cup of cream.

Eggs With Nouilles.

Having sliced six hard-boiled eggs put them in a flat stew pan with some thick tomato sauce highly seasoned. To make the nouilles, take a handful of flour, mix with the yolks of five or six eggs and a little salt. Work it together until it forms a stiff paste. Roll out very thin and let it stand ten or twelve minutes to get dry; then divide it in strips three inches wide. Put one on top of the other and cut the nouilles with a sharp knife as thin as possible. Spread on a sieve to dry; then parboil them for ten minutes and drain on a colander. Return the nouilles to a stew pan with a piece of butter, some seasoning, a bit of grated nutmeg and some grated Parmesan cheese. Stir with a wooden spoon and put part in a buttered baking dish. Form a well and fill up with the eggs. Cover with the remainder of the nouilles, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese, dot with butter and bake until brown.

Vegetables—Baked Onions.

The large Spanish onions are far milder and more delicate than the usual winter varieties. Wash the onions clean, trim the bottoms, but do not peel, put into slightly salted boiling water and boil for one hour. If the onions are desired very mild change the water twice during the time, replenishing with more boiling water. Having drained them well, take each onion separately, wipe it dry and roll in a square of tissue or buttered paper, twisting the paper at the top to keep it closed. Place the onions in a baking pan and bake one hour in a slow oven. When done remove the papers, peel the onions and place them in the serving dish; pour melted butter over them, dust with salt and pepper and serve.

Steam two hours, dry off in the oven and serve with hard or wine sauce. Will serve six persons.

PROGRESS IN MANY LANDS

By MAY A. LEAL.

The era of telopian travel is at last appearing on the horizon; cars no longer jump the track with impunity, but can be checked and made to follow the curve laid out for them; they no longer run into each other and leave a mass of splinters to tell the tale, but are made non-collapsible and survive the collision, whether the passengers survive the shock or not; there is no longer need for the deaf and sensitive to suffer from the peculiar method of announcing the streets common to most conductors, for an indicator shows clearly where they are; and last, but not least, there is an electrical arrangement, wiring the tracks, by which the engineer himself is merely an ornament to reassure those who put their trust in man.

A landslide, a broken rail, even a cow on the track, breaks the circuit and automatically sets the brakes and blows the whistle. Verily telopia approaches in some directions.

A street indicator has been invented which combines the novel functions of conductor and advertiser. It consists of a roll, on which are printed the streets and the desired advertisements, which winds and unwinds like a music-box roll. A plate with a piece projecting downward is fastened at each cross-wire that supports the trolley wire. A wheel consisting of spokes with no rim is fastened to the rod that connects the car with the trolley wire, and at each street the projection from the cross wire hits the wheel, turning it. As the wheel is turned the current transmitted to it from the trolley wire by an arrangement of wiring turns the roll in the indicator so that the correct street and advertisement is shown.

The question whether a high-level or sea-level canal would be better across the Isthmus of Panama, has already been answered during the recent floods in that district.

The isthmus is in many cases fifty or sixty feet above the sea level and were the canal cut at that grade the dirt loosened in the rains would be washed down into the canal bed as the waters sank. In cases of excessive rainfall this would cause much valuable time to be wasted in removing this surplus deposit from the bed.

ACTIVE MARKET IN DULUTH CURBS

Quiet Day in the East Keeps Prices From Advancing.

The copper market here was active today and trading was fairly broad. Of the twelve stocks traded in, more than 8,000 shares changed hands. The activity was somewhat specialized, however, the bulk of the trading being in two or three of the low-priced issues.

The Boston market was closed, as the patriots were celebrating the anniversary of the battle of Lexington. In New York the stocks fluctuated narrowly and the movement was without significance. The opening was soft, but later values firmed after the decline in the forenoon, and prices at the close were about on a level with the opening, in some instances fractionally higher, which placed them about on yesterday's closing basis. Stocks were fed out on all the strong spots except toward the close, due to moderate buying. There was little public interest in the general market.

Dispatch from Boston today said: "One of the most important members of the Copper Producers' association confirms the report that monthly figures giving production, stocks on hand, deliveries, exports, etc., will probably be abandoned in the near future. The matter is now under consideration. It is said that there is no reason why they should publish stocks on hand than steel companies should publish theirs. Copper figures afford too much ammunition for speculation in Wall street, besides the public generally arrives at erroneous conclusions from the monthly statements. Stocks on hand in the world today are around 250,000,000 pounds, which is a two or three months' supply and is not threatening. Yet these figures give rise to the worst kind of gloomy forebodings. We have given publication of figures a thorough test and many leading producers deem it the best interests of the trade to abandon them."

Amalgamated opened at $76.25, sold up to $77.12½, down to $75.87½, up to $77.25 and closed $77.12½. Steel common sold at $86 to $85.25 and up to $86.50.

Butte Alex Scott, part paid, sold at $3.18¾ to $3.25, Butte Ballaklava at $9.62½, Cactus at $2.75, North Butte at $35.50, Red Warrior at $2.18¾, Warrior at $12.31¼, Butte & Superior at $2, $1.93¾ and back to $2, Calumet & Montana at $1.06¼ to $1, Calumet & Corbin at 85 and 86 cents, Calumet & Sonora at $20.50, $20.62½ and back to the opening, San Antonio at $9, St. Mary's at 19 and 20 cents.

There was no Boston market today. A holiday was taken in honor of the anniversary of the battle of Lexington.

THE AMERICAN POLO TEAM.
J. M. Waterbury, Harry Payne Whitney, Milburn and R. J. Collier.

Society turned out in force last Saturday to witness the polo game between the Hurlingham team of England and the Meadow Brook men from Long Island at Lakewood, N. J. The proceeds of the game were for charity. The Hurlingham men won by the score of 5½ to 4. The American team put up a good game, but were not so aggressive as their opponents. George J. Gould had a great deal to do with the visit of the English team to America and he and his handsome wife, have attended every game.

Call is Extended.

At a meeting of the congregation of St. John's English Lutheran church last Sunday it was decided to extend a call to Rev. J. B. Shewel of Philadelphia. No reply has been received from Rev. Shewel, but the members of the church believe he will accept the call. The church has been without a pastor since Rev. J. L. Murphy left. Next Sunday Rev. A. J. Reichert, superintendent of this district, will be at the church and will conduct both morning and evening services. Rev. Reichert makes his headquarters at Red Wing.

Files Damage Suit.

Anton Antalek, administrator of the estate of Joseph Antalek, filed suit in district court today against the Biwabik Mining company for $5,000. He claims that Joseph Antalek's death was caused by the negligence of the company.

Denies Charges.

Martin Rosendahl has filed an answer in district court in the suit brought against him by Fred H. Merritt for $108,000, on account of a deal in Butte Alex Scott. Mr. Rosendahl's answer is a general denial of the charges made in Merritt's complaint.

Suit Is Dismissed.

The suit of Albert H. Bawden against the Columbia Clothing company, in United States court, was dismissed by stipulation today.

Woman Is Drunk.

Flora Plummer, one of the "belles" of the old St. Luke's hospital building at Second avenue east and Fourth street, was in the police grist again this morning charged with being drunk. She pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs or ten days. She didn't have the cash and went over the hill for a visit.

Mary Van Wert Fined.

Mary J. Van Wert, recently acquitted of keeping a house of ill-fame, was fined $10 and costs or ten days in the police court this morning for drunkeness. John Kelly, the negro, recently arrested over the Chinese laundry on Lake avenue between Superior and First streets with two white girls, rented rooms from her for himself and the girls.

Negress Is Released.

Lulu Green, colored, arrested for keeping a house of ill-fame at 222½ Lake avenue south was dismissed in police court today as the evidence against her was not sufficient to secure a conviction. A white man complained to the police that she had robbed him of $50 in the place after "roping" him in.

Found Not Guilty.

John Osterberg, arrested for robbing Hjalmer Johnson of $3.57 on board the Booth boat Saturday evening, was discharged after a trial in police court yesterday afternoon. The testimony of the witnesses called failed to show that he had stolen the money. Johnson was asleep on the deck at the time he claimed he was robbed.

Abused His Wife.

Henry Pomeroy's wife appeared in police court this morning to appear against him when he was arraigned for being drunk. He pleaded guilty and after the court heard his wife's story he imposed a sentence of $40 and costs or thirty days in the county jail. Mrs. Pomeroy alleged that he came home under the influence of liquor and abused her with tongue and fists both.

BRYAN PLEADS LACK OF DATA

Returns From South America Without Knowing Anything About Politics.

New York, April 19.—William J. Bryan reached New York yesterday full of enthusiasm about the wonders of South America and with absolutely no ideas, as far as he was willing to admit, about the state of affairs political in this country. There was not a politician on hand to greet him.

Mr. Bryan left Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 13, spending some time in the Southern states. On Dec. 26 he left Key West for Havana. Thence he went to Jamaica, Panama, Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina and Brazil, returning by way of Porto Rico.

"The subject of my trip," he said, "was the study of economic and sociological conditions in South America."

Chances "Always Good."

"What are the chances of the Democratic party?" he was asked.

"Good. Always good," was the noncommittal reply.

He was asked if he would consider candidacy for the presidency.

"I have said all I am going to say on that subject," he replied, emphatically. "I think my position is understood perfectly."

He added that he hardly thought it necessary to deny stories to the effect that he was to become a candidate for the United States presidency and that he was going to embrace the prohibition movement.

RUSH PREXY AT MARIETTA

Students Hustle Head of College Out of the Chapel.

Whole Junior Class Is Expelled for Prank in Institution.

Marietta, Ohio, April 19.—The chapel services of Marietta college broke up in disorder today following the appearance of the junior class in calithumpian costumes as a satire on the caps and gowns of the seniors. As a result President Perry has suspended the entire junior class.

The disorder reached a climax when two members of the junior class grasped President Perry and thrust him bodily from the room. Escorted back by members of the faculty, the university executive told the juniors that they were suspended and ordered them to leave. Not until he had threatened to call the police was his command obeyed.

There are twenty-two men and women in the rebellious class. They claim that they had only followed college custom in making a demonstration on the first day that the seniors appeared in academic costume, and the fact that they had appeared in hideous costume of green and yellow cheesecloth at chapel exercises was not sufficient ground for President Perry's interference.

TELL ABOUT THE COTTON MARKET

Brokers and Lawyers Flock to Federal Building at New York.

New York, April 19.—Cotton brokers with their lawyers, bearing voluminous records and papers, flocked to the federal building today to attend the inquiry which the special federal grand jury is making into an alleged bull pool in cotton. Fourteen men were subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, among them some of the largest operators in the cotton market in New York.

The witnesses appeared one by one before the grand jury.

The judge will probably occupy all of the day in examination of the witnesses and the investigation may be continued tomorrow.

STRIKE RIOTS ARE FEARED

Conditions at Pressed Steel Car Plant May Call for Constabulary.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 19.—Street car traffic in Stowe township is practically abandoned, crowds of foreigners are parading the streets, squads of police are patrolling the strike district and the Pressed Steel Car company plant in Schoenville is operating with about 800 men, the result of a strike inaugurated there yesterday by 1,000 foreigners employed in the erecting department. Today 4,500 men are idle. The strikers are gaining recruits each hour.

Early today American workmen on their way to the car company plant were stopped and in some instances were kept from their accustomed occupations by force. A few fought their way through the crowds of strikers surrounding the car plant stockades, and gained the protection of the guards inside the gates.

May Call Constabulary.

Every car entering McKee's Rocks is being stopped by strikers and ordered to end its run at O'Donovan's bridge and turn back to the city.

A call for state constabulary may be made before the day is over on account of the general disorder and the incipient rioting.

According to the timekeeper the plant is operating with 800 men.

The strikers have called a union mass meeting to be addressed this afternoon by leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World.

TEN KILLED IN CANADIAN WRECK

Trestle Collapses While Work Train Is Crossing It at La Tuque.

Quebec, April 19.—Further details of yesterday's disaster on the line of the trans-continental north of La Tuque received today show that ten men were killed and twenty-three injured, six fatally. The disaster was not caused by the landslide, as at first reported, but by the collapse of a ninety-foot wooden trestle at Lake MacDonald near Kakoucache, over which a train with a large construction gang was passing. The lake at this point is twenty feet deep. Most of those who lost their lives were pinned beneath the wreckage and drowned. Eight bodies have been recovered.

WOMEN PETITION CONGRESS.

Suffragists Make Formidable Advance on Capitol.

Washington, April 19.—The army of suffragists marched upon Capitol hill yesterday afternoon and presented the monster national petition of half a million signatures, praying for votes for women, to congress. The petitioners rode in flag-bedecked automobiles —a long string of them that reached almost from the hotel where the convention had been in session, down broad Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol. There was no especial demonstration from the procession itself. The long line moved along in a dignified way, and when the leaders got to the capitol they took the monster petition in with them.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by John Zuponcic and Francis Zuponcic, his wife, mortgagors, to Joe Putzel, mortgagee, bearing date July 1st, 1909, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 17th day of August, 1909, in Book 262 of Mortgages, on page 352.

Said default consists in the nonpayment of $322.00 and interest at 6 per cent per annum upon that certain note for $500.00, dated July 1st, 1909, which became due, according to its terms, on or before December 30th, 1909, with interest at 6 per cent per annum, which is one of the notes secured by said mortgage, and no part of which has ever been paid except the sum of $178.00.

Said mortgage was assigned by said Joe Putzel under date of October 2nd, 1909, to Sattler Liquor Company, a Minnesota corporation, by written assignment recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County on October 13th, 1909, in Book 188 of Mortgages, on page 269. Said mortgage was thereafter assigned, under date of October 18th, 1909, by said Sattler Liquor Company to Joseph Francel, who is now the owner thereof, by written assignment recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on October 20th, 1909, in Book 132 of Mortgages, on page 497.

By reason of such default, and pursuant to the terms of said mortgage, said Joseph Francel hereby elects to declare, and does declare, all sums secured by said mortgage to be due and payable. By reason of such default and election, the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has ever been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage.

The property described in said mortgage and thereby mortgaged is Lot one (1) in Block five (5) of the First Division of Aurora, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, together with the two-story frame building thereon, excepting all mineral reservations as previously reserved by the Longyear Mesaba Land & Iron Company, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of said Register of Deeds.

There is claimed to be due, and is due, upon said mortgage at the date hereof the sum of $2,345.46.

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises above described, which sale will be made at public auction to the highest bidder for cash by the Sheriff of St. Louis County, Minnesota, at the Front Door of the Sheriff's Office in the County Court House at Duluth, Minn., upon Monday, the 16th day of May, 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage and $75.00 attorneys' fees, as limited by statute, instead of $150.00, as provided by said mortgage, together with the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

TREND WAS DOWNWARD

Wheat Declines Steadily After the Opening in Duluth Pit.

Flax Was Quiet, May Option Showing Fractional Gain.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 19.—May wheat lost ⅜c and July wheat declined ½c from yesterday's close, here today. The market opened firm, advanced fractionally and then declined steadily. There was a slight upturn at the close. May opened at $1.07⅜ bid, sold ⅛c higher, declined to $1.07¼, advanced to $1.07⅝, slumped to $1.06⅞, sold up to $1.07⅛, down to $1.06½, gained ⅛c and at the close was $1.06⅝ bid. July opened at $1.08½ asked, sold at $1.08½, $1.08⅜, $1.08¼, $1.08¼, $1.08½, $1.07⅞, $1.08⅛, $1.07¼-⅜ and $1.07½, closing $1.07⅜ asked. September was 99c bid.

Flax was moderately traded in. The action of the market was not significant. May opened at $2.36, gained 2c and declined to $2.36¾, sold at $2.37 and closed $2.36¾ bid. July was $2.34 bid and sold ¾c higher and then at $2.34¾, $2.33 and closed with bids at $2.33. September was offered at $1.82, sold at $1.81, $1.84½, $1.82, $1.82½ and closed with sales at that price. The October option sold at $1.75 and then at $1.74, the closing price.

Trading in coarse grades was moderate. Oats closed lower in sympathy with wheat. The best buyers are shorts. The country is not selling oats freely. The consumptive demand is improving. Prospects for the new crop are first class. Supplies in the country are liberal and are a bearish factor. Oats closed ½c off. Rye and barley were unchanged. Durum closed ⅝c off. Cash was on a parity with May.

The opening was firm on higher cables from Liverpool and lack of selling pressure. Cables were mixed, however, most of the foreign markets closing lower. Liquidation in the near option caused the market to decline. Later in the day there were more liberal offerings in the deferred months. The tendency, however, is to support the distant months which are far above an export basis.

The market was somewhat erratic on the decline but the swells were brief as on each bulge offerings were liberal and were apparently more than sufficient to meet the demand. The bulls tried to make capital out of rumored dust storms in two Kansas counties. The sun was visible at Omaha and a report promptly came forward that vegetation looked dry and withered despite the recent precipitation. The bears paid no attention to the reports. The professional element was bearishly inclined although some shorts thought the market was oversold and they were disposed to cover.

Cash prices continue to slide. The lack of shipping demand has wiped out premiums. The demand is dead and flour dealers have large stocks on hand. Farmers who held their stocks expecting higher prices are disappointed and are finding little inquiry for their wheat at reducing values. Jobbers and dealers in flour loaded up early in the season and placed large orders ahead to guard a possible shortage. Many early buyers are now reselling at values lower than current quotations. Flour is being sold in the East at 50 and 75 cents under the cost of production. Consumption, however, is going on steadily and millers believe that with proper curtailment of production the market will soon right itself. The milling trade generally is well supplied with wheat. The situation is exactly the opposite of that which prevailed at this time last year.

The crop situation is more encouraging. Rains have fallen copiously in the winter wheat belt. Although some folks predict a dry year yet the trade is not disposed to look with favor on anything that has the ear-marks of bullishness. A report from Huron, S. D., today said that freezing weather and snow has prevailed in the Jim river valley for three days and that some injury to wheat will result. This report came from a Minneapolis house which has been bullish on wheat and it did not receive much credence. While the next government report may show an improvement in the condition of the growing plant in the Southwest there is still time for something to happen to favor the bulls but the bears think that with the approach to maturity the plant is becoming stronger and the chances are against any situation which will change the present complexion of the market.

Duluth is getting flour from the Twin Cities for lake shipment but it is not likely that stores here will be decreased until May 1 when the reduction in rates recently ordered by the interstate commerce commission becomes effective.

A feature of the market is the comparative support given to the distant months coupled with liquidation in the near option. There has been little rallying power from levels which are lower than in several months and the foreign situation is not one to give comfort to the bulls. Stocks are normal and weekly shipments are above requirements. The foreigner is indifferent to wheat from this side although he is showing some concern over the comparative strength displayed by the deferred months. World's stocks are large and offerings from the leading wheat producing countries are liberal. Whether this country can digest its own wheat without the help of the foreigner will soon become apparent. The bears do not think that prices can be maintained with this country on a strictly home consumption basis.

Duluth did a fairly good business today in durums and Manitobas for export to the United Kingdom and the continent.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—Wheat at the opening was under pressure of heavy offerings occasioned by severe break in Buenos Ayres futures and the weakness in Winnipeg and prices declined ¼d@⅜d with the exception of the distant month which was unchanged. The European visible showed an increase of 1,298,000 bu against a decrease last year of 3,500,000 bu and the European crop outlook as a whole is highly favorable. There was further general liquidation of May during the early dealings. During the morning the market developed a strong undertone as offerings became light and early sellers turned buyers and values advanced sharply gaining ⅝@⅞d with the principal support in the distant months. It is feared that the market has become oversold. Manitoba offerings became scarce and held higher and foreign markets are all firm with holders firm. Some anxiety is felt regarding the American disposition to support new crop months. At midday the undertone was strong with values ⅜@⅞d higher than yesterday. The corn market at the opening was quiet and unchanged. Later there was a decline of ⅜d on the cheaper La Plata offerings and a poor spot demand.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Early Trading in Wheat Is at Sharp Advance.

Chicago, April 19.—Early trading in the wheat pit was at a sharp advance, running from ⅝c for the distant options to 1¾c for the May delivery. The buying was headed by influential local concerns, and until the first rush was over, offerings were scanty. Many of the traders were inclined to believe that the recent rains in the Southwest have not improved the growing fields and fear a reduced crop. Much May grain changed hands at from $1.07¾@1.08, the top being $1.08¼. July sold between $1.01¼@1.01⅜ and $1.01⅞@1.02. September traveled between $99½@99⅝c and $1.00⅛.

The market steadied in the first hour near to the top.

Opening figures for July were ⅜@⅝c up at $1.01¾@1.01½, while September opened ¼@⅝c up at 99⅝@$1.00.

Later in the session offerings increased, and large lines of September wheat were unloaded, weakening the market. The other futures declined in sympathy. September went down from $1.00⅛ to 98¾c, and July sagged to $1.00⅝, while May lost nearly all its early gain. The close was weak and near the bottom, with July ¾c off at $1.00⅝, and September ½@⅝c down at 98¾@98⅝c.

Corn prices at the outset were slightly lower, but under the influence of the firmness in wheat gained strength, advancing about ⅜c in the first hour. Pit traders took the buying side and commission houses supplied their wants. May moved from 56⅝@57¼c and rested with the other futures on the higher levels. Opening figures for the May delivery were a shade higher to ⅛c lower at 57¼ to 57@57⅛.

The market weakened with wheat, and May declined to 56⅝c. The close was weak all around, with May ¼@⅜c off at 56⅞c.

Trade in the oats pit was not large and prices were steady at the start, keeping within narrow limits in the first hour. May sold between 41¾@41⅞c and 42¼c. Opening figures for May were unchanged to ⅛c higher, at 42¼@42⅛c.

Buying by packers in the provisions pit caused a rush of shorts to cover and prices advanced from 5c to 35c at the outset, pork leading in the upturn. Despite a decline in live hogs prices, provisions continued to advance in the first hour and offerings were light. Opening figures for the May prducts were: Pork, 35c up, at $21; lard, 5c to 20c up, at $11.90@12.05, and ribs, 5c higher, at $11.92½.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Is Easier and Sells Down After Higher Opening.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 19.—Wheat was easier today, and May sold down to $1.05⅝@1.05¾, to 1¼@1⅜c below the high point. Strength in foreign markets made the opening ⅝c higher than yesterday. Continued favorable domestic and foreign crop reports and an increase of 1,251,000 bu in the world's visible supply caused the late decline. Local elevator stocks of wheat increased 30,000 bu for three days. The market was nervous, and trading of small volume. Minneapolis today received 63 cars of wheat, as compared with 114 cars a year ago; Duluth 85 cars, against 35, and Winnipeg 232, against 139. May opened $1.06⅞; high, $1.06⅞@1.07; low $1.05⅝@1.05¾; closed, $1.05⅝@1.05¾.

July opened $1.08; high, 1.08; low, $1.06½; closed, $1.06⅝. September opened 99⅝c; high, 99¾c; low, $9 and closed, 98¾c.

Cash wheat was in good demand today. Offerings were unusually light and premiums were slightly firmer. No. 1 northern sold for 1@2¾c above the May option and No. 2 northern for ¾c above to 1c under. New York, April 19.—Cotton opened barely steady at a decline of 4@9 points under a renewal of scattering old crop liquidation attributed to the threat of government interference in the bull campaign. WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

Prices Decline Whenever the Supporting Orders Are Withdrawn.

Rally Near Close Not Held and Final Figures Irregular.

New York, April 19.—Orders for execution in the stock market at the opening today were insignificant in amount and resulted in a sluggish downward tendency of prices. There were a few exceptions, especially among the stocks of the New York public utilities. Great Northern Ore Certificates declined 1.

Supporting orders were distributed in the metal stocks, resulting in rallies from the low level of a point in United States Steel, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting. Railroads, as a rule, showed independent strength, a rise of a point in Union Pacific having a good effect on the standard stocks. Northwestern, American Car, American Steel Foundries, and Anaconda gained 1, Delaware & Hudson 1⅜ and Kanawha & Michigan certificates 2½.

The arrest of the decline in stocks was effected by supporting orders. The buying demand decreased to nominal proportions when its purpose was achieved. Prices sagged back before noon. The unseasonable weather in the West was a depressing influence. St. Paul rose 1 and United States Steel preferred declined 1. Kanawha and Michigan certificates gained 5½. Bonds were heavy.

The market closed irregular. The rally carried Reading, Amalgamated Copper and American Smelting a point over last night, and Interborough-Metropolitan preferred 1¼. The demand died down again and prices yielded. Westinghouse Electric lost 1⅝.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

MARTIN ROSENDAHL & COMPANY, Inc.
COPPER STOCK BROKERS.
404 West First Street, Commercial Building.

APRIL 19, 1910.

Copper stocks are strong and active and trading on the exchange is getting heavier every day. We are in the brokerage business to stay and can execute your orders as well as any one in the city. We have a direct entrance into the exchange and we believe our location is one of the best in the city. Your orders can be executed right on the floor and you can see the transaction. We have no favorites and we care not which stock you offer—it cuts no figure with us. We can always use Butte & Superior, Butte-Alex Scott, Ballaklava, or St. Mary stock, for we have a big market on these issues. We believe in Ballaklava, for it is now a big shipping mine and will be a great money earner.

We believe in the Scotts, for they are the greatest bargains at these prices of any stocks in this country. Shaft on the Scott claim is down almost 1,500 feet and when we open up the 1,600-foot level then the merger should be only too glad to take the two properties in at $40 a share. No stock on the board has such great possibilities as this one, for if they do not take the Scott we still have one of the richest mines in Butte and big dividends will come back to shareholders. Our Little Annie claim should easily be worth $1,000,000 or more and then think of the Scott claim with its wonderful showing and with a shaft 1,500 feet deep, only 100,000 shares issued in this company. The small capitalization means more to shareholders than many understand. Show me a mine that can compare with this as a purchase if you can. You can't find one in this country.

ANOTHER DEMOCRAT SENT TO WASHINGTON ON TARIFF PLATFORM

Havens Wins Over Aldridge in Rock-Ribbed Republican District.

Will Complete Term of the Late J. B. Perkins of New York.

Supporters Talk of Him for Governorship---Comment at the Capital.

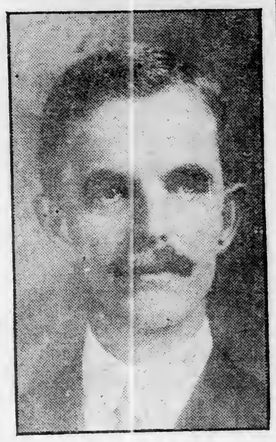
Rochester, N. Y., April 20.—Between six and eight thousand voters of Monroe county changed from the Republican to the Democratic column yesterday and elected the first Democratic congressman that has represented the Thirty-second district in twenty years. James S. Havens, a Democrat, running on a tariff reform platform, defeated George W. Aldridge, for a score of years the ruler of the county Republican organization, by 5,440 votes.

Seventeen Day Campaign.

Havens had arrayed against him one of the strongest political organizations in the state. Yet, in a campaign lasting but seventeen days and with a hastily constructed machine, he accomplished one of the most remarkable overturns in political history. The result of the election takes its place beside the Democratic victory in the Fourteenth Massachusetts district, where Eugene N. Foss was sent to congress from a district supposed to be as rock-ribbed Republican as this one.

Rochester is a city of both homes and factories. Monroe county is one of the state's garden spots, crowded with productive farms. Rochester has a reputation as a manufacturer of supplies, buttons and various small wares that require labor.

Mr. Havens rode to victory on a platform advocating tariff reform in the interests of the consumer, a revision of the duties on wool and woolen goods; a removal of the tax on hides and lumber, a removal of the tariff on iron ore, and an income tax; and, finally, advocating independence of all political bosses of any party.



Mr. Aldridge, his opponent, contented himself with general proclamations of the policies of the administration. On the tariff he was regarded as a "standpatter."

Favored Postal Bank.

Both candidates declared for reciprocity with Canada, an employees' compen-

DEMOCRAT IS ELECTED TO SUCCEED PERKINS

JAMES S. HAVENS,
Representative From Thirty-second District of New York.

Mr. Havens is a lawyer and a former partner of the late Congressman James Breck Perkins, whom he succeeds. He was born in Weed-sport, Cayuga county, in 1850. He was graduated from Yale in 1884. He went to Rochester immediately, was admitted to the bar in 1886, and has practiced law ever since. He never before held public office. He is regarded as a Democrat of the old school.

HYDE LOSES ONE POINT

State Can Supply Evidence Not Bearing Directly on Swope's Death.

Nurse Pearl Kellar Is Witness in Missouri Murder Trial.

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—Following the overruling this morning of the defense's objection to testimony not touching directly upon the death of Co. Thomas H. Swope being introduced into the Hyde murder trial, Miss Pearl Kellar, a nurse, resumed the witness stand at 10:55 o'clock this morning.

The trial was brought to an abrupt end yesterday afternoon in the midst of the testimony of Miss Pearl Kellar, a nurse, in order that the defense might argue the point.

"Col. Swope will never return to Kansas City."

This prophecy, testified Miss Kellar, in the session yesterday, was made to her by Dr. B. C. Hyde in Independence, a few days before Col. Swope died. She was Col. Swope's nurse.

Tells of Swope's Condition.

Dr. Hyde's remark, she said, followed her informing the physician that Col. Swope planned to come here to his office in a few days. Her patient at that time, testified the nurse, was in better physical condition than he had been for weeks. He was able to take daily drives, and seemed in good spirits, she said.

Between the time Dr. Hyde is alleged to have made the remark and Col. Swope's death, James Moss Hunton, a cousin of Swope, succumbed. Miss Kellar had begun to tell of the illness of Hunton when the defense objected.

It was only when asked three times by Dr. G. T. Twyman and once by Mrs. Hyde to stop the flow of blood from James Moss Hunton that Dr. Hyde closed the wound in the patient's arm, testified Miss Kellar today.

A few minutes after Hunton's death, she further said, Dr. Hyde importuned her to use her influence in having him made an administrator of Col. Swope's estate to succeed Hunton. She refused.

Prof. Whitney, who also analyzed the liquor from which Sullivan drank a few hours before his death, reported that it was composed largely of wood alcohol.

COMMERCE DEMANDS WRECKING OF BOYS' WIRELESS STATION

Inexpensive Outfits of Amateurs Interfere With Messages From Lake.

Wireless Club at Boys' Department Disbanded and Station Discontinued.

Will the boys of Duluth with wireless telegraph outfits costing a few cents, be allowed to interfere with the operation of the wireless system on the Great Lakes, established at great expense for the convenience and safety of lake shippers?

To such an extent did the boy's department Y. M. C. A. wireless outfit interfere with the messages sent between the boats and the Duluth station of the United Wireless company that the club has been disorganized, and the station at the boy's department building discontinued.

Yesterday the news was given the boys and they gave up their pastime. Many of them think that they have as much right to use the air for pleasure as the United company has for commercial reasons, but the Y. M. C. A. directors saw the force of the company's arguments.

Phil Beels, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in explaining the matter said: "Last fall a number of the boys became interested in wireless telegraphy and wished to form a club so that it might be studied. The club was formed and the boys had an instrument set

He is studying as hard as the hardest working "grind" in the university. Mr. Field is an employer of labor on a large scale. He is a shoe manufacturer and employs about 5,000 hands. Besides that he is married.

ANTI-TAWNEY GERMS BUSY

First District Insurgents Hold Meeting at Dodge Center.

Leave Candidate Unnamed, But Price of Owatonna Is Talked About.

Dodge Center, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—No opponent to James A. Tawney, representative from the First Minnesota district, was put in the field yesterday by the progressive Republicans who met here for the avowed purpose of naming a man to scalp him.

However, the selection is merely delayed. A committee of ten—one from each county in the district—will have charge of the anti-Tawney campaign from now on, and in due time will name a man to go against the congressman. It is said that Milo Price of Owatonna is the man most desired by the progressives.

There were seventen delegates present, representing seven counties—Wasecа, Wabasha and Houston counties were not in the fold, but it was said assurance had been received from Houston that many men there were anxious to assist in compassing the defeat of Tawney, but who were kept away from the meeting by business. Waseca absolutely refuses to play with the antis.

The spirit of the meeting was one in which a good Tawney man would have frozen to death in fifteen minutes. Thomas Frazer was made chairman and Edgar Stiver of Dodge Center secretary. Mr. Frazer said the purpose of

CABRERA AGAIN MADE PRESIDENT

"Overwhelming Majority" is Reported From Election in Guatemala.

New York, April 20.—Manual Estrada Cabrera was re-elected president of Guatemala in the elections ended yesterday according to a government cable message received today at the Guatemala consulate in this city. The election was tranquil and Senor Cabrera was in this city. The election was tranquil and Senor Cabrera was chosen by "an overwhelming majority," the dispatch states.

New Man at Washington.

Washington, April 20.—Francisco Sanches Lao Tour, national treasurer of Guatemala, has been appointed charge d'affaires of that republic's legation in Washington.

Senor Sanchez succeeds Minister Herrarto, who has been commissioned by his government to represent Guatemala at the Pan-American conference in Buenos Ayres. Sanchez does not relinguish his office as national treasurer.

In diplomatic circles he is regarded as the righthand man of President Cabrera, who yesterday was re-elected chief executive of Guatemala.

PRICES OF ALL FOOD PRODUCTS SEEM TO BE DUE FOR DECLINE

All Grains Are Lower Than at This Time Last Year.

This Should Result in a Reduction in Meat Prices.

Cotton Defies Bull Campaign ---Potatoes at Low Water Mark.

Cheaper prices for food products seem in prospect in Duluth. Practically all staples have declined within the last few weeks and the outlook is for further reductions.

Compared to wheat prices last year prevailing quotations show a decline of about 20 cents. Corn is about 19 cents lower than last year's high prices and oats about 20 cents lower. The present wholesale price of oats is about 33 per cent below the highest prices of last year; corn is off about 25 per cent; and wheat about 15 per cent.

These declines in grain are reflected in the prices of millfeeds. In the West, wheat bran is selling at from $5 to $6 a ton less than previous high quotations, a decline of about 21 per cent, while middlings have declined in New York about $3 a ton, or 12 per cent. Even cottonseed oil is off $3 to $4, or from 8 to 10 per cent. Cotton is cheaper than in January, despite the bull campaign of James A. Patten and associates, showing a decline of about 5 per cent. As the government has commenced an inquiry into the cotton manipulation it is expected that the investigation will operate as a bear factor and that higher prices will not prevail, for the immediate future at least.

CONNECT WOLTER WITH GIRL'S FATE

Defense May Drop Its Theory of "Other Man" as Murderer.

New York, April 20.—With the resumption today of the trial of Albert Wolter for the murder of Ruth Wheeler, the case entered upon a most important stage, from the viewpoint of the prosecution. Yesterday, after the jury had been completed, Assistant District Attorney Moss devoted himself for the most part to an effort to establish the fact that it was in reality the body of the 15-year-old stenographer that was found in a gunnysack on Wolter's fire escape. To this end, Ruth Wheeler's mother underwent the ordeal of identifying some of the exhibits in the case.

Today it was expected the evidence of identification would be concluded by the testimony of Adelaide Wheeler, sister of the dead girl, who alone of the family was able to nerve herself to view the dismembered and charred body. Pearl Wheeler was expected to tell the jury of her hunt for her young sister and of what befell her in Wolter's flat, thus bringing the testimony to a point where Wolter's direct connection with the crime is sought to be established.

It is said that Wolter's counsel may abandon the "other man" theory of the defense.

MISSIONARY IS SAVED BY CUPID

Marries and Leaves Changsha Just Before Rioting Breaks Out.

Johnstown, Pa., April 20.—While friends and relatives here were fearing Miss Arene Poling, a missionary in the Changsha district of Hunan province, China, had met death or worse in the rioting of natives there, news came that Cupid had taken her from the scene of disorder in time to avoid danger.

A letter just received by a sister, Mrs. Harry Dunmire of South Fork, announces that Miss Poling was to be married March 12 to Rev. Beck, a Reformed church missionary stationed at Shen Chow Fu. The young woman said in her letter that following the wedding she and her husband would go to Shen Chow Fu to live and it is supposed they have been at that place during the rioting and bloodshed at Changsha.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Information comes from St. Paul that A. D. Brown, chairman of the Republican state central committee, who is desirous of succeeding himself in that capacity, will not have the opportunity. It seems that the Republican slate makers have finished their work and so greatly admire their own handicraft that they are fatuously confident there can be no obstacle to the success of the ticket that comes from their hands. Therefore they desire to have as chairman one of themselves, so that, in the event that they win in the campaign, there will be none but themselves to butt in on the division of the spoils.

Which all sounds very good to them. However, Brown believes he has done work that entitles him to distinguished consideration and he will in all probability require of the bunch that is "the powers that be" a gilt edge pledge of "something just as good." There will be no great eagerness on the part of the G. O. P. combine to accede to this demand. In fact, there is a strong probability that Brown will, in effect, be turned down. In that case, there is likely to be trouble, especially in the Seventh congressional district, where the friends of the retiring Republican chairman are numerous.

It would not be surprising if the disappointment of Brown should result disastrously to the Republican state ticket this fall in more than one section of the state.

The present register of deeds of St. Louis county, Milford C. Palmer, will be a candidate for renomination and re-election. Formal announcement of this intention was made yesterday, and it is probable that Mr. Palmer will have no opposition. Monroe county, in New York state, has elected a Democrat to congress by a majority of 5,900. It is pleasant to note that the county Republican boss, who was the candidate against James S. Governor Eberhart and State Senator Cashman are having a lively set-to in the public prints. In a speech at Albert Lea, the senator said that as lieutenant governor Eberhart distinctly favored the railroad interests in the appointment of committees. The governor's retort that Cashman did not know what he was talking about evidently got under that gentleman's skin and he has given out a long statement, in part as follows:

"There is nothing in the remarks made by me at Albert Lea to which the governor or any person who is at all familiar with the proceedings of the Minnesota legislature of 1907-09 can rightfully take exception to. In discussing the difficulties encountered by the members of the Minnesota legislature who are making an effort to enact legislation tending to regulate public service corporations and other large interests of the state, I stated that it was almost impossible to enact any legislation except where the popular demand was so great that the members dare not say nay, owing to the fact that the corporations were in control and also owing to the fact that such committees as railroad tax and temperance were made up largely of corporation men.

"I called attention to the fact that the different committees were appointed by the lieutenant governor and that Governor Eberhart, then lieutenant governor, appointed the different committees. No one at all familiar with the history of the proceedings of the tax, railroad or temperance committees appointed by the governor will question the correctness of my remarks. In your issue the governor was reported to have denied statements made by me. Will the governor deny that the 2-cent rate bill was reported to the senate by his railroad committee under pressure of resolutions, which resolutions were introduced because of the dilatory action on the railroad committee and inspired by the demand of all the people in the state? Corporations cannot control where all the people demand that a certain bill be passed as was the case of the 2-cent rate bill. Will the governor deny that this anti-pass bill, while a meritorious measure, is not as much or more in the interests of the railroad companies as of the general public?

"Will the governor deny that the distance tariff bill was only gotten out of the committee by reason of a short committee? That is to say, a meeting with just a quorum, with the friends of the bill present and a majority of the opponents absent, and that the chairman of the committee, Senator Hall, tried to have it recommitted, and the reporting of the bill was only accomplished after three months of persistent effort to get it out of the committee on the part of the friends of the bill, who numbered six out of seventeen—three Republicans and three Democrats. Will the governor tell us why the bill introduced by Senator Canfield, known as the Canfield Lake bill; which tended to classify freight and eliminate discriminations, lumbered in the hands of his railroad committee without their even making a report on it? After the senate had expended in the neighborhood of $1,700 in having the bill printed, will the governor tell us why his railroad committee did not make a report on senate file 276 of the 1907 session? The bill for an act to regulate railroads and to classify property transported as freight? Will the governor deny that the tonnage tax bill was not forced out of the tax committee by resolutions and then reported adversely by the tax committee? Will the governor point out a single reform bill reported by the tax, railroad or temperance committees that was not forced out under pressure. He cannot claim a commodity rate bill as any evidence of good faith from the part of his railroad committee, because it was forced as a compromise measure to raise rates higher than ordered by the board of railroad and warehouse commissioners, and because it was claimed that the railroads would accept it as a compromise. And again, this bill was passed in the hope that it would satisfy the demands of the people who were insisting on the enactment of the distance tariff law."

J. A. Hendricks has come out as a candidate for representative from Polk county. His bid for the Republican nomination complicates an already bothersome situation for the Polk county Republicans for John Holton, the present representative, wants to return to the house, and Col. Stadsvold of Fosston is being boomed for the place, while western Polk county also threatens to get into the game with a dark horse. Mr. Holton can easily be spared from the house, so far as that feature of the situation is concerned, but viewing it from the Polk county standpoint there is trouble in the air and a lively fight is on the runway. Senator Stephens will be up for re-election, of course, and he will have as his opponents, Representative John Saugstad of Climax and Gunder Krostue of Fisher, with several additional aspirants edging on to the field.

Charles H. Braden, formerly pastor of the Grace Baptist church of Spokane, is a pioneer in a new kind of political enterprise. He wants people to pay him to hear him ask them to give him their votes to the end that their votes may give him a seat in congress.

He is running for representative in the Third Washington district and styles himself a Progressive Republican. At a recent meeting in the Spokane Chamber of Commerce he declared that under the primary law the making of a political campaign is a rich man's game. Therefore, he said, he would give his reasons for adopting this new and unusual course, which he admits will be an experiment. Mr. Braden was pastor of the Grace Baptist church of Spokane until about five years ago, when he retired from the ministry. Since leaving the ministry he has been in the real estate business in Spokane.

Giving the reasons for his decision to quit the ministry to enter the political arena, Mr. Braden at one of his meetings read the following letter:

"I have come to feel that I, as a preacher, was living in and advocating a world of ideals; that politics, which, after all, to a great extent, expresses life as actually lived, is in a world separate and apart from the world of ideals preached by the ministry; and that, while the ministry continues to preach and idealize, politics continues to live and do; that the gap between them continues to widen; and that the preacher's world of ideals is coming to be regarded by the practical world as an embodiment of fanciful theories, excellent to be written about, sung about, theorized about, and, to some extent, cried about, but not to be carried into politics and government and made universally operative.

"Since politics and government should constitute the composite expression of all that is best in our national life, it seems to me to offer the broadest field for the work toward which my purpose calls."

FLICKERTAIL POLITICS

One of the most interesting personalities in North Dakota politics today is Usher L. Burdick, speaker of the house in the last legislature, who has declared that he will not be a candidate for any office, after having formally announced that he desired the Republican nomination for congress. Burdick has been classed with the insurgents. It cannot be said that he has been at any time allied with the stalwarts, so far as any one can know, he stands just where he stood before—an advocate of progressive Republican policies. But he's out of the game, apparently. The so-called "elimination committee" persuaded him to withdraw as a candidate for congress, and then the call came to him from many sides to come out as a candidate for lieutenant governor. This he has declined to do, but the progressive element is reluctant to take no for an answer.

One of the things that makes Burdick the interesting man that he is consists of the statement he made to the voters of the state. It follows:

"I am not a candidate for congressman or for any other office. Since making my announcement for congress, I find that there is no particular demand from any quarter that I make the race, but I have discovered that the money needed to make the race will be very much more than I ever thought would be required, and very much more than I can afford to spend at this time. Politics is not a poor man's game, and those without money had better keep out of it. It would be necessary for me to mortgage my land to raise money to cover the expense of a campaign, and I am sure every one of good judgment would agree with me that such a course would be unwise.

"Even if I were elected, I should still be out of joint with the plans of living at Washington—I wouldn't have the money. Besides this, when there are so many aspirants for congress who are willing to stand the expense, there is no need of my making any sacrifice. If the state is ever divided into congressional districts, the expense of a campaign will be greatly reduced, and I shall probably ask the pepole of my district to take a chance on me at Washington.

"For the same reason I shall not be a candidate for lieutenant governor. It would be necessary for me to spend more than the entire income of this office in one campaign. If I could afford it, I should be only too glad to offer my services to the state, but I can do my part for the best interests of the state without running for office. Some people seem to lose their enthusiasm unless they are in quest of some office. It would be a most fortunate thing for 'good government' in this state if there were more advocates for it because of 'principle' and fewer advocates because of 'office.'"

They had a municipal election in Grafton recently, and the campaign was no campaign at all, for there was only one ticket in the field. J. E. Grey, who was nominated for mayor, received every vote cast, which indicates that he hadn't an enemy in the town bitter enough to write in some one else's name. If that isn't sweetly non-partisan peace, there never was any. Perhaps this self-same peacefulness was responsible for the desire of the editor of the Grafton Republican to seek some excitement in the state at large by penning an editorial in which he said:

"In truth and in fact there is as little difference between these office-seekers who call themselves stalwarts, insurgents or simply Republicans as there is between two-did-dle-dee, and twe-did-dle-dum. The insurgent would be a stalwart if he could, the Republican would be either or both if he could. The great, grand patriotic noble principle which actuates these three brands of politicians, which is their "pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night," is the getting in and staying in office to keep the government from going to the demnition bow-wows. Theirs is a laudable ambition. They see our poor unfortunate state fast drifting on to the shoals of ruin and into the quicksands of destruction and they seize the tiller of our noble ship of state to preserve it, and incidentally get pay for acting as pilot. If the stalwart was out of office he would be an insurgent and if the insurgent was in office he would be a stalwart. The insurgent is hungry, lean, and looks like seven years of famine. The stalwart is fat, sleek and glossy and looks like seven years of plenty. The insurgent sees everything through a smoked glass, the stalwart has a crystal sight piece. The insurgent is 'agin' the government. The stalwart is the government. The insurgent sees in every breeze a hurricane, in every cloud a cyclone, in every mole hill a mountain. The stalwart laughs at the hurricane and faces with a smile the terrible thunder bolts. The stalwart is an optimist. The insurgent is a pessimist. The insurgent has his nose to the ground. The stalwart with head erect faces the sun, and looks to a future of brightness and prosperity. The whole difference between stalwart and insurgent can be summed up in two words 'out!' and 'in!'"

MARINE NEWS

PROSPECTS FOR GOOD SEASON

Western Agent of Mutual Company Predicts Prosperous Year.

D. R. Peck, general western agent of the Mutual Transit company, is here today inspecting the Duluth office of the company, of which Mr. Fred W. Winship is the agent.

Mr. Peck stated that there are some very heavy consignments of package freight to come up the lakes at an early date. The indications for an unusually heavy westward movement are very good, according to Mr. Peck's statement.

"There is a congestion of flour in the East at the present time," stated Mr. Peck. "When this congestion is removed I am of the firm opinion that there will be a strong demand for flour cargoes from this port.

"The present season promises to be the banner one in navigation. There is every indication that there will be a tremendous amount of freight moved. There will be a heavy western movement in a short time, for there is a large amount of freight to be moved to the Head of the Lakes. The east bound movement also promises to be very heavy, once navigation gets under way."

DELAYS AT THE DRAWBRIDGE

Engineer Would Improve Conditions in the Local Harbor.

The following letter has been sent out by Col. Graham D. Fitch, to local marine men relative to the delays in the handling of the draw bridges:

"Complaints having been made of unnecessary delays to traffic over the railway and highway bridges which cross St. Louis Bay by the opening of the draws for vessels, I am desirous of remedying this condition if possible or of mitigating the annoyance as far as may be practicable to do so without undue hardship to the navigation interests.

"For the purpose of discussing this matter, and devising means for relief, you are requested to meet me at my office at the Canal park on Tuesday, April 26, at 10 a. m., at which time an informal public hearing will be held.

"Very respectfully,

"GRAHAM D. FITCH,

"Lieut.-Col., Corps of Engineers."

CUBAN NEGROES GET RESTLESS

Havana Sends Troops to the Eastern Provinces to Keep Order.

Havana, April 20. — During the night a special train carrying a battalion of infantry and a battery of machine guns under command of Gen. Rivas left Camp Colombia bound for Santa Clara.

There was a rumor current last night that an uprising had occurred in Santa Clara province. Secretary of the Interior Lopez Leiva positively denies the existence of the least disorder in Santa Clara or any other part of the island. He said there is said to be a condition of suppressed excitement among the negroes of Santa Clara and the Eastern provinces in consequence of the incendiary utterances of the negro agitator, Gen. Evaristo Estenoz. Because of these reports, the secretary said, the government had decided to send the troops.

HITCH IN CALLING OFF THE STRIKE

Philadelphia Transit Company and Men Disagree as to the Agreement.

Philadelphia, April 20.—After a conference which lasted practically all of last night, the executive committee of the street car men's local union went into session again today in an endeavor to clear away the misunderstanding of the terms of settlement which ended the car strike in this city. C. O. Pratt, national organizer of the car men's union, who conducted the strike, returned here today from Detroit and attended the meeting.

The Philadelphia Rapid Transit company claims that men who turned in their badges and collected back wages during the strike cannot be classed as strikers and therefore do not come within the settlement agreement for reinstatement. The strike leaders and the men generally take the opposite view.

SOCIALISTS IN FLORIDA

Many Taking Up Small Pieces of Land in Southern State.

Transportation Problems Retard the Colonization of Everglade State.

"Socialists are helping to colonize Florida," said A. T. Hepworth of Winnipeg, who is in Duluth on his way home after a trip through the Southern state. Mr. Hepworth formerly was connected with the Consolidated Elevator company here under the late M. J. Forbes. He is now a member of the Simpson-Hepworth Company, Ltd., grain commission merchants, of Winnipeg.

"The Socialists," said Mr. Hepworth, "are taking up small tracts of land in Florida believing that they can live well on small pieces of land and not under the domination of anybody. Socialist colonies are numerous.

"I was much impressed with the activity in clearing cut-over pine lands for agricultural purposes. With ten acres and sufficient capital for development, Florida people assert that a person can become independent. The chief difficulties will be found in the marketing of products and distribution through channels leading to outlets in the Northern states. The railroads will have to work hand in hand with grower and abandon the "all the traffic will bear" plan of making freight rates. Good roads will help to solve the distribution problem.

"It is true that there are some land schemes that are not meritorious, but there are others that are. Ordinarily good business sense should be used in selecting land.

"Jacksonville is making big strides and the movement to the land will be reflected in the development of the Southern city.

"Duluth impresses me more each year that I return, with its steady growth and improvement. Its era of what may be a remarkable expansion has barely commenced."

STOLE FLAT IRONS; GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

Jacob Jackson, arrested yesterday afternoon for stealing a box of flat irons from Northern Pacific Dock No. 6 pleaded guilty in police court this morning. He was fined $75 and costs or sixty days in the county jail. He was arrested last winter at Christmas time for stealing toys in several different department stores. He didn't have the money to pay his fine and was sent over the hill.

ROOT TALKS WITH TAFT.

Senator Expects to Sail for Europe on May 1.

Washington, April 20.—Senator Root spent nearly an hour with President Taft at the White House today. The senator expects to sail for Europe on May 1.

He would not say today whether he would have an opportunity to see Former President Roosevelt on the other side before the latter sailed for New York. It is generally believed, however, that Senator Root will see Col. Roosevelt and that the returning hunter expects an interview with the New York senator. Senator Root goes to The Hague as one of the American representatives in the Newfoundland fisheries.

NORTHROP IN DULUTH

President of Minnesota University to Attend Banquet of Duluth Alumni.

Public Reception Will Be Held for Distinguished Guest.

Duluth alumni of the University of Minnesota will be hosts at a banquet this evening in the rooms of the Duluth Commercial club, at which Dr. Cyrus Northrop, president of the university, will be the guest of honor.

Dr. Northrop arrived in the city this afternoon on the 2 o'clock Great Northern train from the Twin Cities. E. B. Johnson, secretary of the General Alumni association, accompanied the venerable educator, who is now in his seventy-fifth year, but remains hale and hearty and is one of the most distinguished educational executives in the country. Dr. Northrop has announced that he will retire at the end of the present college year if the regents will select a man to succeed him. The regents have been seeking industriously for many months to find a man qualified to fill the place that Dr. Northrop has made of such great importance to the state, but so far the search has been unavailing. Dr. Hill, president of the University of Missouri, was offered the presidency, but the authorities of that state exerted themselves to the utmost and made such attractive proposals to Dr. Hill that he was induced to give up the idea of coming to Minnesota.

At the banquet tonight, which will begin at 6:30 o'clock, Andrew Nelson will be toastmastert. In addition to former students at the university, there will be at the banquet tables a number of invited guests, personal friends of the famous guest of honor. They will be Bishop McGolrick, Judges Cant and Ensign, President Bohannon of the Normal school, Rev. Alexander Milne, Roger S. Munger and C. S. Mitchell.

Following the banquet, at about 9:30 o'clock, there will be a reception for President Northrop open to the public.

It is probable that if Dr. Northrop remains in the city until tomorrow he will be entertained at the Commercial club unless he prefers to go to the home of one of his Duluth friends.

SCHROEDER MILL STARTS.

Big Ashland Plant Has Begun Sawing for the Season.

Ashland, Wis., April 20.—The mill of the John Schroeder Lumber company has started running. The delay caused by putting in the new Corliss engine, prevented the mill from starting a couple of weeks or more ago, but even this is an early start.

The company expects to do a big business this summer, as not only will it saw Schroeder logs but also those of the Stearns Lumber company. The steamer Hilton has returned from Duluth in charge of Capt. Brower and M. Kilton will again be captain of the tug Ashland. Logs will be brought from the Minnesota and Michigan shores.

NORTH DAKOTA DEMOCRATS

Still Uncertain as to Their Congressional Candidates.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Democrats seem to be somewhat uncertain as to who their congressional candidates will be this year, but the probabilities are that they will be John Bruegger of Willliston and George Jones of Edgeley. Both men are very well known over the state. For United States senator, Senator Purcell is the only candidate announced up to the present time. J. L. Cashel of Grafton has been asked to make the run again this year, but declined to do so.

CHICAGO HAS LOOK AT HALLEY'S COMET.

Chicago, April 20.—Halley's comet was seen here today for the first time with the naked eye—by laymen as well as astronomers.

Prof. Fox of Northwestern university picked up the celestial tramp at 3:40 a. m. with a "finder." It was so plain through a telescope that the scientist took a look without artificial aid.

To the unaided vision the phenomena appeared like a dim star with hairy appendages such as would justify the word "comet," which means "hairy star."

Burglar of Sporting Proclivities.

St. Cloud, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Some time Sunday night a thief broke a window in the Schaefer book store on Sixth avenue south ad by sticking his arm through the broken pane, secured a dozen baseballs worth 25 cents each and two catching mitts. Although there is no clue to the identity of the thief it is thought that some small boy who has aspirations of becoming a shining light on the diamond, stocked himself up with a season's supply of balls.

Statue of Col. Vilas.

Madison, Wis., April 20.—Mrs. William Vilas, widow of the late Col. William F. Vilas, has decided to donate a standing statue of Col. Vilas to the Vicksburg national park commission. Col. Vilas took part in the memorable scene at Vicksburg.

Details regarding the statue are not yet announced.

Kenmare Will Get Plant.

Kenmare, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Kenmare is now definitely assured being made the home of an immense lignite coal briquetting plant, H. E. Soule of the National Briquetting company having announced that practically all of the preliminary arrangements are complete. The first machinery has already been completed and will soon be installed and the plant placed in operation.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

Association of Real Estate Exchange to Meet in Minnesota This Year.

About 500 Delegates Expected to Be in Duluth June 18.

At a special meeting of the Duluth Real Estate exchange, held at the Commercial club last night, plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges were discussed. The convention will be held in Minnesota this year, the time being divided between St. Paul, Minnapolis and Duluth.

The delegates to the convention will be in Duluth Saturday, June 18. There will be about 500 people in the party, and the entertainment to be provided by the real estate men of the city will require some time in arrangement, so the real estate men took it up last night. The executive committee of the local exchange will have charge of the matter. No definite plans were discussed last night, but the entertainment of the visitors will possibly take the form of a trip around the city, probably a visit to the range towns and a big banquet at the Commercial club in the evening.

The Minneapolis Real Estate board has raised $5,000 for the entertainment of the national association, and St. Paul real estate men have raised about $3,500. Not so much money as that will be required in Duluth, but a goodly sum will be necessary, and the executive committee of the exchange will take immediate steps to raise it.

The convention of real estate men will be an important one. The National Association of Real Estate exchanges includes in its membership the exchanges from all of the large cities. Delegates to the convention will be representatives of firms, many of which are national in their scope. Duluth will be shown to them under the most favorable circumstances, and the impression they will gain of the city will doubtless result in thousands of dollars being brought here for investment, as well as in the city being widely advertised in a manner most favorable.

The real estate papers are booming the convention, and working for a large attendance. Duluth figures prominently in all discussions of the coming meeting, and after the meeting the city will figure more prominently.

N. J. Upham is chairman of the state legislation committee of the national association.

The real estate men last night talked over the census, also, and offered their heartiest co-operation and support to the supervisor of the census and his corps of enumerators in the city.

Jamestown, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thefts of money and jewelry were made from the rooms of the girls employed in the Gladstone hotel in this city amounting to almost $200. No trace of the thief has been discovered, although the officials are at work on the case.

Bruce of the university law school will preside as toastmaster. About thirty-five Greek letter fraternity men reside here.

FOR FALLING HAIR

Inexpensive and Good Remedy That Nourishes Hair Roots.

The man or woman whose hair is becoming thin and "straggly" and falls out every time it is combed or brushed can make at home a hair tonic that will nourish and strengthen the dying follicles.

Just get from your druggist one ounce of beta canthol and one-half pint alcohol, take home and mix with one-half pint warm water. Some mix the ounce of beta Canthol with a pint of bay rum. Either recipe will prove beneficial to the hair, for it is the beta Canthol that puts the hair in healthy condition and keeps it so.

The care of the hair deserves as much attention as the care of the teeth. Beta Canthol prevents dandruff. Use this tonic every other day until the hair and scalp are in satisfactory condition, then twice a week, and your hair will remain long, abundant and glossy.

BROTHERS ARE STABBED

Two Men May Die as Result of Row at New Duluth.

Three Men, Believed to Have Been Assailants, Have Escaped.

Mike and Nick Stopheneo, brothers, were both probably fatally stabbed in a quarrel at the boarding house of Eli Flatzteach in New Duluth shortly before 7 o'clock last evening by three unknown Austrians for whom the police are searching. A dispute over a card game is supposed to have provoked the assault.

Mike was taken to St. Mary's hospital with cuts about the head and back, one of which penetrated the lung. Nick was hauled to St. Luke's, where he is much worse than his brother, with stabs in the abdomen and the side. The cause of the quarrel is unknown to the police. It is possible that Mike will recover unless complications arise, but there is little hope for Nick.

The Austrians who handled the knives are supposed to be laborers employed by the Steel corporation at the workings of the new plant. Their names are supposed to be Phillip Damiavee, Milan Rosalcoitch and Nichol Yanich. Chief Troyer, Capt. Fiskett and Detective Schulte left from headquarters in the big Franklin machine to investigate. They picked up Lieut. Wilcox and Patrolmen Hannot and Ek of the West Duluth force on the way out. When they reached the scene of the stabbing the Austrians had fled. The injured men were lying on the floor, where they had been made as comfortable as possible by the people in the boarding house. The ambulances had to travel a long distance to get them and they did not reach the hospitals to get medical attention until several hours after they had been slashed by the knives of the Austrians. They were attended by Dr. W. E. Judson and Dr. D. E. Seashore.

The police have good descriptions of the assailants. They have wired them to the towns on the range, the Twin Cities and the small cities in this vicinity, and it is believed that if they try to leave the city they will either be apprehended on the outskirts in one of the surrounding places which have officers on the lookout.

D. A. R. CLANS ARE READY FOR BATTLE

Keen Rivalry Shown in Preparation to Elect Vice Presidents.

Washington, April 20.—A spirited session of the nineteenth continental congress of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was ushered in early today with the nominations for election of ten vice presidents general of the society.

The rivalry was keen and adjournment was taken to give the delegates time to consider the list before voting. The election will be held this afternoon, the voting to begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Like Party Convention.

Delegates began arriving at Continental hall early, eager for the time to arrive when nominations for vice presidents general were to be called for. The assemblage presented the appearance of a lively national party convention with women, rather than men, as the principals in the scene, and when the nominating began the galleries and every available place in the hall were filled, there being in the audience many destinguished visitors, including diplomats and members of congress.

When Mrs. Matthew Scott, the president-general presented her report as chairman of the national board of management, the expected controversy came up. It was over the dismissal last February, by Mrs. Scott, of Miss Agnes Gerald, a copyist at headquarters here, that the delegates to the congress took up arms with and against the administration.

Mrs. Scott announced that she would not be a candidate for re-election because of the sacrifice involved in attending to the duties of the office of president general.

RUCKER TELLS HOUSE ABOUT IT

Reminds Members of the Election of Democrat From New York.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—With mock seriousness, Representative Rucker of Missouri, Democrat, arose to make parliamentary inquiry soon after the house convened today.

"Has the house yet heard that the Thirty-second district of New York had an election yesterday?" asked Mr. Rucker.

When the Democratic demonstration, precipitated by the suggestion that a Democrat had been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of a Republican member had ceased, Speaker Cannon, with equal gravity, replied.

"Answering the parliamentary inquiry, the chair observes that one side of the house and the gentleman from Missouri seem to be enthusiastic."

Then, raising his voice, the speaker added, prophetically:

"He laughs best who laughs last."

It was then the turn of the Republicans to laugh and applaud, and the Democrats good naturedly joined in the laughter.

GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE

From Oshkosh Man Taking Only Four Baths Per Year.

Oshkosh, Wis., April 20.—Not taking more than four baths a year is deemed sufficient grounds for a divorce by Judge Burnell, who granted a decree to Elizabeth B. Ogden, who charged her husband, William H. Ogden, with being "lazy, indolent, and good for nothing." He was also charged with a "refusal to keep clean, wearing the same underwear week in and week out, sleeping with his clothes on for periods of two months at a time so that there was an odor which made her and the children ill." On the witness stand Mrs. Ogden asserted that her husband bathed only four times a year, three times in summer and once in winter, and charged him with never changing his underclothes in winter. She said he would put clean clothes over the soiled underwear and by spring he had collected much clothing "and other things."

NOT IN POLITICS.

President Van Hise Talks to Students at Madison.

Madison, Wis., April 20.—President Van Hise addressed the students of the University of Wisconsin convocation Monday noon, this being the first time this year he has thus met the student body. His talk outlined in general the future of the state institution, giving a sketch of buildings it is proposed to build as the years go along.

He denied the charge made from time to time that the university was in politics or tried to dictate policies to any of the public schools, but said that its ambition was to serve the greatest possible number of people of the state.

To that end it was reaching out in every direction to get closer to the people to whom it held itself responsible.

FARMERS TO BRING SUITS

Actions for Damages to Be Started Against Several Lumber Companies.

Eastern Crookston County Men Claim Overflow From Dams Harmed Them.

Crookston, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Several farmers in Eastern Polk county have consolidated damage suits aggregating about $15,000, against two lumber companies, claiming damages for land overflowed as the result of dams which they allege the lumber companies have constructed to hold back the water until they need to flood the river when they wish to send their logs down in the spring and summer.

The supreme court recently upheld the verdict secured by H. A. Johnson in a similar case brought by Attorneys Loring and Rowe of this city and upon which basis suits aggregating about $10,000 will be settled and the new batch of suits has been started by Attorney J. A. Hendricks of Fosston, as a result of the order denying a new trial in the Johnson suit.

The Crookston Lumber company is defendant to the extent of $5,852 and the S. P. K. Cedar & Lumber company to the extent of $8,597.50, and the cases will come up for trial, consolidated, before Judge Watts at the June term of the district court in Crookston.

Flooded Farms Several Years.

It is claimed that the defendant companies have flooded the farms of the plaintiffs for several years by turning water loose, held back by the dams referred to, thus causing an unusual and unnatural flow of water to float their logs, resulting in the Clearwater river overflowing its banks and either ruining or seriously damaging the tributary crops.

It is understood that many other suits will be started in the near future against both the Great Northern railroad on similar claims and against the lumber companies as well, and that some long drawn out litigation will result. Many cases have been started of a like nature in the past but it has been very difficult to make them stick in the supreme court.

ROSEAU EXPECTS SOME BIG CROPS

Early Spring and Better Railroad Facilities Stimulating Farmers.

Roseau, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Seeding which was pretty well under way has been temporarily postponed in this locality on account of the slight frost and snowfall. Most of the wheat having been seeded the light snow fall is not regarded as detrimental. On the contrary, it is considered a good fertilizer for the soil, and as the weather has already tuned warmer it is expected that the seeding will be underway again by today.

Spring being somewhat earlier than usual a larger acreage will be broken and seeded than heretofore, as a great deal of new land will be broken and seeded into flax this season.

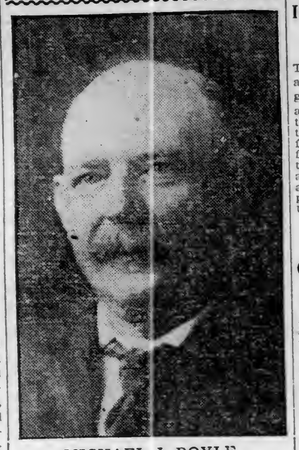
The extraordinary prices on all farm produce and the convenience of railroad facilities in this section have stimulated the ambition of the farmers. For nearly a generation they have been handicapped by the lack of shipping facilities and now that the railroad was completed a year ago the convenience has acted as a great stimulant.

The drainage which heretofore has been somewhat neglected is being pushed with unusual vigor this season. No less than half a dozen dredges are now at work on the lower lands in Roseau county, nine main ditches with laterals being under construction. When this work is completed Roseau will without a dobut be one of the best drained counties in the state, and as the soil is of unusual fertility it is expected that some record-breaking crops of cereals as wel as grasses will be produced here. All that is needed to make Roseau one of the richest counties in the state is more good farmers and with splendid soil and climatic conditions there should be but little difficulty in getting the people, once the advantages are made known.

MUNICIPAL PLANT IS PROPOSED IN MINOT.

Mandan, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—With plans successfully completed for the installation of a complete sewerage system in Mandan, the board of the city commissioners has decided to take up the question of establishing a municipal waterworks system. A novel method can be adopted in supplying Mandan with water, as little less than a mile distant from the city are some high hills which afford a natural reservoir. The plan is to make a reservoir of concrete lining from what nature has provided and pipe the water to the city. There would be a great sufficiency of pressure. The pumping station would be located on the hills adjoining the reservoir near the Missouri river.

To Keep the Hair Light and Fluffy



(From Chicago Inter Ocean.)

The proper care of the hair does not require a woman to scour her scalp with soap and drench her hair with water until a shampoo, including drying the hair, takes the better part of the day. In fact, authorities say that the less soap and water used on the hair the better, as the alkali and moisture tend to make the hair course, dull and brittle.

If you want to keep the scalp clean and the hair light and fluffy, try dry shampooing. Put in a quart jar, or any other handy container, four ounces of powdered orris root and four ounces of therox. Stir and shake until thoroughly mixed. A beautiful cleansing powder with a delicate perfume will be the result.

Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and then brush it well through the hair. This brings out the natural color of the hair, makes it soft and glossy, and if continued regularly, tends to make the hair long and abundant, for it is a natural hair grower.

PROSECUTOR IS NOT CANDIDATE

MICHAEL J. BOYLE.

Menominee, Mich., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Michael J. Boyle, for two terms prosecuting attorney of Menominee county, has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection. There is much speculation as to who will be his successor.

Mr. Boyle was elected prosecuting attorney on the Democratic ticket in 1906. Since then he has fulfilled the duties of this important office to the satisfaction of the people and the board of supervisors.

Mr. Boyle is a man of liberal tendencies and broad culture, a polished speaker and possesses literary talent, being the author of a work on the life of Christ.

GRAND FORKS NEW MAYOR TAKES HOLD

Mayor M. F. Murphy Succeeding Mayor Taylor, Announces Policies.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Important recommendations were included in the message of Mayor M. F. Murphy to the city council last night, when he took his position as successor to Mayor J. D. Taylor. Both the outgoing and the incoming mayors submitted messages, that of Mayor Taylor dealing with the activities of the city during the past two years, while that of Mayor Murphy dealt with the prospects for the coming two years.

Poolroom Regulation.

Pool and billiard room control are prominent questions taken up by the new mayor. He suggests the passage of an ordinance that will compel the owners of such halls to do away with blinds from the windows, and also do away with partitions in the rooms, thus leaving cardrooms open to view from the streets. He also wants them closed at 12 o'clock at night, opening at 7 o'clock in the morning.

Changes in the charter are recommended that will give the city power to do its own paving.

Establishment of public playgrounds, public baths, juvenile court and the merit system in advancing city employes are also asked. The mayor asks for the construction of a $40,000 city hall, which, he declares, is badly needed. Indorsement of the "sane" Fourth of July celebration plan is also given.

The new council was organized last night by the election of Alderman George Buckingham as president, succeeding Alderman K. C. Hunter. Outside of this, the confirmation of appointments and the hearing of the mayor's message, no business was transacted.

All Appointments Confirmed.

All appointments made by the mayor were unanimously confirmed.

The new officers and the retiring officials follow: City auditor, Charles Evanson succeeds W. H. Alexander; chief of police, W. J. Lowe succeeds Oden Overby; street commissioner, M. E. Durick succeeds Jack Dunlop; city attorney, J. B. Wineman succeeds F. B. Feetham; city health officer, Dr. A. A. Westeen succeeds Dr. H. Healy; dairy inspector, Dr. E. J. Davidson succeeds Dr. A. Anderson.

HARRY MITCHELL

Cullen & Cullen, the swell tailors of Wall street, New York city, went broke, because of spending their money on the great White Way and speculating on the Stock Market.

Cullen & Cullen were a new concern, just started their tailoring business this spring.

I bought their entire stock of imported goods at 30 cents on the dollar, when I was in New York last week. I at once realized that this $25,000 stock of fine goods, in addition to my regular large stock, which I usually carry, I would have to hurry to sell; so I had the goods shipped by fast express, and now they are on sale at my store, 123 West Superior street, for the benefit of my old and new customers.

I had the whole stock divided into two lots: Cullen & Cullen's regular $40, $45 and $50 Suitings—

DO NOT KNOW OF LOW RATES

Few Commutation Tickets Sold By Northern Pacific Railroad.

Laborers Must Be Informed of the Opportunity Given for Saving.

Laborers living in West Duluth and working at the steel plant site at New Duluth must be educated to the benefits to be derived from buying commutation tickets, recently furnished by the Northern Pacific railroad, for use between West Duluth and the site of the steel plant.

Up to this time practically none of the laborers have taken advantage of the reduced rates, according to Local Agent Sweet of the Northern Pacific station at West Duluth. Only a few tickets have been sold and these have been purchased by residents of Fond du Lac who have daily business at West Duluth.

The single fare between West Duluth and Fond du Lac is 15 cents and from West Duluth to the steel plant is 11 cents. With the commutation tickets, a saving is made. A ten-ride ticket good for one month can be bought for $1. The twenty-five-ride ticket sells for $2.20 and is good for two months. The fifty-ride ticket is good for three months and may be purchased for $3.70.

The Northern Pacific road issued the new tickets at the urgent request of the West Duluth Commercial club, which argued that the saving to the laborers would be great enough so that they could afford to live at West Duluth and work at New Duluth.

Since the new rates have been in effect, however, there has been little inclination on the part of the laboring men to purchase commutation tickets. This, however, is accounted for by a member of the Commercial club, who claims that many of the workingmen who now live in West Duluth and work at the steel plant site, are foreigners and are still ignorant of the new rates.

It was reported yesterday on good authority that the Northern Pacific intends to improve its train service to Fond du Lac and the steel plant by adding an early morning train, leaving Duluth about 6 o'clock and West Duluth about 6:15 a. m. This would answer the purposes for the laboring men, who must be at work about 7 o'clock.

It is said, however, that there is a movement on foot among the boardinghouse keepers at New Duluth to prevent this improvement in the train service, their purpose being to keep the patronage of the laboring class. On account of the present train facilities many are unable to live in West Duluth.

The West Duluth Commercial club has made a strong bid for the new train despite the opposition voiced by the boarding house keepers of New Duluth. A resident of New Duluth yesterday stated that he personally knew of four families who would move to West Duluth at once if the new train service were established.

L. A. Barnes, president of the West Duluth Commercial club, in speaking of the matter today, stated that the stand taken by the club in the matter was not a selfish one, but, instead the club members were anxious to better transportation facilities to all parts of the city. This, he said was the main reason that the club started the agitation which has led to the lowering of the rates between West Duluth and New Duluth.

HAD TO SIT UP WITH SICK HORSE

Lumber Company Awarded Only $12 By Municipal Court Jury.

Testimony in the suit of the Millbrook Lumber company against John Reibolt to recover $498.20 for a sick horse which was sold on the allegation that it was sound, showed that the animal requires as much attention as a sick baby. E. F. Hoyard, one of the members of the lumber company, stated that he and a veterinarian, sat up with the horse several nights. Medicine had to be given to it every hour and a half.

Damages of $325 were asked for the price of the horse, with $173.20 as additional damages for medicine and attention. The jury this morning brought in a verdict of $12 in favor of the plaintiff.

CLUB DOING GREAT WORK

Duluth Men Are Enthusiastic Over the Meeting at Biwabik.

The Duluth people who attended the meeting of the County club, held yesterday at Biwabik, arrived home this morning, enthusiastic over the work the club has done, and is likely to do in the future.

The subject of good roads was the principal topic under discussion. This is becoming a more important matter each year and the announcement by Chairman Neil McInnis of the county board, that there are nearer 2,000 miles of country road than 1,000, was very encouraging to the members of the club. It is hoped that an even greater activity in road building on the part of the county, and also in the work of securing state aid, will result from the meeting.

T. W. Hugo gave a rousing speech on the "get together spirit." He told what had been done and what there is still to do. He told how co-operation was the all-important factor in the upbuilding of the county. The talk given by the Duluth man roused much enthusiasm.

Charles Mitchell talked on reapportionment and the good that will come of it.

Among the Duluth men in attendance at the meeting were: County Commissioners Tischer, McInnis, Fraser and Cummings; T. W. Hugo, L. B. Arnold, J. H. Hoarding, H. V. Eva, Charles Mitchell, J. S. Pardee, P. H. Martin and Stillman H. Bingham.

WOMAN MATRON AT POLICE STATION AND HER DUTIES

The work of Mrs. Mary Walsh, police matron, has been one of the most decided additions to the efficiency of the Duluth police department at the headquarters station.

Mrs. Walsh was appointed last fall and took her office Dec. 1. Since that time she has had charge of all the female prisoners, who have a special department of the jail.

Mrs. Walsh has been most successful in her work. She has taken care of them in an excellent manner. One of her first duties has been to search them in the same manner as the men who are arrested, are searched by the officers. The purpose is to keep their valuables for them as well as to secure any guns or bottles of poison with which they might harm themselves or others.

Until Mrs. Walsh took charge, the headquarters station was without a matron since it was built. Chief Troyer recognized the need, but was unable to fill the position because of a lack of funds.

The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ruth Merritt of 4603 Oneota street. The leader for the afternoon will be Mrs. Helen Stewart and the subject will be "Heroic Women of the Civil War."

After the program a social hour will be held in compliment to Mrs. Alfred Merritt and Miss Jessie Mauck, two of the members of the union who will go to Scotland to attend the world conference of the W. C. T. U. They will leave about May 1 for Glasgow, where the world meeting will be held in June. Tomorrow's reception is planned in their honor.

DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

Koskelo, Finnish Tenor, Gives Much Pleasure.

It is seldom indeed that the Duluth musical public, which is unfortunately, a very small part of the city's population, has an opportunity of hearing so thoroughly satisfactory a program as that given by Juho Koskelo, the Finnish tenor, at the Y. W. C. A. hall last evening.

The program contained a little of everything, and it was all of the best. The Finnish songs in particular were received with the greatest enthusiasm, as they were new to most of the audience, and all odd but quaintly beautiful, and Mr. Koskelo sang them with wonderful pathos or humor as the occasion demanded. In the Wagnerian selections his voice displayed the real grand opera quality, great fullness and roundness, sympathtic and true as a perfectly pitched organ pipe.

Miss Faith Helen Rogers gave two groups of piano numbers, and responded to the demand for an encore at the of each group. Her playing shows that she has attained the status of an artist, for it is not only exceedingly pleasing to listen to, but it interests and holds one as well, which is quite a different thing. Her last encore was one of her own compositions, which was both well written and well played.

The accompaniments were in the hands of Mrs. D. H. Day and they were beautifully played.

The real musical people of Duluth have taken Mr. Koskelo to their arms and he is thinking seriously now of coming back to this city after the conclusion of a series of concerts he is to give in Chicago, Pittsburg and the Copper country, and remaining here for the rest of the summer.

"NO BACKBONE"

In Women's Efforts, Says Dorothy Dix to Convention.

At the meeting in Washington of the National Woman Suffrage association, Dorothy Dix, in the language and gestures of an old negro mammy, explained to the convention the needs of suffrage as she saw them. "The lack of backbone is the reason for woman not having the ballot, she declared. She spoke as follows:

"I ain't never been one dat run off after ev'ry new belief dat comes along, an' dat's de reason dat I ain't never took up wid dis heah doctrine about things not bein' made at de start, but just havin' growed. 'Cose ev'rybody to deir taste, but it look lak to me dat dem folks what laks to claim a monkey for deir grandpaw has got mighty little pride, an' mighty little call to brag on deir family tree.

"But I ain't never had no trouble in bellevin' dat woman was made out of man's rib. What worries me is why de Lawd's choice fell on de rib, which ain't nothin' but a sort of rafter to hold up a man's chist an' swell hit out, an' make him look proud, but dat ain't nowise important in hitself, an' dat hit is natur de easiest thing dat a man can spare widout missin' hit.

"'Cose I ain't a-presumin' to criticise de Good Master, but hit does look lak to me dat when He was a-creatin' woman, an' dé whole man to cut from, dat He could have saved us a lot of trouble of He had made Eve out of Adams' backbone instead of his rib.

"Rib Dey Has Stayed."

"Yassum, dat's de trouble wid women down to dis very day. Dey ain't got no backbone. Of a rib dey was made, an' a rib dey has stayed, an' nobody ain't go no right to expect nothin' else from 'em.

"Hit's becaze woman was made out of man's rib—an' from de way she acts hit looks lak she was made out of de floatin' rib at dat—an' man was left wid all of his backbone dat he has got de comeuppance over woman. Dat's de reason dat de women sits down an' cries when we ought to git up an' heave brickbats.

"What's de reason dat we women can't vote, an' ain't got no say-so 'bout makin de laws dat bosses us? Ain't we got de right on our side? Yas, sir, we'se got de right on our side, but we ain't got de backbone to just reach out an' grab dat ballot.

"Dere ain't nobody 'sputin' dat we'se got to scrape up de money to pay de tax collector even ef we does have to go down into a skirt pocket for hit instead of pants pockets, an' our belongin' to de angel sect ain't gwine to keep us out of de jail if we gits in a fight wid anmoder lady, or we swipes a ruffled petticote off de clothes line next do'

Finger in the Pie.

"Furdermo' when de meat trust puts up de price of po'k chops hit's de woman dat has got to squeeze de eagle on de dollar ontel hit hollers a little louder, an' pare de potato pellin's a little thinner, an' dat makes us women jest a-achin' to have a finger in dat government pie an' see if we can't put in a little mo' sweetin' in hit, an' make hit a little lighter, so dat hit won't get so heavy on' ondigestible on de stomachs of dem what ain't millionaires.

"Yassir, we'se just a bonion' for de franchise, an' we might have had hit any time dese last forty years ef we'd had enough backbone to riz up an' fit one good fight for hit, but instead of dat we set around a holdin' our hands, an' all we'se done is to say in a meek voice, 'Please sir, I don't lak to trouble you none, but ef you'd kindly pass me de ballot, hit sho'ly would be agreeable to me.'

"An' instead of givin' hit to us men has kinder winked one eye at de odder an' said, 'Lawd, she don't want hit, or else she'd make a row about hit. Dat's de way we did. We didn't go after de right to vote wid our plnk tea manners on.'

When Women "Spunks Up."

"Yassir, dats de true word, an' you listen to me, de day dat women spunks up, an' rolls up dere sleeves, an' says to dere husbands dat dey ain't gwine to do no mo' cookin' in dis house, nor darnin' of socks, nor patchin' of breeches ontel dere is some female votin', why dat day de ballot will be fetched home to women on a silver salver. All dat stands between women an' suffrage is de lack of a spinal column.

"Yassum, most of de trouble in dis world dat women has comes along of dere bein' born wid a wishbone instead of a backbone, but I 'low dey can't help hit. Hit's all de fault of de way dey was made, but what I'd lak to know is why women didn't get a show at Adam's backbone as well as his chist protector."

AN ORPHAN ONLY FREE

By CARA REESE

You ought to have been born an orphan, then you might pose as a reformer to your heart's content. Nobody but a genuine orphan, without brothers or sisters or kindred, without family or wife or the usual run of relatives-in-law, may pose effectively as a reformer. The spirit of the reformer may be yours, all right, your zeal may burn fiercely, your enthusiasm be unbounded. But you are cowed according to the number of live names enrolled on the family register.

You make up your mind, perhaps, to give a hard slap to the present educational system, pointing out weakness and defects and advocating a reform improvement, when lo, the feminine contingent of the family root and branch raise a warning rattan in your vicinity. You make up your mind that underhand and dishonest work have gone on long enough where politics is concerned, and with sleeves rolled up you start in to clean conditions or "turn the rascals out," when again a payroll ghost bearing the family resemblance stalks past, a warning finger on lips and a whispered "Sh."

Or your indignation at business greed reaches the frenzy point and your words flow like lava in a public place until a nudge on the elbow or your foot surreptitiously kicked brings you face to face with the bread and butter problem of your own startled flesh and blood, who is saying softly: "Not so loud; the boss sits across." Then the hot crater ceases abruptly. Or you are not in sympathy any longer with by-gone creeds or old-fashioned doctrines and you make a move to rise and denounce and cast out, but lo, a gentle reminder from the partner of your joys: "It will break your mother's heart," or, "It will kill the old folks," causes you to swallow your fiery reflections and cool down and out.

No, when you want to become a genuine reformer you must be born an orphan to begin with, and with no family attachments, either hereditary or acquired. Or else, you must make up your mind to have the orphaned condition thrust upon you and no longer be eligible to the family crest or board. And it might be wisdom to be born an orphan where philanthropy is concerned. Philanthropy is a difficult problem to meet where the relative list is large. Possessions, like opinions, are the individual's own business when the individual is an orphan, but they are merely his in trust when the family connection is above ground. It takes a family connection to see through, size up, and keep possessions and opinions straight. You may think you are a reformer, but you are not. You may think that you can do as you please with your own, but you may not always.

And a blessing it is, sometimes, that there is a family connection to keep reformers within bounds. It is a valuable service rendered by relatives when the other viewpoints on the opposite side are presented for the inspection of the turbulent or the insurgent. The good and the bad are so intermingled in this world that only a superior power may finally measure and weigh and note the balance due or the deficit. There are countless credit marks for the plain, comfortable living of a mighty host under systems or conditions which reformers quote as pernicious. Strike fearless at grave evils, but if you would be a reformer at all times wait until you are an orphan.

"Betty's Grandfather"

By Vernon Hawthorne.

"Betty, dear, don't you think it time that you and I fixed up things together?"

This question was jerked out hurriedly, causing the girl with the sweet little face to raise pained eyes to his. But Giles Weatherby did not see the pain, because it was the last thing he expected.

They were standing together on the shore of Lake Hopatcong, in one of those secluded spots on the borders of that beautiful New Jersey lake.

"Betty, little girl, won't you answer me? Won't you say 'Yes,' dear?"

And that was all! She had waited quite a long time for this; yet when at last he spoke, he did not say the words her loving heart ached so to hear. No, he just took it for granted that she understood. He was asking her to be his wife; therefore, it could not be necessary to tell her in plain language how he loved her.

She must know it already — must have known it always. And it seemed to him that the love was too deep down in his heart to find escape in words—just then.

And she wanted him to gather her in his arms, to kiss her lips, to say over and over again that he loved her. Betty knew he expected her to understand it; but she was just a loving, lovable little woman, and her heart beat wildly to hear the words which were too deep for utterance.

"Betty, why are you silent, dear?" he asked. "We have been so much to each other, you and I, little girl; such friends, such ripping chums. You're not going to refuse me? No, no; you couldn't after all. And our people, our respective families—are all so pleased about us—

She flared out on him then. It was just her disapointment, her hurt pride, her heartache; but he did not know.

"Oh, you are pleased?" she panted, the sweet little face grown white. "What about it, I should like to know? It seems to me, Giles, that you—and they—have taken too much for granted, if they fancy you and I might marry eath other! I'm not the sort of girl to marry a man just because our respective families might be pleased about it. Pleased, indeed! I'll only be the wife of a man who loves me, who wants to take me in his arms, and—and—I'll never marry you, Giles; you can make quite sure of that, now and always."

Before he had time to recover his astonishment at this heated and unexpected outburst, before he began to realize that she might mean something of what she was saying, he caught sight of her literally flying away from him along the cool shaded lane.

When the girl arrived back at the pretty country home, where she was spending a summer holiday with her married sister—the party was a large one, including Giles Weatherby—she flew up to her own room, and there spent some time in a wild outburst of broken-hearted weeping.

"Oh, Giles, Giles!" she whispered convulsively through her sobs. "I did so want to be your wife! I do so love you, my dear; more than I can ever care for any man on this earth. But what is the use of it; what is the use? You don't love me back; you couldn't, or you would have told me so. And I thought, oh, I thought you did. I never dreamed that you would just want to marry me because our respective families would be pleased!"

Later on she removed all traces of her recent emotion and went down to the big, old-fashioned hall, looking a radiant picture of sweet girlish loveliness.

No girl, she felt sure, had ever been proposed to like that before. So she would show him outwardly, at any rate, that she did not care.

She graciously accepted the attentions of a rich and elderly gentleman, a man she had hardly deigned to notice before, and whom she had laughingly christened the "grandfather" of her sister's house party.

Her sweet graciousness pleased the "grandfather" at first—till he began to rightly understand what it meant. The expression of Giles Weatherby's face in those days told him.

"The little woman is throwing herself at my head to punish that nice boy for something," he mused. "But what?"

He made up his mind to find out, but the decision caused him to seek a private conversation with Giles Weatherby.

"You're fond of pretty little Betty?" he suggested.

Giles wheeled round on him furiously.

"What has it got to do with you who I'm fond of?" he demanded.

"Come, come; be sensible."

"Sensible? You're fond of her yourself, aren't you? You're old enough almost to be her father, I should think."

"That's not generous of you, my boy."

"I suppose you'll marry her? She's certainly giving you all the encouragement you need; and you're a rich chap—"

"Silence, man; silence! You're smarting under the little woman's inexplicable conduct, and you are unfair to her, to yourself—to me also, if I might say so. Come, won't you tell me what is the matter between you two?"

For answer, Giles turned on his heel and left Mr. Carson to his own reflections. He did not reflect very long, however; that was not his way. He went off to the lovely garden, where Betty sat wistfully alone under a wide acacia.

He took a seat beside her—quite close to her—and sought one of her little hands. He gently stroked it, and his action frightened Betty very considerably. He was going to propose to her, she felt sure. What was she to do? She could not accept him. No, no; it would be impossible.

"Little girl, you are not happy; you are fretting—" he began.

She stared up at him. What a strange way to begin a proposal of marriage.

"You needn't speak just yet, child," he went on. "I want you to understand that your entire happiness is my first, my dearest wish."

She trembled. It was coming now.

"Just lately you have been gracious enough to give me a great deal of your sweet company, dear; more than I ever expected, more than I deserve. It has made me exceedingly happy, but it must not go on."

She started away from him.

"What—what do you mean?" she gasped.

"It has been very pleasant, child, your sweet graciousness to me; but it is breaking young Weatherby's heart—"

"How dare you!" she panted. "I see, you think we have been—been—flirting—long enough. What have you or I to do with Giles Weatherby? I thought you were nice and liked me, and—and that you would never stoop to flirt with a girl. Thank you for opening my eyes at last, but I hate, hate, hate you."

A little later a terrific storm swept over Lake Hopatcong. There was a hue and cry raised when it was found that Betty was missing.

"She left me some two hours ago, and seemed to go in the direction of the lake," said her "grandfatner," his eyes traveling towards Giles Weatherby's white, scared face.

"The river," almost shrieked the latter. "In this storm. Merciful heavens! That cockle-shell boat of hers. She'd never—Aren't you going after her?" he fiercely demanded of Carson.

Betty's "grandfather" looked him very straight between the eyes. For a second his face was lividly white. His voice came hoarsely.

"I would to heaven it were my privilege, boy!" he groaned. "But the little girl loves you. Go to her; the blessed privilege is yours, not mine!"

"Oh, Giles, you saved me from the terrible river!" said Betty in feeble, appealing accents. "And you said it then, dear, for I heard you. You whispered that you loved me. If only you had told me that day, we need neither of us ever have been unhappy and miserable for a single second. As for my dear old 'grandfather'—oh, Giles, he's the dearest and best man on earth—after you.

BOUDOIR HINTS

By MILDRED WYCKOFF

Whitening Sallow Skin.

A sallow skin usually is caused by a disordered liver. Sallow-skinned girls usually suffer from billiousness, which is caused by eating food that is rich. All greasy foods should be avoided, coffee must be left off entirely and only weak tea and chocolate should be taken. A glass of hot water and lemon, sipped every morning, and at least two quarts of pure cold water taken during the day time, will give a clear, healthy color to the cheeks. Most skins will yield to the diet treatment, without the external aid, but in more stubborn cases, it is well to combine the two, and the following will be found a good skin whitener. Take two tablespoonfuls of oatmeal, half a tablespoonful of powdered borax, and half a pint of rose water. Mix all together and let stand for three days, and strain it. If the mixture is to be kept for some time, add a little alcohol to prevent it turning sour. After washing the skin in warm water well, rub a little of the oatmeal wash into the skin, letting it dry on. A bran or oatmeal bag should always be dipped into the toilet water to soften it, before the face is washed. These bags are simply made by tying a little of either of these grains into a piece olf old linen or muslin and should be well squeezed when in the water. After thoroughly washing in warm water, well rinse it in cold water, and dry with a fairly coarse towel so that the circulation is stimulated. Outdoor exercise should be indulged in as much as possible.

Use Clean Brushes.

If you want to keep your hair in a healthy condition, be careful to always use a clean brush. Many bad cases of dandruff are due to carelessness in this matter. Directly the brush begins to look grimy wash it in soda and water. Have the water nearly boiling, and "pat" it with the bristles. When quite clean rinse in warm water, then let it stand for ten minutes in clean cold water, and leave it in the air to dry. Don't put the brush to dry in the sun or too near the fire, or the bristles will turn yellow.

Cold Sores on the Lips.

"Little sores come on my lips after I have a cold. How can I get rid of them?" Daisy R. inquires. As soon as the blisters form apply a little powdered sulphur. This will make them smart at first, but they will soon heal after one or two applications.

Inequitable Distribution of Road Money in St. Louis County Made Apparent.

County Club Meeting at Biwabik Learns Much of Present Conditions.

Biwabik, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Better roads for St. Louis county are expected to result from the meeting of the County club held in the high school auditorium here yesterday afternoon.

An elaborate report on road conditions, accompanied by a map illustrating more than 1,000 miles of roads in this county, was presented by L. B. Arnold of Duluth and A. P. Silliman of Hibbing, the committee appointed by the club six months ago to report on road matters.

T. W. Hugo of the public affairs committee of the Duluth Commercial club was so favorably impressed with the map and the report, that he offered to have both printed at the expense of the Duluth club for distribution throughout the county, a suggestion that met with favor.

J. H. HEARDING,
President of the County Club.

The report is interesting in showing the amount collected in taxes in the different districts in the county and how much is expended in the districts.

How Money Is Spent.

In the First and Third districts, which are entirely within the city limits of Duluth, $23,720.26 was raised by taxes and but $7,990.75 was spent in those districts on roads.

In the Second and Fifth districts, mostly in Duluth, but $1,138.59 was collected in taxes, but $25,482.52 was expended on roads. In the Fourth district, which is on the Vermilion range, the condition was about the same, only $4,994.40 being paid as taxes and $28,887.27 spent in road improvement and building.

In the Sixth district, which includes Eveleth, Virginia and Biwabik, $35,-280.93 was raised in taxes and $29,-375.78 was used for road work.

Hibbing, Chisholm and Buhl raised $82,241.80 by taxation, but only $35,-370.33 was spent for road improvement.

Conclusions of Committee.

In a summary report the committee makes these deductions:

"From this it will be seen that the First, Second and Fifth districts, which are included in part or whole in the city of Duluth, have expended $28,490.39 more for road upproses in that territory than was levied for the purpose, and that the Fourth district expended $18,863.87 more than was levied for road purposes.

"Also that the Sixth district levied $5,865.15 more than it expended on county roads. The total amount levied was $148,298.73 and the total amount expended on county roads was $142,-925.57."

In concluding the report, credit was given to the county commissioners and the county engineer for furnishing the information by which the report figures and maps were made possible.

Duluth Not Slighted.

T. W. Hugo said that for years it has been argued that Duluth as a city has not been given its just proportion of the road fund, but that he was glad to admit that such is not the case.

He and Mr. Silliman and Chairman McInnis of the county board were named as a committee to superintend the publication of the report and map. The decision of the county commissioners to open the Vermilion road from Biwabik to Duluth was then brought up.

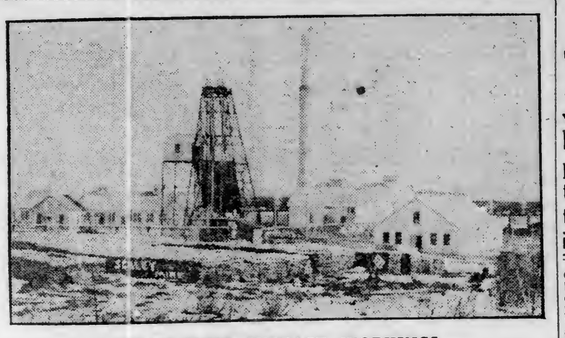
F. S. Colvin stated that 1,000 farmers live between Biwabik and the White Face river, a distance of les than twenty-five miles. Mr. Innis thought that 700 would be more near the correct figures. But at either figure it was argued that the number was indicative of the fact that St. Louis county is getting to be a large agricultural district.

By-Laws Amended.

The by-laws of the organization were amended so that hereafter there will be two meetings a year instead of four, one to be held the second Tuesday in March and the other the second Tuesday in November.

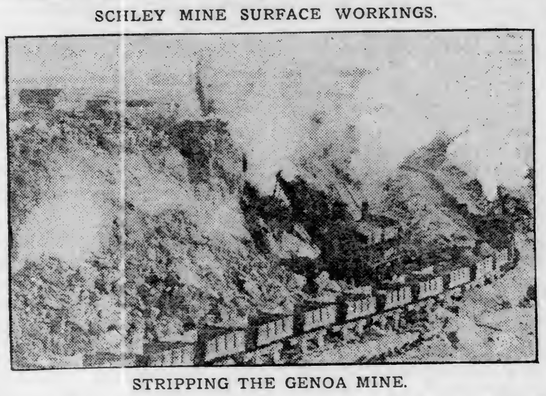
At the request of Presidet Hearding, Secretary F. B. Myers presented photographs of some eighty-five farms in one township just out of Biwabik as illustrative of the agricultural conditions.

It was voted that President Hearding appoint a ful quota of delegates to the next session of the Northern Minesota Development association, which will be held at Crookston, June 1, 2 and 3.



Banquet Ends Meeting.

The banquet in the evening brought the session to a fitting close, good cheer and universal wishes for the advancement of St. Louis county being voiced. C. S. Mitchell of Duluth speaking on "Reapportionment" showed how this section is being deprived on proper representation in the legislature. T. W. Hugo pointed out the benefits accruing from Duluth and the ranges working together. The taxation of idle state and railroad lands for school, road and bridge purposes met with favor and a resoultion to that effect was adopted.



The argument was that in many districts it is impossible to raise sufficient money for these purposes by taxation because there is so much state and railroad land that cannot be assessed and it is therefore impossible to levy the needed amount of taxes.

John S. Pardee spoke on the marketing of products, advising that garden truck can be marketed on the range along the same lines as it is in Duluth.

DEVELOPING TWO BIG PROPERTIES

SCHLEY MINE SURFACE WORKINGS.

STRIPPING THE GENOA MINE.

Eveleth, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The mining activity in this locality is increasing and the year promises to be a record breaker in the shipping line.

The Schley mine, one of the largest Republic Iron & Steel company's properties in this vicinity is being well equipped and prepared for its opening of the shipping season, within two or three weeks.

The Schley mine is one of the newest properties to be opened in this vicinity and for the past two years much development and improvement work has been carried on there. Many drills are being put down in the vicinity of this mine and are already showing up some good deposits. Two new steel shafthouses have been built at the Schley, and about 500 miners will be employed upon the property this season. The Schley is one of the Republic's best producers and it is expected to have a record breaking season this year.

Sparta Fast Disappearing.

The Genoa mine is at present the scene of much activity and about 400 men are being employed on the stripping operations. Stripping records are being broken. Last month's record of 182,000 yards promises to be exceeded by this month's work. The Genoa is at present one of the busiest places on the range, and the old Sparta site is fast disappearing. Sparta is now but a by-word and by about August 1, if present plans carry, shipping will be commenced from what was formerly streets of a very busy village. It is expected that about 250,000 tons will be shipped from the new mine this season.

WASHOUTS DAMAGE TRACK.

Great Northern Having Trouble on Its Nashwauk Line.

Nashwauk, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Great Northern passenger train arrived at this point one half hour late Monday morning on account of washouts and large stones being washed down the banks along the sides of the tracks. There are ten section crews at work on the road between here and Grand Rapids clearing away the debris along the tracks. The morning passenger had to come to a stop five times on account of large stones which blocked the road.

The building activity has begun and a large number of residences are now being built and also many basements are being dug where buildings will soon be started.

EJECTED FROM SALOON; SUSTAINS BROKEN LEG.

Hibbing, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ejected from the Bear River saloon yesterday, where he is alleged to have created a disturbance, Herman Wallerin walked a block and a half to the village jail, where his injury became known from his repeated moanings. A physician was called and the bone set in place.

Eveleth Funerals.

Eveleth, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Elmer Hagner, the 15-year-old boy who died recently at his home near Mountain Iron, was shipped yesterday to Bear Lake, Wis., where the funeral was held.

The funeral of Mrs. L. Leishinsky of Sparta, who died here recently, was held yesterday morning from the Holy Family church Father Bliban read the funeral services and the body was then escorted to the Virginia cemetery, where interment was made.

STREET CARS NOW ASSURED

Virginia Council Passes Ordinance Giving Franchise to the Prindles.

Plans for Virginia's Great White Way Are Soon to Be Carried Out.

Virginia, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—That Virginia will have a street car line in operation before the expiration of many months was assured by the adoption of the Prindle franchise by the council at its meeting last night. The amendment, extending the original route of the line, which threatened to hang up the franchise for several weeks longer, was accepted by the Prindles and the franchise received its third and final reading, being adopted by a unanimous vote. This means that street cars will be running in the city on or before Jan. 1 next year.

The recommendation of the light and water committee for the establishment of a "great white way" for Chestnut street was adopted with a suggestion that some of the money derived from the sale of Block No. 43 to the county be used in the installation of the system.

The contract for putting in cement curb and gutter and driveways on Maple street between Virginia and Railroad avenues was let to H. L. Bartlett & Co., of this city. The total number of feet of curb and gutter to be laid on this street will be 4,800, at the contract price of 69 cents per lineal foot, and 640 feet of driveway at 32 cents per square foot. C. C. Butler of this city, had a bid in at 70 cents per lineal foot for curb and gutter, and 27 cents per square foot for driveways.

Saloon License Held Up.

The application of Matt Thompson for a renewal of his liquor license at 209 Chestnut street, was held up at the request of Alderman Mollan for further investigation by the license committee. Thompson was fined $50 and $2.50 costs in municipal court, April 6, having been found guilty of violating the early closing law.

Owners of property abutting the sewer districts, will be notified to make connections with the sanitary sewers within thirty days after service of notice, and upon their failure to do so, the work will be done by the city and the cost charged up to the property.

A two-year lease to the park board of a forty acre tract of land lying east of the cemetery on the Mountain Iron road by the Great Northern Mining company, was accepted. This tract of land is to be used for park purposes. Baseball games or any other athletic games or entertainments of any nature, where an admission fee is charged will be barred from the use of the grounds, according to the terms of the lease. The mining company reserves the mineral rights.

The petition for the improvement of Central avenue and Maple street, presented to the council some time ago, were referred back to the maker, to have the names of the petitioners upon a single petition for each thoroughfare, in order to simplify matters in the advertisement for bids.

Disposal of Garbage.

Health Officer Dr. J. H. Crowe stated that the board of health had received notice to clear a certain piece of land on the North side belonging to the Oliver Iron Mining company, which had been used as a dumping ground for the city's garbage. He said he also expected to receive notice at most any time to cease dumping garbage on another piece of land now being used for that purpose on the North side. Dr. Crowe said that the matter of the disposal of garbage was a most important one and suggested that the council install an incinerator to get rid of this refuse. The board of health were instructed to see that the Oliver grounds were cleared up, and to secure an estimate of the cost of installing an incinerator.

Upon recommendation of Dr. J. H. Crowe, health officer, J. P. Chalmers was reappointed assistant health officer at a salary of $75 per month.

Miss Jessie McNeil, clerk of the municipal court, reported fines collected in that court for the week ending April 16, amounting to $218.50.

The Mesaba Telephone company, which has been using a portion of the old fire hall for storage purposes will be notified to vacate the building as the room is needed for city purposes.

The police and fire commissioners asked for a retention of the use of the present jail quarters and the request was granted. The plans for the remodeling of the city hall called for the removal of the present jail quarters to the new addition to the rear of the building, and that the vacated portion be converted into use for council chambers. The board find that the new jail quarters will be inadequate, and especially so during the sessions of the district court when the county prisoners are brought here for trial.

The clerk was instructed to notify the Great Northern officials to place a flagman at its road crossing on North Virginia avenue.

A salary of $104 was voted the engineer in charge of the steam road roller.

The question of which held the rightful title to the special municipal judgeship, J. H. Fleming or R. C. Pickering, came before the council when John Fleming demanded the payment of his bill for services rendered during the absence of Judge James P. Carey. A communication from Judge Carey stated that he was willing to settle the bill and would do so when it was decided as to who is entitled to the pay. City Attorney Shea advised the council to take no official action in the controversy and suggested that the litigants right it out between themselves.

The clerk was authorized to offer the county board of commissioners the sum of $75 for the old Presbyterian manse located upon block 43, which the county has purchased for a courthouse site. The building is under lease to the Presbyterian society until May 1, but will be vacated before that time, as Rev. Henry E. Neff and family are now moving into the new manse located on Spruce street. All the other buildings which were located on the county property have been sold and removed from the premises.

Mr. Innis also urged that funds be raised for relief work among the unfortunates of that country.

He also spoke at length on the conditions as they exist in China, particularly one instance while he was in China and he wished to see a little of the interior. CARRY NATION SPEAKS.

Noted Temperance Worker Addresses Large Crowds at Fargo.

Fargo, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Carry Nation, the famous militant temperance worker of Kansas, addressed two immense audiences here yesterday afternoon, there being at least 2,000 people at the overflow. She spoke in a characteristic manner against the saloons. The saloon keepers of Moorhead, just across the Red river, expected a sensational visit from the famous hatchet wielder, but the expected did not happen.

VEGETATION DAMAGED.

Fruit and Garden Truck Hurt in Hubbard County.

Pork Rapids, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—A heavy snow storm prevailed all Friday night, and a fall of some two inches lay over the ground Saturday. The mercury fell to 20 deg. above zero Saturday morning. All vegetation was killed, and early garden truck ruined.

Mrs. Meadich, mother of Mrs. R. E. Davis, died Friday. The body was sent to Wisconsin for burial, beside that of her husband. Her daughter, Mrs. Davis, and William Tabor accompanied the remains.

The village council has made its appointments for the coming year. The following were appointed: Village marshal, T. S. Finney; superintendent of water works, Byron Knapp; health board, W. T. Stone, M. D., president, A. M. Way, John H. O'Neal.

There were no appointments for village attorney, as no one seemed to want the job at the price offered by the village council.

Work is rapidly progressing on the laying of the mains in the extension of the water works.

EVERYONE NEEDS S.S.S. IN THE SPRING

This is just a short talk which we hope will be of interest and help to you in selecting the tonic and blood purifier that will be of the greatest value to you this Spring.

That this is the most trying of all seasons on the health is a fact well known to us all. It is the time of year when our constitutions are required to stand the greatest strain, and unless properly cared for the foundation is often laid for physical disorders or disease later on. The great majority of persons are fast coming to realize the importance of preventing disease. Health is our most valued possession, and its preservation is a matter which vitally concerns every one.

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and robust, feel the necessity of a tonic and blood purifier at this season. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. The Winter life, with its decreased amount of out-door exercise, and the fact that the cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the usual necessary amount of refuse and waste matter from being carried out of the system. These impurities entering the circulation have weakened and thinned the blood, and this vital fluid is therefore lacking in the nourishing properties necessary to sustain and preserve systemic health, when warm, active Spring life begins.

The general bodily weakness, tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how weak and anaemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, boils, etc., break out on the skin, and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation.

S. S. S. is the medicine needed to correct this condition, and is the only one on which you can rely to supply the system with the best tonic effects, and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. The use of S. S. S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria, or some other trouble. S. S. S. is Nature's ideal tonic and blood purifier, made entirely of the pure extracts of healing, strengthening, health-giving roots and herbs. It tones up the stomach and digestion, rids one of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and in every way contributes to the strengthening and building up of the entire system. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers, and this combined with its unequalled tonic properties, make it a medicine needed by every one in the Spring.

S. S. S. GUARANTEED PURELY VEGETABLE

S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.

The Best Home Medicine

This Simple Old Country Home Remedy Cleans Up the System as Clean as a Whistle and Fills the Arteries With Rich Red Blood.

There have been hundreds of "spring medicines," "blood purifiers," "vitalizers," "nerve compounds," etc., etc., etc., etc., offered the public within the last few years. Many of these preparations have not been without some merit, perhaps, but there is after all, only one real, home spring remedy that can be depended upon as sure as the sun, every time. We have in mind the old Swedish remedy, Salubrin, which has now found its way to this country.

Salubrin is entirely unlike any other spring medicine you ever heard of. There is no mystery about it or its action. No guess work about what it does. Spring fever, that tired, lazy feeling, lack of ambition, "low" nerve force, etc., for which a spring medicine is taken, are all just the result of the accumulation of germs and toxins in the system during the cold, sluggish winter months. Salubrin is a germ killer, an anti-toxic, which is sure death to all germs, but unlike other germ destroyers it does not injure the system, being a neutral compound as far as human tissue is concerned, and a real bone and muscle builder. It drives germs out of the blood, out of the vital organs, out of every nook and corner of your whole system and makes you feel strong and good all over because it helps nature to do her duty. Salubrin is sold by all druggists, price 50 cents per bottle. It's fine for coughs and colds and catarrh as well, because it kills the germs. If you can't find Salubrin, write us and we will tell you where to get it. Salubrin Laboratory, Dept. 26, Grand Crossing, Chicago, Ill.

GREAT NORTHERN HELD NEGLIGENT

Railroad Blamed for Death of John W. Torkelson at N. P. Crossing.

Crookston, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the following language a coroner's jury last night declared the Great Northern railroad was responsible for the death of John W. Torkelson of Bagley, who was killed when the freight train on which he was riding to Montana with his household goods was wrecked Monday night:

"That the said John W. Torkelson met with his death through the derailment of the Great Northern local freight train No. 625, caused by the negligence of the Great Northern Railway company in having employed an inexperienced man for the tower of their interlocking plant at the crossing of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railways east of Redlands, Minn., said accident causing the death of John W. Torkelson at the said crossing above mentioned on April 18 on or about 9:15 p. m."

Engineer French, Fireman Charles Gustafson, Conductor W. L. Gilbert, Brakemen E. A. Hart and William Lang testified that orders had been given that the interlocking plants at Redlands and at Tilden were out of commission and to heed hand signals from the tower men only.

Towerman Gave Wrong Signal.

The tower signal at Redlands showed against the ill-fated freight train and Engineer French brought his train to a stop. The towerman, Girard Palen, gave a lantern "highball" for the train to come on, and the engineer, following instructions, started up, only to find the switch set the wrong way and sending the engine and the immigrant car into the ditch, the engine on the south side and the car on the north. The testimony of the train crew was practically the same, with the exception that Brakeman Lang, who testified in the afternoon, said he knew the men were in the car while the balance said they did not know anyone was in the car in which Torkelson was killed.

Towerman Palen said he was new at the business and thought he had the switch thrown right, but made a mistake and derailed the train. He had not slept a wink nor eaten a bite since the fatal accident occurred and was greatly wrought up over it.

Engineer French would have been killed had he jumped from the engine a second sooner than he did, as he would have been caught under the car which shot past that side of the engine just as he jumped. He rear end catching his ankle and severely wrenching it, as it was.

Fireman Gustafson jumped from the side on which the engine turned and just crawled out of the way in time to escape being caught under the huge mogul.

John Sjolie, who was sleeping beside Torkelson, knew nothing until it was all over. He was awakened by the crash and scrambled out in the darkness, getting only a small scratch on the chin, how he did not know.

The representatives of the several institutions follow: University, William Greenleaf; agricultural college, P. J. Olson; Fargo college, A. T. Aronson; school of science, G. Crosby. SOCIALIST IN JAIL FOR HIS POLL TAX.

Grafton Ill., April 20.—Because J. J. Keon, a Socialist leader in the district refuses to pay a poll tax of $1.50, he began yesterday afternoon a sentence of six months' imprisonment.

The city hall has been converted into a jail by screening the windows with chicken wire. Keon's meals will be brought from the city's leading hotel and a special deputy has been sworn into look after him, making the cost of his keep to the city $3.25 a day.

Keon recently was defeated for circuit judge. He claims the poll tax is unconstitutional.

FACTORIES FOR HUBBARD COUNTY

Park Rapids Commercial Club Working to Secure New Industries.

Park Rapids, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club is working to secure the establishment here of a pickle and a starch factory.

Committees were appointed to look up the matter. It is generally believed that a canning factory and a pickle factory would be a paying proposition. It was decided to advertise the advantages of this locality for a starch factory and a canning factory.

The following committee was appointed to correspond and confer with parties in regard to locating such factories here: L. H. Rice, P. D. Winship, C. S. Cox and T. S. Finney.

There is no better location in Minnesota for a factory canning corn, tomatoes, beans and other yields. All vine crops reach their greatest perfection in this locality. The finest potatoes are grown in this section. The farmers are going extensively into the potato growing. There is always a sufficient surplus not sold to keep a starch factory going full time, and would be a paying proposition from the start.

GRAND FORKS BOYS PLANNING LONG HIKE.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—Athletically inclined boys of Grand Forks will indulge in a 200-mile tramp this summer, probably to some point in Red Lake county, Minnesota. The plans are now being worked out and there are several trips under contemplation, but it is not definite in just which direction the boys will hike. It is expected that the trip will be made in July.

BEMIDJI WILL PAVE.

First Steps to That End Taken By City Council.

Bemidji, Minn. April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—First steps towards paving the streets of Bemidji were taken Tuesday evening, when an ordinance was introduced in the city council calling for an appropritaion of $12,000 to be used in paving the streets of the business district.

Mayor John C. Parker, who was largely responsible for the introduction of the ordinance, made a short speech in favor of the measure.

A second ordinance to bond the city for $15,000 for grading the streets and repairing the bridges, the city hall and the city jail, was given its first reading. The two ordinances will require the bonding of the city for $27,000, although either one may be rejected by the people without knocking out the other.

Bids submitted by L. Eckstrom and Doran Bros., plumbing firms, for piping the city cemetery were rejected and new bids called for. The street sprinkling was let to former Street Commissioner Miller at $70 per month, Miller's bid being the lowest one submitted.

Will Command the Niobe.

For Your Hair

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course it is understood that in none of these cases were the hair roots dead nor had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

When the roots of the hair are entirely dead and the pores of the scalp are glazed over, we do not believe that anything can restore hair growth.

When Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do as above stated, it is not strange that we have such great faith in it and that we claim it will prevent baldness when used in time. It acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny paid us for it.

We lend our endorsement to Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and sell it on this guarantee, because we believe it is the best hair tonic ever discovered. It comes in two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our store,—The Rexall Store. E. M. Tredway, 108 West Superior street.

HILL PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

At Banquet Celebrating Opening of New St. Paul Hotel.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—James J. Hill, empire builder and railway magnate, was the principal speaker at the opening of the new St. Paul hotel Monday night.

Surrounded by men prominent in every active walk of life, Mr. Hill discussed the problem of transportation in the Northwest, with special application to the Twin Cities. He criticised the plan of constructing a six-foot channel in the Mississippi river from the Twin Cities to St. Louis, saying that less than a 20-foot was beaten by a box car every day in the week. He referred to St. Louis, where a 10 to 12-foot channel from St. Louis to New Orleans is the regular order, asserting that even under such conditions, less than 1 per cent of the straight business done out of that city was carried by water.

The program of addresses was as follows:

Toastmaster, Pierce Butler; "The Growing Northwest," James J. Hill; "The Business League, Promoters of the New Saint Paul," Paul Doty; "The State of Minnesota," Governor Eberhart; "The Future," Archbishop Ireland; "The Sister City and the New Saint Paul," Mayor James C. Haynes; "The Press and the New Saint Paul," George Thompson; "The Railroads and the New Saint Paul," Howard Elliott; "North Dakota and the New Saint Paul," Governor John Burke; "The City and the New Saint Paul," Mayor Lawler of St. Paul; "The Management of the New Saint Paul," Henry D. Laughlin.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

When fortune is on our side, popular favor bears her company.

—Publius Syrus (42 B. C.)

GIVING PREFERENCE TO FOREIGNERS.

Though every argument is in favor of establishing a parcels post in this country, and no valid argument is against it, no attempt is being made by congress to provide it. This in spite of the fact that the people want it, and that it would be a privilege immensely profitable to them and to the government.

Meanwhile, discrimination by the postoffice department against American citizens and in favor of citizens of other countries still persists.

If you have an eleven-pound package that you wish to mail from Duluth to almost any point in the world outside the United States, you can mail it at the Duluth postoffice for 12 cents a pound.

If you have a package that you wish to mail to a point in the United States, whether it is Two Harbors or New Orleans, you can't mail it at all unless it weighs as little as four pounds, and then you must pay 16 cents a pound for postage instead of 12 cents.

Nor is that all. It has been discovered recently that besides this peculiar discrimination against American citizens, there is a greater discrimination still. The figures and facts above concern shipments out of the country. This newly discovered discrimination concerns shipments within the country.

Under an arrangement between the British postoffice and the American express company, any British citizen can ship an eleven-pound package of merchandise from New York to San Francisco or any other point in the country for 24 cents. The contract between the British postoffice department and the American express company guarantees a flat rate of 1 shilling—24 cents—for any package from three to eleven pounds between New York and any point in the United States.

Doesn't it heat your blood a little to hear of these discriminations against American citizens?

The reason for it is this: The British postoffice department is managed in the interests of the British public. The American postoffice is managed in the interests of the railroads and express companies.

It has been claimed that the postoffice couldn't handle parcels at 12 cents a pound. Yet the mail goes in cars made just the same as the express cars, and costing the railroads no more to haul; and the American express company can afford to carry an eleven-pound package from New York to San Francisco for 24 cents, while the postoffice service, in the next car, can only carry four-pound packages and charges 64 cents for doing it.

Don't you think it is about time this discrimination ceased? Don't you think your parcels, Mr. American Citizen, are entitled to just as much consideration as the parcels of a British citizen temporarily sojourning in this country?

If you do, suppose you tell your senator and congressman about it, and let him know that you believe a parcels post system ought to be provided in this country, and that it should be just as good and just as cheap as any parcels post system in the world.

VOTES FOR WOMEN.

The question whether women shall be allowed to vote isn't entirely a question of their fitness to vote, for that can be demonstrated only by giving them a chance to vote.

It isn't entirely a question of whether all of them, a majority of them, or any of them, desire to vote; though if a majority of them ardently desired the ballot the fact would have a bearing because they would get it very promptly. When Northern administrators of "the states lately in rebellion" conferred the suffrage on the negro, nobody appears to have considered at all whether the negro cared about voting. That was not a point to be deeply considered; for the negro had been so used to not voting that he had not had time or occasion to consider whether he wanted to vote or not. The question simply was whether the negro had a right to the ballot, and that question was altogether aside from the question whether he wanted the ballot. It is much the same way with the question of woman's suffrage.

The issue of woman's suffrage is simply a question whether there is anything inherent in manhood or womanhood that should make it necessary to restrict the suffrage to men. That leaves out of consideration, advisedly, the question whether women wish to vote, because they are so used to not voting that it is not surprising that comparatively few of them really know whether or not they wish to vote. It also leaves out of consideration, advisedly, the question whether they are fitted to vote; because it would not be surprising if many of them lacked the training essential to an intelligent use of the ballot, in view of the fact that having no votes, they haven't had occasion to acquire that training. Very likely if they were given the ballot they would be as anxious to vote as men are. Undoubtedly if they were given the ballot it would be but a short time before women were as well qualified to vote as men, if they are not as well qualified already.

Women vote already in four states on the same terms as men. In those states nothing very remarkable has happened. The woman vote unquestionably is an impulse toward better things. In many respects its use is governed by a clearer vision of the objectives of human progress than is the man vote. In some respects, perhaps, it is not used quite so well; because as yet women haven't had much encouragement to study large affairs. The fears of opponents of woman's suffrage that it will ruin womankind are not justified by the results in Colorado, Idaho, Wyoming and Utah. Neither are the hopes of those who expect woman's suffrage to bring on the millennium in a minute.

Whether or not women should vote isn't likely to be so absorbing a question from now on as when women will begin to vote. The question whether they ought to vote is either proved in the affirmative or begged by those who pretend to prove the contrary. The fear of harm to society from the votes of women is absurd. The fear of harm to womankind from contact with public affairs is equally absurd, as anybody must admit who knows of the present innumerable activities of women in public affairs even now that they have no votes.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK AGAIN.

One of the old rock-ribbed Republican congressional districts of New York state has gone Democratic by nearly 6,000 majority, following the example set by an equally strong Republican district in Massachusetts. James S. Havens, a Democrat, running on a tariff reform platform, has carried the district of which Rochester is the chief city, after a short campaign against one of the strongest political organizations in the Empire state, his opponent being George W. Aldridge, the local Republican boss who was regarded as almost invincible. The district which is nominally Republican by about 10,000, gave Havens 5,900 majority, and he will be its first Democratic congressman in twenty years.

This remarkable political turnover, following the sweeping victory gained by Eugene N. Foss in Massachusetts on a similar platform, shows unmistakeably that the people are determined to rebuke the authors of the Payne-Aldrich tariff iniquity and to insist upon tariff revision downward in the interests of the consumer.

It was a direct fight between a tariff reformer and a "standpatter." The issue was clear and distinct. The voters in the district are largely farmers and factory employes, and it is significant that in both the farming sections and the precincts where the workingmen live the Republican reverses were equally pronounced. Perhaps Mr. Taft will now perceive that he has failed to convince the people that the Payne-Aldrich law is "the best tariff law ever enacted."

THE GRAFTER'S PERILOUS POSITION.

The case of Pittsburg is a very good illustration of the dangerous business that men engage in when they give and take bribes.

Bribery, in its very nature, is a secret undertaking. It is not usually conducted in the presence of witnesses, and though its presence may be felt often when it is not seen, it is one of the hardest offenses to prove. Its very secrecy, however, often leads to its undoing, as it has in Pittsburg. Being secret, there is a feeling that it is safe. The terrors of the man who takes or gives his first bribe disappear when he finds that nobody has caught him at it, and he grows more bold.

In Pittsburg it was carried on as a regular business so long that in time it almost lost its essential of secrecy. Even there, however, money did not pass in the open; but so much of it passed, and it passed so often, that bribers and bribed grew careless. Then John F. Klein, one of the bribed, blew the lid off with a confession, and almost in a moment the whole wretched story was laid bare.

While it is to be hoped that nowhere else has bribery become such a commonplace thing as it has in Pittsburg, it is not to be supposed that Pittsburg is the only place that has been tainted with it, or that its use to accomplish or defeat legislation is confined to city councils.

In point of fact, the city which is certain that its council is free from bribery, and the state which is certain that no taint of corruption has ever touched its legislature, is fortunate indeed; but the chances are that its certainty is based upon ignorance, not upon knowledge.

Though bribery has been exposed in comparatively few places, nobody familiar with the average state legislature, for instance, will be ready to believe that exposures thus far made tell the whole story. In most places it is still secret. No John F. Klein has become contrite and repentant in Minnesota or Indiana or Wisconsin, for instance; but that does not mean that the legislatures of these states have been free from corruption.

The man in public life who has taken a bribe, or the man in business who has given a bribe, must sear his conscience well if he is not to feel an unceasing sense of insecurity. The man who has taken a bribe knows that there were no witnesses when he took the money; but the man who gave it to him knows that he took it. The man who has given a bribe knows that he did it in secret, but the man who took it knows that he gave it. Any time, short of the grave, one of these men may be driven by his conscience to divulge the guilty knowledge that will blacken the name of the other.

Nor is the knowledge of corruption usually confined to so few as the parties suspect. The lawmaker who has taken a bribe to vote against the people's interests knows that others who voted as he did probably were led to do so by the same "argument." The "men higher up" who do the bribing do not usually hand the money over themselves; more often they use go-betweens whose knowledge is always, thereafter, a source of peril.

No man who gives or takes a bribe is safe. At any time some such incidents as Klein's confession in Pittsburg may lay the nasty record open to the public gaze. Only the man who refuses to buy other men or to be bought is perfectly safe.

But somehow we can't help but wonder if Aldrich isn't merely a sacrifice.

Aldrich has seen the writing on the wall, and if Cannon would stop puffing awhile maybe the smoke would clear away enough so he could see it, too.

An Oshkosh woman has secured a divorce on the ground that her husband took only four baths a year. The wonder is that she waited a year to find out.

If Roosevelt succeeds in not commenting on the promised retirement of Senator Aldrich he will certainly have proved himself greater than the man who taketh a city.

On the same day Milwaukee went into the hands of the Socialists and an American heiress married an American man. These experiments will serve to keep general interest alive for some time to come.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

THE COURTHOUSE GROUNDS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In laying out the grounds at Fourth avenue west for a central breathing spot, it should be remembered that hundreds of people pass the location each day to and from their employment. For these hundreds paths or cement walks should be provided diagonally across the park, not alone to shorten their walk but to give them the opportunity to enjoy nature as they pass.

If a straight walk would detract from the beauty of the park a slight curve could be used, one walk to extend from Second street and Fourth avenue to First street opposite The Herald building, the other from the east corner of the courthouse to First street and Fourth avenue.

At the present time a person going from Second street to Fifth avenue has to climb up a flight of steps and down another flight to save walking across a few feet of lawn. This however, would probably be changed by the new ground plans.

B. F. HIGGINS.

Duluth, April 15.

A NEW OFFICE PROPOSED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am not altogether certain you will regard this as legitimate Open Court matter, but it seems of such vital importance to the general public I herewith tender it. This morning, as I sat reading a book that was fresh from the press of Charles Scribner's Sons, I noted with surprise that some of the letters seemed moving as if alive. A closer inspection showed that they really did move! I have read some very realistic tales, especially reprints that have been picked up along the pathway of the passing ages and preserved, but I never saw a tale where the very letters came to to life and walked about the page before. But that is just what they seemed to do in this case. A word began to heave and tremble at its center, and then one of the letters stepped out and started walking across the page. I was amazed, but adjusting my glasses for a close inspection, I discovered the letters to be a bedbug. The material home of the so-called bedbug is in the bark and seams of the conifers. This one had evidently been taken to the pulp mill, ground up and pressed into paper; been printed across the back of the printery and bound into a book. I had bought the book and brought it home. Just as I was reading that particular page the native of the conifers had tired of its close quarters, burst the bonds of encrusting paper and stepped out, a lively fragment of a deathless tale (Sevenoakes.)

The bug was not fat but seemed to be about in the condition Jim Jeffries will have to get if he proves the superiority of the white race.

With these facts (if indeed they are facts?) before us, a startling situation appears. Are we to have the sacred precincts of our homes seeded with bedbugs from the print shops. Better a lingering death from tuberculosis or from trichinae, or sudden death from cholera, yelow fever, smallpox or any of the more dreaded diseases that have been rather overworked to help connect some hungry politician with the public treasury. What are we going to do with it? The finger of destiny seems to point straight at a biological survey with a view to a board of bedbug inspectors.

There has been much talk of pensioning our ex-presidents, but there would not be enough to go around in this case. Why not pension our ex-congressmen with a perpetual inspectorship. It would fill a long-felt want that is likely to be more keenly felt by a good many in the near future. It would lessen the sickening dread of the future member, who, weary with his labor of drawing his salary, lying to his constituents and dining attendance on the trusts, lays the burden of government down at the request of said constituents. It would also help the book trusts, just as meat inspectors help the meat trusts and milk inspectors helps the milk trusts to sell last year's milk by keeping fresh milk out of competition. If a book publisher got into the habit of publishing books with brains in them, the inspector could close him up on the bug score and thus savo the book trust from ruinous competition.

Argue on any point you will, an inspectorship is the greatest need of the times. As original discoverer I claim the right to nominate the soon-to-retire congressman from the Eighth Minnesota district, to be bedbug inspector extraordinary plenipotentiary and in perpetuity, term of office to begin March 4, next.

"Yes, and the present prices of foodstuffs make it virtually no thoroughfare except among the money classes," quoth Love, confessing his regret, but declaring himself helpless in the premises.

An Accomplished Duluthian.

Fairmont (Minn.) News: William Frederick, Jr., a traveling salesman for a large flour plant at Duluth, has been in this city for several days. Mr. Frederick bears the distinction, so far as he is aware, of being the only person who has committed the Bible to memory.

He is a friend of Alexander M. Rush of this city, who is well acquainted with the Frederick family. The one who committed the bible to memory, while not being a member of any particular church, has made such a study of the Bible that he can repeat any passage in it, from Genesis to Revelation, and state where it is found.

He was eighteen years committing the Bible to memory. His object in doing so was not for the purpose of arguing Scripture or of making a display of his wonderful knowledge along that line, but simply for his own benefit and his love for the holy word.

THE WEATHER

FAIR

The storm of Saturday night and Sunday apparently cleared the way for a period of beautiful spring weather. Yesterday was fine, although the temperature did not get above 50 deg. Today is clear, bright and fairly warm and the weather man promises a continuation of the conditions.

Beautiful weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 5:11 and it will set at 7:03, giving thirteen hours and fifty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The Eastern disturbance has remained stationary over Lake Erie for the last twenty-four hours. In the meantime it caused a continuance of rain or snow over Lakes Erie and Ontario, the Ohio valley and North Atlantic states. The Western Canada depression is central over Alberta. During the past twenty-four hours it caused warmer weather in the Missouri valley, the Rocky mountains and southwestern states and the development of rain in Washington, Oregon and Northern California. The barometer is high over West Gulf states and off the California coast.

"Fair weather is indicated for the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

Following were the maximum temperatures for twenty-four hours and the minimum for twelve, ending at 7 a. m. today:

McKinley's Dying Prayer.

James Creelman's "On the Great Highway:" In the afternoon of his last day on earth the president began to realize that his life was slipping away, and that the efforts of science could not save him. He asked Dr. Rixey to bring the surgeons in. One by one the surgeons entered and approached the bedside. When they were gathered about him the president opened his eyes and said:

"It is useless, gentlemen; I think we ought to have prayer."

The dying man crossed his hands on his breast and half closed his eyes. There was a beautiful smile on his countenance. The surgeons bowed their heads. Tears streamed from the eyes of the white-clad nurses on either side of the bed. The yellow radiance of the sun shone softly in the room.

"Our Father which art in Heaven," said the president in a clear, steady voice.

The lips of the surgeons moved.

"Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done——."

The sobbing of a nurse disturbed the still air. The president opened his eyes and closed them again.

"Thy will be done in earth as it is in Heaven."

A long sigh. The sands of life were running swiftly. The sunlight died out, the rain drops dashed against the windows.

"Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil."

Another silence. The surgeons looked at the dying face and friendly lips.

"For Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, forever. Amen."

"Amen," whispered the surgeons.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Taken From the Columns of The Herald of This Date, 1890.

Graduates of the University of Minnesota will meet at Steinway hall tonight and organize an alumni association. Arrangements will be made for the first annual banquet on May 9.

TheDuluth Gas & Water company has just completed, near Garfield avenue on Rice's Point, one of the largest and best appointed gas manufacturing plants in the Northwest. The total cost of the improvements at the new works has been a trifle over $150,000. The commercial holders has a capacity of 200,000 feet. The company now has nearly thirty miles of gas mains laid, and the daily consumption of gas is about 60,000 feet. Gas first made in Duluth in 1883. It is expected the new plant will suffice for many years to come. The machinery was all built by Bartlett, Hayward & Co. of Baltimore, and their expert, Archibald Smith, has been in charge of installing it. In a few weeks everything will be running smoothly. Then the old and odoriferous gashouse on East Superior street will be demolished and all manufacturing done at the new works.

W. T. Bailey says: "The street car service is abominable, and the cars themselves are worse. Why, I rode down street yesterday in a car with seven ladies and although they were talking all the time, the old car rattled so I couldn't hear a thing. They said. A street car company that will allow its rattling old vehicles to interfere with a man's pleasure like that should be suppressed.

The Saturday club gave its second musical program from Mendelssohn's works at Steinway hall. Those who took part were: Mrs. Thwing, Mrs. Woodbridge, Miss Hopkins, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Loman, Mrs. Howe, Mrs. Matter, Miss Cullyford, Mrs. Stocker, Miss Tyler and Mrs. Wardwell. The program committee consisted of Mrs. Dinwoodie, Mrs. Matter and Mrs. Day.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

Colossus.

Roseau Region: Theodore Roosevelt made Africa alive for a season; he withdrew, and now the continent has receded to its former obscurity. The other day he struck Rome and touched up the pope, achieving the distinction of being the first man who ever got out of a church squabble a hero. Measuring him as a man, he stands head and shoulders above every other mortal in this and any other country.

Same Over Here.

Greenbush Tribune: President Taft does not seem to like Indiana since the Republicans of that state refused to indorse the "best tariff ever," and will not take in that state on his contemplated tour through the West. If he leaves out Indiana he might as well leave out Minnesota also, as we do not have any greater liking for that law than the "Hoosiers" have.

Wants to be Shown.

Roseau Times: Until the Republican state convention shall have met and pronounced a platform, the independent Republican voter will refrain from committing himself. The success of the party in the state depends upon the platform adopted.

Horrible Possibility!

Red Lake Falls Gazette: What if some of the standpat candidates for state office should refuse to accept the nomination in the event the Minnesota Republicans neglect to indorse the Aldrich bill? The possibilities make us shudder.

His Candidacy Well Received.

Eveleth News: Either by direct reference or by implication, the range press has put its stamp of approval on Mayor Smith's candidacy for state treasurer, and the Duluth press and people are said to be equally favorable. With a solid delegation from this county and the aid of neighboring counties, offered by influential men residing therein, it would seem to be an easy matter for him to land at the state convention, if his interests are properly handled at the convention—and his manager-to-be has the reputation, statewide, of being one of the most astute and successful politicians in Minnesota.

People Want Results.

Gary Graphic: The fact that Milwaukee elected a Socialist mayor does not prove or indicate that the country is going Socialistic, but is a reminder to the old parties that if the voters do not get what is rightly due them, they will go to the extremes.

And Taft Is Taking It.

St. Peter Herald: Just now the shortest cut to political unpopularity is to indorse "the best tariff ever passed."

Holding Their Own.

Cleveland Leader: Two tired tourists were tramping in Switzerland. They were on their way to Interlaken, where they proposed to dine and pass the night. Late in the afternoon, when hunger and fatigue began to make walking unpleasant, they accosted a farmer.

"How far is it," they asked, "to Interlaken?"

"Two miles," was the reply.

They walked hopefully on. A half hour passed. Interlaken was not yet in sight. So, seeing another farmer in a field, they shouted to him:

"Are we near Interlaken?"

"Keep straight forward," the farmer shouted back; "it's just two miles."

The tired, hungry tourists trudged on again. Another half hour passed, and still no Interlaken.

"Is Interlaken very far from here?" they asked a third farmer.

"No, gentlemen," said the farmer. "It is only two miles."

Then the tourists looked at one another, and the younger sighed and exclaimed:

"Well, thank goodness, we're holding our own, anyhow."

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "These confounded mergers are absorbing everything," cried the disgruntled householder, as he tossed the paper aside.

"Yes, George," said his observant wife, "one of them has even brought together those scattered bald spots on your defenseless head."

Catholic Standard and Times: Holmes—You've got a Morris chair at your house, I suppose?

Henpeck—Yes.

Holmes—Great for comfort; don't you enjoy it?

Henpeck—I do when I get a chance, but Martha's cat usually beats me to it.

St. Louis Star: Mrs. De Swell (sarcastically)—Your husband has never spent any time travelling through Europe, has he?

Mrs. Plainface—No, John has never been indicted.

Life: He—It looks to me as if McCrabbe intends to discharge the butler.

She—How much nicer it would be if the butler could discharge McCrabbe.

Washington Star: "All I got for my trouble was a 'thank you,'" said the man who begrudges friendly effort.

"You're lucky," replied the billionaire philanthropist. "I'm expected to say 'thank you' to people who find me a suitable method of giving my money away."

Puck: Crawford—Don't you miss the theater, living out here in this one-horse town?

Suburbs—Why, man, we see plays here that you never see in New York!

Birmingham Age-Herald: "Do you know that there are millions of germs on a dollar bill?"

"So I've heard, but if they expect to transfer themselves from the bill to me while it is in my possession, they'll have to step lively."

Cleveland Leader: Him—Why on earth do the poets always speak of 'wine and women' together?

Her—I'm sure I don't know. It isn't very complimentary.

Of course not. Wine improves with age and—"

Louisville Courier-Journal: "I am satisfied with your account of my discovery," declared the scientist.

"Well?" said the reporter.

"You didn't try."

Philadelphia Record: The Rev. Dr. Putemtosleep — Deacon Goodleigh walked right out of the church in the middle of the sermon. I wonder if I offended him?

QUESTION OF FINANCES

Board Has No Funds to Build Addition to Oneota School.

New Teachers Are Elected for the Coming School Year.

The question of building an addition to the Oneota school still hangs in the balance. L. A. Barnes attempted to have the matter definitely settled at last night's special meeting of the board of education, but he was unsuccessful, as the committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds was not ready to report finally on the matter and the members of the board did not feel like taking action without a committee report.

A big delegation of citizens from the Oneota district was present at the meeting and G. W. Pierson submitted their claims to the board in much the same terms he had used at a previous meeting. He said the district is growing rapidly, the school is not in fit condition for housing children and that something should be done immediately.

"Before you build any school up on the hill, you should build an addition to and thoroughly overhaul the Oneota school," he said. "We are entitled to it and we will have it."

Mr. Magner, speaking as a member of the committee on maintenance of buildings and grounds, told the delegation that in his opinion no addition could be built to the Oneota school this year, nor could any building be erected up on the hill above the Oneota district. Lack of funds, he said, would prevent the board from doing any extensive work. The committee will probably recommend that about $3,000 be spent in repairing and remodeling the school, but no further expense would be incurred at this time, he said.

Mr. Barnes said that in his opinion the addition is absolutely necessary.

"We have been fooling long enough bringing delegates up here and talking over this thing," he said. "I want to know what the board is going to do about it. I want to know what the status of the matter is."

Mr. Barnes moved that the addition be built according to the plans prepared, but Dr. Boyer objected to the motion, saying that the committee should be allowed to report. He settled the matter for last night by moving an adjournment.

The board last night accepted the resignation of two teachers and elected a number of new teachers, on recommendation of the committee on teachers and schools. Jessie W. and Maude M. Nichols, former teachers granted leave of absence, were placed on the staff for the coming year. Miss Nellie C. Brown of the C. C. Salter school was re-elected. Miss Georgia Everest was made assistant in the drawing department and Florence Gaumnitz was elected teacher of domestic science at the Bryant school. Delia R. Widing and Lizzie Crosby were elected teachers in the grades and Mabel Culkin was elected a teacher in the kindergarten department.

Twenty-one new teachers were elected, some being normal graduates and some being teachers of experience. Supt. Denfeld told the board that all of the teachers in the list were highly recommended or are known to him personally. He said that fifty or sixty additional teachers will be required next year to fill vacancies that are constantly occurring and to fill new places on the staff.

Following are the teachers elected last night:

Carrie A. Hayden, Fanny D. Mayers, Abbie Gudmundson, Jessie Todd, Pearl Eleviten, Sophia Schulte, Winifred Leonard, Alida Slattengren, Florence McKay, Elsie Overman, Hulda Johnson, Margaret Ireland, Emily Lakin, Alma B. Christopher, Mildred Douthitt, Helen M. Sprague, Ida A. Cooley, Minnie Sellhorn, Clara Routheau, Eliza J. Remfry, Anna C. Johnson.

The board received a communication from Andrew J. Waggatt, auditor's county examiner, in which he informed the board that he had completed an examination of the books and records of the district. He said that everything was found in good condition, the only irregularities being the purchase by the board of a few articles from firms in which members of the board were interested.

A detailed report on the examination will be submitted to the board by the examiner later.

L. C. Harris, who was elected at the last meeting of the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John J. Moe from the board, was present at last night's meeting. He was welcomed by the other members of the board and took an active part in the proceedings.

Dr. Boyer wants a checking system to insure that the orders of the board are carried out. He took the initiative last night in a move which resulted in the committee on schools being instructed to devise some sort of a checking system by which it will be possible to determine whether instructions or orders given by the board at one meeting have been carried out by the next meeting.

WANT UNIFORM INSURANCE LAW

State Commissioners Adopt Resolution at Chicago Meeting.

Chicago, April 20.—At a meeting here of insurance commissioners from a dozen states and officials of insurance companies from all parts of the country, a proposed uniform state law to regulate fraternal insurance societies was adopted. It is proposed to present the bill for adoption by every state legislature. Among the features of the bill are:

"All fraternal insurance societies after Jan. 1, 1912, shall collect assessments based on standard tables of mortality; each society will make an annual valuation of its business and publish it for the benefit of policy holders; when a society has secured liabilities in excess of its assets, it shall be placed in the hands of a receiver and deferred payments are to be included in its liabilities."

Hartigan in Attendance.

Besides representatives from 181 fraternal insurance companies there were present R. F. Folk of Nashville, Tenn., chairman of the meeting; John A. Hardison of Massachusetts, Joseph Button of Virginia and Deupties H. T. Tapleton and H. B. Hadley of New York.

TAFT TURNS DOWN BURTON'S MAN

Washington, April 20.—President Taft has nominated Albert E. Gale for postmaster at Lima, Ohio. Gale was indorsed for the office by Senator Dick and the county committee. William A. Campbell, the incumbent had been previously nominated by the president on recommendation of Senator Burton, but the president withdrew his name at the same time he sent that of Mr. Gale to the senate. Senator Dick and the county committee had opposed the reappointment of Mr. Campbell.

FATAL RIOT IN BOARDING HOUSE

Dinner Bell, Pistol and Stone Figure as Weapons in Fight.

Welch, W. Va., April 20.—One man killed outright, another dying, still another seriously injured and a woman in a precarious condition, is the net result of a quarrel started in a boarding house in this town, presided over by the woman victim.

John Jones, a former boarder, had been warned several times by Mrs. C. Cleek to stay away from her house. Shortly after noon he appeared at the house and an altercation ensued with the woman. A. G. Taylor, who was staying at the house, sided with Mrs. Cleek and this infuriated Jones, who, grasping a dinner bell, pounded Taylor over the head with it. Mrs. Cleek immediately procured a revolver and shot Jones, killing him instantly.

Shortly afterward Jones' son, Lewis, entered the boarding house and hit Mrs. Cleek with a huge stone, fracturing her skull. Taylor then secured the weapon used by Mrs. Cleek and opened fire on young Jones, one bullet penetrating above the heart, and the local physicians say he cannot recover.

J. P. Jones, a relative of the dead man, then interfered and was shot through the arm by Taylor. Taylor has disappeared.

WILLS HUSBAND MILLION DOLLARS

Mrs. Margaret Graves Leaves Estate Valued at About $6,451,700.

New York, April 20.—Bequests exceeding $200,000 to local charitable and relief institutions under the will of Mrs. Margaret J. P. Graves, were announced with the filing of the appraiser's reports showing her estate to be worth $6,451,700. Mrs. Graves was the widow of Robert Graves, whom she married about a year before her death on May 20, 1909. Her first husband was James S. Plant, founder of the Plant railroad and steamship lines. She inherited from him about $6,500,000 after contesting his will which sought to leave her an income of only $30,000 a year. Her second husband received more than $1,000,000 by her will and two nephews received about $800,000 each.

MARRIED IN HOSPITAL.

Bridegroom Is Taken Sick on Day of Wedding at Washington.

Washington, April 20.—Henry Lindenkohl, a young mechanical engineer from the American Locomotive company, came here from Pittsburg Monday to marry Miss Edith Everbach of Washington. Yesterday he was rushed from his hotel to Garfield Memorial hospital, stricken with typhoid fever, and the wedding arrangements were set all awry.

The bride entreated the surgeons to relax discipline long enough to have the ceremony performed, so the flowers and the gifts were hustled out to the hospital. The relatives of both bride and groom, with a few nurses and a clergyman, crowded into the room which will be the bridegroom's chamber for several weeks at least, and the invalid responded to the usual questions in a firm voice.

The new Mrs. Lindenkohl departed tearfully. The groom will get well if nothing happens, the surgeon says.

BUDGET IS RETURNED TO THE PARLIAMENT.

London, April 20.—David Lloyd-George, chancelor of the exchequer, reintroduced last year's budget in the house of commons yesterday. He declared that he realized that the present deficit of $121,240,000 would be more than wiped out when all arrears had been collected and that there would be an actual surplus of $14,800,000. If the budget had been passed as usual last year, he said, there would have been a surplus of $21,000,000.

The chancellor commented upon the remarkable decrease of 32 per cent in the consumption of whisky, which decrease he attributed mainly to the extra duty imposed. The loss in the revenue from spirits as compared with the estimated figures was $14,000,000.

GOLD DUST Makes Hard Water as Soft as Rainwater

Every good housewife knows the value of nice, soft rain-water for washing clothes and for all cleansing purposes. It isn't always convenient to secure rain-water, however. Neither is it necessary. Gold Dust will soften the hardest water, take out the mineral substances and make it so near like the water that falls from the clouds that you couldn't tell the difference.

Think what this means to you on wash-day. There's a deal of difference between the action of hard and soft water for all cleansing. Just a little Gold Dust added to the water renders it soft and brings out the greatest cleansing value.

Try it the next time you wash clothes or dishes. Gold Dust really cleanses so easily that it relieves housework of all its drudgery.

THE BATTLE OF BEETLES

Hot Sports From Old Canton Enjoy a Rare Bout.

Unique Sporting Event is Held in Duluth's Chinatown.

On the upper side of Superior street, just a little way from the old Masonic temple, Second avenue east and Superior street, lives Mung Chow. Yesterday evening Mung Chow asked a few of his friends in for a little sporting festivity, which Mung Chow had arranged without consulting the police, because the police didn't know anything about the sort of cattle royal that Mung Chow and Mung Chow's friends enjoy. The city ordinances neglect to say anything about fighting beetles, and the state laws are similarly negligent.

In a little room Mung Chow is puffing smoke from his forty-fifth cigarette into the atmosphere which is blue from several hundred other cigarettes which have been smoked. Mung Chow is in his Sunday clothes, and he and his friends are gathered about a little table. They make a place for a newspaper man, and the gladiators are trotted out.

Into an arena, which in its time has served its owner usefully as a rice bowl, are thrust two beetles, each about two inches long. One beetle has a red dot on a wing and the other has a blue dot. The Canton sports size up the contestants, and, after feeling of the beetles' mandibles by letting the bugs pinch their fingers, the excited spectators begin to post bets on their favorites. The red is heavily backed, but the blue walks sturdily around the smooth bottom of the bowl, and makes a good impression, and when the battle begins the odds are even.

After blundering clumsily around each other the red suddenly dashes at the blue with wide-open mandibles. The blue's mandibles are open too. They interlock and begin to tug at each other like two wrestlers. Mung Chow explains that the fighters are trying to get each other on their backs. Once a beetle is on his back, his seconds might as well throw the sponge into the ring, as he is at the mercy of his opponent.

In excited Cantonese the spectators post bets on whether the blue will let go first, whether the fight will last an hour. A bet is posted and covered. Will the blue first lose a leg? Another bet is made.

Wow! Did you see that? Blue has broken away from the red and Mung Chow points out that the blue has a nick in one of his mandibles. "Velly bad," says Mung Chow, who has bet a week's wages on the blue. Blue is clumsy no longer. He backs up the sloping side of the bowl with the red after him. They clinch and slide to the bottom. Red loses one of his strongest legs and blue is minus a right foot. The beetles grind their mandibles and scrape about on the porcelain floor. The battle rages. The red tries to attack the blue at an angle and is foiled. Wow! A bet is posted that the red won't last ten minutes longer, and is covered by owners of three thin cigarettes. Red is badly wounded, but he is still in the game. A beetle can live for days without air and the loss of a leg or two and a few nicks in his mandibles doesn't discourage him. Red rushes at blue as if he has his second wind. The battle rages again.

Now Chung is standing tense. The blue apparently is winning. Come on you blue; how Chung needs the money. The hour drags slowly to an end. Now the red is exhausted. He tries to climb the side of the bowl with his three legs for he has lost two more. The blue clambers painfully after him. Although battle scarred the blue is still full of fight. They fall down again to the center of the bowl. Finally the blue gets a perfect grip about the red's throat. His little mandibles go snip, snip, snip and the red's head is half severed from his body.

There is a babel of Cantonese and the losers pay their bets.

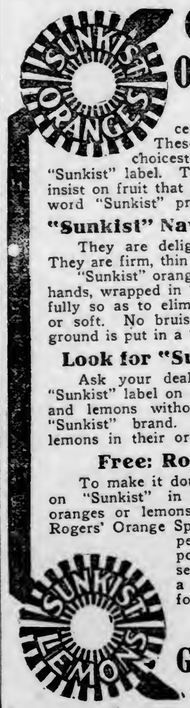
WOULD HAVE DONE THE SAME THING



Judge Regrets Necessity of Fining Prisoner for Assault.

Judge Windom was obliged under the law to find James Taylor guilty of assault yesterday afternoon, but he was sorry that he had to impose any fine for he stated that he would have done the same thing himself under the same circumstances.

It appears that Taylor called a striker named Kiely bad names in the West end. Taylor has been working for the Northern Pacific railway since the strike started last fall and Kiely is a striker who has been in trouble in the police court before under somewhat similar circumstances.

Taylor claimed that Kiely had been in the habit of calling him a "scab." Monday evening he says, that when he met him at Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street, he began to scratch his wrist, which is synonomous with calling the word "scab." Taylor, it was alleged, told him to "cut it out," whereupon Kiely became abusive.

"If Kiely called you the name he said he did," said Judge Windom, "I don't blame you. I would have knocked his head off." Whereupon he said he had to find Taylor guilty, but imposed only a fine of $1 and costs, the minimum under the Minnesota statutes.

CAN THEY MAKE MAXWELL TALK?

House Members Will Discuss Question in Executive Session.

Washington, April 20.—Report to the house on the recalcitrancy of John M. Maxwell of Indianapolis, who refused to answer questions as to his source of information for charges made in the Merchant Marine league's organ, the American Flag, reflecting on members of congress, hinges on the result of an executive session which the ship subsidy investigation committee will hold today. This was decided upon after Maxwell's counsel raised the question of the power of congress to force answers in such a proceeding.

Secretary John H. Penton of the league, recalled as a witness, testified that for the last year he had drawn compensation at the rate of $7,200 a year, that he stood responsible for the American Flag, but regretted some of the undignified characterizations in the November issue. Maxwell edited that number. Penton had differed with the editor on the subject. He recalled some of the contributions to the league, including $5,000 or $6,000 from former Governor Herrick of Ohio, and a check from John Hays Hammond.

Copies Sent to Minnesota.

He said the league had paid the Texas Farmer and other papers for copies containing matter favorable to the league's propaganda, and that such practice was not uncommon. Four hundred copies of the American Flag were sent into Steenerson's district, he said, without any particular motive, and he had similarly sent copies to many other districts. The league had paid part of the expenses of former Representative Landis of Indiana on a Chautauqua trip and of former Representative McCleary of Minnesota on a speaking tour. Questions as to whether the executive committee of the league knew or approved of the publications and letters sent out by him, he said the committee left him full authority except on matters of general policy. He resumed responsibility for a letter sent into the district of Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, in which the latter was referred to as guilty of falsehood. The committee will resume Thursday.

Prepares System For Hot Weather

Remarkable Results of Robinson "Thermal" for Rheumatism, Nervous Breakdown, Kidney Trouble, Skin and Other Diseases.

Does What No Drug on Earth Can Do.

The results produced by a Robinson "Thermal" Bath inside of 30 minutes are almost beyond belief. Physicians everywhere are changing from drugs to thermal baths in the treatment of many diseases.

It has been found, for instance, in the case of rheumatism, that uric acid in the blood can be extracted from the system completely in a few days' time.

Eczema can be completely cured within a week.

After one or two thermal baths, nervous wrecks find the change to strength and vigor hard to realize.

Similar results are obtained in cases of kidney trouble, neuralgia, pimples, all skin diseases, throat and lung trouble, insomnia, constipation, lumbago and bad colds.

This is to certify that the undersigned, a resident of Newton, Iowa, was afflicted for twenty-one years with asthma, heart trouble, kidney trouble and rheumatism. I had taken everything known to medical science, together with three seasons at Mineral Springs, without receiving relief. I commenced taking the Thermal Baths in the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinet four years ago and was completely cured. I continue the baths every week in preference to water baths for keeping clean. L. B. WESTBROOK, Newton, Iowa.

It is now possible for any man or woman to have Robinson Thermal Baths at home with hardly any trouble at all, and at a cost of only a few cents.

Whatever your disease or ailment, get a Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinet, and you will not only cure yourself quickly but realize as you never did before what real vigor and health are.

The best remedy for sluggish blood and spring fever.

The Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets are on exhibition and for sale in Duluth at A. E. Swedberg, White Swan Drug Co., Lyceum Pharmacy, Lenox Drug store—2 stores, W. A. Abbett—3 stores, A. C. SYSTEM IS ELABORATE

No Hit-Or-Miss Methods Employed in Taking the Census.

Close Check Kept on Enumerators By Supervisor and Inspectors.

The taking of the United States census is not a haphazard proposition. Hit-or-miss methods may be used in some other branches of government work, but not in the census, for that department has about as symstematic a set of methods as one could find in a long day's journey.

In the central office of the census for Duluth, Supervisor Hollister and Assistant Supervisor Allen are working day and night keeping the system going. A check is kept on every enumerator and on every person. Inspectors are out in the different districts watching that enumerators miss nobody. The crews of boats and the guests at hotels and lodging houses are being enumerated just the same as the regular residents of the city.

There are three card index systems in use at the office of the supervisor. In one the daily reports of the enumerators, showing the number of hours worked and the number of names taken, are filed away. In the second system vacant houses are checked up, so that moving people are not missed en route from one house to another. In the third system information is filed relative to people who are out of the city temporarily, or who are going out for a few days, so that the fact that there is nobody home when the census enumerator calls will not result in the family being left off the books.

The work of taking the census is running along smoothly enough. Little trouble is being experienced by the enumerators, people generally showing a knowledge of the census and its purposes and a disposition to aid the enumerators.

Some of the enumerators in the city are already approaching the end of their work. Some of the smaller districts will be covered by the end of this week and it will be possible for the supervisor to close up the work in them. All next week enumerators will be making their final reports, and it is expected that no trouble will be experienced in completing the work in the city within the time allowed.

PRICE OF ALL FOOD PRODUCTS SEEM TO BE DUE FOR DECLINE

logging operations came to an abrupt end much sooner than usual and a heavy consumptive outlet was thus removed. No. 1 timothy is selling to the jobber at $12.50., compared with a high price of $16 in the last year. No. 2 timothy is about $2 under, which reflects the weak state of the hay market. When the demand is good the spread between No. 1 and No. 2 is close, sometimes the margin being considerably under a dollar.

Cheaper hay and cheaper grain prices will enable the stock grower to feed cheaper. This should result eventually in cheaper meats. This rule will work out particularly in instances when stock is purchased in the country's packing centers and is re-shipped to the country to be fattened. A large percentage of stock sent to packing centers is bought for re-shipment to the country. In some years buyers and stockmen have bid up the market against each other and when they had fattened their stock on high priced feed they found that the market had declined, much to their discomfiture.

Beef cattle in the last month have just about held at a firm level. The high prices in March have not been topped in April. Hogs are a trifle off, although still unusually high. There has been a break in the entire provision list.

Potatoes are lower than in many years. Wholesale prices are from 40 to 50 per cent less than last fall. Farmers held on to their supplies until the winter or spring market and now they are glad to get rid of their stock at any price. A year ago potatoes were wholesaling around $1 a bushel. Now the price is from 30 to 32 cents and these quotations are frequently shaded. Beans and other staples are also cheaper.

The crop outlook is excellent. There is every indication that the crops of 1910, with the possible exception of the fruit crop, will be bumper yields. While a return to the unusually low prices that prevailed ten or twenty years ago undoubtedly will not be approached, yet the prices of food to consumers will be considerably lower during the next year than in the last twelve or eighteen months, it is confidently expected.

up. It was used very little, but during the recent hobby exhibition at the department they demonstrated it to those who were interested. We did not know that it was interfering with the commercial stations, but as soon as we did we so informed the boys and the station has been done away with. That is all I know about the matter."

Boys Make Trouble.

There are several stations about Duluth conducted by amateurs and an effort is being made by the manager of the United Wireless company, F. G. Moe, to have them discontinued. He says that they interfere greatly with the messages. None of the outfits in use by Duluth boys have been constructed by themselves. They are made usually of cigar boxes and have power to carry about a half mile. Nevertheless they are capable of making trouble for the local station of the United Wireless company.

It seems that lately messages have been greatly delayed on account of the amateur stations.

As all messages are handled in code there is no objection on the part of the officials of the United Wireless company to the boys using their receiving apparatus, the principal objection being the boys sending their sending often interfering with the station while important messages are being received.

There are several amateur outfits in the city and Mr. Moe is making an effort to get the boys to give them up. There is at the present time a bill before congress which, if passed, will require all the operators to register and secure a license. The bill, if it becomes a law, will prohibit any operator interfering with messages not meant for him.

In erecting stations, in many cases, the amateur does not take into consideration the chance of fire from defective wiring or from lightning. The general property risk, not only to the building housing the apparatus, but to surrounding property as well, is greatly increased.

HAS PROOF TO THROW AWAY

cluded tonight after being in progres three days.

Several of the witnesses asked to appear have been notified that they will not be needed.

The hearing was resumed this morning with the expectation that the relation of cooling plants in St. Louis to the high price of meats will be one of the points considered during the day.

Competition Is Fictitious.

The high price of meat is due partly to fictitious competition, binding for cattle on the market between buyers regularly employed by the Swift, Armour and Morris interests and buyers employed by the National Packing company, which is controlled by the interests, according to testimony by A. N. Benn, vice president of the St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co. To this competition between concerns ostensibly rivals, but really under the same control, the witness specifically attributed the recent price of $11.15 for hogs.

The benefit of this policy, which raises the cost price of raw material for the meat companies, is explained by the investigators as producing an illusion of competition in the eyes of the public.

HOFFSTOT IS EXTRADITED

fense announced that a new trial would be asked.

Assistant District Attorney Warren I. Seymour says that the "immunity bath" is still open to those "small councilmen" who will appear at the district attorney's office and tell all they know of the graft syndicate.

The chief witness for the commonwealth of the Swift trial was John F. Klein, whose confession was the wholesale exposure. The verdict becomes an important one for the prosecution because it indicates whether the district attorney may rely on the confessions of Klein as the mainstay in the prosecution in the other cases.

Illness Plea Fails.

Immediately after the Swift case had been disposed of, that of former Councilman A. V. Simon was called, but his counsel pleaded illness of his client and asked for a continuation. Seymour unexpectedly called a physician who said he had examined Simon at noon and there was no need for him to remain in bed and that he was not seriously ill.

sation act, a parcels post and a postal savings bank.

The Democrats acknowledge that one of the many factors in the political sentiment was a personal issue raised by Mr. Aldridge's record as a party boss, and evidence presented at the recent fire insurance investigation. Mr. Aldridge acknowledged that he received a $1,000 check from Elijah Kenedy, an agent of the fire insurance companies, but denied that he benefited personally by the treansfer. He declared that he turned the money into the treasury of the Republican organization.

This so-called moral issue was taken up by the churches and no less than twenty clergymen announced themselves in Havens' favor. Mr. Aldridge's defense was that his record stood for itself. Outside of the district he received little if any assistance. Mr. Havens, on the other hand, was helped by the Democratic national committee, which sent here such speakers as Charles H. Hamlin of Massachusetts, former assistant secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland, and Eugene N. Foss, the newly elected congressman from the same state.

Election Was Quiet.

In spite of the excitement of the campaign, the election passed off quietly. Notwithstanding Democratic charges of illegal registration, there were no arrests.

The overturn in the city was from a Republican plurality of 6,215 in the last congressional election of 1908 to a plurality for Havens of 3,746. The towns which in 1908 went Republican by 2,392 gave Havens a plurality of 2,154.

The most remarkable Republican reverses occurred in some of the residence wards. The twelfth turned a Republican plurality of 1,452 into a Democratic plurality of 790.

The success of Havens probably means that he will be a candidate to succeed himself when his present term expires at the end of the year. The Democrats declare it means the end of Aldridge's hopes for elective office; but are not sanguine of their ability to shake his hold as political ruler of the county in internal affairs.

Talk About Governorship.

In the first flush of victory, the friends of Mr. Havens are already talking of Havens for governor this fall. Judging from the conservative tenor of the successful candidate's remarks, however, he accepts his victory as bearing little on the political situation in the state, except as regards the issue of "bossism."

"This is not wholly a partisan victory," said Havens. "It is a victory over the things for which Cannon has stood and for the ideals which Governor Hughes typifies."

The Hughes Republicans today declare that although Havens' election shows that the people of this district are dissatisfied with the tariff policy of the Republican national administration and with the political control of eGorge W. Aldridge, Havens' defeated opponent, it entrenches Governor Hughes and his policies more strongly than ever.

According to Mr. Havens, the high cost of living was mainly responsible for yesterday's political revolution.

Belittled by Republicans.

Washington, April 20.—Although the Democratic members of congress claim the Rochester election is a party triumph, indicative of Democratic victory at the polls throughout the country in November, the Republicans hold that the personal sides of the two candidates were the leading factors in the result. They declared the tariff issue was of minor importance compared with the fact that Havens was running against a man who had acknowledged the receipt of a check for $1,000 from an agent of the fire insurance companies, and who was charged with being on the side of Woodruff and Barnes, as opposed to the Hughes administration in New York state.

These reasons, it was said, combined with the unpopularity in many quarters of the strong rule which Aldridge exercised over his party in the district, brought about his defeat. With no tariff question entering into the compaign, it was claimed by the Republican leaders, Aldridge would have lost.

the meeting was to develop the sentiment of the district.

Almost before the meeting was called to order, Dr. F. R. Moss of Rochester moved that a committee be appointed to suggest some man as a candidate against Tawney at the primary. As a result the following committe was appointed:

J. P. Hurley, Albert Lea; T. H. Kelly, Owatonna; Dr. F. R. Moss, Rochester; Ralph Prescott, Le Roy; Eugene Miller, St. Charles; O. M. Levang, Lanesboro, and G. W. Nottage. After a conference, this committee reported it had decided to make no recommendation as to the candidate at this time.

The report was adopted and seven of the executive committee, which will have charge of the campaign, were appointed as follows: J. P. Hurley, O. M. Levang, Thomas Kelly, G. W. Nottage, H. G. Palmer, Eugene Miller and D. B. Franklin.

This committee will meet often during the next few weeks, and in the end will have perfected its campaign and placed a man in nomination against Tawney at the primaries.

Who the nominee will be is, of course, uncertain. It was admitted by members of the committee after their conference that a number of men were considered, among them being Thomas Kelly, Thomas Frazer, J. P. Hurley and Milo Price of Owatonna.

It can be stated positively that the candidate will be Dr. Price, provided he can be induced to make the race. There is a great unanimity of belief that he is the man best fitted to make the fight.

YOUTH KILLS BROTHER.

Tragedy Marks Return of Chippewa Falls Man From Hunt.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 20.—Leslie Thompson, aged 10 years, shot and instantly killed his brother Lloyd, aged 7 years.

Quia Thompson, their father, had been hunting. Returning home for dinner he placed the loaded rifle in a corner. After dinner Leslie picked up the gun, not thinking it was loaded, and aimed it at his brother, who stood outside on the front porch.

Saying "look out; I am going to shoot you," he pulled the trigger. The bullet crashed through the glass door and struck Lloyd Thompson in the left eye, penetrating the skull.

Mrs. Thompson saw her son raise the gun and tried to prevent him, but was too late.

Thompson, a prominent merchant of Rockford, Minn., while driving an automobile in North Minneapolis Sept. 16 last. The day was taken up with the selection of a jury.

STATE OFFICERS PROTEST AGAINST RAILROAD BILL.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—Governor Eberhart, Attorney General Simpson and the three members of the state railroad and warehouse commission, have telegraphed Congressman Stevens and the other Minnesota representatives in congress, protesting against the elimination of the state's right to regulate railroads in the administration bill now before congress.

The company will keep the fountain supplied from the private artesian well at the brewery until such time as the city can supply the fountain with potable water.

Mine Superintendent Killed.

Butte, Mont., April 20.—Michael Joy, superintendent of the Diamond mine, was killed Monday when a drill fell down a shaft, striking him on the head. His corpse bounded down the shaft a distance of 1,600 feet, being so mutilated that two hours' time was necessary to gather up the fragments of the body clinging to the sides of the shaft.

Give Your Stomach A Chance

To Furnish the System the Necessary Fluids to Drive Dyspepsia From the Stomach.

A Trial Package Free.

You should give to your stomach the chemicals it needs to restore tone vigor and health to the gastric fluids.

Food contains all these ingredients so necessary, and when the stomach is in a normal condition it separates these ingredients as it should and manufactures its own digestive agents, but when it is sick and sore, filled with acids and alkalies that irritate everything they come in contact with, it does not get at the food as it should and cannot make its own juices correctly.

Science has proven just what is most necessary to the stomach to produce the correct gastric fluids and to make of digestion a naturally pleasant duty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so made as to give the stomach the highest chemical properties to aid digestion. These tablets are made up from pure fruit and vegetable essences, and this is the formula: Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Lactose, Nux, Aseptic Pepsin (the highest digestive known), and Jamaica Ginger. Its preparation peculiarly preserves the full strength of these ingredients so that they go into the stomach strong and capable of digesting food of any character. Forty thousand physicians use and prescribe them. Ask your doctor his opinion of the formula above. Every druggist sells them. price 50 cents per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

SYSTEM IS ELABORATE

No Hit-Or-Miss Methods Employed in Taking the Census.

Close Check Kept on Enumerators By Supervisor and Inspectors.

The taking of the United States census is not a haphazard proposition. Hit-or-miss methods may be used in some other branches of government work, but not in the census, for that department has about as systematic a set of methods as one could find in a long day's journey.

In the central office of the census for Duluth Supervisor Hollister and Assistant Supervisor Allen are working day and night keeping the system going. A check is kept on every enumerator and on every person. Inspectors are out in the different districts watching that enumerators miss nobody. The crews of boats and the guests at hotels and lodging houses are being enumerated just the same as the regular residents of the city.

There are two card index systems in use at the office of the supervisor. In one the daily reports of the enumerators, showing the number of houses worked and the number of names taken, are filed away. In the second system vacant houses are checked up, so that [illegible] from one house to another. Some of the smaller districts will be covered by the end of this week and it will be possible for the supervisor to close up the work in them. All next week enumerators will be making their final reports, and it is expected that no trouble will be experienced in completing the work in the city within the time allowed.

logging operations came to an abrupt end much sooner than usual and a heavy consumptive outlet was thus removed. No. 1 timothy is selling to the jobber at $12.50, compared with a high price of $16 in the last year. No. 2 timothy is about $2 under, which tells is the weak state of the hay market. When the demand is good the spread between No. 1 and No. 2 is close, sometimes the margin being considerably under a dollar.

Cheaper hay and cheaper grain prices will enable the stock grower to feed cheaper. This should result eventually in cheaper meats. This rule will work out particularly in instances when stock is purchased in the central packing centers and is reshipped to the country to be fattened. A large percentage of stock sent to packing centers is bought for reshipment to the country. In some years buyers and stockmen have bid on the market against each other and when they had fattened their stock on high priced feed they found that the market had declined, much to their discomfiture.

Beef cattle in the last month have just about held at a firm level. The high prices in March have not been topped in April. Hogs are a trifle off, although still unusually high. There has been a break in the entire provision list.

Potatoes are lower than in many years. Wholesale prices are from 10 to 40 per cent less than last fall. Farmers held on to their supplies until the winter or spring market and now they are glad to get rid of their stock at any price. A year ago potatoes were wholesaling around $1 a bushel. Now the price is from 30 to 72 cents and these quotations are frequently shaded. Beans and other staples are also cheaper.

The crop outlook is excellent. There is every indication that the crops of 1910, with the possible exception of the fruit crop, will be bumper yields. While a return to the unusually low prices that prevailed ten or twenty years ago admittedly will not be approached, yet the prices of food to consumers will be considerably lower during the next year than in the last twelve or eighteen months, it is confidently expected.

[illegible] with the commercial stations, but as soon as we did we so informed the boys and the station has been done away with. That is all I know about the matter.

Boys Make Trouble.

There are several stations about Duluth conducted by amateurs and an effort is being made by the manager of the United Wireless company, F. G. Moe, to have them discontinued. He says that they interfere greatly with the messages. None of the outfits in use by Duluth boys have been constructed by themselves. They are made usually of cheap materials and have power to carry about a half mile. Nevertheless they are rapidly making trouble for the local station of the United Wireless company.

It seems that lately messages have been greatly delayed on account of the amateur stations.

As all messages are handled in code there is no objection on the part of the officials of the United Wireless company to the boys using their receiving apparatus, the principal objection being to the boys sending their [illegible] often interfering with the station while important messages are being received.

There are several amateur outfits in the city and Mr. Moe is making an effort to get the boys to give them up. There is at the present time a bill before congress which if passed will require all the operators to register and secure a license. The bill, if it becomes a law, will prohibit any operator from interfering with messages not meant for him.

In erecting stations, in many cases, the amateur does not take into consideration the chance of fire from defective wiring or from lightning. The general property risk, not only to the building housing the apparatus, but to surrounding property as well, is greatly increased.

cluded tonight after being in progress three days.

Several of the witnesses asked to appear have been notified that they will not be needed.

The hearing was resumed this morning with the expectation that the re[illegible] lation of cooling plants in St. Louis to the high price of meats will be one of the points considered during the day.

Competition Is Fictitious.

The high price of meat is due partly to fictitious competition, bidding for cattle on the market between buyers regularly employed by the Swift, Armour and Morris interests and buyers employed by the National Packing company, which is controlled by the interests, according to testimony by A. N. Benn, vice president of the St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co. To this competition between concerns ostensibly rivals, but really under the same control, the witness specifically attributed the recent price of $11.15 for hogs.

The benefit of this policy, which raises the cost price of raw material for the meat companies, is explained by the investigators as producing an illusion of competition in the eyes of the public.

fense [illegible] to a new trial will be asked.

Assistant District Attorney Warren [illegible] says that the "immunity bath" is still open to those "small councilmen" who will appear at the district attorney's office and tell all they know of the graft syndicate.

The chief witness for the commonwealth in the Swift trial was John F. Klein, whose confession was the wholesale exposure. The verdict becomes an important one for the prosecution because it indicates whether the district attorney may rely on the confessions of Klein as the mainstay in the prosecution in the other cases.

Illness Plea Fails.

Immediately after the Swift case had been disposed of that of former Councilman A. V. Simon was called, but his counsel pleaded illness of his client and asked for a continuation. Seymour unexpectedly called a physician who said he had examined Simon at noon and there was no need for him to remain in bed and that he was not seriously ill.

sation act, a parcels post and a postal savings bank.

The Democrats acknowledge that one of the many factors in the political sentiment was a personal issue raised by Mr. Aldridge's record as a party boss, and evidence presented at the recent fire insurance investigation. Mr. Aldridge acknowledged that he received a $1,000 check from Elijah Kennedy, an agent of the fire insurance companies, but denied that he benefited personally by the transfer. He declared that he turned the money into the treasury of the Republican organization.

This so-called moral issue was taken [illegible] and no less than [illegible] announced themselves [illegible] Mr. Aldridge's [illegible] Hughes. Secretary [illegible] President Cleveland [illegible] newly elected [illegible] same state.

Election Was Quiet.

In spite of the excitement of the campaign the election passed off quietly, and notwithstanding Democratic charges of illegal registration there were no arrests.

The overturn in the city was from a Republican plurality of 6,217 in the last congressional election of 1908 to a plurality for Havens of 3,716. The towns which in 1908 went Republican by 2,402 gave Havens a plurality of 2,154.

The most remarkable Republican reverses occurred in some of the residence wards. The twelfth turned a Republican plurality of 2,652 into a Democratic plurality of 701.

The success of Havens probably means that he will be a candidate to succeed himself when his present term expires at the end of the year. The Democrats declare it means the end of Aldridge's hopes for elective office, but are not sanguine of their ability to shake his hold as political boss of the county internal affairs.

Talk About Governorship.

In the first flush of victory, the friends of Mr. Havens are already talking of Havens for governor this fall. Taking from the conservative tenor of the successful candidate's remarks, however, he accepts his victory as bearing little on the political situation in the state, except as regards the issue of "bossism."

"This is not wholly a partisan victory," said Havens. "It is a victory over the things for which Cannon has stood and for the ideals which Governor Hughes typifies."

The Hughes Republicans today declare that although Havens' election shows that the people of this district are dissatisfied with the tariff policy of the Republican national administration and with the political control of George W. Aldridge, Havens' defeated opponent, it entrenches Governor Hughes and his policies more strongly than ever.

According to Mr. Havens, the high cost of living was mainly responsible for yesterday's political revolution.

Belittled by Republicans.

Washington, April 20.—Although the Democratic members of congress claim the Rochester election is a party triumph, indicative of Democratic victory at the polls throughout the country in November, the Republicans hold that the personal sides of the two candidates were the leading factors in the result. They declared the tariff issue was of minor importance compared with the fact that Havens was running against a man who had acknowledged the receipt of a check for $1,000 from an agent of the fire insurance companies, and who was charged with being on the side of Woodruff and Barnes, as opposed to the Hughes administration in New York state.

These reasons, it was said, combined with the unpopularity in many quarters of the strong rule which Aldridge exercised over his party in the district, brought about his defeat. With no tariff question entering into the campaign, it was claimed by the Republican leaders, Aldridge would have lost.

Almost before the meeting was called to order, Dr. F. B. Moss of Rochester moved that a committee be appointed to suggest some man as a candidate against Tawney at the primary. As a result the following committee was appointed:

J. P. Hurley, Albert Lea; T. H. Kelly, Owatonna; Dr. F. B. Moss, Rochester; Ralph Prescott, Le Roy; Eugene Miller, St. Charles; O. M. Levang, Lanesboro, and G. W. Nottage. After a conference this committee reported it had decided to make no recommendation as to the candidate at this time.

The report was adopted and seven of the executive committee, which will have charge of the campaign, were appointed as follows: J. P. Hurley, O. M. Levang, Thomas Kelly, G. W. Nottage, H. G. Palmer, Eugene Miller and D. B. Franklin.

This committee will meet often during the next few weeks, and in the end will have perfected its campaign and placed a man in nomination against Tawney at the primaries.

Who the nominee will be is, of course, uncertain. It was admitted by members of the committee after their conference that a number of men were considered, among them being Thomas Kelly, Thomas Frazer, J. P. Hurley and Milo Price of Owatonna.

It can be stated positively that the candidate will be Dr. Price, provided he can be induced to make the race. There is a great unanimity of belief that he is the man best fitted to make the fight.

YOUTH KILLS BROTHER.

Tragedy Marks Return of Chippewa Falls Man From Hunt.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., April 20.—Leslie Thompson, aged 10 years, shot and instantly killed his brother Lloyd, aged 7 years.

Guy Thompson, their father, had been hunting. Returning home for dinner he placed the loaded rifle in a corner. After dinner Leslie picked up the gun, not thinking it was loaded, and aimed it at his brother, who stood outside on the front porch.

Saying "look out; I am going to shoot you," he pulled the trigger. The bullet crashed through the glass door and struck Lloyd Thompson in the left eye, penetrating the skull.

Mrs. Thompson saw her son raise the gun and tried to prevent him, but was too late.

WILD STORM RAGING OVER THE NORTH SEA.

Cuxhaven, April 20.—A wild storm is raging over the North Sea today. Shipping generally is harbor bound. The Holland steamer Nord Holland, a coaster, arrived here this afternoon in a damaged condition.

ST. PAUL AUTOMOBILIST TRIED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 20.—Walter H. Camp of St. Paul, manager of Twin City Wonderland, is on trial in the Hennepin county district court accused of manslaughter in the second degree. He is charged with striking and fatally wounding Mrs. Katherine Thompson, wife of Dr. R. Thompson, a prominent merchant of Rockford, Minn., while driving an automobile in North Minneapolis Sept. 16 last. The day was taken up with the selection of a jury.

STATE OFFICERS PROTEST AGAINST RAILROAD BILL.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—Governor Eberhart, Attorney General Simpson and the three members of the state railroad and warehouse commission, have telegraphed Congressman Stevens and the other Minnesota representatives in congress, protesting against the elimination of the state's right to regulate railroads in the administration bill now before congress.

PRESTON GOES DRY.

Preston, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a majority of eleven the people of this village yesterday voted the saloons out of existence. Two years ago the people favored license by fifty-two.

Brewery Gives Fountain.

La Crosse, Wis., April 20.—The Gund Brewing company has conveyed to La Crosse a triangular site, between the Morrison Coule road, Green bay and Ninth streets, upon which has been erected a monster iron fountain for man and beast. The company will keep the fountain supplied from the private artesian well at the brewery until such time as the city can supply the fountain with potable water.

Mine Superintendent Killed.

Butte, Mont., April 20.—Michael Joy, superintendent of the Diamond mine, was killed Monday, when a drill fell down a shaft, striking him on the head. His corpse bounded down the shaft a distance of 1,600 feet, being so mutilated that two hours' time was necessary to gather up the fragments of the body clinging to the sides of the shaft.

Give Your Stomach A Chance

To Furnish the System the Necessary Fluids to Drive Dyspepsia From the Stomach.

A Trial Package Free.

You should give to your stomach the chemicals it needs to restore tone vigor and health to the gastric fluids.

Food contains all these ingredients so necessary, and when the stomach is in a normal condition it separates these ingredients as it should and manufactures its own digestive agents, but when it is sick and sore, filled with acids and alkalies that irritate everything they come in contact with, it does not get at the food as it should and cannot make its own juices correctly.

Science has proven just what is most necessary to the stomach to produce the correct gastric fluids and to make of digestion a naturally pleasant duty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are so made as to give the stomach the highest chemical properties to aid digestion. These tablets are made up from pure fruit and vegetable essences, and this is the formula: Hydrastis, Golden Seal, Lactose, Nux, Aseptic Pepsin (the highest digestive known), and Jamaica Ginger. Its preparation peculiarly preserves the full strength of these ingredients so that they go into the stomach strong and capable of digesting food of any character. Forty thousand physicians use and prescribe them. Ask your doctor his opinion of the formula above. Every druggist sells them, price 50 cents per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

PLAN WATER CARNIVAL

Motor Boat Regatta May Be Combined With "Venetian Night."

Could Be Advertised Widely as Attraction for Summer Tourists.

R. W. Marshall, captain of the motor boat department of the Duluth Boat club, has suggested that the motor boat events be consolidated with the water carnival planned for the Head of the Lakes, and that any celebration that may have been planned for the Venetian night be held over until the motor boat events are pulled off.

Mr. Marshall is of the opinion that if the members of the club combined the motor boat regatta with the carnival idea, one of the greatest water events ever put on in this country could be held here. The suggestion to combine the motor boat races and the annual carnival is being considered by the officials of the boat club.

If the plan was taken up, it is very probable that the business men of the city would be asked to work in harmony with the officials of the motor boat department. The carnival was planned for the advertisement of the city, and if a motor boat regatta were held with it, it would be one of the most unique attractions offered tourists any place in this country.

KELLY WILL KEEP BREEN

Former Duluth Third Baseman Will Be Retained By St. Paul Team.

Despite the fact that Breen has not been playing regularly on the St. Paul team, there is little likelihood that the youngster will be cast adrift by genial Mike Kelly.

A number of travelling men, who are staunch fans, have stated that it is very likely that Breen will win the third base position before the season is very old.

Kelly thinks so highly of the boy that he would not think of letting him get away from the club. At the present time Breen is being used as utility man, a position he is very well fitted for.

On the trip Breen did some catching for the team, and he has also gone into the outfield. Breen has also won fame as a pinch hitter.

With these sterling qualifications, it is hardly possible that Breen will come back to Class D company.

GOTHAM FANS ENJOY FINE WEATHER AT LAST.

New York, April 20.—Clear, bright weather this morning brought hope to the entnusiasts that New York was at last to have a chance to pry open the local National league baseball season. While it was realized that it was still April and that a sunny morning did not preclude possibilities of an afternoon deluge, the trend of fandom was early towards the polo grounds, where for two days the Giants have been training to get into action with the Bostons and have been prevented by rain. If the weather permits the teams will meet this afternoon with Wiltsie slated to go on the firing line for the locals.

Over in Brooklyn the local team will, weather permitting, fire the season's opening gun with the help of the Philadelphia National league team.

READY FOR OPENING AT PHILADELPHIA.

Philadelphia, April 20.—After three days of almost incessant rain the weather cleared sufficiently today to permit the American league ball season in this city to be opened by the Philadelphia and New York clubs.

The big crowd usually on hand on the opening day arrived early to see the opening ceremonies and watch the players go through their preliminary work.

A. J. Reach, one of the stars of the diamond more than a generation ago, will toss the first ball into the field.

Cub Pitcher Is Sold.

Chicago, April 20.—Z. Z. Hagerman, a pitcher who joined the Chicago Nationals last season, was sold yesterday to Louisville.

SOME NEW RULES OF BASEBALL.

There being a good deal of confusion and misunderstanding as to exactly what the proposed changes in the baseball playing rules for 1910 are, they are given briefly below:

The coacher's box has been altered to prevent the coach from getting nearer than fifteen feet of first base. The dead line runs through first and second bases.

The umpire must watch small points which have hitherto been subjects for complaint from captains, such as the discoloring of new balls. Last year in a game with Rochester, the Buffalo club used sandpaper.

The captains must notify the umpire of substitutes or changes in the positions of players and umpire must announce them to the crowd.

The captains must give the umpires the batting order list at the home plate before the game is called, and the players named must take part in the game.

If a player on the defense impedes or stops a batted ball by throwing a glove or mask at it, the runner gets three bases.

The umpire judging balls and strikes is the chief, his colleague guarding first and second bases only.

Every player gets an assist who assists in putting out a runner, even if he makes the putout himself. Thus he may get the credit for an assist and a putout at once.

The umpire may fine bench kickers and eject them for a second offense.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

Lily Pure White.

Magnate Kuehnow has ordered a pattern of uniform that will appeal immensely to those fair fans who have been in the habit of attending linen sales. The fabric of the baseball gown is of pure white, with the tiniest bit of blue woven into it. Dressed in such a uniform Darby O'Brien will look much like an Eva of a one-night-stand Uncle Tom's Cabin company in the big ascension act.

The very fact that Duluth and the other teams of the league—notice that "other"—are getting two uniforms, is a very good indication of the progress of the organization.

On the road the present season Duluth will have true blue uniforms. While at home the boys will be garbed in pure and lily white. It is believed by Mr. Kuehnow that the effect of the white uniforms will be a most salutary one—that the little band of white robed athletes will neither curse nor look upon the Pomeroy while it is sparkling.

If the white uniforms have no other effect upon the players than to make them stay in during the morning hours and wash their suits, it will prove quite worth the trial.

Failure at Fishing.

They do say that there was a dismal crowd of Walton worshippers coming down on the Iron Range train Sunday. From unbiased accounts there must have been almost 300 of the trout troublers. One man stated that there were not 200 dead trout in the entire assembled baskets.

These men were those of the staunch stamp of enthusiasts. They were among the first to run to the favorite streams, that neither you or I wot of. But fish as they undoubtedly did, standing there in all that slush, they were rewarded with but few bites.

It is a shame and a crime for the pessimistic weather man to hand the fishermen a weather lemon thus early in the game. Many of the disciples of the rod have looked long and anxiously for the fifteenth of the month. They went and came back empty-handed. There are better days coming, boys, so don't be discouraged.

An Earnest Soul.

Here is a little bit of appreciation. It is written around Mister "Ike" Ziegler.

There are many enthusiastic sportsmen at the Head of the Lakes, but there are none that have done more for sports in general here than "Ike."

He is one of the most enthusiastic shooters we have here, in this land of deer and ducks. Then he is one of those kind of fishermen who will sit by a stream all day and wait for the penitent nibble.

He is up on baseball and football. He is a fan and a fanatic. There is never an athletic show pulled off in this town that the beaming face of "Ike" is not present at it.

He has done much to boost amateur baseball and he has been one of the leading members of the gun club. Situated as he is, Mr. Ziegler has been able to do much for amateur and professional sports, and he has taken full advantage of the opportunity.

If there were more men of the stamp of "Ike," the Head of the Lakes would be the happy hunting ground of the sportsman Shame on Bill.

Do you all remember big "Bill" Lambert? He is at the present time a resident of Pine City, made somewhat famous by J. Adam Bede. Well, William is growing larger with the passing of time.

At the present time William jolts the scales at the terrific torture of 230 pounds. He is the same man who used to run niftily around the daisy patch of the Duluth grounds.

Some one asked sweet William why he did not take some exercise. He promptly answered that he did not have the time. The which is a warning to young men who enter the commercial paths.

Like the torture of a Spanish inquisition has the greed of commerce twisted the Apollo-like shape of gentle William. From the willowy lines of a sprightly young thing with thin and tapering calves has William expanded to a fellow with legs larger than Al. Wilson's.

Harry McCollum spoke harshly to William one day on the street, chiding him on his lack of form; yet has the commercial spirit attached itself so strong to William that he knows no more of the touch of the chest weight or the baseball bat.

Truly, brother, are the things of life speeding by us.

Happy Harry Hood.

Down La Crosse way there is a congenial spirit by the name of Hood. He wields a quill and writes entertainingly of the doings of baseballdom. They do say that Happy Harry has the first inside information that emanates from the throne room of King Elliott; however, he comes over with paragraphs of passing interest.

Mister Hood is such an enthusiast that he really has been persuaded that La Crosse will win the pennant. A man with the optimistic disposition of Harry should be made publicity agent of the city.

Harry's harmless hazards in regard to the finish of La Crosse are born of a pen steeped in the ink of ingrowing optimism. A lot of Harrys and the world would be shed of pessimistic peggers.

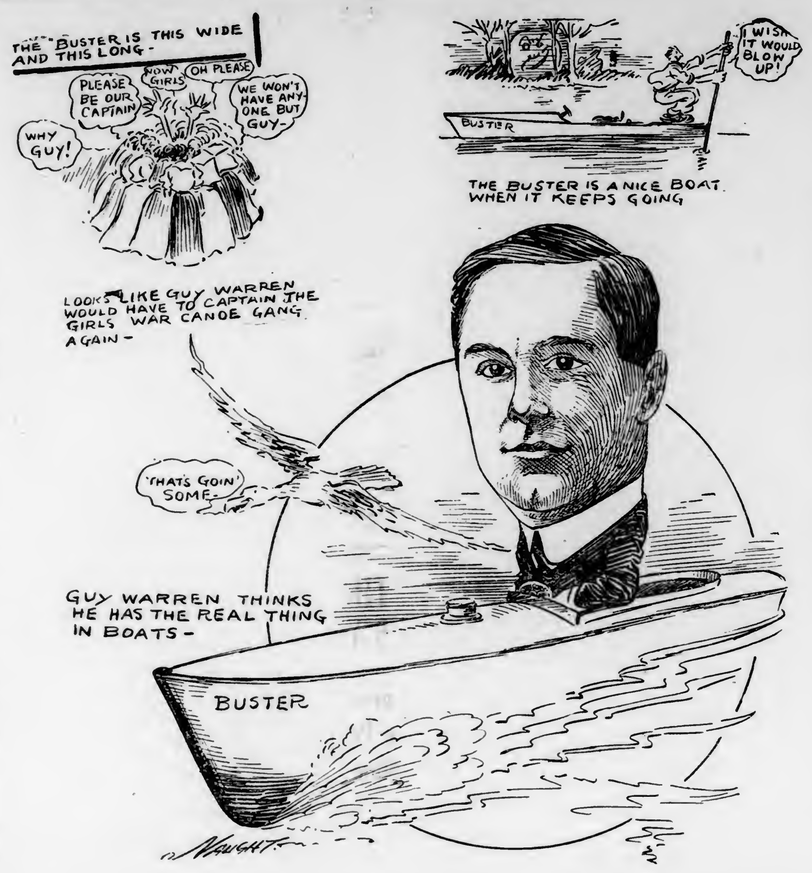
For Clean Sport.

With the holding of the motor boat regatta the present summer, and the chance that Duluth may secure an aviation meet, the name of this city has been talked of throughout the country.

There could be no better advertisement for Duluth than the holding of the aviation meet. Los Angeles was advertised throughout the world, simply by the holding of the meet of the air artists. Moving pictures also helped to advertise the city.

If Duluth secured two or three of the men who have made the art of riding on the wings of the air almost a practical business, the events in this city would be followed throughout the country. There is no event that could possibly place the name of the city on more tongues.

There is the chance that Duluth will secure the aviation meet, and if it is possible to secure the two men that Mr. Marshall is after, the business interests of the city should not hesitate in following the lead of Los Angeles, which has reaped a rich benefit of advertising from the holding of the meet.



There the entire city united in raising funds for the meet. If the meet is held here, it will probably be held under a similar plan. Since the meet would work the most good for the city, it would be appropriate that the meet be held under the auspices of the city.

Arranging Games.

Manager Bondy of the Central high school has arranged a game with Hibbing for April 30. Negotiations are being carried on at the present time for a game with Eveleth for Saturday.

The team has been practicing the present week and is in good condition.

DULUTH MOTOR BOAT OWNERS

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

Both Duluth and Superior are encountering the very worst kind of baseball weather. The weather here at home has been better than the brand of atmosphere that has been served up to the two clubs. Mr. Kuehnow stated yesterday that if the present weather should continue on the trip it was very likely that the team would come home and finish the working out process here.

Superior has struck a bad streak of weather and in the last few games the players have derived little benefit.

It looks as if Koepping were going to report to the Winona club. The playing of Koepping with Winona will cause trouble in the league. The whole incident has been unfortunate and it would have been better had the Dutchman been kept by Sioux City.

Kiilian has two or three second sack candidates and such a thing might be possible as Koepping not making the team.

Bourgeois will be the magnet of the Wausau outfield. The Frenchman is a brilliant gladdener and also a pinch hitter of rare ability. With two youngsters from Wisconsin to try for daisy patch positions, in addition to the cool Gascon, the Wausau outfield should show class.

Wausau warriors started working out yesterday and from Wausau reports the squad looks very good. Johnson, the star catcher, was one of the first of the squad to report.

Earl Cummings, the Duluth youngster, has received an offer from Rochester. The contract offered is a liberal one, but Cummings will not play professional baseball the present season, as he intends going to college next year. With the bright prospects ahead of the Duluth boy, his friends have advised him not to spoil his chances for college athletics.

Danny Kick, one of the smallest men in baseball, is the first Eau Claire player to report. The diminutive outfielder may be tried out in the infield the present season. The little man can play the first defense almost as well as he can play in the outfield.

Old Scout Zackert will not report to the Duluth team the present season. Just where the veteran will play, has not been decided upon at the present time. He played good baseball for Duluth last season, in every respect but slamming the pellet.

With so many candidates for the outfield, however, the club officials decided that Zackert could be dispensed with.

KLING WILL GO ON STAGE TO EARN FINE.

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—John Kling, the baseball catcher, will walk across the stage at a music hall in Chicago twice a day for one week beginning Monday next, in order that he may earn the $700 fine imposed upon him by the national baseball commission. In addition, Kling will report to Manager Chance of the Chicago National baseball club Sunday morning and will play out the season for the $4,500 salary offered him.

TRAINING FOR MEET.

Y. M. C. A. Athletes Working for Indoor Tournament With High School.

Athletes who will enter the indoor meet of the Y. M. C. A. and the high school are at the present time working out in the association gymnasium.

Ver Wiebe, the big Harvard foothall player, will enter the shot-put event. Forgette will also enter the weight event, and it is possible that there will be some more of the oarsmen in this test of strength.

In addition to the weight events, Forgette will also enter the high jump and some of the dashes.

JEFFRIES TAKES REST FOR DAY

Run on Road and Row on River Are Only Training Stunts.

Ben Lomond, Cal., April 20.—Jeffries' training camp looked like a rest-cure sanitarium yesterday. For the first time since he began training, Jeffries took almost a complete lay-off from active work.

A stunt on the road in the early morning and a row on the river in the afternoon constituted the only exercise the big fellow allowed himself.

After his road work, Jeffries took a long nap in his open-air sleeping room. Shortly before noon he strolled into Manager Berger's office and declared he was still sleepy.

"If you feel that way 'bout it, why don't you lay off for the rest of the day?" said Berger. "I know you need a lot of work, and you know it, but you have been crowding too much labor into the time you have been here. If you take my advice you will stay away from the gymnasium this afternoon."

Whether Jeffries is becoming more tractable or really tired is a question, but he decided to take his manager's advice. The trainers were pleased at the rest notion. They were uneasy over Jeffries' insatiable desire for work and are fearful of over-training.

Billy Papke joined the Jeffries camp yesterday to train for his fights with Joe Thomas and Frank Klaus.

ZBYSZKO-ROLLER MATCH TO BE HELD APRIL 29.

Chicago, April 20.—The Zbyszko-Roller wrestling match tentatively cancelled when Roller wrenched his shoulder during his bout with Mahmout, will be staged here on April 29 as originally scheduled, it was announced yesterday. Roller is reported as being in good form again and having won all of his recent matches.

KELLEY BASEBALL TEAM SIGNS INDIAN OUTFIELDER.

The Kelly Hardware baseball team of this city has signed Couture, a full-blooded Indian from the Odanah reservation, who will try for a position in the infield.

Couture is a Carlisle graduate and has played baseball at the government school. He is said to be very fast and also a good hitter. Games are being scheduled for the Kelly team, which, according to present indications, will be one of the strongest teams at the Head of the Lakes.

SEASON OF BICYCLE RACING IS OPENED.

Revere, Mass., April 20.—The country at large was well represented among the winners at the opening of the bicycle racing season at the Revere track yesterday afternoon.

Frank Kramer of East Orange, N. J., the national sprin champion, won the five-mile open race, but finished only third in the half-mile professional handicap.

Phil Wright of Salt Lake City won both the quarter-mile open amateur race and the two-mile amateur handicap.

The ten-mile motor-paced race was won by George Wiley of Syracuse and Percy Lawrence of San Francisco captured the half-mile professional handicap. Eddie Root of New York led in the two-mile consolation.

WEATHER TREATS BASEBALL SHABBILY.

New York April 20.—Rain again prevented the baseball games yesterday in three of the four Eastern cities where big league contests were scheduled. Boston alone was favored with suitable weather, and there the Boston team twice defeated Washington in a holiday double-header.

At New York a heavy downpour yesterday afternoon forced the calling off of the National league games between New York and Boston at the Polo grounds and the Philadelphia-Brooklyn game in Brooklyn. Despite the unpromising weather thousands journeyed to the Polo grounds to give the Giants a send-off in the opening game at home, but the rain held the day.

At Philadelphia rain made the American league game between New York and the Athletics impossible.

WALSH PETITION IS PRESENTED TO TAFT.

Washington, April 20.—Representative Cullop of Indiana, yesterday presented to President Taft a petition for the pardon of John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker. The petition was signed by 22,000 residents of the Second Indiana congressional district, into which the railroads built by Mr. Walsh extended. The president directed that the petition be referred to the department of justice, to follow the usual course.

BRYAN SEES THE INSIDE OF THE WHITE HOUSE.

Washington, April 20.—William J. Bryan and President Taft spent more than an hour closeted together at the White House late yesterday. The two great travelers exchanged reminiscences. It is said, and both commented upon how well the other was looking. The president rather intimated that being beaten at the polls didn't seem to be such a bad thing for one's health and happiness after all.

"The call was purely a social one," said Mr. Bryan as he left the executive offices.

"Did you discuss the tariff bill?" was asked.

"No," said the Nebraskan smilingly; "we forgot all about it."

"Or politics?"

"No, that did not occur to us, either." Mr. Bryan left at night for Lincoln, Neb.

WEST END

CHILD SCALDED WITH HOT WATER

Overturns Pail Left Standing on Chair in the Kitchen.

Five minutes after her return from the funeral of a friend yesterday, Mrs. Henry Hallfrisch saw her 2-year-old baby boy, Charles, nearly scalded to death. The Hallfrisch family resides at 722 Piedmont avenue, near Twenty-first avenue west and Seventh street.

Mrs. Hallfrisch, upon her return from the funeral services, began her work about the house. In the course of her duties, it was necessary to use some hot water. She placed a pail on a chair and poured boiling water into it.

Leaving it for a moment to fetch some cold water from a well just outside the kitchen door, Mrs. Hallfrisch heard the screams of her child and hastened back into the room to find that the baby had tipped the pail over onto itself.

A doctor was summoned by telephone. The physician dressed the injuries and found them to be very serious. The child, however, has an even chance of recovery.

The bride, for the past few years, has been in the employ of the Zenith Telephone company. Mr. Trombley is a telegraph operator. Yesterday they left for Minneapolis, where Mr. Trombley has a position awaiting him and where they will make their future home.

At their wedding, which was a quiet affair, the bride was attended by Miss Lavina Fawcett while the groomsman was Thomas B. Schofield.

RAILROADS

WILL INCREASE DOCK FACILITIES

Northern Pacific Forced to Add to Its Terminals Here.

G. A. Goodell, general manager of the Northern Pacific Railway company, and E. C. Blanchard, general superintendent of the road, are in Duluth today looking over the dock trackage of the Northern Pacific, with a view of increasing the facilities of the Northern Pacific at dock No. 4 to several times what they are at present.

It is planned to increase the number of tracks on the west side of the dock. It was stated this morning that three additional tracks might be constructed, if the room could be made.

Mr. Goodell and Mr. Blanchard came over from Ashland, where they have been looking over the Northern Pacific property. This morning was spent in going over the terminals. K. M. Nichols, superintendent of the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific, and J. I. Thomas, commercial agent for the road here, were with the two St. Paul officials.

Mr. Blanchard and Mr. Goodell were very busy this morning with the plans they have in mind, but both of the officials stated that the business of the road was very good at the present time.

"The railroad business is in excellent shape at the present time," said Mr. Blanchard. "Business is increasing, and there is the promise that traffic will show a general increase. This is especially true of the outlook for lumber traffic. The Northern Pacific is in very good condition to handle traffic."

Mr. Goodell had little to say, simply stating that railroads over the country are pleased with the outlook for business.

"MATZOS" CRACKERS IN DINING CARS.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company has made arrangements to assist the Jewish people in the celebration of the Passover, or The Jewish Easter. The religious ceremony of the Jews begins on April 23 and continues for eight days. There is a cracker known as the "Matzos" cracker, which is served in the homes and churches of the Jewish people during this week. The Northern Pacific has made arrangements to serve this cracker in their dining cars during the Jewish Passover.

GUILTY IS THE JURY'S VERDICT

John Kelly Convicted of Enticing Female Person to This State.

After being out but a few minutes this morning the jury in the case of the state against John Kelly, the negro charged with having enticed one Mazie Davis to this state for immoral purposes, decided that he was guilty of the crime as charged in the indictment.

Some time ago the principals in the case were arrested in a house on Lake avenue. Kelly was indicted by the April grand jury and held to trial.

On the stand Kelly claimed that the girl came to Duluth from Superior of her own free will. She claimed that he called her up over the telephone and invited her to come.

She also admitted on the stand that she had been intimate with other negroes and that she had attended their parties and lived among them. The fact was brought out during the trial that she was a high school graduate.

Figured Prominently in Grand Forks Fires Last Year.

Grand Forks, N. D., April 20.—With eighty fires during 1909, Grand Forks only had a total loss of $50,218.43, although there was a total of $750,000 worth of property exposed. This is the showing made in the annual report of Chief A. H. Runge. In the year he discovered thirty-eight different causes for the fires and alarms turned in. The small boy and matches figures in five; the gas meter, gas man and match in one; measuring gasoline with a match in one, with one case of oil exploding when thrown on a fire to liven it up.

THE PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY

Duluth Churches Will Make the Day a Missionary Sunday.

Several Big Mass Meetings in Addition to Regular Services.

Details of the program for Sunday, the closing day of the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement, were announced today by Executive Secretary Snell. The day will be one of the most important of the period covered by the convention, which begins Friday evening with a banquet at the Armory.

Sunday morning, the churches of the city will hold their usual services at 10:30 o'clock, when visiting speakers will be heard. The executive secretary requests that the pastors of the churches meet Dr. J. B. Trimble, field secretary of the movement, at the Y. M. C. A., Friday morning to arrange the pulpit supplies for Sunday morning.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, there will be a mass meeting for men only at the First Methodist church, when the subjects to be discussed will be: "Practical Christianity and World Conquest."

"Christian Stewardship. The Evangelization of the World in This Generation: Can It Be Done?"

Among the speakers will be Frank Dwyer of Chicago, Charles Edwin Bradt of Chicago, George Heber Jones of India and Homer C. Spence of New York.

The co-operative committee will submit a resolution covering the policy of the convention.

At the same time the men's mass meeting is in session, there will be one for women held at the First Presbyterian church, which will be addressed by prominent speakers identified with the movement.

Denominational meetings for all the churches will be held at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and Secretary Snell requests that each denominational meeting place be reported to him at once. Committee and assembly rooms at the Y. M. C. A. will be open for the purpose of these meetings.

In the evening, there will be a mass meeting in the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock, when reports will be received on what is done at the denominational meetings in regard to expressions of policy. The mass meeting will be addressed by leaders in the movement, such as Bishop W. S. Lewis of China, Dr. Homer C. Spence and others. The galleries will be thrown open to any of the public who desire to attend the meeting.

At the same time, a mass meeting for women will be held in one of the downtown churches. The place of meeting has not been designated. Addresses will be made by distinguished leaders in the movement and all women are invited to attend the gathering.

A special train will bring down a large delegation of interested men from Two Harbors for the convention. Superior is expected to send a delegation of about 300, and many neighboring communities will contribute their quotas to swell the attendance.

PRESSURE ON COPPER MARKET

Shares Are Weak and Decline From the Opening.

The copper market opened soft, and declined steadily from the opening. There was more pressure to sell than for the last week or ten days. The heavy liquidation in North Butte, Amalgamated, Lake and one or two other leaders caused the general list to decline sympathetically. The downturn was further induced by short selling.

Toward noon shorts began to cover and take profits and the leaders steadied. The upturn was only temporary, however, values declining toward the close. Losses in leading stocks were severe.

The political situation apparently had little to do with the market's action. Over the Boston holiday many stop-loss orders had accumulated, and these flooded the market at the opening, inducing general liquidation. The only bright factor in the market, however, is the crop situation and the decline in the values of staple, food and commodities. This country is still exporting gold.

The local market was in good shape although offerings were plentiful. Trading was highly specialized. The part paid Scott sold at $3.25; Copper Queen at 41, 42 and 40 cents; Warren at $1.57½; Calumet & Montana at $1.06¼; Calumet & Corbin at 83 up to 86 and down to 80 and 81 cents; Calumet & Sonora at $20.50; Carman at 95 cents; Keating at $1.37½; St. Mary's at 19 and 20 cents; Sierra at $2.50; North American at $2.43¾. The total number of shares traded in here was 9,830.

Amalgamated sold at $76.50 and up ¼ point, down to $74.87½ to $75 and off to $74.25. Butte Coalition lost ½ point, from $22.50; Giroux lost ½ point, from $8.50; Green declined ½ point, from $4.50. Steel common lost 2⅝ points, from $86; Calumet & Arizona opened at $66, lost 3 points and gained one point, but toward the close it sold at $63. Indiana declined to $26.87½ from $29. Norta Butte lost 3 points from $34, recovered to $33 and declined to $32. Lake declined from $57 to $54.50 and then sold at $55. Superior & Pittsburg advanced ⅛ point from $13 and closed with bids at $13.

SUPERIOR

WANTS RIGID REGULATION

Mayor Crumpton Tells Council His Views on Saloon Question.

Mayor Crumpton last night told the members of the city council that steps should be taken to regulate the breweries and saloons to a greater degree.

He said that the saloons had always been more or less a problem and that while various means had been taken to regulate the traffic in liquor, most of the schemes put into effect had helped, seemingly, but little.

He suggested that the breweries be required to keep an account of all the liquor sold to city dealers. This account should be kept open to the chief of police, he said. The mayor said that this would result in those who were selling without a license, to be caught without delay.

He told how in a great many instances the liquor licenses were issued to parties who did not own the saloon but were merely acting as agent for the breweries. He said that each man to whom a license was granted should be thoroughly looked up.

MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS

New Administration Takes Hold of Affairs of City of Superior.

Mayor Crumpton's recommendations were approved in whole by the council of the city of Superior last evening and these appointment were formally made: President of council, M. J. McGuire; city clerk, Clarence H. Norquist; city attorney, R. I. Tipton; assistant attorney, T. L. McIntosh; city engineer, E. B. Banks; health commissioner, Dr. P. G. McGill; street commissioner, Charles E. Anderson; sealer of weights and measures, N. G. Pengound, Sr.; statistician, B. J. Van Vleck; veterinarian, Dr. F. E. Burnham; members of the board of public works, A. F. Chadwick and D. J. Arris; member of the board of education, Charles M. Holcomb.

Chief Johnson of the fire department recommended the purchase of an auto to displace the police patrol team now in use and the recommendation was referred to the police commission.

Alderman McGuire introduced a resolution looking to a reform in the methods of granting licenses to retail liquor dealers, designed to do away with the evils resulting from control of the retail business by breweries. Under suspension of the rules the resolution was adopted.

The council ordered that bids be received for the installation of conduits under the streets to carry the fire alarm system wires.

Aldermen Domsch, Eckstrom and Keaough, are a committee to take up with the Water, Light & Power company and the transit company the problem of providing for emergencies such as deprived the Head of the Lakes cities of light and transportation Saturday night.

After adjourning to April 26 the council repaired to a cafe and had a banquet to inaugurate the new administration.

The body of a man, who has been identified as Jud Ramsdell, 70 years old, of the Euclid hotel, Superior, was found floating this morning in Allouez bay, near Peabody's dock.

Ramsdell is said to have often remarked that he was tired of life and once said that his body would be found in the bay. He had no relatives living in Superior.

THE PROGRAM FOR SUNDAY

Duluth Churches Will Make the Day a Missionary Sunday.

Several Big Mass Meetings in Addition to Regular Services.

Details of the program for Sunday, the closing day of the convention of the Laymen's Missionary movement, were announced today by Executive Secretary Shell. The day will be one of the most important of the period covered by the convention, which begins Friday, ending with a banquet at the Armory.

Sunday morning the churches of the city will hold their usual services at 10:30 o'clock, when visiting speakers will be heard. The executive secretary requests that the pastors of the churches meet Dr. J. B. Trimble, field secretary of the movement, at the Y. M. C. A. Friday morning to arrange the pulpit supplies for Sunday morning.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, there will be a mass meeting for men only at the First Methodist church, when the subjects to be discussed will be: "Practical Christianity and World Conquest."

"Christian Stewardship. The Evangelization of the World in This Generation. Can It Be Done?"

Among the speakers will be Frank Dwyer of Chicago, Charles Edwin Gradt of Chicago, George Heber Jones of India and Homer C. Spence of New York.

The co-operative committee will submit a resolution covering the policy of the convention.

At the same time the men's mass meeting is in session, there will be one for women held at the First Presbyterian church, which will be addressed by prominent speakers identified with the movement.

Denominational meetings for all the churches will be held at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and Secretary Shell requests that each denominational meeting place be reported to him at once. Committee and assembly rooms at the Y. M. C. A. will be open for the purpose of these meetings.

In the evening, there will be a mass meeting in the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock, when reports will be received on what is done at the denominational meetings in regard to expressions of policy. The mass meeting will be addressed by leaders in the movement, such as Bishop W. S. Lewis of China, Dr. Homer C. Spence and others. The galleries will be thrown open to any of the public who desire to attend the meeting.

At the same time, a mass meeting for women will be held in one of the downtown churches. The place of meeting has not been designated. Addresses will be made by distinguished leaders in the movement and all women are invited to attend the gathering.

A special train will bring down a large delegation of interested men from Two Harbors, for the convention. Superior is expected to send a delegation of 200 and many neighboring communities will contribute their quota to swell the attendance.

PRESSURE ON COPPER MARKET

Shares Are Weak and Decline From the Opening.

The copper market opened soft, and declined steadily from the opening. There was more pressure to sell than for the last week or ten days. The heavy liquidation in North Butte, Amalgamated, Lake and one or two other leaders caused the general list to decline sympathetically. The downturn was further induced by short selling.

Toward noon shorts began to cover and take profits and the leaders steadied. The upturn was only temporary, however, values declining toward the close. Losses in leading stocks were severe.

The political situation apparently had little to do with the market's action. Over the Boston holiday many stubborn orders had accumulated, and these flooded the market at the opening, including general liquidation. The only bright factor in the market, however, is the crop situation and the decline in the values of staple food and commodities. This country is still exporting gold.

The local market was in good shape although offerings were plentiful. Trading was largely specialized. The part paid Scott sold at $9.25. Copper Queen at 11, 42 and 49 cents, Warren at 18 3-4, Calumet & Montana at $1.06 1-4, Calumet & Corbin at 83 up to 86 and down to 80 and 81 cents, Calumet & Sonora at $20.50; Carman at 95 cents. Keating at $1.37 1-2, St. Mary's at 19 and 20 cents, Sierra at $5.50; North American at $2.43 3-4. The total number of shares traded in here was 9,800.

Amalgamated sold at $76.50 and up a point, down to $74.87 1-2 to $75 and off to $74.25. Butte Coalition lost 1/2 point, from $22.50. Giroux lost 1/2 point, from $8.50; Green declined 1/2 point, from $9.50. Steel common fell 2 points, from $85. Calumet & Arizona opened at $66, lost 3 points and gained one point, but toward the close it sold at $63. Indiana declined to $56 3-4 to $55. North Butte lost 3 points from $84, recovered to $73 and declined to $72. Lake declined from $7 to $4.75 and then sold at $5. Superior & Pittsburg advanced 1/4 point from $13 and closed 1/4 to 1/2 bid at $13.

SUPERIOR WANTS RIGID REGULATION

Mayor Crumpton Tells Council His Views on Saloon Question.

Mayor Crumpton last night told the members of the city council that steps should be taken to regulate the breweries and saloons to a greater degree.

He said that the saloons had always been more or less a problem and that while various means had been taken to regulate the traffic in liquor, most of the schemes put into effect had helped, seemingly, but little.

He suggested that the breweries be required to keep an account of all the liquor sold to city dealers. This account should be kept open to the chief of police, he said. The mayor said that this would result in those who were selling without a license, to be caught without delay.

He told how in a great many instances the liquor licenses were issued to parties who did not own the saloon but were merely acting as agent for the breweries. He said that each man to whom a license was granted should be thoroughly looked up.

MAYOR MAKES APPOINTMENTS

New Administration Takes Hold of Affairs of City of Superior.

Mayor Crumpton's recommendations were approved in whole by the council of the city of Superior last evening and these appointment were formally made: President of council, M. J. McGuire, city clerk, Clarence H. Norquist; city attorney, R. I. Tipton; assistant attorney, T. L. McIntosh; city engineer, E. B. Banks; health commissioner, Dr. P. G. McGill; street commissioner, Charles B. Anderson; sealer of weights and measures, N. G. Pengound, Sr.; statistician, H. J. Van Meek; veterinarian, Dr. F. E. Burnham; members of the board of public works, A. F. Chadwick and D. J. Arris; member of the board of education, Charles M. Holcourt.

Chief Johnson of the fire department recommended the purchase of an auto to displace the police patrol team now in use and the recommendation was referred to the police commission.

Alderman McGuire introduced a resolution looking to a reform in the methods of granting licenses to retail liquor dealers, designed to do away with the evils resulting from control of the retail business by breweries. Under suspension of the rules the resolution was adopted.

The council ordered that bids be received for the installation of conduits under the streets to carry the fire alarm system wires.

Aldermen Isomsch, Eckstrom and Kerough are a committee to take up with the Water, Light & Power company and the transit company the problem of providing for emergencies such as deprived the Head of the Lakes cities of heat and transportation Saturday night.

After adjourning to April 26 the council repaired to a cafe and had a banquet to inaugurate the new administration.

BODY OF JUD RAMSDELL FOUND FLOATING IN BAY.

The body of a man, who has been identified as Jud Ramsdell, 70 years old, of the Euclid hotel, Superior, was found floating this morning in Allouez bay, near Peabody's dock.

Ramsdell has been missing since March 27 and the coroner says that his body has been in the water since that time. That the man committed suicide is the opinion of the authorities.

Ramsdell is said to have often remarked that he was tired of life and once said that his body would be found in the bay. He had no relatives living in Superior.

"PREXY" IN HAPPY MOOD

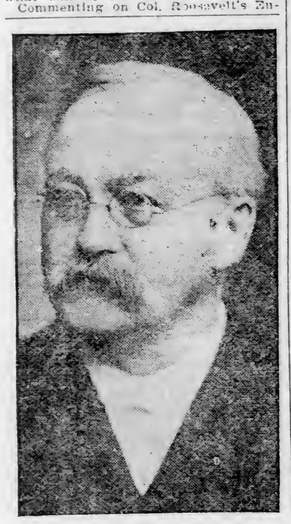
Here on Pleasure Trip---Refuses to Discuss Serious Topics.

Pays a Hearty Tribute to Former President Theodore Roosevelt.

Dr. Cyrus Northrup, president of the University of Minnesota, who is in the city to attend a banquet this evening given in his honor by the Duluth alumni of the "U," sees in the declining prices of necessities one of the most unexplainable of conditions today. Interviewed at the Commercial club this afternoon, the distinguished and beloved "prexy" was in the happiest of moods.

He did not feel inclined to discuss topics of the day in a serious way, but mentioned the fact that the papers have chronicled the present downward tendency of prices, and marveled at it.

"Bryan has returned to the country, and maybe that accounts for it," he said. "Roosevelt is coming, and when they are both here it is hard to say what will be the result."



Commenting on Col. Roosevelt's European travels, Dr. Northrup paid a hearty tribute to the former president's individuality and personality.

"He impresses all the nations as a great man," he remarked.

Dr. Northrup said he had come to Duluth not to discuss the unrest of the world, which he saw evinced in the activities of the Democrats and the Republicans, the insurgents and the stand-patters and in many other things, but to meet the people of Duluth and to have a good time.

In referring to conditions of unrest he made a passing reference to the insurgency in the East and the election of Democrats to congress from Republican districts.

Speaking of the banquet tonight, Dr. Northrup said he was pleased with the arrangements that have been made, and said that he was particularly pleased because the public reception is to follow instead of precede the banquet. When it was suggested that possibly a reversal of the program would result in whetting the appetite the doctor remarked that with prices on their present high plane one doesn't need a reception and its fatigue to make him hungry.

THE MILLIONAIRE TOBACCONIST WILL FOLLOW ALFRED VANDERBILT'S EXAMPLE

THE SORG COACH.

With the help of W. D. Grand, the horse dealer, Paul A. Sorg is getting ready his stable of horses for road coach work this spring. Mr. Sorg is to put a public coach on the road, running from the Holland House and the Plaza hotel to some point on Long Island or in Westchester county some thirty or fourty miles away. Mr. Sorg is the millionaire tobacco man from Ohio who has been an exhibitor at horse shows for several years. There has been no public coaching of a serious character in New York for several years and as A. G. Vanderbilt is to run his coach in England again, Mr. Sorg will be alone in the field.

NEGROES TURNED DOWN BY HOUSE

Claims to Seats in Congress Are Thrown Out By Committee.

Washington, April 20.—A decision to allow Representatives Lever and Legare of South Carolina to retain their seats in the house was announced by Election Committee No. 3 today. Both seats had been contested. Counsel for both members, at a hearing this morning, virtually sought indorsement of the constitutionality of the South Carolina election laws bearing on the elimination of negro suffrage. The committee would not take that view, but agreed to seat the two members because their contestants, R. H. Richardson and George Prioleau, respectively, both negroes, did not receive sufficient votes.

CHILD TAKES FATAL DOSE

Little Georgia Meacham Finds Copper Nitrate and Is Poisoned.

Georgia Meacham, the 4-year-old daughter of William H. Meacham, night clerk at the Western Union office, died this morning at the family home, 622 East First street. She accidentally poisoned herself with copper nitrate which she found while playing near her home.

Georgia and her 5-year-old sister were playing near their home yesterday. The younger girl picked up a bottle of powder, poured some out on her hand and licked it. She did not eat much of the poison, but was taken violently ill last night and died this morning.

WALLACE CUP OFFERED.

High Schools of Duluth and Superior to Compete in Oratory.

Dr. Wallace of Superior visited the high school today and left the cup which he is offering for the Wallace inter-city declamatory contests between Duluth and Superior.

The cup is fifteen inches in height and is undoubtedly the most beautiful cup ever offered for any interscholastic contest at the Head of the Lakes.

The contest will be divided into two parts; orations and declamations. All contestants must be bona fide pupils in regular attendance taking full work and must have passing marks for all work in the current term. The principals must certify five days before the contests that their contestants are eligible. The school winning the cup the largest number of times for ten years will retain permanent possession of the club.

No pupil is allowed to take part for more than four years and no post graduate student is eligible. No selection will be more than fifteen minutes in length and the contest will be decided by three judges, who will be non-residents. All markings will be on the scale of 100 per cent and the grade of each school will be the sum of the grades of the two contestants. The contests will alternate between Duluth and Superior and will be held the second Friday of May of each year.

TEDDY MUCH IN DEMAND

Ex-President Is Asked to Be Leader in All Sorts of Schemes.

Traveler Is on His Way to Paris After Austrian Visit.

Attnaug-Puchheim, Upper Austria, April 20.—(Aboard Roosevelt train.)—Although it was after midnight when the train bearing the Roosevelt party left Budapest, the colonel was up at 7 o'clock today. During the stop at Vienna he got out and walked up and down the station platform for half an hour. As the train left Vienna a heavy fall of rain obscured the landscape and Mr. Roosevelt turned his attention to a vast accumulation of correspondence. For three hours the former president dictated without interruption to his stenographer.

The letters and telegrams which reach Mr. Roosevelt increase in number daily. While many are from friends and acquaintances in America and Europe, the majority are from persons of whom the recipient has never known, and many are from those known to Mr. Roosevelt only by reputation.

Want Him for Leader.

A feature of these letters is the unanimity with which the writers look to the former president for leadership of any cause in which they are interested.

Queen Constantinople came in an appeal for aid in the establishment there of an American college for girls. The requests for a change of itinerary that would permit Mr. Roosevelt to visit other particular city or town, received from numberless correspondents are very insistent.

Upon leaving Budapest Mr. Roosevelt was obliged to decline the invitation of the Bavarian government, made through the Bavarian minister at the Austrian court, to stop over several hours in Munich today.

On Way to Paris.

Budapest, April 20.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son Kermit left here by the Orient express for Paris, where they will arrive Thursday morning. Instead of crossing Switzerland, the route runs north through the Austrian Alps and Southern Germany, entering France at Avricourt.

Col. Roosevelt's last day in Hungary only furnished additional proof of the deep impression his personality has made upon the heart of the people, high and low. The pitch of enthusiasm lasted to the moment of his departure. The crowds greeted him with Hungarian cries equivalent to the American "Hurrah for Roosevelt," which the ex-president, with his ability to grasp the meaning of things, seemed to understand and thoroughly appreciate.

Filly Christened "Roosevelt."

Mr. Roosevelt hugely enjoyed his visit to the breeding farm at Babotno. The ex-president and the ladies of the party, including Countess Szechneyl, who was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, fed the thoroughbreds sugar from their hands. Later the party visited the brood mares, where Col. Roosevelt was shown a tiny thoroughbred which was born that day. It was a filly, but the officer in charge christened it "Roosevelt." There was an inspection also of the blooded cattle and fowls.

The dinner at the foreign office last night was followed by a great reception. Countess Szechneyl, who had a narrow escape from serious injury from the whirling of a fan on board the train on the trip to the breeding farm, suffered no ill effects. The sharp blade fairly grazed her head; another inch and it would have caused serious injury.

AUTOPSY HELD ON BODY OF WOODSMAN.

Three hours after being taken from the Liberty hotel on the Bowery last evening a man named Lewis died at St. Mary's hospital.

Little is known of the dead man, and the authorities have not even been able to learn his first name. An autopsy was performed by the coroner, and death was found to have been due to lobar pneumonia.

The body was taken to J. L. Crawford's undertaking rooms and the funeral will probably be held tomorrow at the expense of the county.

Cotton House Bankrupt.

Decatur, Ala., April 20.—Knight, Yancey & Co., today filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. This is one of the largest cotton firms in the South, with branches in many Southern cities.

MATRIMONIAL BELT LINE.

Charles H. Warner, the sugar refiner of New York, and Colin H. Livingston of Washington, are part owners of a street railway system which in one respect has no rival, says the New York Sun. In fact Benjamin F. Dulaney, a coal operator, who owns Black Mountain, Virginia, which aside from its mineral possibilities, has achieved fame by Cog selected by John Fox, Jr., as the scene of two of his novels, asserts that the railway is the most remarkable in the world.

Bristol, Tenn., is where the road is situated, and some people out there call it the Matrimonial Belt line. For a mile and a quarter the track straddles the Virginia state line, so that a man may be riding in two states at once.

Parson Burroughs, a clergyman, owns a hotel and meets every car, and neighbors say that if two strangers of opposite sexes arrive together the parson promptly asks them if they wish to get married. Frequently they do, so the parson gets into the car with them and conducts them to his hotel, though not infrequently the ceremony takes place in the open, the bride standing in one state and the bridegroom in the other, while the officiating clergyman straddles the line. Parson Burroughs admits having joined more than 3,000 couples in wedlock.

You can drink on the Virginia side of the line, but not in Tennessee, and it often happens that one side of a street car is parching with thirst while the other is very wet indeed.

PAUL SORY.

SHAKESPEARE AND BASEBALL

The Bard of Avon Was Certainly Wise to Diamond Talk.

Is Shakespeare dead? asks Mark Twain in his latest book. It is generally supposed that he is, but the myriad-minded bard must have projected himself in fancy into our age, for all the vocabulary of baseball is found in his plays, as we shall show, says the Chicago Tribune.

Beginning with that useless question asked by Agrippa in "Coriolanus;" "Where go you with bats and clubs?" we find that the two chief contenders in the national pennant race are mentioned by name: "O, thou dissembling cub!" says the Duke in "Twelfth Night," "where wilt thou be when time hath sow'd a grizzle on thy case?" Nearer the top, we hope.

"A pirate of very warlike appointment gave me chase," writes Hamlet, who was run to death between bases; and Shylock evidently refers to the base-stealing habits of the Pittsburgers when he says: "Land thieves, I mean pirates."

This from "Richard III." might be a protest by the peerless leader on Pittsburg's winning the pennant money: "I can no longer hold me patient. Hear me, you wrangling pirates that fall out in sharing that which you have pill'd from me."

Benedick fancied himself as a twirler, for he boasts: "He that hits me, let him be clapped on the shoulder," and it must have been a pitcher or coucher in "Love's Labor Lost" who cried:

"Thou canst not hit it, hit it, hit it; Thou canst not hit, my good man."

To which Goyet, who probably struck out, says:

"Ay, I cannot, another can."

Prospero calls Ferdinand a "weak hitter," one "who makes a show but darest not strike." And Henry V cries hopefully: "And so I shall catch the fly." But we think he lost it in the sun. "Have I not in a pitched battle heard loud 'larums?" asks Petruchio. We have, such as the swat of willow on pigskin when a pitcher blows up.

It is the veteran Falstaff who remarks: "Here's no scoring but upon the plate." Sir John had seen lots of men left on third, you see. A custom of the bleachers is alluded to when old Uncle Pandarus, anxious to stand up and stretch himself between innings, says to Cressida:

'Hark, they are coming from the field, shall we stand up here and see them as they pass?' Good niece, do, sweet Niece Cressida."

Cressida: "At your pleasure."

Pandarus: "Here, here, here's an excellent place; here we may see most bravely. I'll tell you them all by their names as they pass by, but Mark Troilus above the rest." Pandarus had a score card, but wanted to let on to the lady that he knew the heroes personally.

It sounds like a scrap over a stolen base when Petruchio shouts:

"Out! You rogue! You pluck my foot awry. Take that!" Petruchio was peevish that afternoon, anyway, having just started to tame the shrew, and he thought the umpire meant to spike him.

The "umpire" is often mentioned in Shakespeare "Let me be umpire in this doubtful strife?" asks King Henry IV, who was braver than the play makes out, or just plain loco. "There are three umpires in this matter, as I understand," says Sir Hugh Evans in "Merry Wives of Windsor." The absurd Welsh parson had seen Evers laying down the law to a couple of "umps," and thought him one of the staff.

"It was myselt that brought you home," said by Worcester in "Henry IV," might be a remark to Wagner by Miller after he had singled him home. Honus having tripled as usual. From Pericles: "Only, my friends, I yet am unprovided of a pair of bases"—just watch me steal 'em, as Tyrus Cobb would say.

"Primo, secundo, tertio, is a good play," pronounces the clown in the "Twelfth Knight," and it surely is if home be added to first, second and third. This may also refer to a triple play. "Safe, Antony, Brutus is safe enough," Lucilius tells Marc Antony, who, we imagine, was yelling, "robber," at the "ump." "With Senators on the bench" (Timon of Athens," act four, scene three) sounds familiar, and it really seems as if the Bard of Avon must have seen our crack catcher throw to second when he writes in "Pericles," act one, scene one: "Well experienced Archer hits the mark his eye doth level at."

Lord Berowne, in "Love's Labor Lost," has something to say about "two pitch balls," and if this be an old form of Brown it may refer to a strike-out record not equalled since.

Let us conclude with this careful statement from the epilogue: "'tis ten to one this play can never please all who are here." So impartial it sounds like a reflection from the press box. We have heard of the universality of "sweetest Shakespeare, fancy child," but would you have thought he had this intimate connection with the national pastime?

DEFAULT has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed by Peter Norman, widower, of Virginia, Minnesota, mortgagor, to Sattler Liquor company, a corporation, of Duluth, Minnesota, mortgagee, bearing date December 17th, 1906, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of December, 1906, at 11:45 o'clock A. M., in Book 233 of Mortgages on page 66.

Said default consists in the nonpayment of $310.93 of the principal of the note referred to in said mortgage, together with $94.63 interest thereon.

The name of said Sattler Liquor company, which is a Minnesota corporation, has been duly changed since the execution and delivery of said mortgage, to Sattler Brothers company, which is now the name of said corporation.

By reason of such default, the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has ever been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage.

The property described in said mortgage and thereby mortgaged is the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter (SW¼ of NW¼) of Section twenty-nine (29), and the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter (SE¼ of NE¼) of Section thirty (30), all in Township fifty-seven (57) north of Range twelve (12) west of the fourth principal meridian, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, containing eighty (80) acres.

There is claimed to be due and is due upon said mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of $405.56.

NOW THEREFORE, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises above described, which sale will be made at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the sheriff's office in the County Court House in Duluth, St. Louis County, Minnesota, on Thursday, the 2nd day of June, 1910, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage and taxes, if any, due on said premises, and twenty-five dollars ($25.00) attorneys' fees, as stipulated in said mortgage, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law.

REACTION AT THE CLOSE

Wheat Has Sharp Upturn During Last Hour of Trading.

Flax Sags in Quiet Market, Closing Fractionally Lower.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 20.—Wheat firmed in the latter part of the session today on short covering. The upturn carried values ½c over yesterday's close for May and ⅝c over for July. In the early hours the market was soft. May wheat opened with offerings at $1.06 and sold ⅛c off, then at $1.05⅞, $1.05¾, $1.05⅞ and up to $1.06⅞, closing with bids at that price. July was offered at $1.07 at the opening, sold at $1.06⅝@1.06¾, $1.06¾ up to $1.07⅞, closing $1.07¾ bid.

Flax was dull and featureless with a weak undertone. May opened at $2.37 and closed $2.36½ bid. July opened $2.33 bid and sold 1c higher and then at $2.33, closing $2.32½n. September opened at $1.82½ and sold later at $1.81. October opened at $1.74 and sold off 1c and closed with bids at $1.72.

Cash wheat was on a parity with May. Oats closed ¼c up on moderate covering by shorts. The trade was good. Rye and barley closed unchange; durum was ¼c up at the close.

At the opening the market was lower than yesterday's close and was subject to heavy selling pressure on account of numerous stop-loss orders and continued liquidation. Toward noon there was covering by shorts who appeared to think the reaction had gone far enough. The market firmed and advanced higher than the opening. It struck a weak spot, however, as on the swell the shorts fed out new lines. The market displayed more strength toward the close as it was somewhat oversold and received also a moderate amount of outside support.

The foreign market was heavy on lower American and Winnipeg cables. Russian shipments will be large and offerings from Argentine, Russia and Manitoba were liberal and cheaper.

The bulls regarded the market with more hope today than for several days. They believed the decline had been forced too far and that a rally of moderate proportions was due. The short interest has been fairly well covered and some of the bears hesitated about following the decline further although they were unable to see anything that could cause a prolonged advance. They cannot see any other trend of the market than a downward career to an export basis.

Many professionals were advising sales on the bulges. The few bulls said that the speculative sentiment is bearish and that bullish crop conditions are being ignored both by the public and the trade. With those people bullishly inclined the September option is a favorite. Whatever may be the outcome of the crop situation the trade knows what is the status of the wheat and flour demand. Premiums have been practically wiped out but the demand shows little improvement. There is no betterment in the shipping call.

The flax market maintains a stiff level which presents an artificial aspect, especially with regard to the deferred months. The high values are due chiefly to the fact that long lines are in strong hands and the short interest is still obtrusive. Efforts to get Indian and Argentine flax for delivery on May contracts have not been successful because the stuff will not pass muster, it is said, under the rules of inspection. Indian flax can be laid down here as cheaply, if not more cheaply than American flax is selling in the local market.

Crushers report a good demand for oil which is selling at top prices. The foreign demand for cake is good. The output of the crushers is considerably curtailed on account of the high prices for the seed and the lack of supplies. After seeding flax receipts probably will increase as the farmer will desire to get rid of his surplus stocks, if he has any, at prevailing high prices. How much stuff is in the country is problematical but there is little doubt that it is at a minimum and that offerings of the actual seed will come only from scattered sources.

In view of the increased acreage, estimated at from 10 to 12 per cent in North Dakota, and the fact that many farmers in Southern Minnesota will grow flax this year the crop indications for next fall point to a heavy yield. The seed was put in the ground from two to three weeks earlier this year than usual, which will make an early crop. Stuff from Southern Minnesota, if seeding reports on flax are true, will come in earlier than the North Dakota crop. This will give unusually large receipts for September delivery. People bearishly inclined predict prices for flax next fall on a parity with those which obtained before the beginning last fall of the sensational advance.

What may happen to values as the time for settlement of May accounts approaches is problematical. The short interest is a disturbing element and is regarded as a strong bull factor in view of the extremely light stores and receipts. There may be some effort to establish fictitious values such as were forced when flax made new high records this year. On the two days that flax in this market hit the highest prices in history, the Chicago Board of Trade refused to post the quotations because it was claimed that the values were not legitimate.

Shorts in corn in the Chicago market are said to have pulled several million dollars out of the game. The profits of the Patten house, it is said, will more than offset the losses sustained in wheat and cotton.

Snow estimates the condition of winter wheat at 81.5 per cent on April 14, against 81.3 per cent on April 1. He thinks the abandoned acreage will be 3,767,000 acres, based on the official estimate of 33,483,000 acres seeded last fall, leaving less than 30,000,000 acres for harvest. His figures suggest a crop of 425,000,000 bu, or 21,000,000 bu less than the government's harvest last fall. Snow makes the condition in leading states as follows:

Broomhall cabled: "The weather in the Southern Russian belt is highly favorable, general rains having fallen for the growing crops which are generally satisfactory. In Poland and Caucausia the outlook for the crops has improved. Arrivals at the ports are generally moderate, but an increase is expected following the Russian Easter holidays (these holidays are from May 2 to 5 inclusive.)

Broomhall cabled: "Liverpool—The wheat market at the opening showed a very heavy undertone with offerings large and pressed for sale and values showed a decline of ⅝@⅞d. The decline was brought about by the weakness in American cables and the heaviness of Winnipeg. Following the opening there was a period of steadiness and prices recovered ⅛d on the bullish Indian news. Later and during the entire morning session, there was renewed liquidation and prices further decline ½d to ⅞d from the opening. There is a general lack of confidence in the bull position with prospective large shipments from Russia as stocks are very heavy and crop conditions there favorable and continued free and cheaper Russian and Manitoba offerings. There is a general belief that there will be a supply which will equal the demand all during the season. At midday the market was weak and 1⅛d@1⅜d lower than yesterday.

"Corn was quiet at the start. Later there developed selling pressure and the market declined ¼d on the cheaper offerings of new Argentine corn by second-hand dealers.

"India—Natives are holding wheat firmly and the selling disposition is very disappointing for the new crop. There is a growing feeling that the earlier estimates regarding the liberal amount for export will not be maintained."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Bears Start Early and Keep First Wheat Prices Down.

Chicago, April 20.—The bears had all the best of the argument in the early trading in the wheat pit today and at the outset took from ⅝@1⅛c off the distant option figures and from 1@1¾c from the May price. In the first hour bearish eagerness to sell kept prices near to the bottom.

Most of the commission houses on the floor joined in the carnival of selling which followed the initial slump.

A few concerns, including elevator interests bought sparingly, their efforts serving to prevent a further dip. Weakness in the cash wheat was the controlling factor. At the outset July was ⅝@⅞c down at $1.00@99½c; September was ⅛@⅜c to ⅛c off at 98⅛@97¾c. Fluctuations were bounded by the opening limits with most of the trading close to the low point.

The early decline induced a rush of shorts to cover and in the final half of the session all the initial losses were more than regained. July went up to $1.00⅝@1.00¾. September to 99c and May to $1.06⅞. The close was strong at nearly the top figures with July ⅛c up at $1.00¾. September ¼c higher at 98⅞@99c, and May a shade up at $1.06⅞.

Weakness of wreat induced a general rush of sellers in the corn pit, and at the outset May fell off ⅜@⅝c. July sagged similarly and September somewhat less abruptly. The bulls rallied in the first hour and prevented further declines. Opening figures for the May delivery were 56½@56¼c.

The market gained firmness with the advance in wheat, May moving up 1⅜c from its low point to 57⅝c. The close was strong all around with May ⅜@⅝c up at 57½@57⅝c.

Liquidation in the oats pit kept the market in harmony with the wheat and corn. May declined from ¼@⅜c to ½@⅝c at the start and kept near the low levels with the other futures in the first hour. Opening figures for May were 41⅜c to 41⅛c.

Insistent demand for the various products gave a strong tone to the provisions pit at the start, and prices opened from 5c off to 22½c up, lard being the leader. The upturn continued through the first hour. Opening figures for the May products were: Pork, $21.20 to $21.35, 5c lower to 10c higher; lard, $12.27½, 22½c up, and ribs, $12.12½, 10c up.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opens Low But Becomes Oversold Later in Session.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 20.—Wheat became oversold during the late session today after selling early as low as $1.04¾. The near option closed at $1.06, ¼@⅜c higher than yesterday. Weakness in Liverpool was responsible largely for the low opening. The firmer cash wheat situation tended to make the futures stronger. Local elevator stocks increased 20,000 bu for four days. Yesterday's stocks increased 30,000 bu for three days, therefore for one day there was a decrease of 10,000 bu. Trading in the pit was of small volume. Minneapolis today received 61 cars of wheat against 105 cars a year ago; Duluth, 44 cars against 22, and Winnipeg, 224 cars against 63. May opened $1.05¼; high, $1.06⅛; low, $1.04¾; closed, $1.06. July opened $1.06¼@1.06⅛; high, $1.07; low, $1.05⅝; closed, $1.07. September opened 98⅛c; high, 98⅝@98¾c; low, 97½c; closed, 98¾.

Cash wheat was firmer. Offerings light and demand from the milling interests strong and active. No. 1 northern sold for 1@3c above the May option, and No. 2 northern for 1c above to 1c below. Closing prices on track: No. 1 northern, $1.08@1.08¼; to arrive, $1.06¼@1.08¼; No. 2 northern, $1.04¾@1.06¼; to arrive, $1.04¼@1.06¼; No. 3 wheat, $1.02¾@1.04¼; No. 3 yellow corn, 51¾@54c; No. 3 white oats, 39¼@39¾c; No. 2 rye, 71¾@74¼c.

Milstuffs—Shipments, 1,016 tons. Demand slow and market continued dull. Bran in 10-lb sacks, $18.00@18.25.

A better demand for flour was reported by several local millers today. Shipments, light; prices, firm; shipments, 31,416 bls. First patents, in wood, f. o. b. Minneapolis, $5.20@5.40; second patents, $5.00@5.20; first clears, $4.05@415; second cears, $280@3.10.

Flax—Receipts, 3 cars, year ago, 2; shipments, 4. Demand continued strong for both spot and to arrive at even Duluth May price. Closed at $2.36¼.

Barley—Receipts, 11 cars, year ago 8; shipments, 43. Market steady; demand slow. Close, 50@61c.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Selling Is Persistent on Steadily Falling Range of Prices.

Close Is Weak at About Lowest Figures of the Season.

New York, April 20.—Light selling orders today depressed opening prices for stocks a small fraction all around. The lower range of prices in London was an influence here. Amalgamated Copper declined a point. The changes otherwise were trivial.

Pressure relaxed and fractional losses were recovered, but new selling orders were put out after prices had returned to yesterday's closing, forcing some stocks lower than at the beginning. Wells-Fargo Express receded three points and Great Northern ore certificates and International Pump 1.

Stocks were persistently sold on a constantly declining range of prices. The metal industrials were conspicuously weak. Rumors were current that the quarterly earnings of the United States Steel corporation would show a heavy contraction from the preceding quarter. Copper trade advices also were unfavorable. Additional gold exports threatened the market. Liquidation was attributed to last week's buyers, who were disappointed over the public indifference to the market. Amalgamated Copper suffered a loss of 2½, American Smelting 2¼, St. Paul 1¾ and Southern Pacific and United States Steel 1⅝. Among the general losses of 1@1½, Reading, Union Pacific, New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Anaconda and Utah Copper were prominent. Bonds were irregular.

The market closed weak. Covering operations by the bears stiffened the market for a short time but prices yielded again to the lowest of the day. The loss in United States Steel ran to 2¾, Amalgamated Copper 3⅛, Reading 2⅜, and others were similarly affected.

Quality Efficiency and Price

Combine to make our line of Wagemaker filing cabinets and Harrock's office desks the one line that entirely satisfies the user.

The quality of the construction is not affected by the fact that the price is lower than is asked for other lines of office furniture. It's merely our way of buying and selling that makes the price lower.

ACTOR RUNS AMUCK IN PRIVATE CAR WHILE EN ROUTE TO DULUTH

Chases Other Members of Company With Open Pocket Knife.

Four of Them Barricade Themselves in the Toilet Room.

Is Finally Overpowered and Bound to Seat With Ropes.

The members of the San Francisco Opera company, appearing at the Lyceum the next four nights, were principals in a near tragedy in their private car coming from Hibbing last night—a tragedy which was not on the bills.

Edward Edwards, who had an important role, was the star actor of the wildest performance the company ever experienced. Crazy drunk, he tried to murder everybody in the company, and was not subdued until he was hurled to the floor from behind, tied with ropes and fastened to one of the seats, the members of the company claim.

This morning he was turned over to the Duluth police charged with assault in the second degree. He slashed A. L. Rule, a member of the company, with a knife in the struggle to overpower him. Rule swore out the complaint this morning after Edwards had been lodged behind the bars. He was not seriously injured, but had two fingers in bandages.

The members of the company stated that it was the most awful trip ever experienced. With his pocket knife opened, Edwards chased four members into the toilet, including Teddy Webb and his wife, the leading personages of the troupe. Two of the women fainted and the others were huddled in the corners or wherever they could get protection in any shape.

Chief Troyer said this morning that

APOSTLES' CREED KEPT AS "RELIC"

New Haven Church Considers Adoption of New Declaration of Faith.

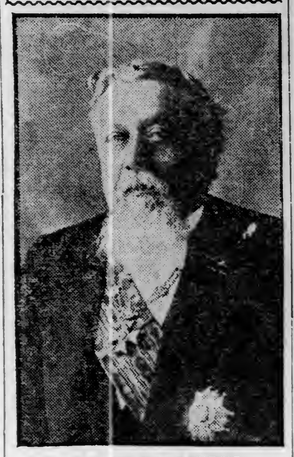
New Haven, Conn., April 21.—A new confession of faith which drops the apostles' creed and requires no formal expression as to the divinity of Christ, has been adopted by the deacons and will be presented for adoption by the Center church (Congregational) in this city. The significance of this action is that the church has strictly held to Puritan orthodoxy for more than two and a half centuries, having been founded in 1638. New members will only pledge themselves to belief in a higher life and to moral purposes. The old confession of faith will be spread upon the records of the church as a historical relic.

WOLTER CASE IS BEING RUSHED

May Break Record for Quick Criminal Trials in New York City.

New York, April 21.—It was promised when the trial of Albert Wolter for attacking Ruth Wheeler and strangling and burning her to death was resumed today, that the prosecution would complete its case by tomorrow at the latest. Wolter's defense could then hardly be put in before adjournment over to next week, and the probability is that the case cannot be finished before Tuesday. Even in that case the trial would go on record as the speediest of any notable criminal hearing in New York in many years.

Almost the entire gamut of sensation was run at yesterday's session of the trial. Testimony in an effort to show still more clearly that the charred hand of the 15-year-old victim, the production of which caused so profound an impression in court yesterday, pointed an accusing finger Wolter's way, was expected from the prosecution.



Prisoner Is Stolid.

No prisoner on trial for his life in the New York courts is ever remembered to have faced such an array of hostile facts and heartrending testimony with such stolid indifference as did Wolter yesterday, when confronted with the charred fragments of the body that once was Ruth Wheeler.

Philip O' Hanlon, a coroner's physician, testified that Ruth Wheeler had been attacked before she was murdered, and that there still was life in her body when it had been soaked with kerosene, jammed up the chimney of Wolter's flat and set afire. He found human hair, not her own, adhering to the burned fingers. Therefore, he knew she had fought for her honor. There was soot in her lungs; a corpse does not breathe. Therefore, he said, he knew a living body had inhaled smoke and flame.

The appalling testimony made the jurors fidget in their chairs. Objections from Wolter's counsel were constant and as constantly overruled. His cross-examinations were aggressive, but brief, and they shook none of the witness' statements. There was no indication of what the defense will be.

EXCHANGED CALLS WITH COL. ROOSEVELT

ARMAND FALLIERES, President of France.

THINKS TAFT IS SCHEMING

Senator Purcell Assails the President in His Maiden Speech.

Virtually Charges Purpose to "Pack" Supreme Court By Appointments.

Washington, April 21.—In his maiden speech in the senate yesterday afternoon on the railroad bill, Senator Purcell of North Dakota sharply criticised the president and the attorney general. He virtually charged a purpose of so transforming the supreme court as to insure such construction of the proposed law so as to supplant and nullify antagonistic laws and state legislation.

He was dealing with the merger provisions of the bill, and having stated that the North Dakota state constitution prohibited the consolidation of railroad lines, contended that the supreme court had held in effect that questions of this character were subject to state control.

"It must be apparent to every one," he proceeded, "that when the president and the attorney general drafted this law, they were familiar with existing laws in relation to the matter covered by section 12. It is fair to assume that

MARK TWAIN IS ABLE TO USE PEN

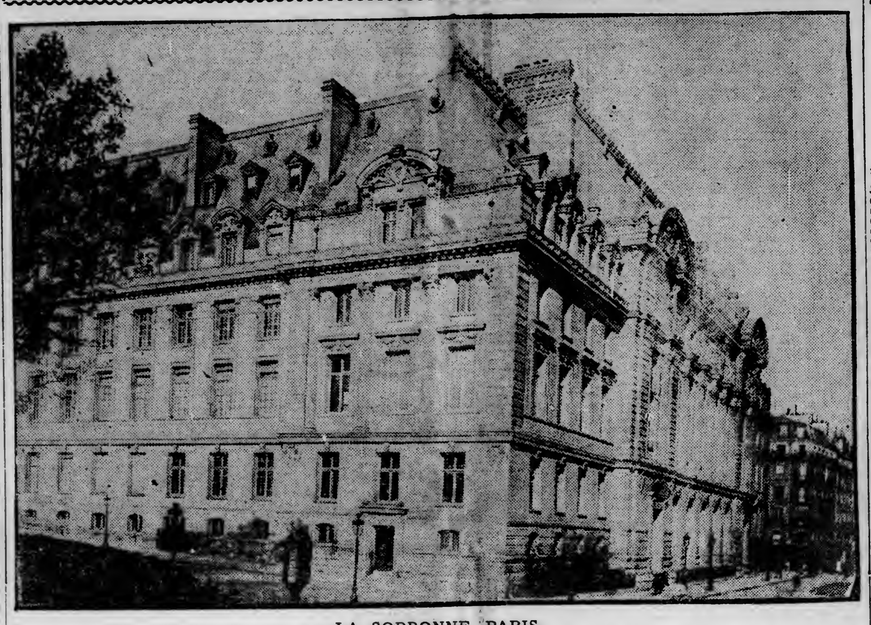
Famous Writer Feels Much Better, Though He Still Is Very Weak.

Redding, Conn., April 21.—Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain), passed one of the most comfortable nights last night that he has had since his illness began, and it was stated at Stormfield that he awoke after a refreshing sleep, feeling much better and brighter, although still very weak.

Mr. Clemens said himself that he felt much better, and called for his pen and a pad of paper and his glasses. Half sitting and half reclining in bed he spent a short time in writing.

PIRATES' TRAIN IN A SMASHUP

B. & O. Has Wreck Near Pittsburg---Accident on Southern Railway.



Pittsburg, Pa., April 21.—Baltimore & Ohio passenger train No. 106, from Cincinnati to Pittsburg, struck a work train of eight cars near Anderson station, twenty miles from here early today. One car of the work train was derailed and four others badly damaged. It is reported that no one was injured.

The passenger train had on board the Pittsburg baseball club, en route to this city to open their home season.

Ditched by Broken Rail.

Washington, April 21.—Southern railway through train No. 29 from New York, which left this city at 4:15 p. m. yesterday at Atlanta, was ditched by a broken rail near Bessemer City, N. C., near Charlotte, early today. Three cars were overturned and the track badly damaged. Only one passenger was seriously injured.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S WELCOME IN PARIS EQUALS ANY GIVEN REIGNING SOVEREIGNS

COTTON MAN WILL TELL OF BULL POOL

Copy of Agreement to Be Produced Before the Grand Jury.

New York, April 21.—Cotton traders who are supposed to know something of the bull pool said to have been formed several months ago went to the federal building today to testify before the grand jury which began its investigation on Tuesday. The grand jury was too busy with other matters yesterday to continue the investigation, but will make an effort today to examine all of the eleven men who are still to appear. Three others were examined on Tuesday.

One of the witnesses is said to have admitted that he has a copy of the bull pool agreement on which is based the government's case against William P. Brown, Frank B. Hayne, and other leaders of the bull movement, and that he would produce it before the grand jury.

Clark McKercher, assistant attorney general, who was sent here from Washington to take charge of the investigation, said he had no idea how long the grand jury proceedings would take. He hardly expected any definite results before early next week, he said.

Troops Keep Back Crowds at Station---Ex-President Calls on Fallieres.

Paris, April 21.—Theodore Roosevelt, ex-president of the United States, entered Paris at 7:30 o'clock this morning and was received with all the honors of a reigning sovereign traveling incognito. A cordon of troops surrounded the visitor and held back the multitude which, in spite of the early hour, had congregated.

Gathered upon the platform of the station to welcome Mr. Roosevelt formally, were, in addition to American Ambassador Bacon and the others of the staff of the embassy, M. Jusserand, French ambassador at Washington, who came from America especially to be present during Mr. Roosevelt's visit; Commandant Hellot, personal aide to President Fallieres; A. Mollard, introducer of the diplomatic corps, representing Foreign Minister Pichon; M. Huard, representing Premier Briand; M. Caron, president of the municipal council; Gen. Brugere, chief of the general staff of the French army; M. Lepine, prefect of police; and a number of other notables, including Baron Takahira, who happened to be in Paris en route for Italy.

"Hello, Bob!" to Bacon.

Col. Roosevelt appeared to be great-

LEPER FOUND IN CROWDED HOUSE

Woman and Eight-Months-Old Baby Taken From New York Tenement.

New York, April 21.—Suffering from what is believed to be leprosy in its advanced stage, a woman, cuddling an 8-months-old baby in her arms, was found by Dr. Trask of Bellevue hospital early today. The woman was discovered living in a squalid East side tenement house, which fairly swarmed with lodgers.

Living in the three-room tenement were five children, besides the victim's baby; a young woman, two men and their wives.

Ten days ago a woman with leprosy came to this city from Baltimore. She was lost track of.

Rescuers Also Overcome By Gas in Spite of Their Helmets.

Works Have Been Regarded as Nearly Perfect for Their Kind.

Government Rescue Crew Ordered to Birmingham, Ala., to Give Aid.

Birmingham, Ala., April 21.—Not one of the forty-one men imprisoned last night in the Mulga mine of the Birmingham Iron & Coal company is alive.

This was the last word brought to the surface this morning to the waiting and weeping families of the victims when, unconscious from the deadly gases of the shafts, Supt. Johns of the mine and a man named Bonds, an unknown man who risked his life for those already dead, were drawn up to fresh air.

The condition of the rescuers told the story long before the men had been revived. The watchers knew that if the rescuers, helmetted and protected, had so narrowly escaped death there was no hope for the workers, who, without a second's warning, had been entombed by an explosion of gas.

"Dead—All Dead."

When Johns and Bonds, after heroic treatment, finally regained consciousness, they confirmed the gravest anticipations of the people who for hours had waited at the mouth of the shaft to hear a word of their beloved ones.

"Dead—all dead," was the stammering sentence of the superintendent as he began to recover from the effects of the poisonous gases.

Before they had lost consciousness, the rescuers had reached the first gallery. Even near the shaft they saw things that made them know that only

FIVE ESCAPE FROM PRISON

Life Term Train Robbers Get Out of Leavenworth Penitentiary.

Two Are Recaptured and the Rest Are Surrounded in the Brush.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 21.—Five train robbers serving life sentences escaped armed from the federal prison near here early today. Within a short time two of the men were recaptured. At 11 o'clock the three others were surrounded in the brush within a short distance of the prison and it was believed all would be taken.

At first the escape of only two men was found out. Then it became apparent that others had got away, and a checking up of the 900 prisoners was made to find out how many were in the affair.

As soon as the escape of the two men became known, the siren whistle at the prison was sounded as a warning to farmers in the surrounding country to be on the lookout. This whistle can be heard for miles and its use caused consternation. At the same time heavily armed guards were thrown around the prison to prevent any further attempt at escape.

The men recaptured were Bob Clark, sent up from Tyler, Tex., and John Gideon of Moscow, Idaho.

The three others were Thomas A. Kating, sent up from Allen, Okla., Arthur Hewitt from Caddo, Okla., and Frank Grigwane, one of the men who

NEW CHANGE IN RULES DEMANDED

Insurgent From New Jersey Introduces Resolution in the House.

Washington, April 21.—A further change in the rules of the house was proposed today by Representative Fowler of New Jersey, one of the insurgents who introduced a resolution providing for the selection of committees of the house by election. Mr. Hardwick of Georgia called for a quorum in view of the importance of the subject. After the roll call, Mr. Fowler announced that the resolution provided that it should be referred to the rules committee and that it should be privileged on May 2. Speaker Cannon ruled that it would have to take its regular course.

WOMEN'S WORK LAW IS UPHELD

Illinois Supreme Court Also Sustains Presbyterian Church Merger.

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—The supreme court today declared the law prohibiting the employment of women in factories and stores over ten hours per day constitutional.

The supreme court held the merger of the Cumberland Presbyterian church with the Presbyterian church to be valid.

CHINESE RIOTS ARE SPREADING

Mission at Yiyang Is Burned and Foreigners Flee From Yochow.

Pekin, April 21.—The lawlessness of the natives which began at Changsha, the capital of Hunan province, is reported to be spreading. Advices received here state that riots have occurred at Ningsiang, the site of a Protestant mission, about thirty miles west of Changsha. A mission school at Yiyang, twenty miles north of Ningsiang, has been burned. The foreigners are said to have escaped harm. Foreign residents at Yochow were preparing to leave that place last night.

These reports are coupled with the statement that a wholesale desertion of the troops has taken place.

One hundred Chinese from the Chinese cruiser that recently arrived at Changsha are guarding the foreign settlement there.

POISON ANIMALS AT HYDE'S TRIAL

Frogs and Dogs Will Play Important Part in Murder Case.

Kansas City, Mo., April 21.—Dogs and frogs are expected to play an important part in convicting or clearing Dr. B. C. Hyde on the charge of murdering Col. Swope. The state has announced its intention of demonstrating the action of strychnine by poisoning a live frog with the drug before the eyes of the jury.

Toxicologists employed by Dr. Hyde are maintaining a "poison squad" of six dogs for the purpose of studying the effects of strychnine upon them. Some of the canines are being given one-fifteenth of a grain of strychnine four times a day. Others receive a smaller amount of poison.

Some of the dogs will be permitted to die from the effects of the drugs. Others will be killed. The digestive organs of the animals will be used by the defense in presenting its case to the jury.

Hans Jensen, a prominent veterinary, has been retained by Dr. Hyde to assist in the experiments on the dogs. He will also testify at the trial.

Stormy Scene In Court.

A stormy scene, in which many lawyers addressed the court at the same time, bandied charges of unfair play among themselves, the bond of Dr. B. C. Hyde was almost revoked, and attorneys for the defense threatened, upon certain conditions, to attempt impeachment of state witnesses, marked the trial late yesterday afternoon. The trouble all arose over an attache of Prosecutor Conkling's office losing the grand jury notes. A woman found them and gave them to Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Dr. Hyde.

If Dr. Haines, one of the witnesses before the grand jury, swears on the witness stand to any alleged facts other than those in these notes, he will be prosecuted for perjury, said Mr. Walsh. Perjury is a capital offense in a murder case.

The papers have been returned to the state and the defense is in possession of carbon copies of the evidence.

MAY RAISE BREAD PRICES

Duluth Bakers Say the Cost of Materials Has Increased.

Summer Reduction in Milk Prices May Not Be Made.

Prices for milk, coal and ice this summer will not be higher than last year, but bread prices may be increased.

Bakers say that the price of lard and cooking oil has advanced sharply in the last two or three months and that flour prices have not been reduced. The high cost of materials, they say, may necessitate an advance in the price of bread to the retailer, from 5 cents to 6 cents. No action has been taken by Duluth bakers, but it was said today that the question of an advance in prices is under consideration.

It can not be said definitely at this time whether milk prices will be reduced May 1. Such reductions are usual in the spring but are governed by conditions which are not yet apparent this year. So far as pasturage and other factors in milk production are concerned, it is not yet spring. It is probable that prices will be about the same as last year which would indicate that a reduction will take place May 1. Dairy help and feed are about as high as in the winter, dairymen say, and just now they are not making any predictions as to a possible maintenance of prices or a possible reduction.

Ice prices will be the same as last year. The harvest was normal. Less ice was cut on Lake Superior, but the yield from Spirit lake was slightly heavier than usual. The quality is good as there was not much snow on the ice.

Hard coal, cargo pea, is now selling at $6 a ton, the same as last year. Prices this summer will correspond to the prices which prevailed last year. In May hard coal will sell at $6.10, in June, $6.20; in July, $6.30; in August, $6.40, and in September, $6.50, which will be the winter price. Clear soft coal is selling at $2.50 a ton and the run of the pile at $3.20 a ton. Prices are not expected to increase unless a sustained strike is pulled off by the miners or other unforseen conditions transpire.

MISFORTUNE FOLLOWS FAMILY

Long Series of Accidents in Family of James Weldon.

Mrs. J. Stewart, 50 years old, fell down stairs yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Weldon of 2819 West Second street, sustaining serious, though not fatal injuries. Her right arm was dislocated, but fortunately no bones were broken.

Misfortune has followed the Weldon family for the past year. About four months ago, Mr. Weldon, who is a Northern Pacific freight conductor, was seriously injured in a wreck and for weeks lay in the Brainerd hospital. He has just recovered.

A short time ago, after he left the hospital he was called to the bedside of his father, who was very low and was not expected to live. His father resides in a small town near the Twin Cities. He is still in a very precarious condition.

Recently one of the Weldon children, a boy of 7 years, was taken ill with scarlet fever, and taken to the contagious hospital. According to reports yesterday, the boy is improving and will get well.

WANT FIFTH STREET GRADED

A movement is on foot among the residents of the hillside district at the West end, to have Fifth street graded up the hill to Nineteenth avenue west, a distance of two and a half blocks, providing that the cost is not too great. The city engineer will take levels and measurements for an estimate of the expense.

On account of the fact that the street is not graded here, the residents have no means of getting deliveries made to their doors, all fuel and merchandise having to be carried up the hill from one of the graded streets below.

If the cost is more than is expected, the city engineer will be asked to make a survey of Nineteenth avenue west from Third to Fifth street. The avenue is not graded here and the grade is very steep. It is very improbable that this will be accepted as most of the property owners on the avenue oppose having the avenue graded.

Dies in Hospital.

Mrs. Johanna Hanson, for seventeen years a resident of the West end, died this morning of cancer at St. Mary's hospital. She was 55 years old and had been ill for about a year.

Mrs Hanson made her home with a family on Garfield avenue for a number of years. No funeral arrangements have been made as yet, the body being held by Olson & Crawford, undertakers.

Mrs Hanson has no relatives living in this city. She has a husband living, but his whereabouts are unknown.

Will Present Comedy.

"Men, Maids, and Matchmakers" is the name of a three-act comedy that the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian church is planning to present early in May. It will be given at one of the halls in the West end.

The date for the affair has not yet been fixed, but it will be announced within the next two weeks. The young people in the cast, eight in number, have been practicing their parts for the past week.

After New Members.

As a means of increasing the membership of the order, Beta council, No. 2, Modern Samaritans, has arranged to give a series of weekly dancing parties at Columbia hall, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street every Monday evening. The dances will be invitation affairs.

West End Shortrails.

The Adams Athletic association will give the first of a series of weekly dancing parties this evening at Lincoln park auditorium.

Miss Olga Kirbach of West Second street left yesterday for Grantsburg, Wis., where she will spend the summer on a visit with her parents.

A strawberry social will be given this evening at the St. Luke's Episcopal church, Nineteenth avenue west and First street, under the auspices of the young people's guild.

Louis Evenson of 2010 West First street, who has been ill at his home for the past few days, is reported to be recovering.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Norwegian-Danish M. E. church held a social meeting last evening at the church parlors, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street.

The Epworth League of the First Swedish M. E. church was entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Ida Broman, Fifteenth avenue west and Superior street.

The Men's Club of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church will meet this evening at the church parlors, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street. A good program has been arranged, the feature of which will be a discussion on the subject "Politics and Christianity."

The Boys' Club of the Central Baptist church held its annual banquet last evening. Rev. J. W. Loughridge, pastor of the church, was the principal speaker.

MUCH FISH SPAWN TAKEN THIS YEAR

Several Hundred Quarts of Spawn Have Been Shipped From Pike River.

Brainerd, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—P. Saunders, the veteran gatherer of pike spawn for the state fish and game commission, while here from the state camp at Pequot, said that the catch this year was greater than ever in the history of the state fisheries. He said that reports from Pike river were equally good and that there had been 733 quarts of spawn shipped from Pequot, averaging 250,000 eggs to the quart.

The catch this spring will test the capacity of every pike hatchery in the state. The fish stopped running very suddenly when the cold wave came and it is very uncertain whether or not they will resume running with the warm weather.

NEW PITTSBURG BOATS COMING

Schiller and J. P. Morgan, Jr.. Will Come Up Lakes Next Week.

The Schiller and the J. P. Morgan, Jr., two of the new boats of the Pittsburg fleet, are expected here on their maiden trip about the first of the week.

These boats are of the large size and the trip here will mark their entrance actively into the ore carrying trade of the Great Lakes. As yet no reception has been planned for the arrival of the boats here.

The Anchor line has some plan for celebrating the coming here of one of the company's new boats; but as yet the Pittsburg people have done nothing in this line in regard to the two freighters.

PACKAGE FREIGHT MOVES SLOWLY

Early Predictions for Brisk Opening of Season Not Fulfilled.

So far, the movement in package freight by the lake and rail route has been light. With the indications of a big movement for an early opening, there has been little activity as yet.

Railroad men here are complaining of the dullness of the movement. Steamboat men state that there is a heavy chartering at the lower lake ports and that every indication points to a heavy westbound movement.

The Rochester of the Western Transit line is here with a load of package freight. It was expected that a large fleet of package freight steamers would be here before this.

Railroad men here have been given the assurance that the movement will be a heavy one when it starts.

There is little activity in grain chartering, there being a scarcity of cargoes offered.

However, it has been pointed out that there is a congestion of flour in the East, and until some is moved there is hardly likely to be a very heavy chartering for grain.

KNOX'S COURT PLAN WINNING

Secretary Says It Portends Disarmament of the Nations.

Washington, April 21.—Ultimate disarmament of the nations of the world is practicable, in the opinion of Secretary Knox. He believes the establishment of a court of arbitral jurisprudence to act for the settlement of their controversies will have the effect as its own natural consequence of not merely reducing armament, but ultimately of rendering large armaments unnecessary. His plan for the establishment of such a court, which was outlined in an identical note sent in last fall to all nations, is said to be meeting with general favor, and Mr. Knox believes that the court will be constituted at The Hague in the near future.

Like Days of '49.

The secretary gave as a familiar illustration of the succesful operation of an international court the conditions on the Pacific coast following the discovery of gold. In the absence of courts to protect the citizens, every man carried a pistol and himself redressed his real or fanciful wrongs. Ultimately the establishment of courts rendered the carrying of arms unnecessary and they were discarded.

Secretary Knox is unwilling to go into details as to the progress made toward the establishment of such a court, but it is known that reports so far received justify the expectations that such a court of arbitral justice will be esabilshed before the meeting of the next conference at The Hague in 1915.

COAL DISCOVERED IN TODD COUNTY

Extensive Beds of Valuable Fuel Product Found Near Lincoln.

Staples, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Vast beds of a fine quality of anthracite coal have been found over a large area of Todd county, in the vicinity of Lincoln.

W. K. McFarland of Staples, has the credit of proving the deposits, and has during the past six weeks drilled in four different places in the township, securing from each hole very choice samples of the shining black stone.

Three distinct veins were drilled through of varying thickness, two of which are thick enough to operate in.

Analysis has been made by a competent and reliable assayer showing the grade of coal to be very fine.

To Develop Coal Beds.

The knowledge of the find is now quite general in the county since the explorations were commenced by Mr. McFarland and the prospects are that the beds will be opened up immediately, and the coal placed upon the market through the proper channels.

Coal can be furnished the Twin Cities, from this coal field at a lower price than it can be shipped from Duluth, as the mileage is less, and therefore an immediate market will be certain, and the cost of handling the coal will be decreased materially as it can be loaded directly into the cars from the mines.

Mr. McFarland has secured leases from the owners of over 3,000 acres of the lands known to contain these deposits, and has already received a number of flattering propositions from parties much interested in this line, to sell all or a portion of his interests, but is not anxious to relieve himself of the control of a proposition, wherein the possibilities are so wonderful.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

There will be a meeting tonight at the courthouse of the central organization of Republican clubs of the city. The chief business to be transacted is the adoption of the constitution and by-laws, upon which a committee has been diligently engaged for more than a week.

Officers of the organization say that the enthusiasm that is being shown by the members of the ward clubs and their delegates to the central organization is such that they are convinced the party will make a remarkable strong showing in any contest into which it may enter.

It has been suggested that the central organization tonight, when it received the committee's report, should hold a formal christening ceremony of some sort. The central organization has been designated in many and various terms, and the party workers would like to get together on one name for it.

Another candidate for state senator from the Forty-ninth district has appeared in the person of Bert N. Wheeler of Duluth, who filed yesterday as a Prohibitionist. Mr. Wheeler is a real estate dealer and is well known as an ardent worker in the cause of prohibition.

With Massachussetts and New York state demonstrations of the effectiveness of insurgency at the polls in mind, the men who are fighting for better things in the political and public affairs of the country cannot but be pleased at the auction of First district insurgents who, to prepare for the destruction of Tawneyism, met at Dodge Center this week. Although no man was selected to run against Tawney for the nomination, a committee has that question under consideration.

The men who participated in this conclave are level headed and shrewd, but they are Republicans.

The men who took a leading part in the Dodge Center meetings are of high standing and they will not overlook any chance to rid the district of Tawney.

These names, appearing in the reports of the Dodge Center session, should be indication that there is shrewdness and political sagacity available to the insurgents, if they will but use it: J. P. Hurley, Albert Lea; T. H. Kelly, Owatonna; Dr. F. R. Yoos, Rochester; Ralph Frescott, Le Roy; Eugene Miller, St. Charles; O. M. Leyang, Lanesboro; G. W. Nottage, H. G. Palmer and D. B. Franklin.

The Norwegian Republican Club of Duluth will hold an important meeting Monday evening in the Christie building. Plans for increasing the membership will be discussed and the season's activities in the cause of Republicanism will be mapped out. The proposition that the club shall give a banquet soon is also to come up for consideration. All Norwegian residents of the city are invited by the officers of the club to be present.

A writer in the St. Paul Dispatch says: "It is received by those who were in the senate when Day and Congressman Davis were there that Day and Davis didn't jibe. By the same token at that time Day, then a Republican, and Jim Tawney were great friends, roomed together, and expressed mutual and deathless regard for one another.

"As a matter of fact they are not now on so friendly, at least so intimate, terms. They don't room together now, and men who know them both declare there never has been a room built big enough to hold Frank Day and Jim Tawney.

"Another bit of ancient gossip: Jim Tawney and H. L. Buck attended the law school at Madison, Wis., and roomed together for six months. When they returned to Winona, Hal started in opposing Jim and he has been at it ever since. It is said that old thoughts and wounds rankling in Tawney's heart will make the coming campaign one of intense bitterness."

The Ely Miner has the following to say about a candidacy that has been cordially and favorably commented upon in many quarters:

"If St. Louis county will get together with one or two neighboring counties this fall and put up a solid front, this end of the state can land a man in one of the big offices at the state capitol. This man is none other than Walter J. Smith, mayor of Eveleth, and one of the most energetic and enterprising young business men of this section of the state or any other section of the state, who has announced himself as a candidate for the office of state treasurer, subject to the whim of the Republican state convention.

"Mr. Smith, since his announcement, has received the most cordial manifestations of support from every section of the state and the northern end, or Eighth congressional district, will be his as a solid body.

"Mr. Smith, in company with John Glode and J. P. Boyle of Eveleth, were in this city and Winton yesterday, and while here sounded some of the people on the state ticket proposition. Everyone here is heartily in favor of getting a move on in state politics, and in Mr. Smith they see a chance to not only land a state office for this section of the state but also land a deserving man in an honored position."

Alvah Eastman denies, in his St. Cloud Journal-Press, that he is an enemy of A. O. Eberhart, but the terms of the denial cannot tend to warm the cockles of the Eberhart heart. He says the Journal-Press "is so good a friend of his that it objects to seeing him slaughtered, just to please a few of the so-called political managers of the Twin Cities, who are either ignorant of public sentiment, or else are willing to use the governor for their own selfish purposes. It will be no kindness to nominate Eberhart if he cannot be elected. We are not 'agin' the governor, and we are for the Republican party. In a state that has a 50,000 majority, why should a man be nominated when it is generally conceded that he cannot be elected? What we want is a candidate who can unite the party in a winning fight. If this is being 'agin' anybody—why make the most of it."

The Winona Independent makes the following comment on a feature of the recent Jefferson day banquet at St. Paul, that has attracted attention throughout the state:

"Alfred W. Johnson of New Ulm, a brother of the deceased Governor Johnson, made a brief address last week at the Jefferson day dinner in St. Paul, and the expressions of delight at his clear diction and straightforward manly utterances were heard all about. It is evident that Fred Johnson needs none of the reflected glory from his deceased brother to give him prominence. He can stand squarely on his own merits and win a high place in the esteem of his fellow men."

MENACE TO BUILDINGS

Wireless Instruments Ordered Out By City Electrician Hough.

Ordinances Disregarded and No Insulation Used in Some Cases.

City Electrician Hough took a hand in the movement for the suppression of budding amateur wireless telegraph operators yesterday when he visited about fifteen homes where boys had installed wireless outfits, cut the connections and ordered the instruments taken out.

Mr. Hough acted on account of the violations of city ordinances in the installation of instruments. In almost every case there was great danger of fire on account of the instruments, he said. The wires were in some instances strung on nails driven into the walls. There was little insulation in any case. Some of the wires were attached to the general power wires and some of the boys had more voltage than they needed.

Parents had evidently paid little attention to the manner in which the instruments were installed and they were grateful for the warning given by the city electrician. There was little objection to the carrying out of the orders of the official and he was assured that all of the instruments would be removed.

Few people knew that so many wireless outfits were in operation in the city until protests were recently made against the boys cutting in and interfering with messages being sent from boats in the lake to the station of the United Wireless company. Then the wireless station at the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. was discontinued. The city electrician will continue his investigations as he believes that there are more wireless instruments that are a menace to the buildings in which they are housed.

Object to Strong Medicines.

Many people object to taking the strong medicines prescribed by physicians for rheuamtism. There is no need of internal treatment in any case of muscular or chronic rheumatism, and more than nine out of every ten cases of the disease are of one or the other of these varieties. When there is no fever and little (if any) swelling, you may know that it is only necessary to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely to get quick relief. Try it. For sale by all druggists.

the members of the company told him that they feared some of them would have been killed had not Rule jumped on Edwards from behind. They stated that he was so insanely mad with liquor that he didn't know what he was doing and was determined to slash some of them with his knife. They stated that he sworo so fearfully that all were afraid of him, using language worse than any of them had ever heard before. Rampaging up and down the aisle and over the seats, he declared that he would murder all of them, and everybody was fearful that he would carry out his threats.

Edwards was much under the influence of liquor when he was taken into custody by the local police. He will have to sober up before he is brought into court to be arraigned.

Some of the members of the show said at the police station this morning that Edwards has been out of the hospital but two weeks, having been down with a severe attack of pneumonia. He started to drink whisky at Hibbing and the officers of the range city would have arrested him had not the members of the company thought that they could take care of him all right in their private car.

They are firm in the statement that Rule probably saved the lives of several of them. He jumped on Edwards from behind and bore him to the floor before he realized what was happening to him. The other men in the car came to Rule's assistance and they managed to get the best of him after a desperate battle in which Rule was cut and Edwards himself sustained several cuts. The police called a physician this morning to dress the wounds.

they put it in this bill because they wanted to see it become law. Section 12, if enacted, would conflict with the decisions mentioned.

Court in Sad Condition.

"It can become operative only in one way. Of the members of the supreme court which decided the Louisville & Nashville railroad case, only three are now on the bench, and two are advanced in years and are not entitled to their retirement. The court is in a lamentable condition. Two vacancies now practically exist. Two more will soon exist in the natural course of events. This will make at least four appointments that the president will have to make.

"Having the power to appoint the members of this court, who finally determine the law upon all questions, he has the power to appoint those whose sentiments in regard to the section accord with his. The attorney general would, no doubt, grace the supreme bench. If he were appointed, would he not support his own handiwork?

An Easy Manipulation.

"How easy it would be for the president, through his new appointees, to bring about a change in existing law and to foist upon the people the provisions of section 12, as the law of the land.

"The pending bill demonstrates that the president is strongly inclined towards the interests of the railroads. Therefore, would he not make appointments of court of commerce judges known to be favorable to the railroads?

"If this should happen, then by the passage of this bill, all the benefits and protection given by court decisions may be lost, and the railroads may by our action be authorized to accomplish those very things, in matters of consolidation, which the courts have determined they could not do because they were detrimental and destructive to the rights of the people."

Mr. Purcell criticised many of the provisions of the bill. Of the proposed court of commerce he complained, and said that no established lawyer could desire a place on its bench because it would be "a vortex of passion and greed."

Should Control Lake Rates.

He found fault with the failure of the bill to prohibit overcapitalization and improper combination on the part of the railroads. He expressed the opinion that the bill should permit the interstate commerce commission to regulate transportation rates on the Great Lakes, as under existing conditions no independent lines could get a footing on those waters.

Mr. Purcell declared that already the country had repudiated the wisdom of the president in giving his indorsement to the new tariff law. In support of this he referred to the action of the Indiana state Republican convention. He pointed out that in all the five congressional elections held since the Payne-Aldrich bill became a law, the Republican candidates had been defeated, notwithstanding the districts had all been Republican.

He spoke regarding the failure to place lumber on the free list and went at length into conditions in his own state, where he said the lumber business was largely under the control of a ring.

When he concluded Mr. Purcell was congratulated by a number of his colleagues.

FORTY-ONE MEN LOSE LIVES IN EXPLOSION IN MODEL COAL MINE

a miracle could save the men entombed.

When it was learned that it was impossible to gain entrance to the mine through the shaft because the cages were sprung in the passage, the entrance was sealed to prevent, if possible, the spread of fire.

Shortly after midnight, the hospital car of the Tennessee company was rushed to the scene, equipped with helmets and all other necessary paraphernalia for working in a gaseous mine. Hospital ambulances also were sent from Enley and Birmingham to the scene, which is about twelve miles northwest of Birmingham.

Was Model Mine.

The only list of names of the miners at work at the time of the explosion was held by the foreman of the gang at work, who is among the entombed. It is believed, however, there are about fifteen white men and twenty to twenty-five negroes.

The mine has been in operation about two years and was considered a model of its kind. The shaft is 350 feet deep and the fact that flames shot from the mouth of the shaft to a height of 100 feet leads to the belief that the explosion occurred near the bottom of the main shaft, cutting off any means of escape for the miners.

Government Crew Out.

Washington, April 21.—The United States geological survey has ordered its mine rescue crew from the Knoxville, Tenn., station to the Mulga mine. Equipped with the oxygen helmets, which enabled the rescuers to penetrate the shafts at the Cherry, Ill., disaster hours before any human being unequipped with them could have lived, the government experts ought to be at the mine some time today.

held up a Union Pacific mail train near Omaha last fall.

Was Daring Effort.

The break for liberty was made about 8 o'clock, and was the result of a cleverly planned plot on the part of the five convicts. Its execution was most daring.

Two of the convicts were at work in the carpenter shop, and the others were in the tailor shop. A Union Pacific switch engine had backed into the prison yard. At the sound of the whistle the men dashed into the yard, and made toward the engine. Leveling dummy guns at the engineer, the men climbed into the cab and compelled him to reverse his engine.

The engine, with the convicts aboard, rushed through the west gate into the open country, and soon was speeding toward the west.

When the engine had reached a point half a mile from the prison, the five men jumped to the ground and made for the woods.

Separated in Woods.

Clark and Gideon separated from the others, and soon were captured. Then every available guard, led by Deputy Lemon, started after the other three men. A half mile further on the trio was surrounded in the woods. No shot had been fired on either side up to 11 o'clock, when the guards began to close in on the convicts. Although the convicts are all desperate men, it was believed their only weapons were guns made of wood and painted in the carpenter shop.

The youth shot his uncle with a borrowed rifle, after a scuffle that terminated a drinking bout on the night of Nov. 1.

Ernest Terry, a local hackman, was the heaviest loser. Martin Brown, in charge of the barn, had a narrow escape. He was asleep in the barn. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin, and James Baunn and Maurice Morris have been placed under arrest.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A damage suit out of the ordinary has been instituted in the district court here. John Foss is suing Dr. J. Francis Schefeik for $5,000 damages because the physician administered an old-fashioned spanking to his 5-year-old daughter. Foss claims the girl was bruised and frightened so badly that her nerves were shocked. Dr. Schefeik, in his answer, says he was driving along the Cedar Lake road Aug. 3, 1909, in front of the Foss home in his automchile, when the Foss child threw a rock at him, striking him in the eye and cutting the eyeball. He leaped from his machine, caught the child and spanked her not more severely than her act merited. The physician claims his eye is permanently injured, and he asks for a verdict for $25,000 against Foss.

RUNAWAY NEARLY WRECKS HEARSE

Funeral Escapes, But Baby Carriage Is Demolished By Frightened Horse.

A runaway team belonging to the Yale Laundry company nearly wrecked a hearse with the body of Mrs. Anna Lund, whose funeral was being held, yesterday afternoon. It demolished a baby carriage from which the mother had hastily snatched the helpless infant.

The team started from First avenue east and First street and ran as far as Third avenue east, where it dashed into a blacksmith shop. The tongue of the wagon was snapped in two but no one was injured. The woman with the baby carriage was crossing Second avenue east and fortunately noticed the team in time to pick up her baby and get out of their way.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT'S WELCOME IN PARIS

ly touched by the character of his reception. Leaning out of the car window as the train came to a standstill, he called to Mr. Bacon:

"Hello, Bob!"

A moment later he had reached the station platform and was greeting M. Jusserand and other friends effusively.

In turn each of the representatives of the government and the municipality extended a formal welcome to their guest. These formalities were over in a few minutes, and Mr. Roosevelt and Kermit, with M. Jusserand and Mr. Bacon, entered an automobile and were driven rapidly to the American ambassador's residence, where Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel were awaiting them.

During the passage of their car through the streets Mr. Roosevelt was frequently cheered, and several hundred persons who were awaiting in front of the embassy greeted him with much enthusiasm.

Call on President Fallieres.

Mr. Roosevelt spent the morning quietly at the embassy there with Mr. Bacon and several of the former president's friends, including Gen. Brudrie, Marquis Lasteyrie, a grandson of Gen. Lafayette, Ambassador Jusserand and M. Leroy-Beaulelu of the French institute.

This afternoon the official part of Mr. Roosevelt's program began with calls upon President Fallieres and Foreign Minister Pichon, who immediately afterwards paid return visits to the embassy.

This evening the Roosevelt and Bacon families will dine together and later occupy the presidential box at the Comedie Francaise, where they will witness a performance of "Oedipus Rex."

American Flags Flying.

In honor of Mr. Roosevelts visit this city is bristling with American flags, which are flying from all of the hotels and many private residences and shops, particularly in the Rue de la Paix and the opera quarters. Articles of welcome in the press indicate that France already has capitulated, and the enthusiasm here is simply a continuation of the remarkable demonstrations in Italy and Hungary.

Mr. Roosevelt has issued a statement relative to a Rome dispatch printed in the United States last week, quoting him as saying that upon his return to America he would do his utmost to drive from Rome "the Methodists who disgrace any religion." Mr. Roosevelt says this alleged statement was an unqualified falsehood, which must have been known as such when it was published. He says he never publicly nor privately said anything remotely resembling what this dispatch said.

IN THE BLOOD

A Bad Humor Broke Out As a Small Sore—Intense Suffering for Five Years.

A Permanent Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"On getting up one morning I found what seemed to be a mosquito bite on the calf of my right leg. Soon the sore grew larger and continued day after day, becoming more and more troublesome. One physician advised me to use a rubber bandage, but the sore grew worse until there was not a spot of healthy skin as large as a ten-cent piece between my knee and ankle. A third physician prescribed a paste, and then a specialist in scrofulous troubles treated me for a year. The sore seemed to be healing, but in a few months broke out as bad as ever. I had now been suffering for more than five years. My leg was a dreadful sight. There were places so large and deep that an egg might have been put into them. I was told the leg must be amputated.

"One day a neighbor spoke of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, and I thought I might as well take it. Before I finished the first bottle, I suffered less pain and could see the edges of the sore beginning to heal.

"So I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before long the sore was completely healed and my general health perfect. I believe it my duty to tell what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me." Mrs. Josephine Sargent, 28 Lincoln street, Exeter, N. H.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than 20 different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. WITH EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN ROME

SAYING FAREWELL TO KING VICTOR.

(Special Correspondence of The Duluth Herald, by George Grantham Bain.)

Rome, April 5.—Ex-President Roosevelt has had a characteristically energetic time at Rome. Surrounded by secret service men in plain clothes, unmistakably identified, however, by their blue cloth caps he was rushed from palace to embassy, from the colossal monument being erected in memory of the former Victor Emanuel to the Pantheon, where that king is buried. He has dined with the King and motored with the king and had a thoroughly strenuous time. Incidentally he has repeated to some extent the experience of ex-Vice President Fairbanks with the pope, and he returns to America without seeing the holy father.

The visit to Naples was an excursion. There was little formality about it. Mr. Roosevelt was the guest of the prefect of Naples at the opera in the San Carlo theater and there was acclaimed by a large number of American tourists in the audience. But the people of Naples took little interest in his visit. His reception in Rome has been very different. He traveled from Naples to Rome in one of the royal saloon carriages attached to the 2 o'clock train. It was a compartment and observation car not unlike our own private cars in arrangement, but somewhat more ornate. The Italian railroad cars are cheese-boxes compared to the steel constructions used on American roads. But there are jeweled glass screens in the interior, and the cushions of crimson run almost to the top of the car and a library had been provided for Mr. Roosevelt, the fame of the 100-book library which he carried through the hunting fields of Africa having reached the Italian government.

Welcomed by Royal Aide.

When the train pulled into the station at Rome the ambassador was in waiting with Count Tozzoni, the king's master of ceremonies, and other officials and the Roosevelt family was received formally in the royal waiting rooms. Thence they went to the Hotel Beau Site in automobiles and then direct to the American embassy to dinner.

There was quite a crowd at the station, largely Americans, for Rome is crowded with American tourists. They cheered the ex-president as he left the station. The American cheer is something unknown to Italy, and the local papers described it as "applause and hurrah!"—the aspirate sound being practically unknown in the Latin tongues. Frenchman always say "allo" into the telephone.

Another serious difficulty of the Italian journals is the name of Kermit. They usually render it "Hermitt." Ethel Roosevelt evidently comes up to the Italian standard of beauty, for she is described by the newspaper of Rome as a "splendid blonde, gracious in person and elegant in attire."

The first day of Mr. Roosevelt's stay in Rome was Monday. He began his activities promptly at 9:30 by driving in a closed automobile to the Quirinal to call on the king. But on the evening before he had supplied a sensation by making public his correspondence with the Vatican.

A Roman "Scoop."

Only one of the Rome papers had this story, the others calmly announcing that the ex-president would pay his respects to the pope on Tuesday. Journalism in Italy is rather easy-going. The one paper which told the story represented the pope as much concerned because of the large sums of money the church receives from America and the possible effect of such a slight to one as popular in his country as Mr. Roosevelt. This paper, however, the Messagero, is noted for its strongly anti-clerical attitude.

The call at the Quirinal lasted from 10 o'clock until nearly 11:30. Meantime a crowd—chiefly Americans—gathered on the sidewalk opposite the entrance and watched for the ex-president to come out. But a smart shower drove them away just before the gates were flung open.

At the Pantheon, where he proceeded immediately, he was met by a much larger crowd. There was shelter there and several hundred Americans gathered around the tombs of King Humbert and King Victor Emmanuel, which are on opposite sides of the rotunda. On each of these in turn Mr. Roosevelt laid a wreath, for the Pantheon is illuminated through a hole in the center of the dome, and through this the heavy rain passed, flooding the pavement. The conditions for photography were almost prohibitive, yet Italians with cameras swarmed over the altars, to the great annoyance of the sacristan, who was kept busy pulling them down. There was a great but futile clicking of shutters.

From the Pantheon Mr. Roosevelt drove to the embassy for luncheon and then to his hotel, where he held a reception.

Special Honor Shown.

It is related in the annals of the Dutch Treat club that—

"Italian kings are very proud,

"They eat spaghetti long and loud."

It was an exceptional honor extended to an American citizen, therefore, when the king, pink of cheek and precise in military attire, called at the Hotel Beau Site on Tuesday morning to take Mr. Roosevelt for a motor ride. The king descended from his car and entered the hotel. Then he came out escorting Mr. Roosevelt, who took a seat at his right hand. For the ceremonial observances at Rome, Mr. Roosevelt had abandoned his slouch hat and appeared in frock coat and silk hat, well-gloved.

Remembering the incidents of the Philadelphia convention which named Mr. Roosevelt for the vice presidency, I recalled the picture of him riding beside Senator Platt to the convention hall, the old slouch hat on his head. Senator Platt tried to persuade him that the dignity of the governor of New York required that he should wear a silk hat, but he would have none of it. Theodore Roosevelt has developed several sides of his character since he was governor of New York.

Ex-President and King.

There was a curious contrast between the ex-president and the king as they sat in the royal automobile side by side. The king, pink and precise, with calm unwrinkled face, showed no trace of the responsibilities of governing a great and increasing race of men in a thickly peopled country where politics is even more constantly active than in our own. The king was brought up to the inheritance of his responsibilities. Theodore Roosevelt, though he is in fine physical condition, shows in every line of his face the strain under which he has been in his fight for "my policies."

A dozen secret service men kept pace with the automobile on bicycles, much as the president's carriage was guarded by Washington detectives during Roosevelt's term. It visited the barracks and the Plazza Venezia where a splendid monument to Victor Emmanuel is under construction—a monument rivalling in magnificence those of the ancient Romans and which, standing at the head of the Corso is plainly visible from the Pincio and from the summits of Rome's other hills.

Returning to the hotel before noon Mr. Roosevelt turned as he left the motor car and continued in good English the conversation he had been having with the king. The king rose to bid him good-by, and returned his bow with a military salute.

In the afternoon Mr. Roosevelt visited the Palatine and studied the ruins there.

(This is the second of a series of illustrated letters which Mr. Bain is writing to The Herald while accompanying the ex-president on his European tour. The third will appear at an early date.)

LAUDS DRAMA OF ANCIENTS

Rev. Black Draws Comparison Unfavorable to Modern Theater.

Would Like to See Life of Christ Dramatized and Produced.

That words of God will be spoken and the acts of Christ's life enacted on the stage in the modern theater at no distant time was the prophecy made last night by Rev. Bruce V. Black at the Knights of Pythias hall, during a lecture on the psychological effect of the theater.

Mr. Black went on to say that he wished to see the great themes of the world dramatized. "I want to see the conversion of Paul, his journey from Jerusalem to Rome and the shipwreck presented by living men," he said.

"The Servant in the House" received praise from the speaker. He pronounced it a play that every one should see.

Mr. Black discussed the plays of today. He asked: "If a really high-class play came to Duluth how many people would attend?" He scored the drama which he said was ordinarily a series of impossible events strung together.

The speaker said that the cheap theaters were very ordinary and not in the least helpful. He admitted that they were an economic necessity.

Before scoring the theater of today, Mr. Black paid high compliment to the ancient theater of Greece and Rome.

CITY SHOULD PROSECUTE.

Chief Troyer Says Ordinance Should Cover "Blind Pig" Cases.

C. H. Troyer, chief of police, believes that the city should get the benefit of the fines and bonds forfeited in blind pig cases in the city. At the present time they have to be tried under the state law as there is no ordinance covering the offense. Chief Troyer says that the city officials serve the warrants and do all the work. When the cases come to trial they have to go to the district court to have a hearing under the state law.

HEARST LAUDS TAFT AND CRITICISES ROOSEVELT

Says Present President Is Accomplishing More Than Predecessor.

Suggests That Hepburn Law Was Intended to Be a Failure.

Washington, April 21.—William R. Hearst, former aspirant for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, has issued a remarkable statement over his signature, in which he unqualifiedly indorses Mr. Taft. In doing so he also criticises in severest terms the administration of President Roosevelt and in so many words warns the American nation against a renewal of the political domination of the former president.

Mr. Hearst called at the White House yesterday afternoon. He spent a half hour with the president in the executive offices. Upon leaving, Mr. Hearst said he had called merely to pay his respects to Mr. Taft, whom he said he admired. Later he issued his indorsement of the Taft administration.

"No one can talk with the president without appreciating and respecting his earnestness and sincerity," the statement proceeds. "Personally, I believe also in his efficiency. He has been one year in office and he has certainly accomplished more in that one year than Roosevelt did in his first year.

Not Roosevelt's Methods.

"It is hardly fair to compare Taft's one year with Roosevelt's seven, and yet I am not sure that, even with that, the comparison might not be to Taft's disadvantage. Taft's methods are not those of Roosevelt, but then Taft will probably not conclude his term with a panic.

"On the whole it seems to me that a quiet, earnest gentleman, who came into office when the country was in the slough of adversity, and after one year in office has placed the country on the high road of prosperity, is quite as valuable a president as a more showy and spectacular person who found the country in the height of prosperity and left it in the depths of adversity."

Pass Over Minor Faults.

Mr. Hearst admits that he does not charge Mr. Roosevelt directly with responsibility for the panic of 1907, nor does he understake to give Mr. Taft the entire credit for the restoration of prosperity. He declares, however, that an administration which is producing more dividends and finding work for the unemployed, "should not be too carpingly criticised for certain minor faults of omission or commission.

"Taft is carrying out Roosevelt's policies in the one way that they ought to be carried out," he said. "That is to say, he is doing the things that Roosevelt should have done but did not do.

"Taft is making the Roosevelt railroad rate act complete and effective. The railroad rate act has always been an utter failure and everybody who knew anything about the subject knew when it was passed that it was a farce and would be a failure.

"Intended to Fail.

"It might have been meant to be a failure. At any rate, Mr. Hepburn, the gentleman who was selected by the Roosevelt administration to stand sponsor for that bill in the house, had been but lately hanged in effigy by his enthusiastic constituents for too great friendliness to the railroads.

"Would you have selected that kind of a man, tagged with that kind of testimonal, to frame that kind of a bill? And can you imagine Mr. Roosevelt, the Diogenes of politics, hunting through congress, lantern in hand, to find an honest man and selecting this executed effigy as the fittest one to frame the people's railroad bill?"

Mr. Hearst says that President Taft is trying to stiffen into an active force the "spineless railroad rate bill of the Roosevelt administration. He gives Mr. Taft credit for the prosecution of trusts and with throwing his powerful influence on congress for needed laws, among them the corporation tax bill, the over-capitalization bill, a bill providing for postal savings banks, the parcels post measure and the income tax bill.

Taft's Good Measures.

"All these measures are good," he continues. "Some of these the Roosevelt administration wilfully omitted, others it merely neglected, some it discussed but never accomplished anything.

"If the people want more of achievement than Taft is giving then they must turn to another party, for I do not believe that there is another man in the Republican party who will do more or as much.

"Most certainly if the people want the tariff modified, they must turn to another party, for the tariff never will be modified by its beneficiaries. And its beneficiaries control the Republican party."

Mr. Hearst closed his statement with the declaration that the American people need look for no tariff reform.

RAINY RIVER GOLD MINING

Outlook In the District Is Regarded as Very Hopeful.

Repair Work Started at Foley Mine By Secretary Hoffman.

"A revival of gold mining in the Rainy river district of Ontario is under way, and it will continue with increasing force and importance. That gold is there in commercial quantity was well proved in the days of activity, when the output closely approached $1,000,000 per year. With railroads, experienced operators, companies properly financed and the latest methods, this revival will result in heavier, more profitable and permanent results than accompanied the activity a decade ago. I have lived in that district about fifteen years, and I never have lost confidence in the final outcome, despite the years of inactivity and neglect."

The foregoing expression of opinion was made by Thomas G. Prideaux of Mine Center, Ont., who was in the city yesterday. Ten years ago Mr. Prideaux was superintendent of the "Alice A" gold mine. After the decline in mining activity around Mine Center, he went into the timber and tie business, and established a general merchandise establishment at Mine Center. In addition to that, he has piled up a competence by judicious investment in Canadian lands and town lots.

Work at the Foley.

"We are very hopeful over the mining outlook in the Rainy river district," resumed the Mine Center magnate. "Before I left home, A. L. Hoffman, secretary of the Foley Gold Mines company, Ltd., arrived at Mine Center, engaged a crew of men and went out to the Foley mine to begin some repair work. It is my understanding that this work will be kept up steadily and that the number of men will be steadily increased as conditions at the mine make necessary and possible. Mr. Hoffman assured me that it would not be many weeks until the whistle at the Foley mine would be sending welcome blasts over those neglected hills around Mine Center. John Haskings has received an offer to take charge of the work planned for the spring months.

"All winter Boston and Detroit people were busily and successfully raising capital in the East for the development and equipment of the Loughed property, which almost adjoins the Foley mine on the northeast. I have not heard anything recently, but my last information was that great success was being met in securing working capital.

"There was quite an iron excitement in the winter. Mr. Ralph and others have a large group of iron claims on Bad Vermilion lake, and some work will be done on them this season.

"In the good old days the Golden Star company took up a lot of land for cordwood, and found a very strong iron formation on the tract. Down on Grassy Bay there is an iron formation, in which New York capitalists were interested by C. W. Ericson some years ago. I hear that there is a movement on foot to reorganize that syndicate, and to drop out some useless factors in it.

Money Made in Timber.

"Since mining met reverses around Mine Center much money has been made in timber. Graham & Horne of Fort William built up a lumbering enterprise and established a sawmill at Mine Center. They acquired heavy holdings, and last fall sold out for nearly $250,000 to the Mackenzie & Mann interests. The new owners will start the sawmill very soon now.

"The fact that the Ontario government has made liberal appropriations for road construction and repairs around Mine Center is taken to mean that a new policy to encourage mining and other enterprises has been adopted by the officials down in Toronto. An appropriation was secured to complete and repair the wagon road to the Foley mine from the old Mine Center road. An appropriation also was made for repair of the latter. Work will begin as soon as settled weather is assured."

Mr. Prideaux was accompanied by Mrs. Prideaux, and they left last evening for Prairie du Chien, where they will take the water at the mineral springs there for ten days. They were accompanied from Duluth by Miss Nora O'Gorman, who will be their guest at the springs.

Good results always follow the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. They give prompt relief in all cases of kidney and bladder disorders, are healing, strengthening and anti-septic. Try them. For sale by all druggists.

Liquor Joint Raided.

Towner, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drake, this county, is now rated among the "dry" towns as a result of the visit there of Sheriff Clapper and State's Attorney Donnelly. With a warrant for the arrest of Tom Casey in their possession, they reached Drake just late enough to miss Casey, who had in some manner become aware of the fact that a raid was intended. A quantity of liquor was secured and destroyed by the officials. An injunctional order was also secured and made effective over the place wherein the illegal business had been carried on.

MANY ARE OUT OF CITY

Securing Data on Duluth Citizens Who Are Not at Home.

The Children of Foreign-Born People Are of Great Assistance to Enumerators.

As far as the general enumeration is concerned, the taking of the census is going along without a hitch in Duluth. The supervisor and his assistants are putting considerable effort in attempting to get data on people who are out of the city temporarily, and who will not return before the end of the period for taking the census.

There is always a large number of Duluth people out of the city at this time and efforts are being made to reach them or some friends who will be able to give necessary data. As a rule, members of firms are able to give enough information as to other members of their firms to satisfy the census man. All people, who are out of the city, cannot be reached by mail, and all information possible is being secured here in regard to them.

Many people filling out the individual census slips fail to supply the street and number, which is necessary in order that they may be counted in the proper enumeration district. The filling out of the blank for the street and number is almost as necessary as the name, and people filling out the individual slips should not make the omission.

Individual slips are being distributed by the enumerators wherever necessary. They go to hotels, lodging houses, rooming houses and places where the regular occupants are not at home when the enumerator calls, and the people at home are not able to answer the questions. Envelopes are furnished with the individual slips and those filling them out may seal them and their privacy will be respected, as the information given will not come to the knowledge of anybody except the census officers authorized to tabulate it.

The schools, churches, newspapers and other agencies, which have co-operated in the campaign of education which preceded the taking of the census, have done a great work, according to the enumerators. Very few cases are found in which the people have not heard of the census and are not prepared to answer the questions.

Children of foreign-born parents have been a great help to the enumerators. They have heard of the census in schools or have read of it in the newspapers, and they have instructed their parents so they are ready for the enumerator when he calls. The children act as interpreters and advisers and they have been of great assistance. On account of the people having a knowledge of the census and being prepared for the visit of the enumerator, few interpreters have been required and much less difficulty has been experienced on account of the large foreign population of Duluth than was expected.

SHERIFF NOT BLUFFED.

North Dakota Officer Arrests Party Refusing to Accept Service.

Linton, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Assuming that he could permanently stand off the sheriff in the matter of making tax collections and serving papers in civil actions, Gus Frederickson came to grief at Kintyre, this county, when he was placed under arrest. For some time past he has been endeavoring to evade receiving a call from the sheriff but that official finally decided that drastic measures were necessary, so placed Frederickson under arrest in order to give him an opportunity of changing his opinion on subjects relating to service of papers, etc. Considerable stock on his farm was seized under a judgment recently secured against him. Frederickson seems to think that the people in his neighborhood are plotting against him and that recently they have poisoned some of his cattle and killed a flock of geese belonging to him.

Bottineau After Settlers.

Bottineau, N. D. April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Organization of the forces of the cities lying in the Mouse river loop will be perfected within the next few days for the purpose of taking concerted action toward bringing new settlers in. There are quite a number of valuable farms in this section that could be operated with profit to renters or owners and the cities, through pooling their interests believe they can bring enough new people into the country to place all of the land under cultivation.

To Develop Lignite Deposits.

Stanley, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Operation of lignite coal mines in this district for the benefit of the business interests of Stanley has been broached to the mine owners by the Stanley Commercial club. A committee of that club has made a thorough canvass of the local situation, ascertaining the amount of coal that can be used. This committee is now endeavoring to arrange with the mine owners for the opening up of the deposits and furnishing coal for use in the city.

DULUTH TO DO ITS SHARE

Alumni Will Get Behind Movement for a Northrop Memorial.

Local Graduates Gather at Dinner Given in President's Honor.

As a result of the talks made last evening at the banquet given in honor of President Cyrus Northrop of the University of Minnesota at the Duluth Commercial club, there will soon be a meeting of the alumni living in Duluth at which will be discussed plans for entering energetically upon a campaign to help give the university a men's building, to be known as the Northrop hall.

There were about 150 persons at the banquet and Dr. Northrop was the chief speaker of the evening, but others also spoke. Incidental to some remarks of Bishop McGolrick, Dr. Northrop made the statement that he will retire from the university presidency Jan. 1 next. The board of regents, he said, will find a man to take his place by that time.

The distinguished educator's address was an eloquent appeal to the graduates and former students of the institution to get behind the movement for a men's hall. He said that he cared nothing about what the building may be named, but he wanted the men of Minnesota to have such a building. Secretary E. B. Johnson of the general alumni association laid special stress on this fact that Dr. Notrhrop was indifferent to the proposal to name the building for him, when he took the floor.

In his address the university president made a complimentary reference to H. B. Hovland of Duluth, who is a member of the board of regents, and said:

"I hope that the policy of governors of this state in the future will not make the regency a means of rewarding venerable politicians for their services, but that the members of the board will be recruited from among alumni of the institution. I do not mean that all members of the board should be alumni, nor that a majority should necessarily be alumni. But there are so many graduates of the state university in this state now that it is reasonable to expect that a large proportion of the personnel of the board of regents should be university men."

Favors Co-Education.

Declaring that co-education is good, he continued:

"I hope the number of women in the university will increase," said the speaker. "I believe the progress of the race and country in coming years will be greatly affected by women. I am not a direct advocate of women's suffrage, but I am ready to have the women vote the moment a majority of them want to.

"Men of the country are wonderfully busy. The thinking and largely the intellectual culture work of life must be the sphere of woman. Our hope for civic improvement today depends largely on the energy and intelligence of women."

After tell of the needs of the university in the way of new buildings and outlining what has been done to meet these needs, Dr. Northrop intimated that when he retires from his present position he will feel at liberty to talk more freely on the subject of the reluctance of politicians in the legislature to act for the benefit of the university.

Among the speakers at the banquet were: Bishop McGolrick, Dr. F. C. Bowman, retiring president of the Northern Minnesota Alumni association; Rev. J. C. Parles, Rev. Alexander Milne and Mrs. W. H. Holt. Andrew Nelson was toastmaster. The honorary guests included Robert Munger, who was Dr. Northrop's host when he first visited Minnesota in 1851; Prof. E. W. Bohannon, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Heardking, Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Sebenius, Judge W. A. Cant and R. E. Denfeld.

Following the banquet there was a public reception and many Duluth people took advantage of the occasion to greet the famous head of the state university.

The Proposed Building.

The building which it is proposed to erect as a Minnesota tribute to President Cyrus Northrop has a frontage of 225 feet and a depth of 180 feet. Its purpose is to provide for the social needs of the 3,000 men of the university, and to provide, as far as possible, a substitute for a home life for the men, and a place where all men's organizations can have their headquarters and where the men of the university can come to know each other, so that there may be fostered a university spirit that means so much for a university.

The basement is given over to amusements and provides eleven bowling alleys, a dozen billiard tables, game rooms and barber shop. The first floor is given over largely to offices and committee rooms, and the dining hall or commons, which will seat ordinarily 600 and in which 1,000 can be provided for on special occasions.

The second floor is the club floor and contains a large living room, foyer and auditorium, all running through two floors, and in addition, small assembly rooms, a reading and writing room, a trophy room and game room.

The third floor is given over to rooms for a faculty club, and will provide for what such clubs usually provide.

The whole building will provide for the social needs of the men of the "U" under proper conditions.

HAVENS WILL NOT BE CANDIDATE AGAIN.

Rochester, N. Y., April 21.—James S. "I feel," said Mr. Havens, "that I have done enough for the party in overturning the political machine that has ruled Monroe county for the last twenty years. It is now somebody else's turn."

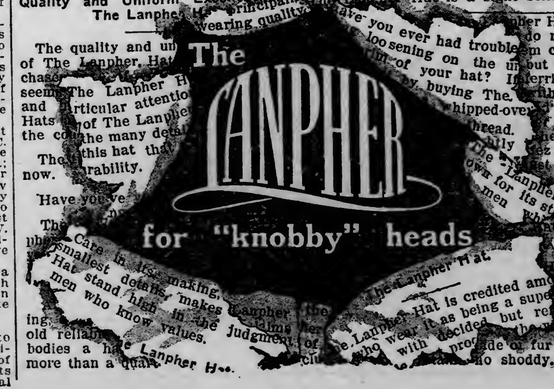
MAY TAX UNPATENTED RAILROAD GRANT LANDS.

Washington, April 21.—The senate committee on public lands purposes to make unpatented railroad grant lands which lie within forest reserves subject to taxation. Senator Hughes has reported to the senate the Nelson bill which would require the railroads to supply the money for resurveys of such lands.

There are between four and five million acres of these railroad grant lands in the United States, of which about 2,000 acres are in Montana and 800,000 acres in Oregon.

The Nelson bill would carry no appropriation for the resurvey, but would require the railroads to deposit the necessary funds with the secretary of the interior as it was needed. If they failed to do so, there would be a provision for the forfeit of the lands to the government.



Night Riders Must Pay.

Henderson against Ben Jordan and thirteen other Bracken county citizens. This is one of the "night rider" cases in which damages are sought in connection with the Kentucky tobacco war. Henderson sued for $25,000 damages.

RAINY RIVER GOLD MINING

Outlook In the District Is Regarded as Very Hopeful.

Repair Work Started at Foley Mine By Secretary Hoffman.

[illegible]

Work at the Foley.

[illegible]

... was quite an iron excitement ... winter. Mr. Ralph and others have a large group of iron claims on Bad Vermilion lake, and some work will be done on them this season.

"In the good old days the Golden Star company took up a lot of land for cordwood and found a very strong iron formation on the tract. Down on Grassy Bay there is an iron formation in which New York capitalists were interested by C. W. Erickson some years ago. I hear that there is a movement on foot to reorganize that syndicate and to drop out some useless factors in it.

Money Made in Timber.

"Since mining [illegible] around Mine Center much money has been made in timber. Graham & Horne of Fort William built up a lumbering enterprise and established a sawmill at Mine Center. They acquired heavy holdings and last fall sold out for [illegible] to the Mackenzie & Mann interests. The new owners will start the sawmill very soon now.

"The fact that the Ontario government has made liberal appropriations for road construction and repairs around Mine Center is taken to mean that a new policy to encourage mining and other enterprises has been adopted by the officials down in Toronto. An appropriation was secured to complete and repair the wagon road to the Foley mine from the old Mine Center road. An appropriation also was made for repair of the latter. Work will begin as soon as settled weather is assured."

Mr. Prideaux was accompanied by Mrs. Prideaux, and they left last evening for Prairie du Chien, where they will take the water at the mineral springs there for ten days. They were accompanied from Duluth by Miss Nora [illegible], who will be their guest at the springs.

Good results always follow the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. They give prompt relief in all cases of kidney and bladder disorders, are healing, strengthening and antiseptic. Try them. For sale by all druggists.

Liquor Joint Raided.

Towner, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drake, this county, is now rated among the "dry" towns as a result of the visit there of Sheriff Clapper and State's Attorney Donnelly. With a warrant for the arrest of Tom Casey in their possession, they reached Drake just late enough to miss Casey, who had in some manner become aware of the fact that a raid was intended. A quantity of liquor was secured and destroyed by the officials. An injunctional order was also secured and made effective over the place wherein the illegal business had been carried on.

MANY ARE OUT OF CITY

Securing Data on Duluth Citizens Who Are Not at Home.

The Children of Foreign-Born People Are of Great Assistance to Enumerators.

As far as the general enumeration is concerned, the taking of the census is going along without a hitch in Duluth. The supervisor and his assistants are putting considerable effort in attempting to get data on people who are out of the city temporarily, and who will not return before the end of the period for taking the census.

There is always a large number of Duluth people out of the city at this time and efforts are being made to reach them or some friends who will be able to give necessary data. As a rule, members of firms are able to give enough information as to other members of their firms to satisfy the census man. All people, who are out of the city, cannot be reached by mail, and all information possible is being secured here in regard to them.

Many people filling out the individual census slips fail to supply the street and number, which is necessary in order that they may be counted in the proper enumeration district. The filling out of the blank for the street and number is almost as necessary as the name, and people, filling out the individual slips should not make the omission.

Individual slips are being distributed by the enumerators wherever necessary. They go to hotels, lodging houses, rooming houses and places where the regular occupants are not at home when the enumerator calls, and the people at home are not able to answer the questions. Envelopes are furnished with the individual slips and those filling them out may seal them and their privacy will be respected, as the information given will not come to the knowledge of anybody except the census officers authorized to tabulate it.

The schools, churches, newspapers and other agencies, which have co-operated in the campaign of education which preceded the taking of the census, have done a great work, according to the enumerators. Very few cases are found in which the people have not heard of the census and are not prepared to answer the questions.

Children of foreign-born parents have been a great help to the enumerators. They have heard of the census in schools or have read of it in the newspapers, and they have instructed their parents so they are ready for the enumerator when he calls. The children act as interpreters and advisers and they have been of great assistance. On account of the people having a knowledge of the census and being prepared for the visit of the enumerator, few interpreters have been required and much less difficulty has been experienced on account of the large foreign population of Duluth than was expected.

SHERIFF NOT BLUFFED.

North Dakota Officer Arrests Party Refusing to Accept Service.

Linton, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Assuming that he could permanently stand off the sheriff in the matter of making tax collections and serving papers in civil actions, Gus Frederickson came to grief at Kintyre, this county, when he was placed under arrest. For some time past he has been endeavoring to evade receiving a call from the sheriff but that official finally decided that drastic measures were necessary, so placed Frederickson under arrest in order to give him an opportunity of changing his opinion on subjects relating to service of papers, etc. Considerable stock on his farm was seized under a judgment recently secured against him. Frederickson seems to think that the people in his neighborhood are plotting against him and that recently they have poisoned some of his cattle and killed a flock of geese belonging to him.

Bottineau After Settlers.

Bottineau, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Organization of the forces of the cities lying in the Mouse river loop will be perfected within the next few days for the purpose of taking concerted action toward bringing new settlers in. Alumni Will Get Behind Movement for a Northrop Memorial.

Local Graduates Gather at Dinner Given in President's Honor.

As a result of the talks made last evening at the banquet given in honor of President Cyrus Northrop of the University of Minnesota at the Duluth Commercial club, there will soon be a meeting of the alumni living in Duluth at which will be discussed plans for entering energetically upon a campaign to help give the university a men's building, to be known as the Northrop hall.

There were about 150 persons at the banquet and Dr. Northrop was the chief speaker of the evening, but others also spoke. Incidental to some remarks of Bishop McGolrick, Dr. Northrop made the statement that he will retire from the university presidency Jan. 1 next. INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

DEFECTIVE PAGE

WENT UNSCATHED THROUGH SPANISH RIVER WRECK

George P. Dier Tells of Terrible Experience on Canadian Pacific.

Employe of Duluth House One of Three to Go Uninjured.

George P. Dier, who is connected with the Montana branch of the wholesale firm of Stone-Ordean-Wells company of Bozeman, and who had a remarkable escape from death in the wreck last January of the Canadian Pacific railroad passenger train at Spanish river in Ontario, is in the city on a business visit. He tells a very interesting story of the wreck, in which Mrs. Dier was seriously injured. She is now in the Royal Victoria hospital at Montreal, where she has been for three months. Mrs. Dier suffered a grave injury of the spine.

The wreck happened Jan. 21, thirty-nine miles from Sudbury, and of the eighty-nine people on the train fifty-nine were killed and only three escaped injury. The three were a man, a woman and a child. The man was Mr. Dier.

A few minutes after 1 o'clock he had gone into the lavatory and when the crash came he was imprisoned there, safe from harm. Mrs. Dier, not so fortunate, was one of the most seriously injured of the survivors.

The stretch of road over which the train was passing is known as the race track of the division. The engineer's terminal point was twelve miles away and it is supposed that he was driving his locomotive at top speed to make up from three to eight minutes lost time, attaining a speed of from eighty to ninety miles, according to some accounts. The roadbed was rough, the rails were of seventy-two pound steel and ninety-ton engines were used on the road. The natural conclusion is drawn that these conditions caused a spreading of the rails.

At the coroner's inquest it was shown that only two men were employed to care for eight miles of railroad. Not only was it their duty to keep the track in repair, but also upon them devolved the duty of shoveling away the snow that accumulated in the cuts and weakened the r oadbed.

The first car to leave the track was a second-class coach. It smashed against a girder of the bridge, traveling a distance of 405 feet after leaving the track, and there it lodged until all was reduced to complete wreckage by fire and fell to the ground.

The engine, baggage and mail cars went over the bridge safely, but one first-class coach and the diner were hurled over the embankment, which is thirty-three feet in height. The car in which Mr. and Mrs. Dier rode hurled through the air for a distance of 147 feet before it struck the river bank, and the other crashed through the ice and into the water.

The inquest was not held until three days after the disaster happened, and this fact was the cause of much criticism, the intimation being made openly that the Canadian Pacific authorities may have been responsible for the delay.

The Normana chorus of forty voices will have a separate table and will sing during the banquet. They will render "America" in Norwegian at the close of the banquet and the entire body of men will rise and join in the closing verse.

The hall will be decorated with flags, and a great statistical banner, showing what the churches are doing in the city and surrounding territory, will be displayed over the stage. One of the most thrilling addresses at this time will be "Dawn in the Dark Continent," by Willis R. Hotchkiss. It is reported that at the Fargo convention the audience was so taken with this address that they gave him the Chautauqua salute. Dr. Headland will speak on "Men and Missions;" Dr. Percy H. Silver on "The Genesis and Significance of the Movement;" Judge Page Morris, "Welcome to the Movement;" Mayor Cullum will welcome the visitors.

The day sessions on Saturday will be held at the First Methodist church. On Sunday morning there will be the usual services. At 3 o'clock there will be a meeting for all the men of the city. This meeting will be for men only; the galleries to be thrown open to the general public, with the first floor reserved for delegates. At 3 p. m. there will be a mass meeting for women at the First Presbyterian church. At 5 p. m. will be held separate denominational rallies, places to be announced by the denominations. At 7:30 p. m. will be the closing session of the convention. This is expected to be one of the largest sessions of the convention, as the various churches will then report on what they expect to do in the follow-up campaign, which will be immediately undertaken after the close of the convention. Two addresses will be made at this convention, one by Bishop Lewis and one to be arranged, probably by Dr. Homer S. Stuntz of New York city. At the same time on this evening there will be a mass meeting for women of the women of the city generally, and those others who care to attend, at the Pilgrim Congregational church. At this meeting the great question of "World Evangelization in This Generation" will be discussed by men from the home and foreign fields.

Superior will also hold a meeting at the opera house at the same time.

One Conductor Who Was Cured.

Mr. Wilford Adams is his name, and he writes about it.—"Some time ago I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism. I used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect, and the third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Leington, Ky., Street Railway. It gave me more relief than any medicine I had ever used, and it will do all you claim in cases of Rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy cures rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. ORGANIZING TAG FORCES

Young Women Enrolling to Assist in Raising Money for St. Mary's Hospital.

The people having charge of the arrangements for the "tag day" to be held May 3 for the benefit of St. Mary's hospital are organizing their forces. Early on the morning of May 3, young women armed with large supplies of tags and receptacles for receiving the contributions to the cause will go out on the streets, into the office and public buildings, tagging everybody and gratefully receiving any sums that those tagged may drop into the receptacles. Young women are cheerfully enrolling to give their efforts to the work.

The "taggers" will be energetic in their work. They will let nobody escape, and, in the interests of charity, they will ask everybody to contribute something in return for the tag. Anything will be gratefully received, from the smallest copper coin to anything that has the ring and glitter of gold.

The "tag day" has become a popular form of raising funds for charitable institutions. It has not been overworked in Duluth, and people have shown a willingness to be tagged, if the campaign is in the interests of a worthy cause, such as St. Mary's hospital is. Nobody will be importuned to contribute to the cause, if there is an unwillingness to do so. The tag will merely present the cause and those who are tagged may contribute nothing or what they will.

St. Mary's hospital is dependent largely upon the charity of the public for its maintenance. Many charitable cases are treated there and, although contributions are received from time to time from generous donors, there is no set source of revenue to reimburse the Sisters for the treatment of patients who come without funds and are cheerfully taken in and nursed to health.

The hospital will be put under tremendous expense for the erection of an addition to be built this year. The addition is absolutely necessary, as the hospital is crowded. The hospital needs funds and it is the hope of those having the "tag day" in charge that a substantial sum will be raised to assist the charitable work being done by the Sisters.

TOOK A BEATING; WANTS DAMAGES

Samuel H. Irvine Sues Northern Pacific Railroad Company for $1,999.

In district court, Samuel H. Irvine is trying to recover $1,999 from the Northern Pacific Railroad company for a beating, he says he took from one of the company's auditors. The trial is going on before Judge Dibell.

In his complaint, Irvine states that he boarded the company's train at Carlton. A man whose name was said to be Elliott and whom he claims later to have found to be one of the company's auditors approached him and started to insult and misuse him, he claims.

Elliott, Irvine claims, followed up his talk with the beating. Irvine says that he was struck in the face and kicked when he was down.

As the result of the trouble he claims that his face was disfigured and he suffered much humiliation.

DAMAGE SUITS FILED IN COURT

Nurse Wants $20,000 From Railroad---Workman Sues Contractor.

Two personal injury suits were started in district court this morning when the papers in the actions were filed with the clerk of the district court.

Effie Lewis, a trained nurse, wants $20,000 general and $170 special damages for a fall alleged to have been sustained when she fell from a Duluth, Missabe & Northern train while attempting to leave the train at Fifty-seventh avenue west.

Miss Lewis claims that the company was negligent in that it had no platform at the regular stopping place. She states in her complaint that a stool was placed on the sand and gravel and that in stepping on it a part of the earth gave away and she fell. As the result of the fall she claims she sustained injuries to her hips, back and spine.

Nels Lunde is suing George R. King for $2,500 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when working in a ditch at Eleventh avenue west, between Railroad and Michigan streets.

Lunde claims that he was employed by King and was working in the ditch which was from 6 to 8 feet deep. He states in his complaint that there was no supports to keep the ditch from caving in and that he so informed the foreman, who assured him that the place was perfectly safe. He claims that the contractor was negligent in that the supports were not provided. As a result of the cavein, he says, his left leg was broken.

Prof. McGuire Is Trying to Cheapen Process of Clearing Land.

Prof. A. J. McGuire of the Grand Rapids state experimental farm is in the city and conferred at the Duluth Commercial club with several men who are interested with him in the project of obtaining cheaper explosives for the farmers of Northern Minnesota. It is probable that he will take the matter up with the different farmers' clubs of the district, and try to benefit as many as possible by the distribution of the information he has secured through his exeriments.

Prof. McGuire left for Grand Rapids this afternoon. He has just come from the Douglas county experimental farm at Superior, where he inspected the work that is being carried on there.

CONCERNING WOMAN.

Mrs. Wesley Feetham, the general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association and the committees working with her realize that the laymen's convention, which will be attracting the attention of the city almost exclusively within a few days is not a thing entirely of the spirit. Every one else will agree with this when it is known that for the opening banquet to be served at the Armory Friday evening that there will be sliced into thin layers 200 pounds of boiled ham, and gamboling calves who have through various processes become veal loaves will be sacrificed for the laymen's appetite to the extent of 200 pounds. There will be twelve bushels of potatoes mashed to a creamy pulp and there will be a few gallons of chili sauce. There will be sixty gallons of beans baked with pork and 3,000 Parkerhouse rolls will be offered up as an offering to the "parliament of religious men." Coffee will be served in a golden shower with your dinner between the courses and at the end. No one will keep any track of the gallons consumed.

There will be 200 apple pies divided into even sections and fifty pounds of cheese will accompany them. For good measure there will be 3,000 doughnuts, sort of on the side, so that the good gentlemen may have something to nibble on between times.

Although the delegates are probably acting strictly according to scripture and "taking no thought what they shall eat" nevertheless the matter is not being entirely neglected.

TRY THIS DINNER

Tomato and Peanut Soup.

Boil together for fifteen minutes two cups of canned tomatoes, two cups of water and two tablespoons of peanut butter. Rub through a coarse sieve, reheat, season to taste; add two cups of milk and a pinch of soda. Serve with croutons.

Meat—Timbales of Beef.

Mix thoroughly two cups of cooked beef, cold, chopped very fine, two tablespoonfuls of butter, half a cup of bread crumbs, one cup of cream, a tablespoonful of minced parsley, the yolks of three eggs and salt and pepper to season. Butter custard cups, fill with the mixture, press down firmly, stand in a baking pan partly filled with boiling water, and bake a half an hour in a quick oven. Turn out and serve with tomato sauce.

Dessert—Grape Juice Rennet Custard.

One quart of milk, sugar to sweeten, two tablespoons rennet extract, two tablespoons grape juice. Put a quart of milk in a double boiler over the fire and let it warm through; sweeten to taste and when the sugar is dissolved add two tablespoons of rennet; before adding the rennet stir two tablespoons of grape juice into the milk and when the rennet is added pour into a large glass bowl. Set away in a cool place where it may remain undisturbed until the curd sets and when quite cold serve with sugar and cream. The milk should only be slightly sweetened with sugar, and if the bowl is subjected to jars or any disturbance while the curd is setting, the custard is apt to whey. The custard will be a dainty shade of lavender and, if desired, may be poured into individual molds or sherbet cups. If turned out onto individual dishes at serving time a ring of whipped cream may be placed around each mold of custard. A single candled violet may be placed on top of each mold at serving time, and the whipped cream may be dusted with crushed candied violets and pistachio nuts chopped very fine making a delicious and elaborate dessert.

THE CHUM GIVES ADVICE TO THE-GIRL-ALL-BUT-IN-LOVE

By KATHERINE FORREST HAMILL

"But when a widower's after you," pouted the-girl-all-but-in-love.

"You're as good as gone," chimed in the chum, who was doing her best to keep the-girl-all-but-in-love from committing herself further. "So, if you don't want to be snatched up and spirited away before you can say Jack Robinson, it's up to you to beat a hasty retreat for parts unknown as quickly as possible."

"But he's so adorable," sighed the-girl-all-but-in-love, "and understands a woman so thoroughly."

"Yes," laconically observed the chum, "that's the bait with which they always catch their fish, but once they're caught——"

"They live together happily forever afterward," hastily interposed the-girl-all-but-in-love.

"Don't you believe it," objected the chum. "It's the biggest ever. A man in the first stage of matrimony may be twisted to a greater or lesser extent around a woman's little finger; but when it comes to the second he's an absolutely hopeless proposition."

"But they say," asserted the-girl-all-but-in-love, "that the second wife always has the best of it."

"And they say," mimicked the chum, "that the moon is made of green cheese, and there's about as much truth in the one saying as there is in the other."

"But," persevered the-girl-all-but-in-love, "there are exceptions to all rules, you know, and mightn't this case prove the exception?"

"Yes," sweetly acquiesced the chum, "there are exceptions to all rules, save one—that of the widower and the second wife. In every instance where a girl marries a widower she learns, sooner or later, to her sorrow, that her predecessor has left her indelible stamp, which, rub as hard and long as she may, she can never succeed in erasing. The only one who should marry a widower," musingly reflected the chum, "is a widow, for she is not to be beaten at tricks, and besides, you see, she possesses one of those indelible stamps herself."

"But," ventured the-girl-all-but-in love (saving, even as does the lawyer, what she considered her most telling argument until the last), "he has such lovely children."

"And, now," gave forth the chum (assuming that all-conquering air by which we always know when one scents a victory), "we come to the really fine edge of the argument and the point I have been leading up to all along.

"To marry a widower without children is to show a sufficient lack of sense, but to shoulder the responsibility of one with a ready family to boot is, in truth, to pull down the universe upon your head and institute the Spanish inquisition all over again, for it is nothing more or less than death by slow torture."

"Ugh!" shuddered the-girl-all-but-in-love, "how you do pour cold water all over me."

"Of course, my dear," purred the now softly-modulated voice of the chum, "I wouldn't for the world be the means of your lasting unhappiness, and if you really have come to the conclusion that life will prove but an aching, empty void without him at your side——"

"Boo hoo, boo hoo," wailed the-girl-all-but-in-love, reduced to the limp and watery state, "I think you're just too horrid."

"Not at all, my dear," quietly continued the chum. "I was about to add why go ahead and take him, and I will give you my blessing."

"But," inquired the-girl-all-but-in-love, "if you were in my shoes——"

"Oh!" ejaculated the chum, "that puts a different face upon the matter entirely. If I were in your shoes I'd flee to one of those faraway corners of the globe, from whose bourne (we are told) no traveler ever returns, as missionary; take a chance at trying to discover that pole which Cook now admits he didn't; even beseech Roosevelt to let me assist in cornering a few of those African lions which may have so far escaped his six-shooter.

"Hie me over hill, over dale,
Thro' bush, thro' brier,
Over park, over pale,
Thro' flood, thro' fire.

"Before I'd marry him."

FIRST AID TO THE INJURED

Sometimes Serious Consequences, Even Death, Can Be Averted By a Little Timely Knowledge and By Knowing How to Apply It.

By H. EMERSON PORTER, M. D.

There is always the possibility of accident, and there is always the possibility of dire consequences, no matter how trivial the hurt, if proper care and attention is not given immediately. Of course, a bruise or a common abrasion is of no moment, but there are times when more serious hurts befall a person, and at the time it is impossible to secure first-class medical attention.

For the purpose of argument I will take the case of an imaginary Mr. Z and forthwith will break nearly all the bones in his body, dislocate his joints, sprain his ankles, cut him about, suffocate him, drown him and hang him—leaving him after ever round, as it were, comfortably laid out awaiting the skilled hand of a surgeon or physician.

The first counsel I would give always is: Send for a doctor. This is the golden rule, but meanwhile do not let the man die, if he can be saved by the application of a few medical rules.

To start at the beginning, we shall assume that Mr. Z has broken a bone. How will you make sure about the broken bone? A certain amount of pain will be shown by the victim under any and all circumstances, but a broken bone is always followed by a loss of power of movement of the limb or portion affected by the bone. If a bone has been broken the limb will be helpless, and the part will be bruised and swollen. There is always a curious grating sensation when the two parts of a broken bone are rubbed together.

Always handle a broken or fractured bone very gently. Put the injured person in a comfortable position, but never move him unnecessarily. Keep the broken parts of the bone in a natural position by applying a temporary splint. Anything will do for the manufacture of this article.

In case the doctor is unavailable, or far away, wash the wound free of dirt and place the broken bones in what you think to be their natural position.

Presume that Mr. Z has broken his collar bone. His shoulder falls forward, downward and inward and he is noticed to support the elbow of his injured limb with the other hand. A touch of your finger detects the break. At once you put a broad pad, a bottle or any similarly rounded instrument beneath the arm pit of the injured side which will extend the upper arm and the broken part of the collar bone outward and away from the side. The arm must be placed in a sling so as to remove its weight. Of course, the bone must be set by a doctor.

There are cases, but they are extremely rare in these days, where a doctor's care is out of the question. In that case nature heals the break, but the limb is forever distorted.

FARM AND GARDEN

Cultivation of Sweet Peas.

If sweet peas are to be cultivated in rows, it is a good plan to draw a broad, flat-bottomed drill, about a foot or eighteen inches wide. On no account should it be concave. The inevitable result of this would be to crush the seed into the center of the shallow drill and cause overcrowding. Thin sowing, however, can be carried out with perfect ease if the drill is flat. If clumps are to be grown, the same rule should be observed—the bottom of the circular trench should be perfectly flat. "How far apart should each seed be sown?" is the next question that arises. If the seed is sound, and if there is reasonable certainty of germination, each seed should be set at lease nine inches from its neighbor. One famous grower invariably sows one foot apart, and he declares that he has rarely had a failure. If the average amateur gardener strikes this happy medium, however, and does not allow his seeds to be less than six inches apart, he will probably have no cause to complain of the result.

Care of the Chickens.

During the time the chicken's plumage is giving place to feathers is a somewhat trying period when neglect shows itself in stunted growth and ill-health, rather than in the death of the youngsters. Frequently it happens that a flock of chickens is doing extremely well up to a month or six weeks of age, when suddenly they commense to mope and show evident signs of reduced vitality. The poultry keeper who has had experience knows when to expect this, and guards against it; but those who are new to the work do not realize what it means, and neglect the chickens, with the inevitable result that a long time elapses before the birds are strong and vigorous again. Foods that contain a generous preparation of almuminoids should be provided while the new feathers are being formed. Bean or pea meal in small quantities is useful; linseed, too, is very valuable at this time, since it greatly encourages the growth of feathers. To the drinking water there should be added a little sulphate of iron and sulphuric acid, in the proportion of one-fourth ounce of the former and 110 drops of the latter.

How to Raise Onions.

Onions demand some special treatment if they are to give good results. Being a very gross feeder the onion must have very heavily manured ground, which should be trenched if possible, as the roots penetrate to a considerable depth. Before sowing the ground should get a good dusting all over with soot. Point this lightly in while the soil is in a fairly dry state. Then tread the whole onion bed thoroughly and rake level. Next draw very shallow drills one foot apart, scatter the seeds very thinly and evenly, fill it with the feet, and again tread down the drills. A very light raking of the surface finishes the job.

Spoiled Buds in Blackberry Bushes.

Blackberry bushes affected by swelled buds should be uprooted at once in order that they may not infect others. The swelling in the bud is caused by a parasite and the remedy is both intricate and troublesome.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

Fly Specks on Gilt Frames.

Apply the white of an egg with a camel's hair brush to fly specks on gilt frames and they will disappear.

To Ease a Pinching Shoe.

If a shoe pinches in any particular part, a cloth wrung out in very hot water and laid over the place while the shoe is on will expand the leather and give relief.

For Cleaning Marble.

In order to clean marble powder half a pound of soda, four ounces of chalk, four ounces of powdered pumicestone; mix to a paste with water which, by rubbing over the marble, should remove all stains, then wash with soap and water.

Cement for Broken China.

A good, nearly colorless cement for mending broken china can be made as follows: Dissolve half an ounce of gum acacia in a wineglass of boiling water, add plaster-of-paris, sufficient to form a thick paste, and apply it with a brush to the parts required to be cemented together.

Powder for Cleaning.

An all-around cleanser is made by mixing together one part of powdered pumicestone and three parts of soap powder. Take an ounce cocoa tin and with a hammer and a strong nail pierce some holes in the lid. Put the mixture into the tin and springle a little on whatever you wish to clean.

Putting the Rod in Curtains.

When putting a rod through the hem of a curtain, the stick is liable to tear it. In any case it generally does not slip through easily. To prevent this, put a thimble on one end of the stick and you will find it will glide through without causing any inconvenience.

Cleaning a Copper Kettle.

First rub the kettle with a cut lemon dipped in bath brick until all the stains are removed, then wash in warm soapy water. Dry and polish with a soft cloth dipped in dry powdered bath brick. The kettle will look like new.

YOUNG MEN AND MAIDENS

By MISS EXPERIENCE

Wonders Why He Isn't In Love.

"From my boyhood I have enjoyed female society, but never have had any special favorites among my lady friends. They all appear to like me as I do them, but none of them appears to take any particular interest in me. Do you think I am destined to never fall in love?" It is a curious question, Walter G. Evidently you are a clever fellow of good principles, and thus far you have been attracted by the general charm of femininity rather than by the charms of any individual woman. You have not awakened love because you have not offered love, and the main reason is that the right girl has not yet crossed your path. Undoubtedly you will recognize each other when you meet. You will fall in love, surely, and the woman who can inspire that feeling in you will probably reciprocate it.

Patience Must Rule Here.

Grace D. writes: "I have fallen deeply in love with a young man who has asked me to take walks and rides with him. He is in a very fine position, but I wish I knew if he means anything by his attentions. He is so good to me, and it is that that has won my heart. Ought I to go on meeting him or not?" That you must decide for yourself. You know best if you care so much for him that you are willing to wait, if needs be, and go through, perhaps, some amount of unhappiness for the sake of ultimately being happy. But if you really think he is only amusing himself, it would be a great deal wiser to end the whole thing at once.

A Case of Silly Jealousy.

"I have been engaged two years and we have been very happy, but the other day I happened to meet a man that I used to go out with. I thought I ought to tell my fiance. At first he seemed not to mind, but since then he has been quite cold to me—goes to theaters alone, and all that." Thus Edna C. writes. It is very silly of him, if the meeting was quite an accidental one.

CONQUERED IN CLOUDLAND

By Frederick W. Webber.

"You will never find her on earth, Herbert. You are looking for an angel!"

Herbert Byerly's sister, Mrs. Ashton, had reproached him for his persistent bachelorhood, for he was fully entered upon his thirties, and as yet he had singled out none of the desirable young women in his set as and object of especial attention.

"It is too bad Herbert Byerly is such a confirmed bachelor," the matrons would remark to each other at times. He is rich, educated and handsome; and then he is such a lovable fellow he would make an ideal husband."

Mrs. Ashton fully coincided with these views. She had exercised all her powers of diplomacy to bring her brothers within range of Cupid's arrows, but he appeared to be invulnerable. She had chided him more than once for allowing others to win prizes in the matrimonial game that he him self might have won, but he was incorrigible. On this occasion she had been more than usually vigorous in her reproaches and told him that he owed it to the dignity of the family name to take to himself a wife. His defense was a description of the sort of woman to whom he would capitulate should fate lead her across his path. He smiled at his sister's retort, and returned it with a compliment that caused her to blush with pleasure.

"She will be no more an angel than my sister Edith," he remarked.

Care free as well as heart free, Herbert Byerly made life a round of sensible enjoyment. Business made no demands upon him other than those relating to the conservation of interests constituting the large fortune he had inherited from his father. He was no recluse, but entered into all the gaities of the circle in which he belonged. Nor was he one who scorned women, for none was more gallant than he, nor could make his companion for the moment feel more at ease. But he treated all women alike and never permitted any of his attentions to kindle the spark that he was unwilling to fan into a flame.

Among the men Byerly was noted for the avidity with which he took up each new form of recreation that presented itself. He was one of the kingpins on the golf links. He had driven his motor car over the sandy course at Ormond beach at speeds that almost caused the records of speed merchants to wobble. And just now he was one of the most enthusiastic members of the aero club. In his balloon, the Daphne, he had made flights astonishing in the heights attained and remarkable in the duration of journeys accomplished.

One of these journeys had been planned for the day following the conversation in which he is introduced. It was to be a go-as-you-please trip, to include as many landings and as many days of enjoyment as the amount of gas in the bag and of ballast in the basket would permit. Sam Kigsbury, his pilot, had the baloon in readiness at the hour appointed and without ado the aeronauts vaulted from the earth to the ether, and under the impulse of a southerly breeze sped northward from the great metropolis over the valley of the Hudson.

The flight was not a rapid one, but by the middle of the afternoon it had carried the voyagers over a romantic stretch of country and beneath them was a large village, which suggested to Byerly a diversion he had more than once enjoyed. He would make a landing, astonish the natives and treat the young women to a series of captive ascensions.

The plan was to act with Byerly, and the baloon was soon safe at anchor in the large field just outside of the village and the center of interest for the entire population. Volleys of questions were answered, and finding that he could find accommodations for over night in the village Byerly announced that any of the young women who desired to see the world from a height measured by the drag rope might do so. A number of captive ascensions were made, and Byerly began to take notice of one young woman who apparently eager for the experience, invariably made way for some other girl who finally had mustered the necessary courage. What struck him most was that this young woman, despite her own evivdent impatience to make the ascent herself, was assiduous in encouraging those who wavered at the last moment.

Her own turn came at length. The pilot relinquished his place in order to accommodate "just one more for the final trip," and there was only one more to go. "Hurrah for Jennie Morse!" the crowd shouted as she waved a good-bye from the basket. The shout merged into a cry of dismay as the balloon shot high into the air, far beyond the limit of the rope's length.

"We've pulled loose, but don't be alarmed, ladies," Byerly said quietly, as he noticed that all save one of his passengers was on the verge of panic. Jennie Morse was the exceptional one. Her exclamation, "Oh, this is glorious!" added to the reassuring effect of his words.

Her enthusiasm was genuine, and it became infectious. It grew as the balloon clove higher and higher into space.

"The world looks like a great big bowl decorated with landscape," she exclaimed as her companions lost their sense of fear as they realized the truth of the description. "We seem to be always poised exactly over its center and its brim is always on a level with our eyes."

Even Byerly could not help being impressed by the vivid reality of the girl's comparison. The familiar picture over which the balloon swung, as in a vast cyclorama, took on a charm it never had possessed for him before. But over it there came a change that brought an anxious look into his face. Above the horizon there arose a mass of clouds that rolled toward the center of the bowl with alarming rapidity. One of those sudden thunder storms so frequent in the summer was approaching. To attempt to reach terra firma until it had passed was too much of a risk.

"There is a storm coming, ladies," he said calmly. "We must rise above it until it passes. Now don't get frightened."

There was scarcely a necessity for his word of caution. Jennie Morse had her companions hypnotized by the grandeur and beauty she was continually discovering and pointing out. They watched the sea of fleecy billows that rolled beneath them, and they listened without nervousness to the rumble of the thunder, marveling that they saw no flashing of the lightning that they knew was cutting zigzag paths through the masses of vapor. Jennie Morse was unconscious that a man's admiring eyes were upon her as she dilated on the wonders of the scene. And the only words that passed between her and the man throughout all the romantic experience was the hearty "Thank you, Mr. Byerly for the grand experience you have given us," which she uttered as she stepped from the balloon car when a landing was effected a few miles distant from the starting place, after the storm, which was as short as it was sudden, had passed.

Herbert Byerly was a man of decision. Jennie Morse was the first woman who had ever interested him excent in an ordinary way. How far she outstripped others in his estimation can be indicated sufficiently by quoting what his sister said to him a few months later when the announced to her a bit of interesting personal news.

"I told you, Herbert, you would never meet your idea on earth," she exclaimed with a laugh.

"And when you come to know her well," said he, "you will admit she is an angel."

THOUGHTS ON HEROISM

Self-trust is the essence of heroism.—Emerson.

In a truly heroic life there is no preadventure. It is either doing or dying.—Roswell D. Hitchcock.

Heroism—the divine relation which in all times unites a great man to other men.—Carlyle.

The grandest of heroic deeds are those which are performed within four walls and in domestic privacy.—Jean Paul Richter.

There is more heroism in self-denial than in deeds of arms.—Seneca.

Take away ambition and vanity, and where will be your heroes and patriots?—Seneca.

Heroes did not make our liberties; they but reflect and illustrate them.—James A. Garfield.

Mankind is not disposed to look narrowly into the conduct of great victors when their victory is on the right side.—George Eliot.

The world's battlefields have been in the heart chiefly, and there the greatest heroism has been secretly exercised.—Beecher.

The true epic of our times is not "Arms and the Man," but "Tools and the Man"—an infinitely wider kind of epic.—Carlyle.

Heroism is active genius; genius, contemplative heroism. Heroism is the self-devotion of genius manifesting itself in action.—J. C. and A. W. Hare.

A noble life, crowned with heroic deeds, rises and outlives the pride and pomp and glory of the mightiest empire of the earth.—Garfield.

Every heroic act measures itself by its contempt of some external good. But it finds its own source at last and then the prudent also extol.—Emerson.

Those whom the world has delighted to honor have oftener been influenced in their doings by ambition and vanity than by patriotism.—Rochefoucauld.

The greatest obstacle to being heroic is the doubt whether one may not be going to prove one's self a fool; the truest heroism is to resist the doubt, and the profoundest wisdom is to know when it ought to be resisted and when to be obeyed.—Hawthorne.

Heroism works in contradiction to the voice of mankind, and in contradiction, for a time, to the voice of the great and good. Heroism is an obedience to a secret impulse of an individual's character.—Emerson.

Heroism, self-denial and magnanimity, in all instances where they do not spring from a principal of religion, are but splendid altars on which we sacrifice one kind of self-love to another.—Colton.

A light supper, a good night's sleep and a fine morning have often made a hero of the same man who, by indigestion, a restless night, and a rainy morning, would have proved a coward.—Chesterfield.

If we must have heroes and wars wherein to make them; there is no war so brilliant as a war with wrong; no hero so fit to be sung as he who has gained the bloodless victory of truth and mercy.—Horace Bushnell.

True heroism is alike positive and progressive. It sees in right the duty which should dominate, and in truth the principle which should prevail. And hence it never falters in the faith that always and everywhere sin must be repressed and righteousness exalted.—John McC. Holmes.

Heroism is the brilliant triumph of the soul over the flesh; that is to say, over fear; fear of poverty, of suffering, of calumny, of sickness, of isolation and of death. There is no serious piety without heroism. Heroism is the dazzling and glorious concentration of courage.—Amiel.

STORM SEWER ON GRAND AVENUE

The laying of a storm sewer on Grand avenue, in preparation for the paving of that thoroughfare, may be begun in the near future, as property owners are anxious to see the avenue paved.

The expense involved in the laying of the sewer is shouldered by the city, instead of the property owners and it will mean a saving of about $5 a lot. This is provided for in a new amendment which was recently made to the charter and which is now in effect.

Last fall the owners petitioned to have the avenue paved. The matter was considered by the council and it was thought best to have a storm sewer laid in the street first. The sewer will be laid this year and the ground will be allowed to settle until next spring preparatory to the paving. The improvement will extend from Forty-ninth to Sixtieth avenues west.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Social Session in Honor of Two Delegates to Scotland.

Mrs. Ruth Merritt of 4603 Oneota street entertained this afternoon for the Women's Christian Temperance union, West Duluth branch, at its regular meeting. Mrs. Helen Stewart was leader for the afternoon, and the subject was "Heroic Women of the Civil War."

At the conclusion of the program, a social hour was spent in compliment to Mrs. Alfred Merritt and Miss Jessie Mauck, two members of the West Duluth union, who will go to Scotland as delegates to the world conference of the W. C. T. U. The affair will be held in Glasgow in May.

The ladies of the union also made plans during the business session to serve the annual banquet of the Western Curling club. The proceeds of the banquet, over and above expenses, are to go to a fund for a branch Y. M. C. A. building at West Duluth.

CHARLES OLSON IS ARRESTED AGAIN.

Charles Olson, a well known police court character, was arrested for drunkenness last evening at West Duluth. An officer picked him up at Fifty-seventh avenue west and Raleigh street.

About fourteen years ago, Olson was one of the leading politicians in his ward and took an active part in the affairs of his party organization. He often made political speeches and once made a run for a seat in the council, but lost out. He is now 41 years old.

He has become a victim of the drink habit, the police say. When drunk, he is harmless and helpless, as he is a cripple. Olson was arraigned in police court this morning. He lives on North Sixty-third avenue west.

FINED FOR ASSAULTING ROLLER RINK OWNER.

Peter Lutsky of 23 North Sixty-second avenue west paid a fine of $10 and costs yesterday afternoon in police court for assaulting Tony Jenette, proprietor of the Lincoln Park roller rink, last Saturday evening.

It was brought out in the case that Lutsky and other West Duluthians who were attending the roller skating party at the rink that evening grew boisterous and did not heed the warnings of the proprietor. Words led to blows and Lutsky is alleged to have kicked Jenette in the face.

He pleaded guilty in police court yesterday morning, but the case was not disposed of until later in the day.

Mission Meeting Tonight.

In the interests of the state missions, Rev. Harold Pattison, pastor of the First Baptist church of St. Paul, and Rev. E. R. Pope, superintendent of the state missions, will speak this evening at the West Duluth Baptist church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Grand avenue. The meeting this evening was not called for the purpose of extending a call to a new pastor to succeed Rev. Mr. Hoag, as has been reported.

MUNICIPAL COURT CASES DISMISSED.

The cases against D. A. Fitzpatrick, Martin Gormley and George Sullivan, charged with selling liquor on Sunday at the Phillips hotel, Central avenue and Ramsey street, were dismissed in police court this morning. The complaint neglected to state that the men were not duly licensed pharmacists. No new complaints will be drawn.

The police believe that Fitzpatrick will observe the law in the future, but they will keep a sharp eye on the place. The authorities stated that it was the hardest place in the city against which to get information for violations of the liquor laws.

Band Organized.

The new band which has been organized at West Duluth will take the name of the Duluth City band. Its leader is W. G. Gunderson; and the organization will include twelve players, which will be increased to twenty this summer. The band will meet tonight for its first practice.

NEW CLEVELAND PARK IS OPENED

Labor Unions Boycott Club on Account of Employment of Non-Union Men.

The grounds have been enlarged and every convenience has been installed.

The Cleveland club faces a boycott by the local labor unions because non-union men were employed at the park. Pickets will be stationed at the entrances and labor leaders say that business men who attend games will feel the effect of the boycott movement. Union men who attend a game will be fined $5 for each offense.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, will pitch the first ball. Other prominent baseball magnates will attend, among them John I. Taylor of the Boston Americans, and Thomas Chivington, president of the American association. Cy Young probably will pitch for Cleveland and Willetts for Detroit.

GOING BACK TO NATURE

100 Settlers From Crowded English Cities Pass Through Duluth.

Are Headed for the Fertile Plains of Western Canada.

About 100 immigrants from the city districts of London and Liverpool, en route to the wide expanses of Western Canada, passed through Duluth yesterday. They were in the city for a few hours during the afternoon, and left last evening for their new homes.

They were different from the usual colonists from across the water. In that few of them were experienced farmers. They were all stout of heart, and apparently strong of limb; and they said that they expected to work hard, but be successful, in their venture.

There were men, women and children in the party. The men were all strong looking fellows, who did not look like the city dwellers of this country. They said they were accustomed to hard work, and expect to successfully cope with the difficult problems they know they will meet in the new empire in the western part of the dominion.

The party spent the few hours they had in the city yesterday in sight seeing, and they also attracted considerable attention. The men were attired in plaids and tweeds, with little caps set jauntily on their heads. They placidly smoked bulldog pipes. The women were carefully and neatly garbed, if somewhat queerly for this country, and the wide-eyed children took a keen interest in everything.

The party that arrived here yesterday is but the vanguard of a stream of immigration that the agents of the Canadian government believes they have started from the crowded centers of the mother country. The stories of riches to be made in the wheat fields of the Dominion are convincing and the English city dweller has shown a disposition to get back to the soil when opportunities that he could never dream of finding are offered to him in the great territory of the New World.

The agent for the Canadian government, who was with the party here said today, said that thousands of immigrants will come from England to Western Canada this year. Most of them have money, are willing to work if not experienced in farm work, and are regarded as a desirable class of settlers, especially as their loyalty and knowledge of political conditions will enable them to assist in maintaining law and order in the new country across the border.

COMET SEEN IN DULUTH

J. H. Darling Sights Celestial Wanderer With Pair of Field Glasses.

Has Appearance of Star of the Fourth Magnitude.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The writer had the pleasure of seeing Halley's comet this morning in the eastern sky at five minutes before 4 o'clock and until five minutes after 4, by which time the twilight became too strong for seeing it longer.

It was not bright enough for me to see it with the naked eye, and I found it with a field glass. I estimated roughly that it brightness was about that of a fourth magnitude star. It had the nebulous or gaseous appearance usual with comets, and I was just able to see a faint, short tail. There was a low bank of clouds over the lake which prevented seeing the comet earlier. If it were not for these clouds I could have seen the comet a little better ten or fifteen minutes earlier when the sky was darker, and then quite possibly could have seen it without the glass, as it was seen yesterday morning by Prof. Knox at Chicago with the naked eye, as stated in yesterday's evening edition of The Duluth Evening Herald.

I had observed the comet with a 3½-inch telescope on the dates of Feb. 11 and 12 when it was in the western sky, and too faint then to be seen with a field glass. This morning was the first opportunity I have had for observing it since it passed the sun and became a morning comet, as clouds and smoke have obscured the morning sky over the lake for the past number of mornings.

I took no measurements this morning, but the comet was probably about 10 degs. above the horizon and appeared to be very closely in its predicted position among the stars. It was about 17 or 18 degs. to the left of the bright planet Venus, slightly higher than Venus above the horizon, and on line between Venus and the third magnitude star Gamma Pegasi, and was about 7 degs. to the right of the latter star. The comet is an inconspicuous object at present but will certainly grow brighter quite rapidly and from now on will be observed by many.

WOODSMAN ROBBED OF HIS EARNINGS

Two Sailors Found Guilty of Larceny Are Sentenced.

Joe Hoffman and Alex Grakaski, sailors, were found guilty of larceny from the person and sentenced to terms in the state reformatory at Green Bay, in superior court this corning. They were put on trial yesterday afternoon.

John Koshina, a woodsman, brought the complaint against the men. He claimed that the men met them on the Bowery in Duluth and that they induced him to come over to Superior, which he consented to do. The tenderloin district was visited and it was here that the alleged robbery took place.

Koshina claims that the men went through his pockets and took $85, the better part of a year's savings. When arrested, both of the men had money on their persons. Hoffman was given a sentence of fourteen months and Grakaski drew one year.

OUTLOOK ENCOURAGING

For Wisconsin Democrats, Says Ex-Chairman of State Committee.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 21.—At a meeting of the state Democratic central committee here last night, Joseph F. Davies of Madison was elected chairman, by a vote of 17 to 4, over Frank P. Walsh, mayor of West Allis.

"The outlook seems good to me," said H. H. Manson, the retiring chairman of the state central committee. "From the inquiries made as to the probable state ticket and information furnished me, I feel that the Democrats of the state are waking up, and will get into line for what should be a successful fight. All the indications are that there will be plenty of candidates for office this year."

MONTE CARLO TIGER FAT.

Americans Did Not Disturb Bank By Their Winnings.

Monto Carlo, April 21.—The season here is waning. Many Americans have returned to Paris. No American disturbed the bank this season by winning a considerable sum.

The only sensation was the winning by a Hugarian count of 500,000 francs ($100,000) in one day's play at roulette. The Casino has had an unusually profitable season. The receipts to the end of March were 3,000,000 francs ($600,000) above those of the preceding season.

The Casino shareholders expect to received a dividend of $70 a share this season, a dvidend $5 larger than that of last year. The shares are nominally worth $300. At the present market price they are worth over $1,000.

BIG STATE LAND SALE.

Over Half Million Dollars Realized By State of Montana.

Great Falls, Minn., April 21.—A record-breaking state land sale has just been concluded here, Assistant State Land Register Joseph Oker having disposed of 30,037.92 acres of state lands in Cascade county for $512,354.19, an average price of $17.05 per acre. The amount realized from the sale exceeded the expectations of those informed on such subjects by about $160,000. Some of the land sold as high as $53 an acre. A few years ago the bulk of the state land just sold could not be sold at $5 per acre, its enhanced value resulting from the heavy immigration to Minnesota and the successful demonstration of raising crops by the so-called dry-farming—that is, on bench and other lands that cannot be irrigated.

CHILD'S DEATH NATURAL.

Coroner Looks Into Suspicious Case at Fosston, Minn.

Fosston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Coroner N. P. Stenshoel and Sheriff Daniels returned last evening from Fosston, where an inquest was held over an infant child given birth to by Mary Gropen. She lives with her aged father on a farm. The child was born with no one present but the old man, and died shortly after he summoned neighbors. Some were suspicious and charged foul play. The jury brought in a verdict due to negligence and not to anything criminal. The young mother will be sent to the home for the feeble-minded at Faribault. She had been at Fergus Falls nine years ago.

ROADS CONFER WITH THEIR EMPLOYES.

New York, April 21.—A conference was held today between E. Schaff, vice president and general manager of the New York Central lines west of Buffalo, and A. F. Garretson, president of the railway conductors, and W. G. Lee, president of the railway trainmen and chairman of the grievance committee of the various allied lines, and the question of applying the same rates of wages granted in the New York Central arbitration board to all lines was discussed.

After the conference it was said that Mr. Schaff had promised to take the matter under advisement and would make a definite reply later.

Conferences are on here between Erie railroad officials and the grievance committee of the road's firemen who are members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. Eighteen hundred firemen on the Erie lines from New York to Chicago are affected by the demands. The Erie trainmen and conductors submitted demands some time ago, but conferences have been delayed, presumably because of the New York Central arbitration still pending. The Erie recently made an agreement with their engineers

WOULD INCORPORATE THE "BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA."

Washington, April 21.—"It is a bill to make men," said W. D. Boyce of Chicago, in describing a bill introduced by Representative Graff of Illinois, asking for a charter to incorporate the "Boy Scouts of America." The purpose is to "organize the boys of the United States into units, and systematically teach them patriotism, obedience, courage, courtesy and cheerfulness, in order to supplement existing educational advantages for boys."

There are more than 200,000 boy scouts in England, all enrolled within the last three years, and similar orders exist in other countries.

New York, April 21.—The engagement of $3,000,000 gold coin today for shipment to London makes a total on this movement for that city of $17,500,000 and brings the total outward flow of gold this year to $24,830,000.

SHARES ADVANCE IN QUIET MARKET

Coppers Have Firm Tone in Spite of Light Trading.

Coppers scored good gains today in a market characterized by moderate trading except in the specialties. The feature of the market was the advance in North Butte, which was well bought on reports that a rich strike has been made in new explorations at a low level.

On the upturn there was some short covering, especially in North Butte, which was sold heavily by shorts following the annual meeting. The buying was sustained from the opening, although in some issues there were slight declines at the close due to profit taking by scalpers.

Amalgamated will be sold at $74.75 to $75.75 and down to $75.12½; Green at $9.12½ to $9.50; North Butte at $32.50 to $36; Steel common at $83.50 to $84.75 and then at $84.50; Butte Coalition at $22; Giroux at $8.12½ to $8 and back to the opening; Calumet & Arizona at $64 to $65; Superior & Pittsburg at $13.12½ to $13 and then at $13.50.

SICK BRIDEGROOM BETTER.

Man Married While on Sick Bed May Recover.

Des Lacs, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—What was believed to have been a deathbed marriage may turn out to be a "happy ever after" affair, as a result of the big change that has come in the physical condition of Hagbardt Halvorson, wedded last week to Miss Minnie Larson. At the time of the ceremony Halvorson was very ill and it was feared that he would not recover. Arrangements for the wedding were made, Judge Murray of Minot making the trip here to perform the ceremony under the peculiar existing conditions. Within the last few days Halvorson has gained rapidly and it is now believed that he will recover.

The miners' demands are not known, but the men probably will accept an increase of wages of 5.55 per cent, as was offered in the national convention.

Fred L. Ryan, formerly surveyor of logs and lumber for this district, has returned from an Eastern trip. He was in Rochester, N. Y., when Representative-elect Havens was nominated. After the election Mr. Ryan sent a telegram of congratulation to David Hoyt, secretary and treasurer of the Monroe County Savings bank, Rochester, a Democrat who worked night and day for Havens' election.

"There is a widespread unrest among the people of the East," said Mr. Ryan. "In the local elections recently Democrats have been put in office for the first time in a generation. Democratic leaders are confident that the next house of representatives will be Democratic and they expect that a wave of Democratic victory will sweep from one end of the country to the other."

ON THE IRON RANGES

GOOD NEWS FROM SENATOR CLAPP

Treasury Department Will Accept Virginia Site at Appraised Value.

Virginia, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—President N. B. Arnold of the Commercial club is in receipt of a letter from Senator Moses E. Clapp reaffirming the good news that the treasury department at Washington would accept the appraisal price of the site selected in this city for a federal building. The senator stated that in all probability work on the new building would be begun at an early date in order to have the same completed before the dawn of another year. The present postoffice quarters are entirely inadequate for the care of the large amount of business which is handled here daily. There is only one window through which all the business of the office, with the exception of the money order department, is handled. During mail time there is such a rush of people to the office that the lobby at times is so crowded that many of the boxholders are obliged to wait until the crowd is diminished before they can secure their mail. It is said that the local office is doing the greatest amount of business of any other office on the range and it is hoped that large quarters be secured in the not far distant future. This statement from Senator Clapp will be hailed with delight by the patrons of the office who are sorely tried at times in an endeavor to do business with Uncle Sam in this city.

Those Who Get Too Troublesome in Hibbing Will Be Confined Therein.

Hibbing, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Through her attorneys, J. F. Wilkie and Alexander Marshall of Duluth, Mrs. Anna Adams has served notice on the village council her intention to bring suit for $5,000 against the village for damages.

The council has decided to fit up a cell in the city jail with straight jacket and padded walls in which to confine persons suffering from delirium tremens.

The council has given the use of the armory to the baseball association to be used on the night of July 4, for the big benefit dance.

The largest receipts since the municipal court was put on salary basis was filed Tuesday night for last week, the amount of money turned into the village treasurer being $345.

HIGH SCHOOL IS BADLY CROWDED

Grand Rapids School Board Is Facing Problem of Providing More Room.

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 20.—(Special to The Herald.)—The school board of the local school district, No. 1, has issued a notice asking the people of the district to meet with the board Monday evening next to discuss the matter of remodeling the high school building so as to provide more room for the classes which are growing larger every year. The building at the present time is crowded to capacity, according to the members of the board, and the classes which will graduate from the grades into the high school in the future give promise of being larger than ever. The high school in its present form is one of the best appointed in the state, but its capacity is not great enough to supply the students with quarters.

It is planned to raise the south end of the building another story, and an architect who has been consulted has given figures on the probable cost and drawn a pencil sketch of the proposed addition.

As an example of the manner in which the high school has grown in the past five years, it is only necessary to cite that five years ago the classes which are quartered in the high school numbered 63, being apportioned as follows: In the high school, 42, and the eighth grade, 21. The estimate for the coming year is a total of 180—135 in the high school and 45 in the eighth grade. This year only five will leave chool by graduation, and there is every prospect that practically all who are now attending will continue.

Large Number of New Water Mains Ordered By Water Commission.

Chisholm, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water, light and power commission has decided upon a number of improvements that will make this village one of the best water systems in the state. This conclusion was reached after listening to the report of D. W. Mead, a hydraulic engineer of Madison, Wis. He recommended a new steel water tank, additional distributing mains, new parallel main on Lake street, the reconstruction of the pump and boiler house and a new pumping engine, boiler and new settling basin. C. D. Purple was appointed a committee of one to take these matters up with Mr. Mead.

The Range Power company submitted a proposition to do the village pumping and the matter was referred to Mr. Purple and Mr. Mead.

VILLAGE OFFICALS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Grand Rapids, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following an investigation of the affairs of the village of Keewatin conducted by Special Examiner W. C. Heilbron, Charles F. Good, village treasurer, prior to April 5, last, and Village Recorder P. A. McEachin were arrested charged with the misappropriation of public funds, brought here before Court Commissioner Pratt and held to the grand jury. Good gave $750 bail and the other $500. County Attorney Price who made the complaints alleges that the examiners' showing is that Good had misappropriated $490, a balance of the liquor license money which had been paid by Jacob Kuru on March 14, 1910, and that, although his successor had taken office, there was no entry upon the books showing the receipt of the money by Good.

The complaint against Recorder McEachin charges him with the misappropriation of public moneys to the amount of $167.82, that being the amount alleged to have been collected by McEachin for coal and water supplied by the village to various persons which had not been accounted for. Both men waived a hearing when arraigned.

—Dooley.

ROADS—THE KEY TO AN EMPIRE.

At the Biwabik meeting of the St. Louis County club, as it was at the Bemidji meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association and as it will be at the Crookston meeting in June, one of the topics most anxiously discussed was the problem of roads. Nor is that problem, in this instance, so much one of "good" roads as it is one of any kind of roads over which wagons can haul the farmer's produce to market.

In St. Louis county, as the case is elsewhere in Northern Minnesota, the problem is complicated by the presence of large bodies of lands which pay no taxes—lands owned by the nation, the state and the railroad companies, all exempt from local taxation and therefore contributing nothing to the support of road-making or school-building, except in the case of the Duluth & Iron Range, which voluntarily pays much more toward road-building than the taxes on its lands would amount to.

The taxable land is being taxed almost to the absolute limit, though in St. Louis county, at least, it is going to be taxed still more. Yet the utmost that can be raised by ordinary methods of taxation will not solve the problem so long as there are millions of idle acres which pay no taxes because they are held by the state.

To grow, Northern Minnesota and St. Louis county must have farmers to feed their cities. To have farmers, there must be roads over which they can haul their produce to the rich and hungry markets that already exist, and that will grow amazingly in the next few years. To have these roads the money must be raised to build them. All that can be done through ordinary methods of taxation is being done or will be done; yet the utmost that can be done in this way will not achieve the desired result; still there remains the problem of how to make those idle acres owned by the state stand their share of the cost of improvements that will make them available and salable at increased prices.

There are communities in St. Louis county whose children have no schools because to raise taxes enough to provide them would mean bankruptcy; so there is also a great and important problem of education. Yet this is a problem that ultimately will settle itself if roads are provided. Given the roads, settlers will come. Given the settlers, equipped with practicable roads, the soil will yield wealth ample enough to support good schools. In the meantime, the state should give further aid to these struggling communities which are redeeming the wilderness, and thus prevent their doing this at the cost of ignorance; a cost so dear that society cannot afford to pay it.

But first comes the road problem, bulking large in the way of progress. Progress and development must have roads to travel over. If roads cannot precede and lead the settlers to fertile acres, they should follow them closely. This is for the benefit not alone of the settlers, but of St. Louis county, of Duluth, of Northern Minnesota and of the entire state. In some way the state must be made to pay its share of providing roads through its idle acres. If its lands could be taxed for that purpose, the way would be easy; but probably that cannot be done.

It was suggested at Bemidji that roads might be built in the same way drainage ditches are dug—by assessing the cost of building the roads to the property benefited, including state lands. Railroad and government lands probably would be exempt from this assessment; but the state can and should make its own lands subject to it, not only in the interest of state development but because road-building would add many times its cost to the value of the state lands benefited and assessed.

This is a problem for the next legislature, and those who are elected to that legislature from Northern Minnesota should study it carefully, and devise some plan that will be reasonable, practical and acceptable.

In the meantime, St. Louis county must do more for its roads than it is doing. For next year the county board intends to levy the full legal amount of 1 mill for road purposes, which will make about $250,000. This is good, but is it enough? St. Louis county has less than 2,000 miles of road, and to meet its present needs it should have four times that much. How are these roads to be provided?

Pending decision as to how the money is to be raised, the preparation of a broad, comprehensive plan of roads for St. Louis county would be time and money well spent. That plan would show what present roads need to be improved; what present roads need to be extended; what present roads need to have spurs built to tap farming communities; and what new roads should be built to accommodate not only present needs but future needs.

That plan provided, all work should be bent toward the achievement of the scheme laid down by it. While serving local needs, annual appropriations should be distributed with a view to the general result of providing St. Louis county, as soon as may be, with a complete and serviceable system of roads. When local demands have the first consideration, too often the districts which have most political power get the lion's share while the districts that have the least "pull" but the greatest needs, as the case is likely to be with the pioneer settlers' communities, are more or less neglected.

Considering results to be expected, expenditure of money in county roads is a splendid investment, certain to yield large returns. Wisely expended, this county probably could put out $5,000,000 to good advantage. Yet before any radical step is taken, full consideration must be given to methods of expenditure and to providing safeguards against extravagance or misapplication of funds.

But one of the first things to do is to prepare a broad and comprehensive plan upon which all county road work, whether upon a large scale or small, shall hereafter be based: a plan that, when executed, will provide St. Louis county with a system of good roads throughout its length and breadth, wherever settlers are winning the wilderness and making it bear fruit, and wherever there is opportunity for settlers to coin their energy into wealth wrung from the willing soil.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

That the St. Louis County club is a highly important organization, with a great mission and a vast work to do, has been made evident enough by its activities thus far. But one's conception of the importance of its task of development will be enlarged by a brief study of some of the facts about the county in whose interest this effective organization labors.

Everybody knows that St. Louis county is a great county; that it is, indeed, an empire. Few realize, however, how great are its resources, and what enormous potentialities of wealth it contains. It has everything that any county in the country possesses. It has mineral wealth, timber wealth and agricultural wealth; it has manufacturing and commercial enterprises of great size, though its commerce and manufacture have just begun. Its prodigious wealth has barely been scratched. When its timber wealth is gone, still its possibilities have just begun to be realized. When its vast mineral wealth is counted out, the greater part of its resources are still to be reckoned.

In the soil of St. Louis county is a wealth still greater, a resource that will provide employment and prosperity for a hundred times more people, in years to come, than the timber and mineral resources ever did in their day of greatest activity.

St. Louis county's area is 6,611 square miles. It is larger than three states—Connecticut, Rhode Island and Delaware. It is larger than Connecticut and Rhode Island combined, and only a little smaller than Connecticut and Deleware combined. Outside the great American desert, there are but two counties in the entire country greater in area than St. Louis county, and outside of those counties containing a few of the chief cities of the country, there are none greater anywhere in actual and potential wealth. The two counties that exceed St. Louis county in area are Aroostook county, Maine, a wilderness of rocks and hills, and Dade county, Florida, a wilderness of water in which the Everglades are situated.

The land area of St. Louis county is 3,735,846 acres. Allowing that only two-thirds is arable, there are 2,500,000 acres suitable for farming, and hardly 5 per cent of that area is being cultivated, though the census of 1905 showed only sixteen counties out of eighty-five with more farmers than St. Louis county, and many have come in since then. There are 80-acre tracts for 300,000 more farmers.

Every acre of tillable land in this county will in time be cultivated. The sooner that time comes the sooner the potential wealth of this county will be realized. And as The Herald says elsewhere in these columns today, roads are the key needed to unlock this storehouse of wealth and to let the people revel in its rich resources.

BAD COOKING AND DRUNKENNESS.

A Chicago physician says that it is poor food that drives men to drink. There is nothing new about that. Other people, physicians as well as laymen, have asserted the same thing, and in a large degree they have proved it.

A man who is fed an unbalanced ration, and that improperly cooked, cannot be a well man or an efficient man or a complete man. His system lacks something, and it cries out for it. The victim does not properly interpret its pitiful cry for aid, and in many cases lets it take the form of a craving for drink—for stimulation through the unhappy medium of alcohol that it ought to have through the proper medium of food.

The remedy? Teach wives and mothers how to cook and what to cook. Do it in the public schools. No girl child should leave the public schools without a working knowledge of food values and of how to prepare food for the table. The system requires certain elements—protein, carbohydrates, fats, etc.—and each has its specific purpose. A balanced ration contains the proper proportions of each, and the man who gets that kind of a ration will be a healthy and efficient being, providing his ration is properly cooked and properly eaten. Cooking changes the character of the food elements, so it is just as important as a proper balancing of these elements. Good food can be spoiled in cooking—is, indeed, in seven cases out of ten, so maltreated.

The healthy, efficient, normal man will have no morbid craving for artificial stimulants. Many a man has gone to a drunkard's grave because of bad cooking and ignorance of food values.

If human beings had the consideration in this respect that farm animals have, this would be a happier world. A milch cow is fed her proper proportions of protein, carbohydrates and fat-forming food, and she responds accordingly. That is why a cow that is intelligently fed will produce 400 or 500 pounds of butter in a year, while a cow that is fed "any old way," as most people are fed, will yield but 150 pounds. The dairyman has gone much farther than the cook in the production of efficiency by scientific feeding.

When a man craves alcohol, it is not only because he has acquired a taste for it, but because his system is crying out for that which bad food and worse cooking have denied it. Feed that man candy, which is stimulating and energy-producing, and he won't care for a drink. That shows that he really needed something. Better still, feed him proper food, properly cooked, and he never will acquire a taste for artificial stimulants.

And that housewives and servants may know what is proper food, and how to cook it properly, their education in the public schools must provide that knowledge.

WHO IS HEARST?

One William Randolph Hearst, after a visit to President Taft yesterday, gave out a public statement over his own signature—not the signature of Arthur Brisbane or John Temple Graves, but his own—that President Taft is all right, and that Roosevelt is a false alarm.

Mr. Hearst has vouched for President Taft. Now will somebody—Arthur Brisbane and John Temple Graves barred—kindly vouch for Mr. Hearst?

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The Democratic party under its present leader, guided by the Denver platform, can, if it will, achieve a great victory, but the cardinal principle of Democracy must be, not what is expedient, but what is morally right. What is right to go before the country with in a campaign must be right to enact into law. Some Democrats do not acknowledge the binding force of a platform. They seem to think that a convention, represented by the best talent in each congressional district all over the United States, has only met to get up something that sounds good to the voters, but is as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal to congress. We must get rid of such doctrine, or a convention is a farce. We criticise the Republicans for adopting an ambiguous platform, but the Chicago platform did not make any specific declaration, and especially on the tariff. They promised to raise the tariff and they did so. Of course, that declaration was so worded that it could be construed to meet the wishes and fancies of different sections of the country. Wherever the voters had a leaning towards a high tariff, it meant conservative revision, and that is the same as raising it; and wherever, like in the Middle West, the people were clamoring for a lower tariff, it meant revision downward.

But the Denver platform was outspoken in favor of revision downward, and for free lumber, free wool, free pulp, etc., yet, in face of this plain declaration, a majority of the senators and a number of representatives voted to ignore this declaration. Had the Democrats voted in accord with the Denver platform, and had the president instructed congress in accord with his protection promises, a reduction, partly as the people wanted, would have been forced upon the committee. If Mr. Taft had been half as concerned about the tariff bill being passed to meet the party pledge as he is at present, the law might have been half way respectable.

As I said in the beginning, the Democrats have a grand opportunity not only to gain a magnificent victory, but also to render a valuable service to the country, but it can only be done by being sincere and honest. The Democrats won in 1884 and 1892 on tariff reform, or tariff for revenue only, but the Wilson-Gorman-Brice tariff law did not even approach a revenue tariff. It was an unsatisfactory to Cleveland that he did not sign it. If he had vetoed the bill, the Democrats would have been in power today, because the people would have had faith in the ultimate triumph of Democratic principles. But instead, it was a brazen violation of party pledge. Democracy means rule of the people and equal right to all, special privilege to none. It has only been so in theory in the past. Why not take the bit in one's teeth and make it so in practice?

We often hear people say: "Well, it don't make much difference which party is in power, the big fish will eat up the little ones anyway. I may not vote at all. If I do, I will probably vote the Socialist ticket, for under Socialism a man elected to office signs his resignation and is subject to recall." These are common expressions to be heard. Why is it? It is because party pledges are treated so lightly by office holders. The name of a party has no significance. We must know the party only by act and deed. A traveling man saw a sign in front of a lunchroom that was kept by a colored man. It read: "Hot Pies For Sale." Sambo brought out a pie that was frozen. "Why, Sam," said the traveling man, "I thought your sign said 'Hot Pies For Sale.'" "Oh, sah, dat's just the name of 'em."

From now on the party that comes the nearest to acting in accord with the needs and requirements of the greatest number of people is the party that will remain in power, for party ties are less binding now than at any time in the history of the country. The people are bound to rule in deed and in truth. KROMBACK.

BOYS BUY SNUFF AT TOBACCO STORES.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Some time ago I noticed an article published in your paper about snuff chewing in our public schools by school children. I have one boy 6 and one 12, and thought I had better do a little careful investigating myself at home. I found both boys with snuff in their pockets and punished them severely and they promised to quit it. They told where they got it and how, and that it was easy. They simply write a note saying "please give my boy 5 cents worth of snuff." They named or rather told where three small tobacco stores were located. I have found and my boys admit it, that they occasionally "take a chew", yet they say they cannot refuse when other older boys offer it to them. Is it not against the law to sell snuff to children even if they write a note themselves? Anything your valuable paper can do to stop this practice I assure you will be appreciated by me and perhaps be warning to all fathers to look out for their boys. CITIZEN.

Duluth, April 21.

The Gavel Mightier Than the Pen?

The pen which wrote the Constitution must have been a poor instrument in comparison with the gavel now wielded by the autocratic hand of Joseph G. Cannon, judging from an article in the World's Work for April, entitled "The Speaker or the People?" The author ironically states that our elaborate election machinery and the considerable expense involved in returning 391 congressmen might be spared when a one-man congress might be more economically maintained than it is under the present system. The recent tariff bill forms a striking example of the absolutism of the speaker's despotic power. To quote from the article:

"Mr. Cannon made the committee which framed the original bill; Mr. Cannon entered that committee when it was about to express an opinion of its own and bent it to his will; Mr. Cannon refused to allow congress to alter the bill he submitted except in four of its 4,000 particulars, and dictated the language of the only allowable alternative in one of these four cases; Mr. Cannon controlled the parliamentary procedure of the house when, under these conditions, it was permitted the formality of passing the bill. Finally, Mr. Cannon appointed the conferees who 'represented' the house in the discussion of 'its' differences with the senate."

The Solution of the Rising Cost Problem.

W. Martin Swift in the Atlantic: Already, through the operation of natural forces, the problem of rising costs is in process of solution. Among the most far-reaching of these forces is the checking of the movement of population into cities. The welfare of all, and particularly of the salaried and wage-earning classes, will be promoted by the retarding and the ultimate reversal of this movement. This, in turn, is certain to be accomplished, since the continuance of the urban movement tends constantly to raise food prices, to increase the profits of agriculture, and to diminish the relative advantages of city life. If economic tendencies are left to themselves, the movement will be checked by a process of starvation, if by nothing else. Already it is proceeding at a diminishing rate; and the building of 21,000 miles of electric railways in the United States since 1897 represents in part a counter movement of population—into the suburbs and the country.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday was an almost perfect spring day, but this morning there is a chill in the air that is made all the more uncomfortable by a brisk east wind. The prophet on the hill bids Duluthians to have their umbrellas and rain coats handy for tonight or tomorrow.

A year ago today was cloudy.

The sun rose this morning at 5:09 and it will set at 7:04, giving thirteen hours and fifty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Somewhat warmer weather prevails this morning in the Red river, Lower Missouri and Mississippi valleys in connection with low pressure areas central over Kansas and Manitoba. These disturbances were also the cause of rains in the Rocky mountains and extreme Northwest. The Eastern depression now central over Pennsylvania caused further rains over Southern Michigan, Western New York, Western Pennsylvania and Northern Virginia. The Pacific coast high pressure has moved inland to the plateau region and has caused colder weather throughout the Rocky mountains and Western Canada.

"The easterly movement of the disturbance that extends from Manitoba to Kansas will be attended by the development of rain at the Head of the Lakes by Friday morning."

The Democratic Party the Country's Hope.

Minneapolis Tribune (Rep.): The Tribune, frankly and always a Republican journal, comprehends easily the view of those who regard the Democratic party as the hope of the country in the present crisis. The interpenetration of both parties with that view gives special interest to the sentiment and purposes revealed at various meetings of Democrats on saints' days of their political calendar.

No party can be trusted to rule a free country indefinitely without the check of a watchful and vigorous opposition, or the warning of continual risk of loss of power at the next election, should it prove corrupt or unfaithful. Removal of these checks and safeguards would make government by party the worst of despotisms, in which even personal responsibility is lost by indefinite diffusion.

The Republican party has suffered increasing ills from the absence of effective opposition since Grover Cleveland was compelled to destroy his party to save the country, and the fragments of it fell into organized chaos, with a semblance of political form, but without power to perform the responsible function of a minority. How can a party act efficiently in opposition when the worst element of the majority always can draw upon it for recruits to take the place of its own members driven away by abuse of the power of organization and leadership?

Encouraged by this situation, the Republican organization has perpetuated by unworthy means power unworthily obtained to thwart two presidents and the American people in carrying out policies decreed in successive elections upon definite pledges of performance. The people are now resolved to destroy that organization and remove obstruction to the execution of its will.

The Democratic party, whether it remain a minority or become a majority, can so conduct itself as to advance or impede this general purpose. It can send its own rear leaders like those who betrayed Cleveland, as the Cannon-Aldrich crowd betrayed Taft, or the representatives in congress who more recently aided this crowd to betray the people when Republican representatives broke party ties to stand by them.

April.

After all is said and done—
Shine or not the gracious sun,
Blow or not the pungent breeze,
Touched with Southern spiceries;
Bend a sky of gray or blue,
Bring the morning frost or dew,
Be the grasses lush or dried,
Meadows bare of daisy-pied,
Be the furrows sludged with sleet,
Bare the earth or green with wheat—
Still is April fairer far
Than the days of summer are.

When the first tantaras ring,
April, hoyden of the Spring,
Trips a dance and holds to us
Cups to tempt a Tantalus:
Then the blood begins to stir;
Old and young we follow her.
Witch she is thus to ensnare;
None her magic can forswear;
And her weeping is a vile.
Full of danger as her smile;
Worthless then the writ of schools,—
April calls—we're April's fools.

—John Northern Hilliard in April Lippincott's.

Dignity.

Life: Dignity is the cosmetic with which the inane hide their true complexion. It is composed of three parts bluff, one part self-deception, one part dramatics and two parts dulness. Omit all sense of humor.

It is the colored glass from which plain water is drunk to fool the audience.

After all, a useful crutch for the decrepit.

Miss Jannie Harper explained the origin of the Stars and Stripes, Miss Maude Curtis recited "Speed Our Republic," Miss Minnie Fawcett gave "Barbara Fritchie" and Miss Belle Hopkins recited "The Ship of the State." The solo, "Star Spangled Banner," by Miss Ruby Evans, was good. Miss Grace Lowe followed with a good rendition of "Paul Revere's Ride." The recitation, "The Flag of the Free," by Mrs. E. S. Pilling, brought forth great applause.

•••P. Perry, second head waiter at the Spalding, will be married in about two weeks to Miss Lily Richey, daughter of Prof. Richey, proprietor of the City barber shop.

MINNESOTA OPINIONS.

It Sure Would.

Brainerd Tribune: John Lind of Minneapolis for governor and W. E. McEwen of Duluth for lieutenant governor, is said to be the ticket advocated by Frank Day, chairman of the Democratic state committee. That ticket would sure make a strong combination.

Leaning to a Whitewash.

Hutchinson Leader: We regret very much to note that Knute Nelson, who has often been found standing manfully for the right, seems to be leaning towards a whitewash for Ballinger. It is inconceivable that, with the evidence there is before him, the senator can believe Ballinger innocent of the charges against him.

Advice for the Knocker.

Breckenridge Gazette: Boost for Minnesota, and more particularly for Wilkin county. If you must knock, go and knock your head against a brick wall. It won't hurt the wall and it might improve your head.

Fruits of Standpatism.

Cass Lake Times: With the insurgents making three insurgents grow where one grew before, and the Socialists making Milwaukee more famous than its beer, although one Milwaukee does not make a party, we may not be jumping at a very erroneous conclusion to see the best of the two old parties absorbed by two new ones—the insurgents and the Socialists. What a vast crematory awaits the standpatters and regulars!

The Tide Sets Against Taft.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: The tide has set too strongly against the Taft administration to be stemmed even at this early day, and every time that Mr. Taft or any of his body servants attempt to force it down the throats of the people that the present tariff law is a redemption of a Republican promise and that it is a good law, he is only widening the crack in the foundation, only hastening a crash that will be mighty. The temper of the people is to be seen from Massachusetts, from Indiana, from Wisconsin, and from all points where recent elections have been held, and it is a warning that it is a folly for Mr. Taft and his political friends not to heed.

There Are Others.

Breckenridge Gazette: The Indiana Republican state convention made no mention in its platform of the present tariff law, but Senator Beveridge denounced it in no uncertain terms. We are curious to know just what the Minnesota Republican state convention will do in the same matter.

"Back East."

Hibbing Tribune: Minnesota is "the West" no longer. We're "back East" now. It is only a few years since we thought we were Western outposts here in Minnesota. But we are back East now. Montana and Idaho and Washington and Oregon are "the West" now—Minnesota is away back East.

Only yesterday when we spoke of "the great Northwest" we meant Minnesota, but today Minnesota is not the great Northwest, but only the first great state of the great Northwest, the most eastern boundary of the great Northwest.

This is a great country and great changes are daily taking place in it.

Taking the Census.

Since many folks have written with a keen desire to know
The questions that the census men may ask,
It now becomes a duty to devote a line or so
To portrayal of the census takers' task.
So here's a list of questions, though it's not official—quite—
Involving things that they may make you tell.
And if there be evasion or the questioned take to flight,
They will lock him in a murky prison cell:
"What is your name? Your birthplace, too? Your parents? Are they dead?
Did either one or both e'er get divorce?
Have you children? Do they mind you? Wife brunette, or blonde, or red?
What's your income? How'd you spend it? What's its source?
Did you ever shoot a dig-dig? Chase a lion to its lair?
Do you distelerize your food or swallow fast?
And do you think the price of meat is higher than is fair?
How long is Mr. Aldrich apt to last?
Do you own a home or rent it? Do you keep a dog or cat?
Your wife take in plain sewing by the day?
Your daughters work in sweatshops? Did each get an Easter hat?
Can you supply the table from your pay?
While baseball hotly rages, are you classed among the fans?
Where's the pennant going to land the current year?
Do you cherish in your bosom any model tariff plans?
Are the money schemes of congress wholly clear?"
When answers have been given they will all be jotted down,
And later will appear in printed tome,
With pleasing information, touching country, city, town.
But likely 'twill omit this lucid pome.

—Philadelphia Public Leader.

His Friend Was Easy.

Kansas City Journal: Here is an incident that a Chanute man tells as having occurred in a certain Kansas town. He was in the ticket office, and watched the proceedings.

A man came up to the window, and asked for a ticket to Kansas City, inquiring the price.

"Two twenty-five," said the agent.

The man dug down into a well-worn pocketbook, and fished out a bill. It was a bank note for $2. It was also all the money he had.

"How soon does this train go?" he inquired.

"In fifteen minutes," replied the agent.

The man hurried away. Soon he was back with three silver dollars, with which he bought a ticket.

"Pardon my curiosity," said the ticket seller, "but how did you get that money? It isn't a loan, for I see you have disposed of the $2 bill.

"That's all right," said the man. "No, I didn't borrow. I went to a pawn shop and soaked the bill for $1.50. Then, as I started back here, I met an old acquaintance, to whom I sold the pawn ticket for $1.50. I then had $3 and he has the pawn ticket, for which the $2 bill stands as security."

A MOMENT WITH THE WITS.

Washington Star: "I've got to go to Philadelphia," said the hurried traveler, who was fumbling for his pocketbook.

"Well," answered the New York ticket seller, "are you buying transportation or just telling your troubles?"

Illustrated Bits: Ebeneezer—Them skeeters makes me think of them city visitors we had the week before last.

His Wife—How's that, Eb?.

Ebenezer—They come pretty near bein' the worst singers and the biggest eaters I ever see.

Philadelphia Ledger: "The court does not see the necessity for according you time to speak on behalf of your client, since he has formally confessed his guilt."

"Only a moment, your honor," insisted the lawyer. "I only want to call your attention to the fact that my client is an awful liar."

Cleveland Leader: Pa—But, young man, do you think you can make my little girl happy?

Suitor—Do I? Say, I wish you could 'a seen her when I proposed.

Cleveland Leader: "What did you do in the army?"

"Most of the time I was in charge of a squad of men."

"On special duty?"

"No—they were taking me to the guardhouse."

Buffalo Express: "You men say that women have no sense of humor," she began, "yet I saw a woman reading a comic paper only today."

"That proves the point," he asserted. And then he had to explain that.

Philadelphia Record: Mrs. Muggins—Does your husband take you into his confidence concerning his business affairs?

Mrs. Biggins—Only when he isn't making any money.

Washington Star: "That fellow drawls his 'a's' and drops his 'h's' continually. He has the greatest respect for everything English."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "everything except the English language."

Pittsburg Post: "Strange," murmured the editor, "that this anecdote of George Washington has never been in print before."

"Not at all," explained the occasional contributor. "I only thought of it last night."

Detroit Free Press: "He says he courts the fullest investigation possible. He has nothing whatever to fear."

"Is that so?"

"Yes, and he's hired three of the cleverest lawyers in town to prove it."

Smart Set: Muriel (letting him down easy)—I should advise you not to take it to heart. I might prove a most undesirable wife. Marriage is a lottery, you know.

Malcolm (bitterly)—It strikes me as more like a raffle. One man gets the prize and the others get the shake.

Lippincott's: Indianians tell a story of Senator Beveridge's entrance into politics when he was little more than a boy. He won the liking of the governor of the state by a quaint little speech he made during the presentation of a petition by a delegation whose spokesman was insufferably long-winded and tedious. The man talked to the governor nearly an hour, during which every one stood. To all it seemed that it would never end.

When, however, it flanlly did, the governor asked wearily if the delegate wished to offer any further reasons for the granting of the petition.

Whereupon Beveridge remarked quietly:

"If you don't grant it, governor, we'll have that speech repeated to you."

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

MUCH SEED IS PLANTED

In Vicinity of Crookston About 75 Per Cent of Acreage Is Seeded.

Further North Reports Show That Lesser Amount Has Been Sown.

Crookston, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The recent snow has left the fields and they will be dry enough for general resumption of seeding tomorrow morning. From farm loan agents and farmers who have been in the city during the cold snap, there is considerable variance in the different sections of the Red River, as to the percentage of wheat seeded. In the immediate vicinity of Crookston 75 per cent of the wheat is in the ground.

Near Fosston two-thirds of the wheat is sown, with about the same amount of grain in the ground near Red Lake Falls. North of Red Lake Falls, around Thief River and still farther north in Marshall and Roseau counties, a trifle less than half the wheat is planted.

Between here and Fargo on the Ralstad line of the Great Northern, the wheat crop is half in, with slightly less than half south of here on the main line of the Great Northern towards Ada and the same on the Northern Pacific line through Mahnoman county.

Along St. Vincent Line.

Along the St. Vincent line better than half of the wheat is planted as far north as Angus, but near Warren, Argyle, Hallock, Donaldson and Stephen, less than half of the wheat is in the ground.

Practically no oats have been seeded. The flax acreage will be increased materially. Quite a number of farmers from South Dakota are coming in to buy some of the lighter land north and northeast of this city and will break it up for flax. Francis Anderson of Sioux Falls was here yesterday and bought a full section and will ship in steam plows and break up the entire 640 acres and seed flax and many more will seed from one to five quarter sections to flax, doing the plowing with steam or gasoline engines.

ROWBOAT SWAMPED; TWO MEN DROWNED

John Olson and Nels Matson of Two Harbors Lose Lives at Grand Marais.

Grand Marais, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Olson and Nels Mattson, a couple of Two Harbors fishermen, were drowned in the bay here early in the week when their rowboat swamped as they were rowing ashore from their fishing launch, the Flyer, which they had anchored in the bay Monday night. Their bodies were seen lying in the bottom of their steel rowboat by James Croft as he was rowing across the bay yesterday, and recovered.

It is supposed that after anchoring their launch, which is a good-sized vessel, they started to row ashore and were swamped midway and sank before they were able to extricate themselves from the steel boat.

The first intimation that anything was wrong came Tuesday morning, when it was noticed that no one was moving about on the launch. Several persons rowed out to the boat, but were unable to find anyone aboard. Fishing tugs afterwards were dispatched up and down the north shore to learn if any of the fishermen had lost a boat answering the description of the Flyer.

SKELETON IS FOUND OF MISSING WOMAN

Mystery Surrounding Disappearance of Mrs. Froderson Cleared Up.

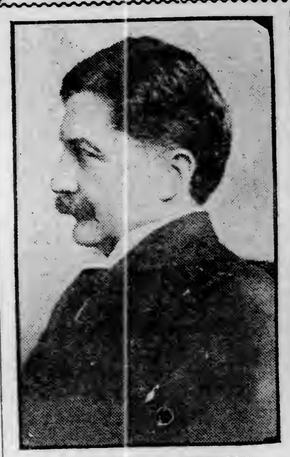
Aitkin, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—After ten years of mysterious absence the remains of Mrs. Hans Froderson, who formerly lived on section 26, McGregor, were found in a swamp about a mile from that place.

Dr. Leonard, as coroner, was called to that place and upon his return it was learned that Mrs. Froderson went from her home on April 27, 1900, to look for the cows. She never returned and although hunting parties, engaging as many as fifty people at times, were organized, nothing was found of the missing woman.

W. J. Davis discovered the skeleton and Dr. Leonard is satisfied that it is that of the unfortunate woman who was lost. A knife and a small alligator wrench were found by the skeleton and a ring was worn by her when lost, but was not located. The new snow made it difficult to recover all the bones. A piece of the waist was still partly preserved and had not been buried owing to the wet condition of the location.

The searching was principally on the north side of the railroad, where the woman lived and the remains were found on the south side in a wooded spot. Mr. Froderson married again and now lives near Wrenshall. His assistance in identifying the skeleton and articles was secured.

The Beautiful Hair of English Women



(Annie Ely in N. Y. Graphic.)

The long, abundant and glossy tresses of English women are not due to hair tonics and heroic shampooing. There is a general belief over there that the less water put on the hair, the better it is; they say wetting "takes the life out" and leaves the hair dull, brittle and colorless.

English women with hair rich in color, clean and wholesome—and plenty of it—have told me they attribute it to dry shampooing two or three times a week. They mix four ounces of therox with four ounces of orris root and sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head; then brush the powder thoroughly through the hair. They thus also avoid the danger of catching cold and the discomfort that accompanies washing, rinsing and drying the hair.

This treatment keeps the hair light, fluffy and lustrous, and is the only thing I know that will actually produce the growth of hair.

No Receiver Expected for Suspended Minneapolis Shoe Company.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—Thirty-eight creditors of the Heffelfinger Shoe Manufacturing company, in person or by proxy, met yesterday in this city and appointed a committee to inspect the plant, with instructions to dispose of merchandise stock and fill orders on the books as rapidly as possible. Of $330,000 liabilities, more than $290,000 was represented at the meeting. After the meeting it was announced that the arrangement precluded the possibility of any action looking to the appointment of a receiver as the company is shown to be solvent.

The company is a branch of the North Star Shoe company, which recently went into bankruptcy in the federal court. The committee appointed by the creditors is composed of E. V. TO OPEN BIDS SATURDAY

On Construction of Thief River Falls High School.

Thief River Falls, Minn., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—The opening of the bids for the construction of the proposed new high school building in this city has been postponed until next Saturday afternoon because of the lack of time some of the contractors experienced in securing prices on various materials.

The school will be 122 by 77 feet, two stories and full basement, with flat roof. The interior arrangement will permit of the presentation of every subject taught in connection with agriculture and industrial work and will be the most complete and modern school building devoted exclusively to high school purposes in Northwestern Minnesota. The location of this school will be on the high school campus.

The enrollment in the local high school this year gives it a rank of fourth in the northern part of the state and twentieth among all the 206 high schools in Minnesota.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Duluth Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Duluth people testify to permanent cures.

William Bain, 1402 E. Fourth St., Duluth, Minn., says: "About three years ago I was in poor health as the result of disordered kidneys. My back also ached considerably. As I had heard and read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills, I made up my mind to try them and I procured a supply. After I had used two or three boxes, I was relieved and I have not had to take any medicine for my kidneys since. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Any Woman Can Have a Soft Velvety Complexion

If you are troubled with blackheads, large pores, pimples, freckles or muddy complexion, get from your druggist a two-ounce package of amarol, add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine to a pint of hot water, and the entire contents of the package of amarol, shake well for a minute or so, then let stand for a few hours, and it's ready for use.

Use this lotion freely after washing and drying the face, hands and arms, rubbing until dry.

You will find this simple lotion much better than paints, powders and cosmetics, as it will not clog up the pores of the skin, but leaves them free to take in the pure air that is necessary to health and a good complexion.

Any druggist will sell you the amarol in the original two-ounce package, and I advise every woman who wants a soft, velvety, healthy complexion to try this simple amarol solution.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: APRIL 24. Matt. xi, 20-30: Warnings and Invitations.

THE CONNECTION.

After His extended and loving tribute to His great Herald, John, Jesus turns His attention to the recreant cities which He had so signally honored and benefitted by His presence, His teachings and His marvelous deeds. His characterization and denunciation of them is just, yet at the same time, something terrific. Our lesson includes that.

THE LESSON.

I.
Warning the Delibertely Wicked. 20-24.

"Then began He to upraid the cities wherein most of His mighty works were done, because they repented not. Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon which were done in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes. But I say unto you, it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you. And thou, Capernaum, shalt thou be exalted unto heaven? thou shalt go down into hades; for if the mighty works had been done in Sodom which were done in thee, it would have remained until this day. But I say unto you that it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment than for thee."

1. OPPORTUNITIES — These cities had had them, varied and almost numberless. The nearby ministry of John; the residence of Jesus and His family and friends and followers in Capernaum; His teaching and works of healing and saving—these were some of the opportunities they had, for learning better and being better. Their sins were greater than the same sins of cities that did not know as much. They sinned against greater light. Capernaum had been especially fortunate as it was like being exalted to Heaven in such rare privileges. Opportunity always spells responsibility and puts the pigment into sins. These three cities were Jewish cities with the greatest opportunities known in history, and Tyre and Sidon were exceptionally wicked, a woe having been pronounced on them by Ezekiel, but they would have forsaken their sins, if they had had the chance these cities had. On the judgment day they will receive more lenient treatment.

A still more thrilling denunciation of Capernaum came from His lips, making her worse than the worst, even Sodom and Gomorrah, and her doom was so complete that even her site is unknown today.

2. RETRIBUTION—It was not vindictiveness. When He was reviled He reviled not again, and when He suffered He threatened not, but He is the administrator of the great law of God that penalty follows sin, and it may be able to save them from sin by holding before their imaginations their own future docm. Indifference to the great and good things of life is a more terrible indictment against a man than his fondness for the evil things.

The sublime egotism with which He utters these words of doom would have been both weakness and wickedness in any one who had only the ordinary human authority; but the words are entirely congruous with the one who utters them. No teacher ever bases the condemnation of his hearers on the rejection of his authority—no one but Christ.

Confessing and Thanking His Father. 25-27.

"At that season Jesus answered and said, I thank Thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that Thou didst hide these things from the wise and understanding, and didst reveal them unto babes: yea, Father, for so it was well pleasing in Thy sight. All things have been delivered unto Me of My Father: and no one knoweth the Son, save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and He to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal Him."

1. LIGHT—Underneath all this mystery of divine judgment is something that He rejoices over—that the Father has an explanation of it and will communicate it to those who are docile and trustful, like children. It is for all, for all can be childlike. Natural wisdom and power bring their own rewards, but the docile spirit fits one for still higher gifts. We can be glad that God considers the receptive and refuses the selfish and impenitent. This gladness in God's way makes one still more humane and unselfish. It discerns the pleasure God takes in His own decisions and deeds, and finds an answering pleasure.

2. STARTLING CLAIMS — The whole administration of human life is in His hands. He is mediatorial king. He is God's son and God knows Him fully, while they know Him only superficially. He alone, of all beings, knows the father. Such are His startling claims. Another claim follows, if possible, more startling still, that it rests entirely with Him whether any one else shall know God. If He wills it, they may; otherwise, not.

To sum up his claims: He has universal and absolute sway in the world, with the approval of His Father; He has depths in Him that only the all-seeing eye of the infinite Father can fathom; He alone of all beings can traverse the depths of the Father's nature; He has the power to reveal or conceal the Father, by the decision of His will. This is the claim of a madman or the Son of God. Well does Meyer say that this statement "bears the stamp of superhuman consciousness."

III.
Tenderly Inviting the Needy. 28-30.

"Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take My yoke upon you, and learn of Me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For My yoke is easy, and My burden is light."

1. REVEALING—This shows that He "willeth to reveal" the Father to every one who willeth to receive. The warning had at its heart the urgency of an invitation. The positive invitation has in itself almost every form of appeal.

2. REST—He saw the depth of their unrest and longed to comfort. Each desired rest, but sought it in a wrong way. Their teachers burdened them with routine that made life heavy and steadily disappointing. They can get rest only from Christ. He does not give it by relieving them of responsibility or duty or burden bearing, but by adjusting them to it, as a yoke is put on the ox to adjust him to his load. When the ox is wrongly hitched to his load, it rubs and wears and gives perpetual discomfort, but the yoke makes work comfortable. The burden of life is made hard by ill adjustment and human contrivances. When He says "learn of Me," He means that they must see how He is adjusted to His life and load.

Two kinds of rest are promised. One comes directly from His pacifying touch, when He puts the yoke on us. The other we "find" as we go along, finding refreshment from Him, in our work, so that we are always rested. Christ is also yoked up with us, our true yokefellow. Though master, He is also companion; though Savior, also friend. The yoke is made soft with love. It chafes not. It is not a rest from the tasks and toils of life, but rest in them. In us is a new strength, a conquering principle that organizes and correlates and directs all our powers without distractions or waste or chafing. This is none other than the peace of God.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The heathen will not be condemned for rejecting Jesus, if they had no opportunity to know of Him; but only for disregarding their own consciences. (Romans ii, 14-16); the light of external nature (Romans i, 20), and any true religious ideas which may in whatsoever way have reached them. On the other hand, those who know of Jesus and live surrounded by Christian influences, and yet will not repent, incur an unspeakable aggravation of guilt and punishment.—Broadus.

Two painters each painted a picture to illustrate his conception of rest. The first chose for his scene a still, lone lake among the far-off mountains. The second threw on his canvas a thundering waterfall with a fragile birch tree bending over the foam; at the fork of a branch, almost wet with the cataract's spray, a robin sat on its nest. The first was only stagnation, the last was rest. For in rest there is always two elements—tranquillity and energy; silence and turbulence, creation and destruction; fearlessness and fearfulness. This it was in Christ.—Drummond.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Is it not better to be scared into doing right than not to do right at all?
2. Why are some truths within reach of the childlike alone?
3. How do privileges unused become punishments?
4. Why is Christ our only way of knowing God with certainty and satisfaction?
5. How may we so work as to be always rested?
6. Why is the secret of life found in obeying and imitating Christ?

VERMILION EXPLORING

Capt. Durage Returns From Survey of Scott-Bevier Property.

Increased Activity Since the Departure of Snow and Ice.

Capt. Jules J. Durage has returned from a trip to the Vermilion range and speaks most encouragingly of conditions in the pioneer iron-producing region of Minnesota.

"My particular mission on the range was to make an exploration survey of the Scott-Bevier property in section 36, 63-15," said Capt. Durage to The Herald. "This property is held under a state lease and is the one in which W. A. Holgate, treasurer of St. Louis county, is heavily interested. The Scott-Bevier-Holgate interests were the very first to take up exploration work on the Vermilion range in several years. They started drill work there over two years ago, and while they have not worked on as heavy a scale as Thomas J. Walsh, their operations commenced months before his.

"On this property I found the outlook very much better than I anticipated. I made a careful magnetic survey and gathered data for a report that will embrace maps, opinions as to the merits of the property and suggestions for future work. Naturally, I am not privileged to express myself as to details without the permission of my clients and before my formal report has been delivered to them.

Good Surface Showings.

"I may say, however, that their property bears a trough of magnitude and that the surface showings are very pleasing. The company has a shaft down fifty feet which bottoms in clean ore. In connection with this shaft there is an open cut about forty feet long that shows up the formation most favorably. There are ten pits of different depths, and four drill holes have been bored to depths ranging from 100 to 500 feet. Splendid camp buildings are on the property, and at this season of the year it is reached most easily by boat from Tower.

"I was over the property under option to the Rice Bay Iron company in the southeasterly part of section 35, 63-15. This property was secured from John L. Morrison, who had it from the owner, Max Shapiro. Work started Feb. 13. Good camp buildings have been erected and a new working shaft is down about fifty feet with some favorable showings as to ore. The shaft is on the northerly side of the ore formation and is calculated to cut the ore body with depth, as it dips to the northward. The shaft is well timbered and work is facilitated by means of a horizontal boiler, hoist, pumps and steam drills. Capt. Albert Kitto, who started the shaft work on the Roy property, has charge of the Rice Bay property.

"Among those interested in the Rice Bay Iron company are Thomas Owens of Two Harbors, John C. McGreevy, H. J. Grannis and Louis Loeb of Duluth and Albert Kitto of Tower."

Increased Activity.

Now that snow and ice have left the Vermilion range for at least six months, there is a greatly increased activity on the part of prospectors, explorers and seekers after options and fees. Every property started up last season and early in the winter is keeping up work and many more are expected to join the activity before long.

The contractors on the Marquette & Vermilion Iron company's property in section 19, 62-14 have experienced much grief and ill luck. For five weeks they not only have lost all their time and been under expense for labor, but have fished for a diamond bit worth $1,400. If the bit and hole are not recovered this week another hole will be started at once and fishing for the black diamonds carried on later.

Capt. William Besson has purchased a team, boiler, hoist and Rand drill for use on the Central Vermilion in section 15, 62-14. Last Wednesday morning Alois Ebner and others interested in the enterprise accompanied Capt. Besson to the mine for an inspection of work already done.

George A. St. Clair has been away for some time, but is expected back Saturday of this week. In his absence machinery has been installed at the Macomber mine and the work of unwatering the old shaft started. Results there will be awaited with deep interest, but many are betting on the St. Clair luck.

Thomas J. Walsh is crowding things in section 5, 62-14 and as soon as the big machinery plant is erected there, a record in shaft sinking on the Vermilion Steel & Iron company's property is expected.

Kennedy Taking Options.

At the present time E. C. Kennedy, the active head of the Vermilion-Mesaba Iron company, is setting the pace in acquiring properties. Already, he has at least eleven of them tied up and when or where he will stop no one knows. He has the Robinson Lake company's property, the Saumtry properties, the McCue lands in section 10, 62-14, and now it is reported that he has a drill on the land of the "Chicken Man," a Swedish miner formerly employed at Ely, who lives on and owns the northeast of the northeast of section 1, 62-13.

Mr. Kennedy's company has a property on the Mesaba range, near the Adriatic mine, and there are rumors that his company is back of operations on the Anderson and Lucky Boy mines southwest of Ely.

Mr. Kennedy, while not at all "grouchy," is not wasting any time in sending information broadcast, and he also is not sitting up nights to appeal for working capital. How he gets it and where it comes from create admiration and mystery in the minds of other operators on the range.

John Helmer is drilling on the old Poirier property, now owned by Robert B. Whiteside, and reports have it that some very good paintrock recently was encountered. Mr. Helmer is as busy as any of them these days and a great deal more non-communicative.

It is reported that clean ore has commenced to appear in the Roy shaft, and that this opening has reached a depth of 150 feet. It is the intention to run a crosscut and drifts at a greater depth.

Bad Streak of Luck.

The Vermilion Iron Exploration company has encountered a streak of grief in its drill work on the Murray property. At a depth of 335 feet a vug, or underground cavern, was encountered, and it is feared that blasting will have to be employed to get down a pipe, otherwise the work cannot continue in that hole. Before the cavern was struck some splendid paintrock was cut, and before that twelve feet of excellent ore.

On Pine Island the same company has its large shaft down forty-five feet. Machinery is being shipped to Pine island, and when that is installed, work will progress more rapidly. Recently some very hard rock has been encountered in the shaft.

Paul Chamberlain is giving a continuous exhibition of a man hustling in connection with the T. J. Walsh enterprises. Yesterday work was commenced on the big concrete shaft that will be sunk on the North American mine close to Tower Junction. This will go down about 100 feet, and the course of construction will be watched with deep interest by every mining man on the range. Reports have it that this concrete work will cost $40,000.

Recent reports have it that Mr. Le Brec recently struck a vug, or underground opening, on the La Chance property, and that it is causing much trouble. Large quantities of cement had been run down the drill hole without filling the vug. The hole has attained such depth that it would be costly and expensive to blast down or ream out, so that the subterranean cavity can be crossed with casing.

Best Treatment For Colds.

Most ordinary colds will yield to the simplest treatment," says the Chicago Tribune, "moderative laxatives, hot foot baths, a free prespiration and an avoidance of exposure to cold and wet after treatment is simple, it requires considerable trouble, and the one adopting it must remain in doors for a day or two, or a fresh cold is almost sure to be contracted, and in many instances pneumonia follows. Is it not better to pin your faith to an old reliable preparation like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, that is famous for its cures of colds and can always be depended upon? For sale by all druggists.

JOHN WON'T GREET TEDDY.

Oil King Asserts African Hunter Will Be Too Fierce.

New York, April 21.—"When Teddy comes marching home in June," there will be one familiar figure missing from the welcomers. John D. Rockefeller will have no part in the reception. He said so himself on Tuesday.

When asked if he would aid in welcoming Roosevelt, he said: "Hardly! Hardly! You know I am not very popular with the mighty hunter. There is no telling how fierce he is, now that he has had opportunity to kill all manner of wild animals in Africa."

Asked if he was going abroad this summer, the oil king replied testingly: "Not this year, the cost of living is too high."

MILWAUKEE ROAD HAS EXTRA $30,000,000.

St. Joe, Idaho, April 21.—Stockholders of the Milwaukee road are the owners of $30,000,000 worth of property, the existence of which has been heretofore unsuspected. Several hundred thousand acres of rich timber land in this vicinity and in Washington, along the line of the Puget sound road, which passed out of the hands of local interests just before the road was built through, are found to be owned by the Milwaukee Land company, which is a Milwaukee and St. Paul railway concern.

The price paid for the timber properties was $12,000,000. They could be sold today for $30,000,000 and their value is so rapidly increasing that expert timber men here say they will fetch $50,000,000 in a few years. The lands were bought before the route of the Puget sound road was definitely known, and therefore at a price which represented their worth as remote from every transportation facility.

SHE LIKES CHANLER.

Mlle. Cavalieri Says She Is Not Sentimentally in Love.

Paris, April 21.—Lina Cavalieri, the prima donna, in regard to her engagement to Robert Winthrop Chanler, said:

"There is nothing exciting about my engagement. My views on marriage have been expressed already, and I am living up to them. Mine is not a romance. It has taken me four months to make up my mind to accept Mr. Chanler.

You can bet I have not lost my head. I am not sentimentally in love with him. I like him and hope that ours will be a happy union. I believe that love is unnecessary in marriage.

"Although I am not marrying with the idea of divorce, I would not marry in Italy, where there is no divorce law. It is comforting to feel that there is an open door. I shall certainly continue singing."

The Sound Sleep of Good Health.

The restorative power of sound sleep can not be over estimated and any ailment that prevents it is a menace to health. J. L. Southers, Eau Claire, Wis., says:—"For a long time I have been unable to sleep soundly nights, because of pains across my back and soreness of my kidneys. My appetite was very poor and my general condition was much run down. I have been taking Foley's Kidney Pills but a short time and now sleep as sound as a rock. I eat and enjoy my meals, and my general condition is greatly improved. I can honestly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as I know they have cured me." For sale by all druggists.

Six Track and Three Field Events Are on the Program.

This evening in the big gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. an indoor athletic meet will be held between the teams of the Central high school and the association. It is expected the events will be well contested, with the association having slightly the better chance of victory, because of the number of old men who will participate.

JEFFRIES BOXES THREE ROUNDS

Puts Steam Behind Punches and Armstrong Is Willing to Quit.

San Lomond, Cal., April 21.—Three rounds of fast boxing with Bob Armstrong, the big negro pugilist, was the most interesting feature of Jim Jeffries' training stunts yesterday.

Jeffries had been instructed by Berger to put some steam behind his punches. He obeyed so well that Armstrong was more than willing to quit at the end of three rounds. Jeffries' old left punch landed several times with telling effect on the negro. At the end of the match Jeffries was willing to go another round or two, but Armstrong refused.

Jeffries reviewed the regular order of things at the camp yesterday. He crowded a full day's labor into the morning session as though eager to make up for the lay-off Tuesday.

Despites the boxing, Jeffries went through his regular indoor work, the baseball court alone escaping his notice. There was a red tinge to his face and he went at his task with the vim of perfect health.

Despite his long hard morning Jeffries in the afternoon went out where the laborers were building a dam to make a swimming pool for him in the San Lorenzo river, and toiled away with pick and shovel most of the afternoon, greatly aiding the progress of the work. Billy Papke worked by his side.

J. Cal Ewing, former coast baseball magnate, was a visitor at the camp during the day. He has been on intimate terms with Jeffries since Jeffries started his ring career, and declared himself greatly pleased with the fighter's condition.

"I have watched the big fellow prepare for nearly all his important fights on the coast," said Ewing, "and I doubt if he ever looked a bit better than he does now. I have bet on him every time he started and it looks as if I would have to do so again."

Manager Berger is expected to return to camp today with Joe Choynski.

PENNANT RACE OPENS IN EASTERN LEAGUE.

New York, April 21.—The race for the championship pennant of the Eastern league began today with games scheduled in Jersey City, Newark, Baltimore and Providence. The champion Rochester team was programmed as the opponent of Joe McGinnity's players at Newark, while Jersey City had the Montreal team as its guests. Baltimore had the Buffalo team, and the Torontos were the guests of Providence on the "Clam Diggers" grounds.

JOHNSON PREPARING TO LEAVE FOR COAST.

Chicago, April 21.—Jack Johnson was a busy man today preparing for his departure for the Pacific coast, where he will settle down for two months of hard training before his fight with James Jeffries. He is due to arrive at San Francisco about May 1, as he will stop at Omaha, Salt Lake and Los Angeles for exhibitions.

There will be nine in Johnson's party. His famous automobile is already on the way as he says he could not train without it.

AS SEEN FROM THE SIDE LINES

Father's Famous Fighting.

Old Jem Mace had just celebrated his seventy-ninth brithday. The father of the fighting game in England is as hale and hearty as most men half his age, acording to the reports that come from England. Here, at least, is one case where a fighter has lived to refute the idea that most fighters die in middle life.

You can't tell the English that any race knows more about the art of fist fighting than they do, though lately England has failed to turn out a great fighter among the larger men.

These same Englishmen will tell you that Mace was in his day and generation the king of them all. He fathered the rules that are even to this day used by most of the big fighters in England. Indeed, it would deem that the game has made little progress since the youthful days of Mace.

Mace has always taken the very best of care of himself, and this probably accounts for the old fellow's state of excellent health. If some of the fighters of the Ketchel stamp would take more seriously the Mace method of living, it would be much better for a game that is in pretty bad repute at the present time.

La Crosse Favors Kuehnow.

The La Crosse Leader, a paper that follows closely the doings of baseball in the Minnesota-Wisconsin league, has jumped on to the movement started in favor of having Mr. Kuehnow made president of the league at the next meeting.

The paper states that if Mr. Elliott was ready to retire at the end of the present season, Mr Kuehnow would be a very desirable man for the position. The article in question says some very complimentary things about the secretary and treasurer of the local club.

There is no man in this section of the Northwest who knows better the needs of the Minnesota - Wisconsin league than Mr. Kuehnow. If John A. Elliott is thinking of retiring at the conclusion of the approaching season, he could not be succeeded by a more able baseball man than the local magnate.

There is a very serious question as to whether Mr. Kuehnow could be persuaded to take the position, did the other managers offer it to him. There is a deal of labor connected with the job of being president of a league. Then there is the abuse, too, such as Honest John has been receiving of late.

It requires a cool head and clear baseball judgment for the position now occupied by John A. Elliott. A. W. Kuehnow would be a very strong man for the position, were he willing to become a candidate.

Will Stanley Catch?

Will Stanley Ketch-ell? That seems to be the question. As the time for the engagement between Boston Battler Langford and the Grand Rapids terror approaches the curiosity as to the way the short round battle will go, grows apace.

There are many who believe the short sprint route of six rounds will provide plenty of time for Langford to get in his deadly work. There are others who believe Ketchel will show in this fight he is one of the greatest in the world.

On dope, Langford has the call. lines.

Bill Papke is almost as good as Ketchel; he has proved that upon more than one occasion. He couldn't do anything to Fireman Flynn upon the two occasions he clashed with the Colorado coal carrier. You are all aware of what Langford did to Flynn.

Figuring this way, that, Langford is the better man and should win under wraps.

But there is really no way of figuring dope on the fighters. There are a thousand and one ways of upsetting your calculations. Sometimes the lighter may make a poor fight just as a great race horse sometimes makes a rotten race.

Langford might be just the kind of a man that Stanley can beat, who can't sit down in the Morris and dope out the probable facts in the case with any degree of certainty.

The fight should be a beauty. Both men are mixers, and they love the slam bang sort of stuff. It may be the case of the first man getting in a healthy punch. If you go out and ask many people who they think is going to win the fight, you will be told in the majority of instances—"Langford."

Looks Like Chicago.

It looks as if Chicago will be the scene of the Gotch-Zbyszko wrestling match. There has been no definite award of the match as yet, but it has been practically decided upon. It is also probable that the men will wrestle for a percentage of the gross receipts.

At the present time Gotch is holding out for a large winner's end. He wants the winner's end of the purse to be 80 per cent. This proposition has not met with any great degree of enthusiasm from J. H. Herman, manager for the gigantic Pole.

However, the men will, in all probability get together and settle upon the terms of the match. If the match draws the crowd the promoters feel confident of, the winner's end is sure to amount to something in the neighborhood of $25,000.

Gotch is in Minneapolis at the present time. He has started training for the match, so it would seem that practically all the details have been settled. The meeting between Gotch and the Pole should be one of the greatest matches of modern wrestling.

A Final Rave.

Across the bay the writer of Russian red stuff has let a final fling out of his system. Now that the case of Koepping is nearly finished, it is to be hoped that the dear defender of the truth will start a new subject.

One would like to know Koepping's own sentiments in the case.

Around the Circuit.

News from every town of the Minny league indicates that there is more activity at the present time than there was at a corresponding time last season. Every manager has been hustling for the past month, with the result that eight very strong teams are almost ready to begin the season.

As has been stated before, Superior looks very strong. The team looks like a good wager at the present time, and with a man like O'Dea at the head of the club, there is reason to believe that the Superior aggregation will not be right in the hunt all the way.

Killian claims he has gotten together a stronger team than the one that represented Winona last season. Schoonhoven has some very fast youngsters to try for his team. Bond has apparently improved the Wausau team, and La Crosse, according to Harry Rood, will be stronger than the team Joe piloted last season.

If the two new members of the league are strong, the league will start the present season with the assurance of a very prosperous season. The Minny league looks like one of the strongest of the little leagues.

ANGRY BEES BREAK UP BALL GAME.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 21.—In a battle with a swarm of bees yesterday afternoon, the Los Angeles and Vernor baseball teams were driven off the field and the grand stand quickly emptied of its crowds.

Los Angeles was practicing in the field and the Vernor team was throwing the ball around near the grandstand, when the bees flew over. A player angered them by hurling a wild ball into the swarm.

READY FOR OPENING OF PITTSBURG SEASON.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 21.—Everything is ready for the opening of the local National season with St. Louis. The grounds have been well protected by a canvas covering during the past three-days' rain, and nothing short of a storm at game time will prevent the pennant ceremonies and play. The usual parade about the field, band music and attendance of prominent city officials will be features of the opening.

Mayor William A. Magee will thrown out the first ball and the locals will face the St. Louis team. President Thomas J. Lynch came today from New York and other visitors from many cities are here for the opening. Camnitz and Willis are booked to pitch for the locals and St. Louis respectively.

MINNY LEAGUE NOTES

Otto Koepping, the player in whose behalf the Superior Telegram has been calling the powers every name suggested by smouldering wrath, has reported to Winona, and if the Independent of that city is to be credited with the player's feelings in the matter, he is perfectly willing to play with Winona.

Read what Koepping is quoted as saying:

"They have made it too strong up there. Killian has always been right with me and the only question was the amount of money I was to receive. The matter was fixed up easily and I came. I never even gave the Watertown proposition a serious thought."

The Winona paper states that Koepping is satisfied with his lot and will endeavor to play the best baseball he is capable of for Winona.

Killian has returned from Sterling, Ill., where he was called by the death of a relative. The first organized practice of the team is due to begin today. Koepping and Frank Curtiss, first baseman, are on hand, as are Pitchers Frank Baillies and William Byers, the chap who was returned from Minneapolis. Crangle will report Monday.

Eau Claire will open the season with a game Sunday with the Eau Claire Giants, a team made up of Eau Claire amateurs. Most of the Eau Claire men have hit town and Schoonhoven will have his regular lineup in the game Sunday.

Walbun and Thrall will fight it out for a left field berth with the Eau Claire team. With the assurances that Nicolson will be back and that the entire infield, with the exception of Caldwell, who is holding down third base for Superior, will report, Eau Claire's chances look very bright.

For the first time in two years the Wausau team has shown hope of a pennant. Bond has come out with the statement that there is a chance for the flag. With thirty recruits under contract the new manager of the team believes there is a chance to get into the running early in the game and fight it out with the leaders.

On April 28 and 29 the Lumberjacks will play two games with Oshkosh in the latter city. On May 7 and 8 the Cuban Stars will be played.

Dunbar, Lakoff and Schleffer will be three of the veteran pitchers back. There will be a number of youngsters to try for the team and all of the men who played with the team last season are by no means sure of making the team the present season.

Rowland and Dolan will probably fight it out for infield positions. Manager Bond believes the Lumberjacks will be much stronger than the team that represented Wausau last year.

Down La Crosse way they refused to get excited over the pennant possibilities. The two newspapers state that the Outcasts will be very strong the present season and that before the race is very old many a team, whose manager is claiming much at the present time, will be handed a lovely licking by La Crosse. Further than that, however, the conservative La Crosseites refuse to go.

Last season was Silent Joe Safford's first experience as a manager. Joe got away very nicely. The present season the benefit of the experience brought to him last year should enable him to do even better with the team. Safford will not lose many of his men, and in addition he has been fortunate enough to pick up a number of fast newcomers. The Outcasts are picked as one of the strong teams over the circuit.

Over seventeen of the Outcasts have reported at La Crosse. The following have put in an appearance: Ludwig, Wais, Watson, Henry, Wolford, Foster, Spald, Young, Rice, Dana, Hanus, Klein, Safford, Berens, Nelson and McQuay.

Dark blue uniforms will be worn by the Wausau players the present season.

Mique Malloy says he secured the consent of Charles Comiskey for the game with the Logan Squares and tried also to get the consent of Murphy, the Cub boss, but the fancy vest sharp was out of the city. Maybe the explanation of Mique will go with Farrell. It is Mique's first offense and he should be let down easy.

WEEDING OUT WILL BEGIN

A. W. Kuehnow Leaves for Fort Wayne to Reduce Squad.

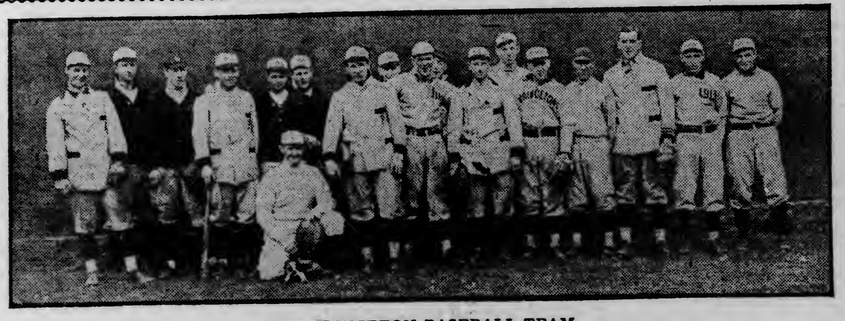
A. W. Kuehnow will leave today for Fort Wayne, Ind., where he will look over the work of the candidates for the team. The local magnate stated this morning that the weeding out process would start at Fort Wayne on the first good day that he had the opportunity to get out with Darby O'Brien and watch the men work.

There are eight men to join the team as yet. Some of these men will be picked up at Rockford, Ill., and the others at Chicago. The weather has been wretched on the trip and no game has been played since Saturday. Little line has been gained on the men. Only those who can show the goods will be retained on the squad with the arrival at Fort Wayne of Mr. Kuehnow.

Mr. Kuehnow plans to go on to Pittsburg, where he has some business.

ADAMS WILL NOT JOIN AMATEUR LEAGUE.

Manager John Geistman of the Adams Athletic club baseball team announced yesterday that als team would not be a member of the City Amateur league the present season. Because of the fact that the Adams have a number of outside games scheduled, the decision not to confine its schedule to the city was made.



Games have already been arranged with Two Harbors, Hurley, Hibbing, Iron River, Ashland, Virginia, Aitkin, Solon Springs and Chippewa Falls. The members of the team believe they would rather play these out of town games than confine themselves to a home schedule.

Arrangements have been made for the use of Athletic Park on days when the White Sox are out of the city.

IRISH CHAMP WINS FROM FURIOUS TURK.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 20.—In a rough and tumble wrestling match here last night between Con O'Kelly, Irish champion and Hamid Kala Pasha, the Turk, O'Kelly won two straight falls in 18 minutes, 40 seconds and 6 minutes, 30 seconds. The Turk did scarcely any wrestling, spending his time on the mat biting and kicking his opponent. At one time he became so furious, the police were called in to stop him.

ADDIE JOSS PITCHES FIRST NO-HIT GAME.

Chicago, April 21.—Addie Joss pitched the first no-hit game of the season with Chicago Americans as his victims. Cleveland won, 1 to 0, after a hard struggle. Only three locals reached first base, two on bases on balls, and one on an inexcusable error by Bradley, and only one reached third. Joss also played a star fielding game with ten assists. Score:

Philadelphia hit Doyle's curves hard in two innings, bunching nine of their twelve safe drives in the second and eighth innings and scoring all of their runs. Barry injured his leg fielding a grounder and he was forced to retire. Score:

CALLED GAME SAVES CUBS FROM DEFEAT.

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—Umpire O'Day saved the Chicago Nationals from what seemed certain defeat in the eighth inning yesterday when he stopped the game at 5 o'clock to permit the teams to make trains. St. Louis had three men on bases, with one out, and the visitors leading by one run, when O'Day, by agreement before the game started, called time. Pfeister was taken out in the eighth with the bases full, and Overall forced two runs in by walking two men. O'Day then called the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	5	7	2
St. Louis	4	6	1

Batteries—Rush, Reiger and Bresnahan; Pfeister, Overall and Needham. Umpires—O'Day and Brennan.

WILTSE BLANKS DOVES AND GIANTS WIN.

New York, April 21.—New York defeated Boston by a score of 4 to 0 in the first home game of the National league season yesterday. Wiltse held the visitors to three singles and prevented any one from passing first base. The locals made all their runs while Mattern was operating, their first score being due to Devlin's double and Herzog's wild throw. Wiltse drove in two runs in the fourth inning after Mattern had purposely passed Myers. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	0	3	1
New York	4	10	3

Batteries — Mattern, Evans and Smith; Wiltze and Myers. Umpires—Rigler and Emslie.

PHILLIES KNOCK RUCKER OUT AND TAKE GAME.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 21.—The National league season was opened here yesterday with Philadelphia. Philadelphia won the game by consistent hitting, knocking Rucker out of the box. He passed three men in the fourth and Bates' double did the rest. Bell and Barger were effective. McQuillen had the home team always under control. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	6	10	0
Brooklyn	2	5	1

Batteries—McQuillen and Jacklitsch; Rucker, Bell, Barger and Bergen. Umpires—Klem and Kane.

St. Paul, Minn., April 21.—Kansas City made it an even break on the series by defeating St. Paul yesterday by a score of 2 to 1. The Saints could do nothing with Campbell, while Kilroy was wild. Score:

Kansas City	2	6	5

Batteries—Kilroy, O'Toole and Spencer; Campbell and Sullivan. Umpires—Chili and Hayes.

MINNEAPOLIS MAKES IT THREE FROM MILWAUKEE.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—Minneapolis won the third straight game from Milwaukee in a weird exhibition yesterday. The home club used fourteen men and Milwaukee eleven, but Cantillon's constant switches of his players proved a winner for Minneapolis. Short gave twelve bases on balls and there were thirteen errors made by the two teams. The winning run was scored in the eighth on Barry's error of Clymer's grounder. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Minneapolis	10	5	6
Milwaukee	9	14	7

Batteries—Altrock, Flene, Sage and Owens; Short and Marshall. Umpires—Owen and Ferguson.

SOPHOMORES WIN PENNANT

Defeat of Freshman Team Gives Championship to Second Year Girls.

Yesterday afternoon the sophomore girls' basket ball team of the Central high won the championship of the school by defeating the freshman girls by the score of 15 to 4. As the sophomores had defeated all of the other members of the interclass league, the victory of yesterday carried with it the championship of the girls' league.

As in other games of the series, Miss Lillian Moe of the sophomores proved a star. She made 11 of the 13 points scored by her team.

The team lined up as follows:

Sophomores — Lily Moe, Lucile Hoar, forwards; Nellie Feetham, center; Harriet Harrison, Catherine Smith, guards.

Freshmen — Bertha Miller, Eunice Whipple, forwards; Mildred Miller, center; Florence Whipple, Winnifred Hopkins, guards.

The Duluth man is confident of his ability to make a good showing and has stated that he is not averse to putting down a piece of currency on his chances.

EIGHT GIANT RECRUITS GO BACK TO MINORS.

New York, April 21.—Announcement was made by Manager McGraw of the New York Nationals yesterday that he had released eight players. Pitcher Bell and Daily go back to Springfield, Ill.; Montreal gets Outfielder Kemmers and Catcher Curtiss; Pitchers Durham and Temple and Outfielder Williams go to New Bedford, and Outfielder Shaw to Toronto.

NELSON-WOLGAST FIGHT PICTURES COMING HERE.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Nelson-Wolgast fight pictures would be shown here the present month. The pictures will be exhibited at the Lyceum theater. They show fifteen rounds of the fight that lasted forty rounds and came so near resulting in a knockout for the Battler. The battle between the two little men was one of the most vicious on record. There has been much dispute as to whether Nelson was nearly out. The pictures are expected to answer that question.

COLONELS HOME TO BEGIN SEASON.

Louisville, Ky., April 18.—Louisville, winner of the pennant in the American association last year, began the baseball season here today with Indianapolis. The First Regiment band escorted the players of both teams and Mayor William O. Head tossed the first ball.

Wheat Has Sharp Advance During Last Hour of Trading.

Flax Market Is Dull With Little Change in Prices.

Duluth Board of Trade, April 21.—May wheat gained 1⅛c and July 1¼c here today. Shorts bought moderately and bull lines in the deferred months were enlarged. May at the opening was offered at $1.07, sold ⅛@¼c higher and then at $1.06⅞, $1.07, $1.06½-⅝, and then up to $1.08. At the close there were bids at $1.08. The July option opened at $1.07⅞ bid, sold at $1.08⅛, $1.07⅞, $1.08, $1.07⅝-½ and up to $1.09, at which price were offerings at the close. September was $1.00 bid.

Cash wheat was on a parity with May. Oats gained ⅛c, rye lost 1c and barley and durum closed unchanged.

The flax market was dull. In the distant months there were offerings, most of which appeared to come from the country. May sold at $2.37, July was offered at $2.33 and $2.32½ and sold at $2.32. September was offered at $1.81 and $1.80 and sold at $1.80. October was offered at $1.72 and $1.70½ and then sold at $1.70, the closing price.

Values opened firm and advanced on higher cables, scattered covering by small shorts and lack of selling pressure. The professionals were inclined to watch prices advance so they could get another start in selling. On the advance there was some minor selling by shorts, who covered lines put out some time ago. On any further advance it is expected that lines covered at low levels will be reinstated. Interior holders of cash wheat offered some for sale, and others are hedging it in the different markets. The bulls confined buying to the deferred months, but their activity was light. Few traders think it wise to stay long. Intermittent selling pressure gave the market a spotty appearance on the upturn. It has been more than two weeks since there has been a scalping market, and the professionals watched the advance with interest. They seemed to think that a natural reaction was due after the decline of the last ten days, and the upturn was satisfactory to them, as it will permit of a more advantageous opportunity to jump on the market again.

Bartlett-Patten bought September wheat moderately today and Armour sold. If these two houses and their followings maintain their respective attitudes on Chicago September, there may be a pyrotechnic display in that option later in the season. The bulls think the growing wheat in the Southwest has been badly damaged. Houses that are committed to the bull side of the deferred futures sent out reports today saying chinch bugs are doing great damage in Sumner, Cowley and Sedgewick counties, Kan., and that where the rainfall has been copious weeds are stifling the wheat. The bulls concede that any upturn will be slow, but they maintain their attitude that in the distant future values will display a soaring tendency when the trade is brought to a realization of the great amount of damage sustained by the growing plant in the Southwest. For the present they are inclined to proceed cautiously.

Sentiment generally is still bearish as the damage to the growing plant remains to be shown. The weak cash position, the lack of flour demand and the unfavorable difference between prevailing prices and those necessary for an export basis are the chief weapons of the bears. If flour is to be disposed of, the bears maintain, this country must go on an export basis.

As the time for May delivery approaches the bears are covering advantageously and the possibility of a squeeze in that option is more remote than ever. Short buying has been one of the potent factors in sustaining the market around present levels.

Cables were generally higher and there was a good demand in the United Kingdom for Manitobas and Indian cargoes which were less freely offered. The prospect of lighter Argentine shipments was one of the factors that led to a strengthening in the Liverpool market. Crop reports from abroad are favorable and the German goverment's official report is distinctly bearish. The foreign market was affected favorably by higher American and Winnipeg cables. Duluth bought Manitobas freely yesterday and today in the Winnipeg market.

Receipts are falling off and are somewhat erratic. Stocks at Minneapolis continue to increase slightly while here stocks show a decrease owing to the activity incident to the opening of navigation. Last year at this time wheat stores showed sharp decreases while now the world's supplies are increasing. The European visible is 24,000,000 bu in excess of supplies last year and the world's stocks are gaining at the rate of nearly 1,500,000 bu a week. In the week a year ago which corresponded to last week, the world's stocks decreased 7,535,000 bu.

Tonnage to Buffalo is being offered at 1c, a reduction of 1¼c. This rate is somewhat unusual for so early in the season. Although considerable grain is now leaving this port, the outlook is for less activity in the near future, as not much stuff has been sold for Eastern consumption or export. The Barlum loaded today with 100,000 bu of durum for export. Vessels loaded but not reported are the Saxona, 209,000 bu spring wheat; J. A. McGean, 251,210 bu spring wheat; Dunborn, 244,000 bu of durum.

The Manitoba Free Press of Winnipeg has issued a bearish report on conditions in the dominion. It states that the seeding of wheat and other grains is about a month earlier than usual and that seeding will be completed by May 1. In Manitoba 65 per cent of the seeding of wheat has been done, 50 per cent in Saskatchewan, and 75 per cent in Alberta. There will be a good increase in the acreage, from 10 per cent in Manitoba to 75 per cent in Alberta. The latter province is increasing in importance as a wheat producing section.

Broomhall's foreign crop summary says: "United Kingdom—The crop outlook is improving slowly as a result of more favorable weather. France—Crop prospects continue to show an improvement and reports are more favorable. The weather is seasonable. Germany—Semi-official as well as private reports agree that the outlook for the new crop is mostly favorable. There are still occasional complaints of poor growth. Supplies of native wheat are scarce. The weather is favorable. Roumania, Bulgaria, Turkey and Servia—The outlook is very favorable. Good beneficial rains have fallen. Hungary—An official report sums up the situation for the new crop as very satisfactory, except occasional reports of damage from Hessian fly. These reports, however, are few. Spain—The crop outlook has improved during the week, with beneficial rains. Complaints are very few. North Africa—There are some complaints heard as a result of unfavorable weather for germination. India—Harvest reports confirm early expectations of a good yield."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool—"Argentine agent estimates the shipments of wheat this week, 2,000,000 bu; last week, 2,172,000; last year, 2,944,000 bu. Corn, 120,000 bu; last week 114,000; last year, 1,877,000. Weather is favorable for the growing crop of corn, it being clear and warm. Wheat at the start was influenced by light offerings and covering of shorts who sold on yesterday's break and values were ¼d to ¾d higher. Support was induced by the strength in America yesterday, firmness in Winnipeg and the forecast of light shipments from Argentina. Following the opening the market further advanced ⅛@¼d for the distant months. May was under pressure of further realizing and following the opening declined ¾d on the liberal arrivals, increasing stocks and a quiet demand for spot and the distant months were sympathetically affected. During the morning prices reacted from the decline with good support in July and October with sellers few. There was a good demand for Manitoba and improved demand for Indian cargoes with shippers' offers light and firmly held. The bearish German official report caused some pressure following the opening. At mid-day the market was irregular with May ¼d lower than the opening and the distant months ¼d higher and ½@¾d higher than yesterday. Corn was steady at the start and unchanged. Later there was a decline of ¼d on the favorable Argentine weather and lower La Plata offers."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Early Wheat Trading Is All on a Bullish Basis.

Chicago, April 21.—Early trading in the wheat pit today was on a bullish basis, May taking the longest stride forward, advancing 1c after a start unchanged to ¼c lower.

Opening figures for July were ⅛c lower to ¼c higher at $1.00⅞@1.00½ and in the first hour prices kept close to the high point. September opened a shade to ¼@⅜c at 99@99¼c and like July kept its advance.

May went up from $1.06 to $1.07½ and steadied at about that figure. Bullish cables from Liverpool, where wheat gained ½@¾d over night, contributed to the upturn here and reports that hecent rains had been of no material advantage in some of the southwestern wheat section added to the bullish sentiment.

Later in the session the market fell off slightly and then gathered strength on improved buying. May went up to $1.08, July to $1.01½1.01⅝ and September to 99⅞c@$1.00. The close was strong and near to the top with September ⅞@1c up at 99⅞c; July, ¾@⅞c higher at $1.01⅜@1.01½ and May 1¼ up at $1.08.

Corn prices at the outset were a trifle easier but took on firmness from the wheat and held their own in the first hour. Elevator interests were credited with taking the buying side. Opening figures were unchanged to ⅛c lower for the distant months and a shade to ⅛@¼c dowon for May at 57½@57⅜.

The market gained firmness with the advance in wheat and closed strong. May went up to 58⅛c. Final figures for May were ¼@⅜c up at 57⅞c.

Trade in the oat pit was featurless, the prices opening steady and keeping within narrow limits in the first hour. At the start May was unchanged to ⅛c higher while July and September were a trifle easier.

Provisions continued to display their recent bullishness and opened with lard and ribs unchanged to 5c higher and pork 12½@22½c up. In the first hour pork advanced, July touching $22.00, 35c higher than yesterday's final figure. The other products advanced less actively. Opening figures for May: Pork, 22½c up at $21.72½; lard unchanged at $12.40, and ribs 5c higher at $12.25.

THE MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Reactionary Conditions Lead to Rise in Wheat Prices.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 21.—Wheat became oversold and conditions surrounding the market were ripe for a reaction. As a result May wheat sold up to $1.07⅛@$1.07¼, 2⅛c above yesterday's low and 1⅛@1¼c above yesterday's close. The market today fluctuated in a range of 1¾c. Trading in the pit was of fair volume. Local elevator stocks increased 10,000 bushels for five days. With the light receipts today it was probable that there will be a decrease for the week. Minneapolis today received 71 cars of wheat as compared with 113 cars a year ago; Duluth 17 cars against 22 cars and Winnipeg 198 cars against 202 cars. May opened $1.06¼; high, $1.07⅛@1.07¼; low, $1.05½; close, $1.07@1.07⅛. July opened, $1.07⅛@1.07¼; high, $1.07⅞; low, $1.06⅝@1.06½; closed, $1.07⅛@1.07⅞. Cotton Market.

New York, April 21.—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 1 point on June, but generally 1@5 points lower under scattering liquidation by yesterday's buyers, who were disappointed that the southern spot failure announced yesterday had not exerted a bullish effect on Liverpool. There was, however, no important pressure against prices; southern bulls gave the market a little support in the later positions and covering of the near months quickly rallied prices to a net advance of about 1@4 points. About 11,000 bales of cotton arrived here from Liverpool yesterday.

Spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 15.25; middling gulf, 15.50. Sales, 4,100 bales. Futures closed steady; closing bids: April, 14.95; May, 14.84; June, 14.62; July, 14.59; August, 13.82; September, 12.90; October, 12.43; November, 12.29; December, 12.28; January, 12.26

Telephones Are Merged.

Deering, N. D., April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—A local telephone system probably will be installed in this city shortly through the merger of the Lone Star Telephone company and the Norwich Telephone company, both of which operate through this section. J. E. Taylor, representing certain Glenburn owners of stock in the two companies, has received an offer from the Norwich holders to transfer their holdings, and if this is accomplished, the local service will be established immediately.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Market Is Sluggish and Close Steady and Almost Lifeless.

Covering Operations By Bears Feature of the Morning Session.

New York, April 21.—Prices of stocks moved sluggishly at the opening today with a show of small gains and losses mingled and none of them important in extent. There were heavy blocks dealt in at running quotations of United States Steel and Union Pacific, the former yielding ⅛ and the latter an extreme ½. Otherwise the dealings were insignificant. United States Rubber declined 1.

There were rallies from the low levels of a point in Union Pacific and American Smelting, and United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper rose as much above yesterday's closing. The higher prices induced some selling, but the list was again supported when Reading began to rise and the trend was upward at 11 o'clock. The less active stocks were weak. Lake Erie and Western preferred sagged 2 points, Great Northern Ore certificates 1⅝, United Railways & Investment preferred 1½, Canadian Pacific 1⅜, and Rock Island, National Lead, Westinghouse, International Pump and Western Union 1.

Covering operations by bears who sold stocks short yesterday were a feature of the morning market. The effect was to lessen the offerings to sell, which the declining tendency of prices in itself was bringing out. Conditions bearing on values received little consideration. The uplift placed Amalgamated Copper 1½ over yesterday's final price, and Union Pacific, American Smelting and Interborough Metropolitan preferred 1. The dealings became almost stagnant at the higher levels. Bonds were irregular.

A few stocks were lifted lightly but the market otherwise was unchanged. Southern Pacific and Westinghouse Electric advanced a point and at last lost it all and a fraction more.

The market closed about steady and almost lifeless. Rock Island, Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie and United States Steel rose a point and Railway Steel Spring preferred 1½. North American declined 4. The general list sagged back a fraction in the final hour under light profit taking sales. The recessions were recovered in the last few minutes.

New York stock quotations furnished The Herald by Piper, Johnson & Case.

HOUSE PASSES LAND WITHDRAWAL BILL.

Washington, April 21.—A bill authorizing the president to make withdrawals of public lands for purposes of conservation, was passed by the house yesterday. The entire session was devoted to the consideration of this measure, which it was stated met the approval of the president.

The administration railroad bill and the resolutoin authorizing the expenditure of $65,000 for an extension of the senate's inquiry into the cost of living occupied the attention of the senate, but no action was taken on either measure.

FIRST CONVICTIONS HAD UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW.

Belleville, Ill., April 21.—Louis and Phillip Watchmann, brothers, were fined $500 and costs each and sentenced to serve six months in jail by County Judge Hay here. The men were convicted of being "white slavers." These are the first convictions in Southern Illinois under the "White Slave Traffic" law passed last July.

The brothers were convicted of soliciting girls in East St. Louis for Chicago resorts.

OLEOMARGERINE FIGHT RENEWED IN CONGRESS.

Washington, April 21.—The battle between the butter and oleomargarine interests began anew in congress when the house committee on agriculture had its initial hearing on pending bills.

Representative Burleson of Texas and Lever of South Carolina, both authors of proposed remedial legislation in favor of the oleomargarine product, advocated their measures.

Mr. Burleson urged repealing the tax on oleomargarine and other dairy products as fixed by the Grout law and substituting an annual license for manufacturers. He quoted reports as to bacilla carried in butter and said the Grout law had cost the government in eight years over $20,000,000. He credited its enactment to Republican party motives. Mr. Burleson declared that farmers that took butter to the market, brought home oleomargine for their own tables.

Mr. Lever urged that oleo, butter, renovated butter and adulterated butter should be classified as meat products and made subject to inspection laws.

NEW ATTACK ON CANNON'S POWER

Fowler Resolution Would Stop His Appointing of Committees.

Washington, April 21.—A movement was launched today by the insurgent Republican members of the house to take away from the speaker the power to appoint the house committees. Soon after the house met at noon, Representative Fowler of New Jersey, one of the "insurgents," asked immediate consideration of a resolution, providing for the selection of two committees, one to be composed of Republicans and the other of Democrats, the duty of which will be to designate all members of house committees.

Immediately the house became the scene of confusion, members anticipating a repetition of the stirring scenes enacted there several weeks ago, when the "insurgents," combining with the Democrats, succeeded in removing the speaker from the powerful committee on rules.

Majority Leader Payne arose to the situation and made a point of order against the Fowler resolution as not "privileged." Before the speaker could rule, Mr. Hardwick of Georgia made a point of no quorum. The doors were closed and there immediately was a call of the house. This showed that 275 members were present.

Mr. Fowler announced that he desired to have his resolution referred to the committee on rules, and to have it come up as privileged matter on May 2.

The speaker promptly decided that the resolution was not in order, but the tension was quickly relieved by Mr. Fowler saying he would withdraw the resolution and "deposit it in the basket." The hopper system for bills and resolutions prevails in the house.
